Reds' Revolt Is Smashed In Venezuela

3 Main Leaders Of Uprising Are Taken Prisoner

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Loyalist forces supported by air force planes and navy ships pushed into coastal Carupano Saturday night and smashed a marine garrison's revolt to unseat President Romulo Betancourt, a government source said.

The source said the three top leaders of the rebellion had been taken prisoner.

BLAMES REDS

Betancourt had charged that the uprising was a Communist-inspired move aimed at setting up a Castro-style regime in this oil-rich South American nation.

The action in seizing the city from rebels was violent, the source said, but added that casualty figures were not immediately available.

The garrison of 450 marines and 50 military policemen revolted Friday demanding Betancourt's resignation and calling on other military units to join in.

The government source said that by nightfall the loyalist forces were conducting a cleanup campaign in Carupano, 300 miles east of Caracas. They were reported earlier in the day advancing into the city from three different directions over mined roads.

The rebels fell back, breaking up their headquarters in a mid-city high school, and started a sniping action from roof tops and houses, the source said.

First reports reaching here told of the capture of Capt. Jesus Molina Villegas when government forces occupied an electric power plant. Molina had been identified by rebel broadcasts Friday as the revolt leader.

The informant said another rebel leader, Lt. Enrique Monterio Montiel, was captured on the Venezuelan resort island of Margarita, about 50 miles off the coast. He fled there in a launch, the informant added.

The third leader, identified as Lt. Alberto Osorio Jordan, was captured earlier, the source said.

Meanwhile, an Interior Ministry spokesman said that enlisted men participating in the uprising were refusing to take orders from their officers.

Earlier, Interior Minister Carlos

TEXAS DEMO PRIMARY

Connally Leads Governor Rivals

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — John Connally rode a tide of pro-Kennedy administration votes in the Texas primary Saturday night into a place in the June 2 runoff to choose a Democratic nominee for governor.

Connally, former secretary of the Navy in the Kennedy Cabinet and close political friend of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, grabbed an early lead and increased it as tabulations mounted in a topsy-turvy primary in which his run-off opponent was left in doubt.

Don Yarborough, 36-year-old Houston attorney supported by party liberals and union leaders, see-sawed with Gov. Price Daniel in a ding-dong contest for second place and a runoff chance. Three other contestants appeared out of the running.

LATEST COUNTS

Partial returns from 140 of the state's 254 counties with 18 complete gave these counts for the leaders:

Connally 91,681, Yarborough 56,593, Daniel 51,775.

Texas Election Bureau officials said it might be several days before the outcome of the nip-and-tuck race between Yarborough and Daniel could be determined.

On the basis of somewhat meager returns, James Cox, Breckenridge oilman, claimed he had won the Republican nomination to oppose the man finally picked by the Democrats June 2.

Cox, a former Democrat, was opposed by Roy Whittenburg, Amarillo rancher and Borger publisher, who trailed throughout the returns.

There was nothing conclusive about the count from a see-saw battle which saw Connally, President Kennedy's first secretary of the Navy, blast off to an early lead.

But there was promised fireworks when Yarborough, who had been credited with such strength, shot ahead of Daniel in a contest which seemed certain to land the

Teamster Officials Charged

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — The FBI Saturday charged two officials of a Teamster union local with using force and violence to intimidate union members.

Charges of violating the Landrum - Griffin Act were filed against Ed Partin, business agent for Teamster Local No. 5, and Emmett Tucker before U. S. Commissioner H. D. May in connection with an incident at a union hall April 17.

A. G. Klein Jr. and J. D. Albin, who have been trying to oust Partin for misuse of union funds and abuse of fellow members, were attacked by several persons as they left a meeting before an appeal board. State police were called to free the two from the mob.

May said Partin and Tucker were freed on $1,500 bond each.

Partin ousted Klein and Albin from the local after they brought charges against him, but they were reinstated after appealing to the International Teamster Union.

They said they were threatened as they appeared at the April 17 meeting to present the charges against Partin to an appeal board. As they left the meeting, they were attacked by several persons, Albin said.

30 To Tackle Cleaning Job

NEW YORK (AP)—A crew of 30 men will tackle the biggest spring cleaning job ever undertaken Monday.

They are going to scrub the Empire State Building. They don't expect to finish for six months.

It will be the first face cleaning for the 102-story landmark, the world's tallest building, since it was completed in 1931.

They have to wash and waterproof—3,000 gallons of coating—half a million square feet of limestone, scrub and paint — 250 gallons—the metal frames of 6,500 windows — the panes are washed twice a month—and polish the 8-inch-wide ornamental strips of stainless steel which stretch the height of the 1,472-foot-tall building.

Briton Proves Man Can Fly With Legs

LONDON (AP) — Britain's first successful bird man held out Saturday the prospect of a future when the "average, fit chap" can fly indefinitely, borne aloft by his own two legs.

For this week he took a strange little plane into the air, flying it by the strength of his own straining muscles and nothing else. And he reawakened man's age-old dream to wheel and turn like the birds.

This man who succeeded at last—succeeded where even Leonardo da Vinci failed—has the modest-sounding name of John C. Wimpenny. It was modest history he made, but it was tough work making it.

"It was like riding a cycle fast up a steep hill," he said.

Wimpenny, 39, pedalled his plane, feather-light and as fragile as a butterfly, for 993 yards, as the crow flies.

The distance measured so exactly was important—it was the first time in history, experts said, that a muscle-powered plane had flown more than half a mile.

The flight, though short and taking only a couple of minutes, was a breakthrough, opening up the prospect of bigger, more ambitious flights to come.

"Man-powered flight can be an economic proposition, if the power needed could be cut," Wimpenny said. "I feel a craft should be designed so that any average, fit chap can fly it indefinitely."

The plane—made of balsa wood and so light that a breeze will stir it—was wheeled onto the runway of Hatfield Airdrome.

Wimpenny, an aerodynamics expert who earns his living designing jet planes, sat in the cockpit astride the driving wheel. The plane's 83 feet of a plastic-cov

Dutch Clash With Invader Indonesians

Several Reported Killed, Captured In Skirmishing

HOLLANDIA, West New Guinea (AP)—Dutch troops clashed Saturday with remnants of a small band of Indonesian paratroopers, killing several and capturing others, a Dutch navy communique reported.

The skirmishing was north of the port of Fakfak on the west coast in an area where the paratroopers were dropped last week.

CALLED THREAT

Although the Dutch government called the airdrop a direct threat to peace, authorities here estimated the number of Indonesian paratroopers involved was about 25.

Papuan natives in the region reported the airdrops to Dutch authorities, who sent out military patrols.

Fakfak, a trading center, is south of where Indonesian infiltrators have been slipping in by sea along the west coast and into islands off the northwest tip of New Guinea. The Dutch claim most of the infiltrators have been mopped up.

A Dutch Defense Ministry announcement said the paratroopers were dropped in the region of Fakfak the night of April 26-27.

Indonesia has threatened to take Dutch West New Guinea by force if it cannot get it by negotiation by the end of 1962. Negotiations with the Dutch are deadlocked.

ATHENS, Greece (AP)— Dutch Foreign Minister Joseph Luns complained to the United States Saturday against the sale of U.S. military equipment to Indonesia in the midst of the dispute with the Indonesians over Dutch West New Guinea.

Official sources said Luns raised the issues at a luncheon meeting with U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Luns criticized U.S. policy toward Indonesia at Friday's North Atlantic Treaty Organization council session, and Rusk saved his reply for the luncheon conversation.

The Dutch view is that American efforts to obtain a peaceful settlement of the dispute are undermined by the sales of military supplies to Presidenh Sukarno.

2 Earthquakes Cause Slight Coast Damage

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)—Two separate earthquakes rumbled through southern California Saturday causing isolated damage in nearby Fontana.

The tremblors were recorded about one hour apart by seismologists at the California Institute of Technology. The first quake at 6:10 a.m., PDT, was "small," according to seismologists, but caused isolated damage in Fontana where the ceiling of a furniture store collapsed.

The second tremblor, at 7:17 a.m., PDT, also felt in San Diego, El Centro and Palm Springs areas, was described as "moderate." Seismologists said it recorded a magnitude of 3.4 on seismographs compared to the first quake which registered 2 on the richter scale.

Palm Springs police said the temblor "rumbled like a freight train" through this desert resort. Officers described it as having "the longest duration of any earthquake here in about a year and a half."

School Tax Gets Lopsided Margin

By RICHARD TYLER
World Staff Writer

Ouachita Parish property-owners Saturday endorsed renewal for five years of a five-mill maintenance tax for parish schools. They did it convincingly.

Complete but unofficial returns last night gave the measure almost a 19-to-one popular vote of confidence. Sweeping to wide majorities in each of the parish's ten wards involved, the tax drew a favorable popular vote of 853 with property evaluated at $1,773,550.41. It scored solid victories in each of a total of 24 precincts balloting.

45 AGAINST

The detail ledger showed but 45 popular votes in opposition, with a total assessed property evaluation of $65,832. The margin was nearly 25-to-one in dollars.

As stressed by parish school superintendent W. W. Ward, the tax is not a new one but a renewal, already having been in effect for 30 years and re-approved on six occasions.

The money is used to pay janitors' salaries and utility bills at the parish's 35 schools, 25 of them white, as well as for supplementing the cost of 11 special educa

Army Cut In Europe Draw Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is fighting a Pentagon proposal to bring some 40,000 troops back from Europe, it was learned Saturday.

Informed Defense Department sources said the Army has offered a compromise to limit the reduction in the European garrison to about 20,000 men—but is resisting even this much of a cutback.

During the Berlin crisis last fall the United States sent 40,000 men—mostly quartermaster, signal, ordnance and other support-type troops—to reinforce the 7th Army in Germany.

Until then, the Army in Europe had been relying heavily on civilians to handle much of its supply and logistical work. It still uses civilians to some extent.

But Army officials contend it is important to keep the 7th Army at full strength. They argue that to go back to heavy reliance on civilians for support-type work would put the Army once again in a precarious position if the balloon should go up.

FIVE-YEAR VOYAGE

7 To Circle Globe On 40-Foot Raft

REDONDO BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The raft Lehi V set sail Saturday on the first leg of a scheduled trip around the world.

Skippered by adventurer Devere Baker, the craft chugged out of Redondo Beach Harbor under power of two outboard motors and was soon lost to sight as wind and currents pushed it southward.

About 100 well-wishers gathered to watch the departure.

Baker, 48, his wife and five-man crew expect to pull into San Diego Wednesday. Electronic gear will be installed there on the 40-foot raft.

"From there we'll drift down to Acapulco," Baker said, "have the raft hauled across Mexico, then follow the Gulf current to England."

Baker plans to voyage from England through the Mediterranean and into the Indian Ocean. He figures currents will take him toward Japan, then across the Pacific.

"I expect to hit the California coast in 1967 within 10 miles of Redondo Beach," he said.

Baker says the voyage will prove his theory that Central America was settled 2,000 years ago by colonists from the Middle East.

In 1958, Baker drifted from Redondo Beach to Hawaii on the Lehi IV. That trip indicated Hawaii's original settlers could have drifted there from this continent, he says.

The two outboard motors on the Lehi V are for use in emergency. Most of the time the current and a big sail will keep the raft moving.

His wife, Nola, 43, is the only woman aboard. She said she views the trip with mixed emotions.

Baker said they will live primarily on food from the sea.

School Tax Gets Lopsided Margin

By RICHARD TYLER
World Staff Writer

Ouachita Parish property-owners Saturday endorsed renewal for five years of a five-mill maintenance tax for parish schools. They did it convincingly.

Complete but unofficial returns last night gave the measure almost a 19-to-one popular vote of confidence. Sweeping to wide majorities in each of the parish's ten wards involved, the tax drew a favorable popular vote of 853 with property evaluated at $1,773,570.41. It scored solid victories in each of a total of 24 precincts balloting.

45 AGAINST

The debit ledger showed but 45 popular votes in opposition, with a total assessed property evaluation of $65,832. The margin was nearly 25-to-one in dollars.

As stressed by parish school superintendent W. W. Ward, the tax is not a new one but a renewal, already having been in effect for 30 years and re-approved on six occasions.

The money is used to pay janitors' salaries and utility bills at the parish's 35 schools, 25 of them white, as well as for supplementing the cost of 11 special educa-

Army Cut In Europe Draw Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is fighting a Pentagon proposal to bring some 40,000 troops back from Europe, it was learned Saturday.

Informed Defense Department sources said the Army has offered a compromise to limit the reduction in the European garrison to about 20,000 men—but is resisting even this much of a cutback.

During the Berlin crisis last fall the United States sent 40,000 men—mostly quartermaster, signal-ordnance and other support-type troops—to reinforce the 7th Army in Germany.

Until then, the Army in Europe had been relying heavily on civilians to handle much of its supply and logistical work. It still uses civilians to some extent.

But Army officials contend it is important to keep the 7th Army at full strength. They argue that to go back to heavy reliance on civilians for support-type work would put the Army once again in a precarious position if the balloon should go up.

FIVE-YEAR VOYAGE

7 To Circle Globe On 40-Foot Raft

REDONDO BEACH, Calif. (AP)—The raft Lehi V set sail Saturday on the first leg of a scheduled trip around the world.

Skippered by adventurer Devere Baker, the craft chugged out of Redondo Beach Harbor under power of two outboard motors and was soon lost to sight as wind and currents pushed it southward.

About 100 well-wishers gathered to watch the departure.

Baker, 48, his wife and five-man crew expect to pull into San Diego Wednesday. Electronic gear will be installed there on the 40-foot raft.

"From there we'll drift down to Acapulco," Baker said, "have the raft hauled across Mexico, then follow the Gulf current to England."

Baker plans to voyage from England through the Mediterranean and into the Indian Ocean. He figures currents will take him toward Japan, then across the Pacific.

"I expect to hit the California coast in 1967 within 10 miles of Redondo Beach," he said.

Baker says the voyage will prove his theory that Central America was settled 2,000 years ago by colonists from the Middle East.

In 1958, Baker drifted from Redondo Beach to Hawaii on the Lehi IV. That trip indicated Hawaii's original settlers could have drifted there from this continent, he says.

The two outboard motors on the Lehi V are for use in emergency. Most of the time the current and a big sail will keep the raft moving.

His wife, Nola, 43, is the only woman aboard. She said she views the trip with mixed emotions.

Baker said they will live primarily on food from the sea.

Alliance Accepts Plan On Sharing Atomic Secrets

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — The Western allies approved a U.S. plan Saturday to share atomic secrets. Then, to bolster defenses, the United States assigned five missile-carrying Polaris submarines to the Atlantic Alliance and promised more when they go into service.

The nuclear-armed submarines remain under American command, but as of now, they are under technical control of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

This means they would fall under actual NATO control if war broke out.

The word on the Polaris submarines was given the 15-nation alliance by U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara during a session here of the annual spring policy review by NATO defense and foreign ministers.

BOLSTERS APPEALS

The Polaris offer bolstered American appeals for the Western allies to beef up their conventional ground forces, which the United States considers an essential part of any deterrent force.

The alliance earlier approved a far-reaching U.S. plan to furnish tactical and strategic nuclear information to the NATO powers hitherto stamped "top secret."

In accepting the U.S. plan, NATO also agreed to formalize guide lines on the possible use of tactical atomic weapons in war.

The United States has eight Polaris submarines now in service, including five in the eastern Atlantic. Nineteen others are under construction or under contract. U.S. plans call for construction ultimately of 41 Polaris submarines.

State Medical Meet Is Set Here Monday

Opening sessions of the 82nd annual Louisiana State Medical Society meeting begin here Monday. The three-day convention will be held at the Virginia and Frances Hotels.

Highlight Monday will be U.S. Sen. Allen J. Ellender's speech, scheduled for 8 p.m. at the Hotel Virginia.

Monroe Mayor W. L. Howard and Ouachita Parish Medical Society President Dr. John P. Burton will appear on the Monday night program which will honor Dr. Alcee Lafayette Peters of Monroe and 14 others for completing 50 years medical practice during the past year.

COUNSELOR

Dr. Henson S. Coon of Monroe will act as counselor for the 5th District of the State Society, comprised of Ouachita and adjacent parishes.

The counselors will act in advisory capacity to the House of Delegates, referring medical problems which crop during the year. The delegates, governing body of the society, meet Monday and Wednesday.

State Medical Society President Dr. C. J. Brown of New Orleans and President-elect Dr. Ralph H. Riggs of Shreveport will also speak on the Monday night program.

The doctors will hear lectures Tuesday and Wednesday by guest speakers on six special areas of medical interest.

Public health lecturer Dr. James H. Steele, a veterinarian at the Communicable Diseases Center, Atlanta, will speak on "Current Status of Animal Dis-

Missing Girl's Clothes Found

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — Police officers searching for 9-year-old Betty Jean Foster, a mentally retarded child missing more than a day and a night without her required medicine, found her shorts, sweater and shirt Saturday on the bank of a creek.

Dragging operations immediately were started on Chickamauga Creek near here, although the girl parents reported she often disrobed and walked nude in the woods.

The sheriff's office said every available officer and Civil Defense rescue unit in the area was pressed into the search.

Terrorism Toll Rises In Algeria

ORAN, Algeria (AP)—Moslems and Jews fought each other in this city of hate Saturday and by nightfall six Moslems were dead and two Jews were wounded.

The ancient animosity between Moslem and Jew flared on a day that saw European Secret Army Organization (OAS) terrorism taper off in Oran with strikes.

In Algiers, the secret army in hit-and-run attacks killed three Moslems and wounded three others. In addition, five Europeans have vanished recently and it is believed Moslems kidnaped them, authorities reported.

The secret army terror drive to block Algerian peace and keep Algeria a part of France has turned this big western city into a battlefield. But it was Moslems and Jews who did the latest fighting.

The trouble began when a car carrying three Moslems sped through the Jewish quarter firing on people in the street, witnesses reported.

The car crashed into a parked automobile, killing the driver. The four passengers ran down the narrow streets and were killed by Jewish gunfire. Two Jews were wounded by rifle shots.

The body of a sixth Moslem was found in an area between the Jewish and Moslem quarters.

Strikes in Oran slowed train service and closed down filling stations for two hours. Europeans called the strikes to protest against activities of French security forces in their crackdown on the secret army.

Revenue from the tax last year amounted to $290,784.37

Election officials termed Saturday's 898-ballot turn-out at the polls "very light." It represented the opinion of only about 12 per cent of the parish's more than 6,000 property-owners qualified to vote

As it did not effect them, Monroe voters were excluded from the referendum

Briefly, the tax won popular vote victories in Ward 1, precinct 2, Ward 2, precinct 1 Ward 3 precincts 11 and 12, Ward 4, precinct 1, Ward 5, precincts 2, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13 and 14, Ward 6, precinct 2, Ward 7, precinct 1, Ward 8, precinct 1, Ward 9, precinct 1 and Ward 10, precincts 13 and 14

It carried without a single vote in opposition in Ward 1, precinct 1, Ward 2, precinct 1, Ward 4, precinct 1; Ward 5, precinct 12; Ward 6, precinct 2, Ward 8, precinct 1, and Ward 10, precincts 13 and 14

Half the voting, at an even dozen boxes, was conducted in Ward 5, with only one or two precincts involved in the other nine wards

While it sustained no real setbacks, the measure found its toughest fight in Ward 5, precinct 6, where the popular vote wound up at 23 to 9 in favor, and property evaluated at $38,075 and $9,055, respectively. It was about the only ground lost

The tax looked best in Ward 5, precinct 4, with a popular vote victory of 65 to 1 and an evaluation ratio of $131,669 to $1700. In Ward 10, precinct 13, it racked up a margin of 45 to nothing and an evaluation of $135,712. Ward 6, precinct 2 reported a 50 to 0 vote, but the assessment count reached only $47,853

The trend last night was established early with returns from the first box to report, from Ward 5, precinct 7, at 8 15 p m , showing strong support. Seven voters backed the tax with an assessment evaluation of $10,595, while a single person rejected it, representing $670 in property value

The last to report, from Fairbanks, looked much the same at 9 30 p m Ward 1, precinct 1 gave its OK eight to nothing in popular vote and $13,965 in evaluation tables

Largest box reporting was Ward 5, precinct 11, with voting at the West Monroe Fairgrounds. Coming in at 9 15 p.m. it listed a vote of 126 to 5 in favor, the measure winning in property assessment by $313,705 to $12,630. The smallest return was from Ward 10, precinct 14 where a single voter with $3250 worth of property cast his ballot for the tax. There was no opposition

Nearly 1000 persons were qualified to vote in the big fairground box

Voting Saturday was from 6 a m until 8 p m A 5-to-one lead in popular votes already was built by 8 30 with a tally on four precincts Property vote was $187,725 to $20,695 in favor

Half the boxes were in by 8 55 p m with the vote running about twice as heavy in favor of the tax—350 to 27 and $812,114.91 to $39,417.50

Promulgation of the vote is set for a meeting of the school board at 7 p m Tuesday, according to Ward

Reached for a statement last night, the school superintendent expressed pleasure at the issue's outcome and said, "I would like to assure the taxpayers of Ouachita Parish that the school board will expend their money wisely in educating the children of this parish I would further like to point out that this vote of local support will contribute toward the preservation of local control of our schools"

Reds' Revolt Is Smashed In Venezuela

Andres Perez announced that government security forces put down what he called a Communist uprising in Caracas early Saturday morning

He linked it to the Carupano revolt.

The reported loyalist victory came after Betancourt issued an ultimatum for the rebels to surrender or be crushed. The rebels at first were reported ignoring the order and taking up positions in houses in the city of 16,500.

They decided to abandon a high school building where they had set up headuarters after their barracks were bombed and strafed Friday

Planes also bombed the city with leaflets calling for a rebel surrender

One bomber returned to Caracas badly shot up It landed on one wheel and blocked the airport a time. A Pan American World Airways plane bound for Puerto Rico and Miami was delayed on take off. The airport was closed to traffic bound for eastern Venezuela, but flights to western Venezuela and international points were permitted.

Reports from the commander of the government forces announced the capture of Carupano's radio station, and said some of his men had been wounded by mines planted on the approach roads.

There were no reports of the casulaties in the street fighting.

Earlier, government spokesmen announced the capture of the small town of Jose Arcacuar, two miles outside the city, and the landing of 1,500 loyal marines at Cariaco on a finger-shaped gulf of the same name which extends eatward to within about 30 miles at Carupano.

16 missiles with a range of more than 1,200 miles. The missiles are armed with nuclear warheads.

Since the submarines will remain under U.S. command, their assignment to NATO duties will not run afoul of the U.S. law which vests solely in the president authority for handling and use of nuclear weapons.

Direct transfer of such weapons to NATO command would require revision of the law by the U.S. Congress.

American officials told the alliance that eventually the United States will place on NATO assignment all the Polaris submarines in the Atlantic.

These submarines receive their operational orders from U.S. Adm. R. L. Dennison. He is commander of the U.S. Atlantic Fleet and NATO Atlantic commander.

The role of the Polaris subs will be much like that of the U.S. 6th Fleet which now roams the Mediterranean. While the fleet is under American command, it would immediately fall under NATO control in time of war.

In principle, NATO also agreed to formalize guide lines on the possible use of tactical atomic weapons in a war.

The secret information concerns such delicate matters as possible targets, technical evaluation of the destructive capabilities of various atomic weapons but not data on actual bomb contructions.

Following Western agreement Friday to support President Kennedy's diplomatic probe of Soviet intentions on Berlin, the atomic accord completed the second major task set for this year's annual spring policy review by NATO.

Having completed this business, the ministers went into a more restricted secret session to discuss evaluations of West and Soviet strength. Most of their aides were excluded.

An informed source, while declining to go into detail, said the session ranged over an up-to-date outline of troop strength facing Russia, counter espionage problems and the continuing lag in NATO's buildup of conventional forces.

U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara reportedly made a strong plea for the buildup in NATO's conventional forces. These, he contends, are just as vital as nuclear forces in any effective deterrent.

Informed speculation indicated the ministers went into frank detail in discussing the West's lag in bolstering conventional forces. Despite the buildup since Soviet Premier Khrushchev precipitated the Berlin crisis, NATO's troop strength still numbers only about 25 divisions instead of the aimed-for 30.

Whoever comes out of the runoff as the nominee is likely to wind up in command of the party machinery which could have a potent effect on Texas voting in the 1964 and 1968 presidential elections.

In the six-man contest Saturday, Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, a member of the John Birch Society, fell far behind the leaders in the early tabulations.

Also trailing were Marshall Formby, former state highway commissioner, who charged that Johnson had turned his state organization over to Connally, and Atty. Gen. Will Wilson who boosted the Billie Sol Estes fraud case into national headline attention.

Reds' Revolt Is Smashed In Venezuela

Andres Perez announced that government security forces put down what he called a Communist uprising in Caracas early Saturday morning.

He linked it to the Carupano revolt.

The reported loyalist victory came after Betancourt issued an ultimatum for the rebels to surrender or be crushed. The rebels at first were reported ignoring the order and taking up positions in houses in the city of 16,500.

They decided to abandon a high school building where they had set up headuarters after their barracks were bombed and strafed Friday.

Planes also bombed the city with leaflets calling for a rebel surrender.

One bomber returned to Caracas badly shot up. It landed on one wheel and blocked the airport a time. A Pan American World Airways plane bound for Puerto Rico and Miami was delayed on take off. The airport was closed to traffic bound for eastern Venezuela, but flights to western Venezuela and international points were permitted.

Reports from the commander of the government forces announced the capture of Carupano's radio station, and said some of his men had been wounded by mines planted on the approach roads.

There were no reports of the casulaties in the street fighting.

Earlier, government spokesmen announced the capture of the small town of Jose Areacuar, two miles outside the city, and the landing of 1,500 loyal marines at Cariaco on a finger-shaped gulf of the same name which extends eatward to within about 30 miles at Carupano.

Alliance Accepts Plan On Sharing Atomic Secrets

16 missiles with a range of more than 1,200 miles. The missiles are armed with nuclear warheads.

Since the submarines will remain under U.S. command, their assignment to NATO duties will not run afoul of the U.S. law which vests solely in the president authority for handling and use of nuclear weapons.

Direct transfer of such weapons to NATO command would require revision of the law by the U.S. Congress.

American officials told the alliance that eventually the United States will place on NATO assignment all the Polaris submarines in the Atlantic.

These submarines receive their operational orders from U.S. Adm. R. L. Dennison. He is commander of the U.S. Atlantic Fleet and NATO Atlantic commander.

The role of the Polaris subs will be much like that of the U.S. 6th Fleet which now roams the Mediterranean. While the fleet is under American command, it would immediately fall under NATO control in time of war.

In principle, NATO also agreed to formalize guide lines on the possible use of tactical atomic weapons in a war.

The secret information concerns such delicate matters as possible targets, technical evaluation of the destructive capabilities of various atomic weapons but not data on actual bomb contructions.

Following Western agreement Friday to support President Kennedy's diplomatic probe of Soviet intentions on Berlin, the atomic accord completed the second major task set for this year's annual spring policy review by NATO.

Having completed this business, the ministers went into a more restricted secret session to discuss evaluations of West and Soviet strength. Most of their aides were excluded.

An informed source, while declining to go into detail, said the session ranged over an up-to-date outline of troop strength facing Russia, counter espionage problems and the continuing lag in NATO's buildup of conventional forces.

U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara reportedly made a strong plea for the buildup in NATO's conventional forces. These, he contends, are just as vital as nuclear forces in any effective deterrent.

Informed speculation indicated the ministers went into frank detail in discussing the West's lag in bolstering conventional forces. Despite the buildup since Soviet Premier Khrushchev precipitated the Berlin crisis, NATO's troop strength still numbers only about 25 divisions instead of the aimed-for 30.

Briton Proves Man Can Fly With Legs

ered wing spread out on each side of him.

Wimpenny, toughened on a strict protein diet, crouched over the handlebars like a racing cyclist and started pedaling down the wide concrete runway. Behind the tail, the propeller whirred.

He got the speed up to 20 miles per hour and Wimpenny flew!

He took her up to an altitude of eight feet and cruised along at a shade over 19 miles an hour.

And then he came down again, puffing and blowing, which is why they call the plane "Puffin."

Wimpenny realized a dream that has lived since mythological times, a dream enshrined in the legend of Icarus who flew so high the sun melted his wax wings and he tumbled into the sea.

In the 16th century Da Vinci added his genius to trying to solve the old problem, but his design never got into the air.

U.S. Confirms Red Chinese Troops Invasion In Laos

By ANTOINE YARED

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — American military sources supported charges Saturday of a temporary Red Chinese invasion of northern Laos as advancing Communist forces put a tigher pinch on Nam Tna's half-encircled defenders.

Nam Tha, in a valley 180 miles north of Vientiane, has been compared in some ways to Dien Bien Phu in Viet Na, where the French surrendered and gave up the Indochina war eight years ago. Nam Tha has been withstanding a siege-like Communist threat since January.

American sources said they had confirming information that about 200 Red Chinese troops and 100 rebel Pathet Lao struck the lightning blow that captured Muong Sing last Thursday. Muong Sing's airstrip, 20 miles northwest of Nam Tha, has been an laternate supply route and troop staging area since Nam Tha's own airstrip was made hazardous by intermittent Communist mortar fire weeks ago.

The Red Chinese already have gone back over their border, five miles north of Muong Sing, the Laotian government reported, leaving the Pathet Lao in control.

The attack was considered by military sources particularly flagrant, since it was on the anniversary of the 1961 cease-fire in Laos and because Red China is one of the 13 nations at the Geneva conference which has agreed to a neutral Laos under a coalition government.

The incident was taken as significant evidence that pro-Communist Pathet Lao receives sanctuary and training facilities in Red China.

The royal Lao government, in first reporting the fall of Muong Sing, said the attack was by two Red Chinese and one Pathet Lao battalion. But until Saturday U.S. military sources said they had no confirmation of Red Chinese participation.

Communist broadcasts credited the capture of Muong Sing to the Pathet Lao and to "local patriots" who were said to have staged a coup. The local volunteer defense force apparently put up little or no defense.

The Defense Ministry said the fall of the town, site of a jungle hospital founded by the late Dr. Tom Dooley, made "the situation more tragic and more difficult at Nam Tha."

Other military sources said capture might alter the tactical situation at Nam Tha and have a bad psychological effect on the defenders but should not alter the supply situation drastically.

They pointed out that troop reinforcements can still be dropped by parachute, and that most of Nam Tha's supplies were air dropped rather than being flown to Muong Sing and carried over 20 miles of jungle road.

A possible psychological effect was seen in a government announcement of the fall of a third defense position in a week at Nam Tha. A communique said a position in the Nam Pick Valley southeast of Nam Tha was overrun Friday by a Communist North Vietnamese battalion which launched a strong 12-hour attack.

Outnumbered government forces, it said, withdrew to nearby hills to continue a mobile defense.

Belief is that the post was near two other positions captured by the Communists in the last few days on a dominating ridge about five miles southeast of Nam Tha.

The communique said enemy artillery at the same time bombarded Ban Poung village, a mile east of Nam Tha, with 75 shells and destroyed 65 houses.

TAXPAYER GETS TRIBUTE

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Opening a North Atlantic Treaty Organization session here Friday, Premier Constantine Caramanlis of Greece paid tribute to the ordinary citizen, who shares as a taxpayer in the work of Atlantic defense. The taxpayer, Caramanlis said, is indeed the unknown soldier of peace.

FBI CHIEF SAYS

U.S. Is Target Of Soviet Spies

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover says no nation in history has been so subjected to thievery by an organized coterie of conspiratorial fanatics as has the United States in the face of unrelenting Communist spy efforts.

Describing America as No. 1 target of Soviet expionage in an article in the Industrial Security magazine, organ of the American Society for Industrial Security, Hoover said:

"The Communists seek information of all types—about our military establishments, atomic energy developments, diplomatic data, industrial secrets."

Much of the information, he said, is gathered through open means, such as subscribing to technical journals, attending scientific exhibits and monitoring lectures.

"The purchase of government patents is another source," Hoover said. "For example, in one instance, the Soviet government purchasing commission in Washington, D.C., ordered copies of 5,810 patents. On the same date the commission's New York office purchased two copies of 18,000 patents.

"A few days later, Washington headquarters again ordered copies of over 5,000 different patents, while less than two weeks later over 41,000 patents were ordered."

Another method, Hoover said, is writing for such items as maps and data on transporation systems and major industries.

"The Soviets exploit our free society, taking advantage of our democratic privileges — privileges not possible in Communist countries," Hoover said.

"In addition, however, the Soviets are endeavoring today, through clandestine spy operations, to steal information about our national security. The Soviets have a well-organized spy system, composed of highly trained personnel. One of its chief targets is American industry — the world's greatest reservoir of technical information."

Titov Flies West To See World's Fair

SEATTLE (AP) — Soviet spaceman Gherman S. Titov flew to Seattle Saturday to take a look at the World's Fair and was greeted by a 14-year old girl who wanted him to know what a "common American" is like.

Titov, his wife Tamara and their party landed at Seattle-Tacoma Airport shortly after noon aboard a jet liner after a flight from Baltimore by way of Chicago.

The girl, Marlene Breite of Tacoma, presented him with a bouquet of flowers and said it was her own idea to welcome the Soviet cosmonaut.

"I felt if just a common American came out he would get an impression of what we are really like," she told newsmen.

Marlene presented Mrs. Titov with a bouquet of purple lilacs, daffodils and tulips.

"I'm sorry they are a little wilted," she said. "I picked them very early this morning."

Titov thanked her for the flowers, speaking through an interpreter, took out a pen and autographed a photograph of himself. He then gave the picture to his wife who signed it and handed to the girl. Titov declined to kiss the girl for photographers.

"No kiss," Titov replied, laughing. "The wife is too nearby."

The official greeting to the cosmonaut and his wife was made by Saeed Khan, a U.S. State Department officer on leave to serve as protocol chief for the World's Fair.

The incident was taken as significant evidence that pro-Communist Pathet Lao receives sanctuary and training facilities in Red China.

The royal Lao government, in first reporting the fall of Muong Sing, said the attack was by two Red Chinese and one Pathet Lao battalion. But until Saturday U.S. military sources said they had no confirmation of Red Chinese participation.

Communist broadcasts credited the capture of Muong Sing to the Pathet Lao and to "local patriots" who were said to have staged a coup. The local volunteer defense force apparently put up little or no defense.

The Defense Ministry said the fall of the town, site of a jungle hospital founded by the late Dr. Tom Dooley, made "the situation more tragic and more difficult at Nam Tha."

Other military sources said capture might alter the tactical situation at Nam Tha and have a bad psychological effect on the defenders but should not alter the supply situation drastically.

They pointed out that troop reinforcements can still be dropped by parachute, and that most of Nam Tha's supplies were air dropped rather than being flown to Muong Sing and carried over 20 miles of jungle road.

A possible psychological effect was seen in a government announcement of the fall of a third defense position in a week at Nam Tha. A communique said a position in the Nam Pick Valley southeast of Nam Tha was overrun Friday by a Communist North Vietnamese battalion which launched a strong 12-hour attack.

Outnumbered government forces, it said, withdrew to nearby hills to continue a mobile defense.

Belief is that the post was near two other positions captured by the Communists in the last few days on a dominating ridge about five miles southeast of Nam Tha.

The communique said enemy artillery at the same time bombarded Ban Poung village, a mile east of Nam Tha, with 75 shells and destroyed 65 houses.

TAXPAYER GETS TRIBUTE

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Opening a North Atlantic Treaty Organization session here Friday, Premier Constantine Caramanlis of Greece paid tribute to the ordinary citizen, who shares as a taxpayer in the work of Atlantic defense. The taxpayer, Caramanlis said, is indeed the unknown soldier of peace.

MRS. CORALIE Heard White, rehearsing at the piano with the West Monroe High School Band, will be one of the featured performers at the group's spring concert slated for 8 p.m. Monday in the school auditorium. The daughter of Judge and Mrs. Jesse Heard, of West Monroe, Mrs. White is a student of Mrs. Florence Z. Albritton at Northeast State College and a music major at the college.

FBI CHIEF SAYS

U.S. Is Target Of Soviet Spies

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover says no nation in history has been so subjected to thievery by an organized coterie of conspiratorial fanatics as has the United States in the face of unrelenting Communist spy efforts.

Describing America as No. 1 target of Soviet expionage in an article in the Industrial Security magazine, organ of the American Society for Industrial Security, Hoover said:

"The Communists seek information of all types—about our military establishments, atomic energy developments, diplomatic data, industrial secrets."

Much of the information, he said, is gathered through open means, such as subscribing to technical journals, attending scientific exhibits and monitoring lectures.

"The purchase of government patents is another source," Hoover said. "For example, in one instance, the Soviet government purchasing commission in Washington, D.C., ordered copies of 5,810 patents. On the same date the commission's New York office purchased two copies of 18,000 patents.

"A few days later, Washington headquarters again ordered copies of over 5,000 different patents, while less than two weeks later over 41,000 patents were ordered."

Another method, Hoover said, is writing for such items as maps and data on transporation systems and major industries.

"The Soviets exploit our free society, taking advantage of our democratic privileges — privileges not possible in Communist countries," Hoover said.

"In addition, however, the Soviets are endeavoring today, through clandestine spy operations, to steal information about our national security. The Soviets have a well-organized spy system, composed of highly trained personnel. One of its chief targets is American industry — the world's greatest reservoir of technical information."

Titov Flies West To See World's Fair

SEATTLE (AP) — Soviet spaceman Gherman S. Titov flew to Seattle Saturday to take a look at the World's Fair and was greeted by a 14-year-old girl who wanted him to know what a "common American" is like.

Titov, his wife Tamara and their party landed at Seattle-Tacoma Airport shortly after noon aboard a jet liner after a flight from Baltimore by way of Chicago.

The girl, Marlene Breite of Tacoma, presented him with a bouquet of flowers and said it was her own idea to welcome the Soviet cosmonaut.

"I felt if just a common American came out he would get an impression of what we are really like," she told newsmen.

Marlene presented Mrs. Titov with a bouquet of purple lilacs, daffodils and tulips.

"I'm sorry they are a little wilted," she said. "I picked them very early this morning."

Titov thanked her for the flowers, speaking through an interpreter, took out a pen and autographed a photograph of himself. He then gave the picture to his wife who signed it and handed to the girl. Titov declined to kiss the girl for photographers.

"No kiss," Titov replied, laughing. "The wife is too nearby."

The official greeting to the cosmonaut and his wife was made by Saeed Khan, a U.S. State Department officer on leave to serve as protocol chief for the World's Fair.

VOTE DISCRIMINATION

Mississippi Denies Claim Has Validity

By LEWIS LORD
United Press International

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — The state disputed a government claim Saturday that Lauderdale County circuit clerk Preston Coleman has discriminated against Negroes who try to register to vote.

"Mr. Coleman has submitted an affidavit that he has registered 2,000 Negroes," special Assitant State Atty. Gen. Peter Stockett told Federal Judge Harold Cox. "This shows everything is all right."

The Justice Department is seeking an order from Cox allowing it to examine Coleman's registration records at Meridian. The government, in its complaint, has said there is evidence that Negroes have been turned away by the register because of their race.

Cox heard arguments on the state's motion that the government be ordered to make a "more definite statement" of its charges.

Assistant U. S. Atty. Gen. John Doar said the 5th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals has ruled that the government does not have to supply detailed statements backing up its allegation when seeking an order that would open records.

Stockett protested that "courts cannot be used as rubber stamps for some administrative agency which comes in and says 'give us something.'"

However, Cox told him Congress has given district courts power to order clerks to open their records. He promised to study briefs from both sides as to whether detailed statements must be made by the Justice Department concerning discrimination.

Cox also heard a motion involving a voter case in Walthall County.

The Justice Department hopes to obtain an injunction blocking state prosecution of Negro John Hardy, a student at Tennessee A&I State College. Hardy was arrested for disturbing the peace at Walthall County while helping other Negroes to register.

Air Force Association Wing Names Officers

ALEXANDRIA (Special) — N. W. DeBerardinis of Shreveport, was named the new commander of the Louisiana Wing of the Air Force Association Saturday at its annual convention in Alexandria.

J. Pascal Norris, Monroe attorney, Carroll Biggs, Ruston druggist, and Michael Berdin, trust officer for an Alexandria Bank, were among several delegates who received awards for "exceptional service."

Other new officers of the Louisiana Wing include Jesse Core, New Orleans, deputy commander; Gil Mayfield, Shreveport, secretary; Henry Politz, Shreveport, treasurer and Clyde Hailes, New Orleans, wing nominee for the post of national vice-president of the Air Force Association.

Principal speaker for the wing's annual banquet Saturday night was Howard T. Markey, prominent Chicago attorney and president of the National AFA.

TABLE MOTION

In its business session Saturday, the Louisiana wing tabled a motion asked for a resolution presented by the Ruston squadron urging the U.S. Defense Department to rescind its order to intergrate the reserves.

However, the wing urged other Louisiana AFA squadrons to submit similar resolutions, giving the wing some basis for action. The members went on record as opposing intergration of the reserves, but expressed belief that action should first be initiated on the squadron level.

The Louisiana wing also refused to adopt a resolution allowing anyone to become a member of the AFA, regardless of the branch of service in which they had previously served.

The National AFA had asked that Louisiana and other state wings act on this proposal. After a heated discussion of the issue, the state wing refused by a close vote to adopt such a motion.

The main reasons cited against allowing Army and Navy veterans to join the AFA was that persons not previously associated with the Air Force or the Air Corps could gain control of the national group and its units. One member noted that the Navy League in New Orleans is presently headed by an army reserve colonel.

In other actions the wing nominated Clyde Hailes as regional vice president and director of the AFA, and Roy T. Sessumse and Will Ross as national directors. Their nominations will be acted upon at the National AFA convention in June.

In accepting the post of wing commander, DeBerardinis, public relations director of the Shreveport Times, said the Louisiana wing of the AFA, "Is without comparison as a profitable agent for the state of Louisiana for any man or woman who has an interest in this nation's air and space power and aero-space industry development."

He noted that when he first joined the Shreveport squadrons of the AFA, less than a dozen men were active in the unit, yet it put on two aero-space symposiums — one at Centenary College, and the second at Louisiana Tech —which attracted hundreds of students, educators, scientists and military men.

DeBerardinis went on to add that these people were "awakened with a startling effect," by the symposiums.

"The visiting and military people went away with firm knowledge that they had done a magnificent job that would have an impact on our educators and administrators."

DeBerardinis issued a list of challenges for the Louisiana AFA Squadrons, including a 20 per cent gain in membership and the undertaking of education projects and individual communities.

Cities represented at the meeting included Shreveport, Bossier City, Ruston, Monroe, Alexandria, Baton Rouge and New Orleans. The convention was held at England Air Force base here.

Segni 39 Votes From Election

ROME (AP)—Parliament failed again Saturday—on its seventh ballot in four days—to elect a president of Italy.

Foreign Minister Antonio Segni, the front runner, had 389 votes, 39 short of the 428 needed to win. His nearest competitor, Socialist Giuseppe Saragat, had 332.

Balky rebels within the pro-Western foreign minister's own Christian Democratic party still cast blank ballots or voted for minor candidates. Parliament will meet Sunday for the eighth ballot.

Florida Wreck Kills Two Nuns

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A station wagon carrying six Roman Catholic nuns home from a funeral skidded on the rain-slick Tamiami Trail and plunged into a canal 40 miles west of Miami Saturday, killing two and injurying four.

The dead were identified as Sister Superior Rosa Rita of the Convent of Mary Immaculate in Key West, a native of Cohoes, N.Y., and Sister Mary Georgette of San Pablo's Convent in Marathon Shores, a native of Schenectady, N.Y.

The injured were Sister Mary William and Sister Patricia Mary of San Pablo's Convent, Key West both in serious condition; and Sister Cecelia Rose of San Pablo's, and Sister Rose of Mary, of Our Lady of Perpetual Help church in Miami, both in good condition.

The nuns, all of the Holy Name Order, were returning from Tampa where they attended a funeral for Sister Mary Olive Denise of Marathon.

Literacy Law Misses Goal

By O. C. MILLER
Capital Writers Bureau

WASHINGTON — Robert Kennedy thought up the bill before the Senate which provides for a federal sixth grade literacy test for voting to take the place of state literacy tests in the South, and which would give him authority to enforce the test law.

Facts found by the Capital Writers Bureau prove the Kennedy bill can be used to disqualify almost all Negroes in the Southern states—not force officials to register more Negroes to vote as he claims.

The Kennedy bill provides that a state cannot use a literacy test to disqualify a Negro for voting if he has "completed" the sixth grade.

A fact overlooked by Kennedy is that the 1960 census reports the average schooling completed by Negro men over 25 years of age in eight southern states is 5.5 years. This falls short of the completion of the sixth grade and means that about three out of five would be disqualified.

Average schooling for these men vary from 5.1 years in South Carolina, Mississippi, and Arkansas, to 6.1 years in Virginia. The 1950 census showed the average schooling in the same states to be 5.4 years.

NO RECORDS

Another fact overlooked by Kennedy which can disqualify many Negroes for voting, is that no records are available to prove a person "completed" the sixth grade. In most schools records of the grades completed were not kept 20, 30, or 40 years ago. If rolls were kept, they did not show the work done. If any records exist therefore it would be almost impossible to use them to prove a person completed a certain grade.

Of course, if the person completed the high school, the records even that far back would show this—but not for the sixth grade.

A weakness of the bill is that the final decision as to when a person can vote is left to the teachers as they are the only ones who know when a grade is "completed." One confusing fact now is that a person is not "promoted" by what he knows but to keep up with his age group. He moves from grade to grade with those of the same age.

Many sixth grade classes have pupils who read at the second or third grade level. Has a person "completed" the sixth grade if he has gone to school six years, but still reads or works at the third grade level?

The Department of the Army gave some startling information which came before the committeee in the hearings on the Education Assistance Act of 1961. In 1959, one draftee out of four in 19 states did not have the education required by the Army. Included in these states were Illinois, and New York, with large non-white population, as well as Southern States.

In seven Southern states two out of five draftees could not meet the army's educational standards, and in three states, more than half of the draftees could not meet these standards. In one state, noted for having good Negro schools, 61 draftees out of 100 did not come up to the army educational standards. The records for 1958 were very similar to those for 1959, the hearings reveal.

Defense officials would not accept these with deficient education for the protection of the country. Should Congress take the unusual step and force communities, states, and maybe the nation to let them decide who will be elected, and what policies will be adopted? Some of these of course were whites, but the great majority were non-whites.

Senator Samuel Erwin, noted lawyer and judge, explained "that the plan would be unconstitutional. But the attorney general was not impressed.

THIS IS THE RHYMES Plantation home on Winnsboro Road that burned last week, as it looked before the last remodeling. The house was over 100 years old and one of the oldest homes in north Louisiana. Everything was completely burned in the old home.

RHYMES PLANTATION

Flames Destroy Local Landmark

To see an old Southern home with all the tradition of year's gone by, burned to the ground is a sad sight. The house in this instance is the Rhymes Plantation on the Winnsboro Road.

The house burned last week in a blaze "that could be seen for miles around," said a patron of a nearby store.

One of the oldest homes in Louisiana, the owners, Mrs. Beatrice Rhymes Earle and Ray Rhymes, related that the house was over 100 years old.

The main floor of the the house was hand - hewn logs, which had petrified to the point that windows could no longer be cut through. The base of the house was almost a solid perfection of wood also cut to fit in a tight, precise form.

There are some 40 trees of all shapes and forms in the yard of the Rhymes place. Pines, pecans, magnolia and others share a magnificent scene of foliage. Some of the trees with a history as long as the house were burned, and with them the memories of long ago.

A question arises why were they planted at such advantageous spots? Such a place was beside the large veranda on the front of the house where once a pine stood tall welcoming travelers coming to Monroe and a reminder to residents of the city that here they were "in Monroe at last."

Often times, the home has been called a "landmark" of Monroe. One resident told this story: "When our family took the annual vacation, the Rhymes place said goodby, but we always knew that it would say hello on our way into Monroe and remind us that we were home again. I could never understand why the old homestead was never in the book of old Louisiana homes."

There are many people in Monroe that have a great letdown feeling because of the burning of the old home. The charred remains brought tears to the eyes of the persons who have gone to see the last of the Rhymes Plantation.

The black mass of burned furniture and other articles which were in the house are now surrounded by three massive concrete steps, back, side and front, which could be determined as the beginning of an end.

The chimneys are also still there with a reminder of the days past when there were no other forms of heat for such a rambling house as this.

HISTORY

Well over a 100 years ago, Ulysses S. Grant signed a paper giving the land as a Spanish Grant to a man named Austin. When he died, it was learned that he had willed it to two nephews, whose names where Hollinsworth. They sold it to John Harrison Rhymes in 1903, and it has been known as the Rhymes place ever since.

This house was a haven for people who traveled the Winnsboro Road on these days, for when night fell and if they reached the Rhymes home, there was where they stayed. This was also a convenience for the stubborn travelers who persisted in traveling the rough road. At that time it was nothing but a dirt road and they soon bogged down in Bayou Lafourche, which was not too far distant.

Over - all floor space on the bottom floor consisted of "not less than 3500 feet." With the two floors and an attic. There were about 15 rooms plus two great halls. One of the bedrooms was said to be 30 x 40 feet with an 18 - foot walk - in closet.

In the 1927 flood, the water got to the house and the floors had to be refinished. That was the second time the house got a face lifting. The first time was at the time Rhymes decided to build a second floor to the original first floor.

The Rhymes children were born in that house and in the same bed — the two that are owners now and one child who died in 1917.

And again, not long ago, Mrs. Earle, daughter of Mr. Rhymes, did more remodeling with wrought iron on the front and other beautifying changes.

Another interesting fact about the house is when the second story was built, the stairway had 13 steps, 13 inches apart. This was to honor the ancestors of the Rhymes family who had come from the original 13 colonies.

FIRE IS DISCOVERED

The main house was all that was destroyed. The residents of the house, Mrs. Earle and her son, Harrison, had gone for a short vacation, and were not at home.

The cook discovered the fire for the household "down the road." She said that a light was "shining in her eyes through the window" by the bed in which she was sleeping, and she woke because of this. After distinguishing what the "light" was, she alerted the field hands.

A passser - by stopped when he saw the blaze and reached the house the same time as Chester, one of the plantation workers. The fire department was called, but it was too late and the old plantation home burned to the ground.

Some of the furniture that was destroyed in the Rhymes home was not as old as the home, but belonged to people three generations ago, and the sentimental value attached to these pieces of furniture could never be matched with any duplicates.

Part of the living - room furniture had just been restored and put back into place. In the great front hall were an antique vase and table, which had been in the family for many generations.

The original land grant, signed by U. S. Grant, was in a vault along with other papers dating back to the Civil War days. The ledgers of Rhymes were also in the house, which gave prices of food in these long - ago days with notations of the day's happenings. The family silver, pictures dating back to the time when cameras first came into being, were all destroyed.

West Monroe Vote Looms

An "unusually heavy turnout" of absentee voters boosted the ballot total to 66 Saturday for the May 12 West Monroe election — and indicated possibilities of an all-time high in that city's voting.

Next Saturday is decision day for the post of mayor and five aldermen for the next four years.

C. C. Bell, Jr., who was mayor until 1952, is seeking to oust incumbent Mayor J. Allan Norris.

Bell came out of the April 7 first primary with a 61 vote lead over Norris.

Nine men and one woman are in the race for alderman: Charles R. Anding, Alton P. Burkett, (incumbent), A. L. (Buddy) DeLoach Jr., Earl Duncan, Benjamin R. Farmer (incumbent), Gaston B. Folds, Loy K. Heard, (incumbent), R. C. Jolissaint, (incumbent), Mrs. Joyce T. Smith and George T. Wylie.

A steady stream of 16 last minute voters cast ballots at the Ouachita Parish courthouse before the polls closed at noon Saturday.

"They came in pretty regular Friday and today," said Deputy Clerk of Court Bill McNabb. "There were only some 20 absentee ballots in the first primary."

Here's how the absentee voting went, broken into precincts: 1. fourteen; 2. six; 3. eight; 4. four; 6. four; 8. seven; 9. ten; 11. twelve.

Next Saturday, eight voting places will be open from 6 a.m. to 8 p.m. according to Ouachita Registrar of Voters Mrs. Mae Lucky.

Precinct locations, and number of voters registered at each, are:

Precinct 1, Agriculture building, 704 Cypress, 653 registered.

Precinct 2, Old City Hall, Trenton Street, 420.

Precinct 3, Fire station, S. Fifth and Austin Streets, 558.

Precinct 4, Mitchelll School, 421.

Precinct 6, Spillers store, 310 Montgomery, 391.

Precinct 8, Hattaway Motel, 1311 Cypress, 436.

Precinct 9, Claiborne Street fire station, 856.

Precinct 11, Fairgrounds building, N. Seventh Street, 1540.

A total of 3355 persons voted in the first primary.

LOCAL OBSERVANCE

National Music Week Is Slated

Orchestras, bands and choirs in the Twin Cities area will celebrate 1962's National Music Week, May 6-13, by presenting 12 programs during the period.

"Let the World Rejoice with Music" is the theme of the 39th annual observance, sponsored by the National Federation of Music Clubs.

The Monroe Youth Orchestra, Roger DiGiulian conducting, and the Neville High School Choir, Miss Nina Harris conducting, will get the local observance underway today with a joint program in Forsythe Park at 2 p.m

Mrs. H. G. McDonald of 1106 Riverside Drive in Monroe is Louisiana's state chairman for the celebration. The aim, she said, is:

1. To vitalize music for the harmony it creates;

2. To develop more extensive understanding and appreciation of the great art of music;

3. To encourage more participation in music;

4. To demonstrate the pleasure and value of music.

The 11 other musical events planned for the Twin Cities, in chronological sequence, will be presented by:

Monday — West Monroe High School Band, Henry Crump directing, 8 p.m. at West Monroe High School;

Tuesday — West Monroe High School Ensemble, Mrs. Juanita Kilpatrick conducting, 8:30 a.m. at West Monroe High School; Ouachita High School Ensemble, Mrs. Lloydelle Thomas conducting, 7:30 p.m. at Highland Park Country Club; Ouachita High School Band, Tom Wafer conducting, 8:30 p.m. at Ouachita High School;

Wednesday — Northeast Louisiana State College Band, Joe Barry Mullins conducting; 1 p.m. at Neville High School;

Thursday — Youth Orchestra, Roger DiGiulian conducting, 8 p.m. at Neville High School; Northeast Louisiana State College Choir, Davis Bingham conducting, 8 p.m. at Brown Auditorium;

Saturday — Ouachita High School Choir, Mrs. Lloydelle Thomas conducting, 3 p.m. at the DAR Chapter House;

Sunday — A special program conducted by Mrs. Lloydelle Thomas with Mrs. Bonnie Poulos as guest soloist, 10:30 a.m. at Covenant Presbyterian Church; Ouachita High School Band, Tom Wafer conducting, 2 p.m. at Forsythe Park; Faculty Recital, Mrs. Kedwick Martin (cello) and Dr. Marshall Bretz (piano), 3 p.m. at Louisiana Tech, Ruston.

Vote Rivals Have Same Last Names

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—Democrats voting in New Mexico's primary election Tuesday are going to have to do some brushing up on the alphabet the night before.

Seeking renomination for United States representative, position 1, is U.S. Rep. Joseph M. Montoya. He has drawn as one of his two primary opponents an Albuquerque salesman by the name of Joseph E. Montoya.

To add to the confusion, Joseph E. Montoya drew the top position on the ballot, the spot many voters check off when they are in doubt.

State law requires that in the case of a similarity of names, the occupation and county of residence of the candidates be listed on the ballot.

The New Mexico attorney general ruled Congressman Montoya should be listed as: "Joseph M. Montoya, U.S. Representative, Sandoval County." His opponent, the attorney general said, should be listed as: "Joseph E. Montoya, salesman, Bernalillo County."

Joseph E. Montoya's attorney appealed to the New Mexico Supreme Court to force the secretary of state to list Rep. Montoya as "Jose Manuel Montoya, attorney, Santa Fe County."

Attorney Dale Dilts argued that Rep. Montoya's true name was Jose Manuel Montova and offered an old voter's registration certificate as evidence.

Dilts also argued that U.S. representative was not an occupation and Rep. Montoya's occupation on the ballot should be listed as attorney. He also contended that Congressman Montoya's legal residence was Santa Fe County and not Sandoval County.

The New Mexico Supreme Court denied the request, contending that the intention of the law requiring identification of candidates was to keep the voters from being confused.

The court ruled that the law was not engaged for the benefit of the candidates but for the benefit of the voters.

Sand Smothers Florida Boy, 8

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Rickie Paul Dowell, 8, found what every child dreams about—a sand pile 30 feet high.

But the mound of sand was a death trap for Rickie. His body was recovered from beneath the sand Saturday after a night-long search.

Police said that the boy apparently climbed the mound and was buried and suffocated when the sand shifted.

Fidel Attacks U.S. Alliance For Progress

HAVANA (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro told a group of visiting Communist delegates from 43 countries that the "alliance for progress is an alliance for failure," the government press reported Saturday.

Castro spoke at a farewell banquet Friday night for delegates from the Communist "peace movement" and "international federation of women." His remarks were not broadcast.

The bearded leader predicted the downfall of Venezuelan President Romulo Betancourt and Guatemalan President Manuel Ydigoras Fuentes.

"While the (Cuban) revolution grows stronger those governments are crumbling and they will be crushed by the revolutionary movement of the workers and peasants," he said.

Turning to the United States, he said:

"When the peoples of Latin America enter into revolution they also are going to wake up the people of the United States."

Commenting on the fact that Cuba is only 90 miles from the U. S. he said that "to be 90 miles away is worse for the capitalists Americans than for us.

"This is because there exists in Latin America an era of revolutionary movements which is making the Latin American peoples wake up and which therefore means the end of Yankee imperialism."

General Clay Gives Berlin Farewell Pledge

BERLIN (AP)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay made a farewell pledge Saturday that U.S. troops would stay in Berlin until the city and all Germany are unified, as long as Berliners want them.

Clay spoke—with a catch in his voice—at a ceremony conferring on him the city's honorary citizenship. He was the first foreigner to get the honor in this century, and the second one in history. His only predecessor was Czar Nicholas I of All the Russias.

"As our government talks with the Soviet government, Clay said, "and concerts its views without Allies—including of course the German Federal Republic—to determine if there is a basis of negotiations, rumors of alleged misunderstandings between the Allies are certain to be aired.

"I urge you not to be concerned by them but to have confidence in us."

MICHIGAN GOVERNORSHIP

Incumbent Plans To Oppose Romney

DETROIT (UPI)—Gov. John B. Swainson, proclaiming "I have never run away from a fight," Saturday night announced his bid for re-election by declaring war on Michigan's GOP—headed by former automaker George Romney.

"On the basis of my record and on the program and platform of the Democratic Party—I intend to run for re-election as governor in 1962," Swainson told a packed Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner audience.

The governor stayed clear of Romney, his certain foe this fall in what shapes up as one of the bitterest political campaigns in Michigan history.

However, Swainson took the opportunity to launch a vitriolic attack on "mossback" Republicans who blocked his fiscal reform program in the state legislature.

"The deadlock which has stymied responsibile action in Lansing is solely the responsibility of a wilful claque of irresponsible political mossbacks," Swainson told the party's rank-and-file.

"There is only one solution," he said. "Throw the rascals out."

Swainson said his programs "were rejected by the Republican majority in the legislature...in a deliberate and well-thought-out decision to foul its own nest, in an attempt to gain power."

Swainson had solid Democratic support and enough votes from a block of moderate Republicans to push his compromise tax program, including a three per cent income tax, through the State Senate three weeks ago.

But the income tax bill died on the Senate table after three Republicans switched their votes on reconsideration.

Swainson's main concern in November, however, won't be the old-guard conservatives in the state legislature—it'll be Romney, the popular former president of American Motors Corp., who pioneered profit-sharing in the auto industry last year.

Romney is prominently mentioned as a contender for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination and offers Michigan Democrats their toughest statehouse challenge since the early G. Mennen Williams days.

IVAN MALINOWSKY, 52-year-old manager of a supermarket, talks to reporters in Washington about his recent medical history-making operation. Malinowsky was shot in the right thigh last February in an attempted holdup and the bullet was located later by X-rays in his heart where it had been carried via a blood vessel. The bullet was removed in a three-hour operation. (AP Wirephoto)

RARE MEDICAL CASE

Bullet Is Removed From Man's Heart

WASHINGTON (AP) — A gunman's bullet entered Ivan's thigh, traveled through his blood vessels and ended up inside his heart, launching Ivan into medical history.

Chipper and getting well fast now after a three-hour, possible life-saving, open-heart operation, Ivan Malinowsky, 52, joined Georgetown University Hospital doctors Saturday in describing his ordeal of last February.

His heart had held the bullet for two weeks. The half-inch long bullet had been temporarily lost in Ivan's body.

Surgeons at another hospital had probed in vain for it in the wounded thigh—only to find, by repeated X ray studies higher and higher on the body, that it had lodged in Ivan's heart, three feet from the point of entry.

The mild-mannered, Russian-born manager of a Washington chain-grocery store was shot while inside his automobile near his store after playing hide-and-seek around the car with the young, unidentified gunman who wanted Ivan to open up the closed store and empty the safe.

The doctors said there are only 30 cases like Ivan's in all medical history—that is, cases where a bullet or other missile enters the body in one place and is carried via a blood vessel to the heart.

Most such cases, they told reporters, have been battle casualties. More than half of them have involved scattered shrapnel with which a man might be hit in several places at once, with one of the missiles striking a highway to the heart.

It's a real medical freak to have a single bullet act this way, Drs. Charles Hufnagel and Peter Conrad said.

Hufnagel is world famed as the developer of plastic aorta valves which have saved the lives of many sufferers from congenital defects of the aorta, the main pathway of blood from the heart.

But no plastic valve was needed for Ivan. The bullet didn't lodge anywhere near his aorta. It did come close to the pulmonary artery, another key blood channel which takes blood from the heart to the lungs.

If it had drifted into that artery after entering the heart, it might have been curtains for Ivan.

FEARS WAR NEAR

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI)—Agriculture Minister Moshe Dayan, Israeli chief of staff during the Suez campaign, said Friday the danger of war in the Middle East is nearer than a few years ago. But he said the Arabs will not attack for fear of losing.

U.S. Reports Machines To Reduce Jobs

HARRIMAN, N.Y. (AP) — Machines will eliminate at least 200,000 jobs a year in the next decade, says a new report described as the first attempt to reduce automation job losses to actual figures.

The report, by Ewan Clague, U.S. commissioner of labor statistics, and Leon Greenberg, of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, was prepared for the American Assembly conference on technological changes.

The report discusses disemployment, those jobs wiped out by increases in productivity—where new machines mean a plant doesn't need as many people as before to produce all the goods it can sell.

The report says that the economy thus needs to create 200,000 jobs a year—one way or another—just to take care of those people whom technological change displaces.

Some of the people could go into producing and maintaining the machines but increased consumption and new products and services would be needed to prevent mass additions to unemployment rolls, the report said.

The four-day conference, drawing 70 leaders from industry, labor, colleges and government, is studying how to reap the fruits of technological advance while minimizing its pains.

The conference, which will close Sunday with a set of recommendations, is one of several that have been sponsored by the American Assembly, an adjunct of Columbia University.

Miss Goldwater Is Considering Trip To Israel

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The attractive, 17-year-old daughter of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., is considering going to Israel to work in a kibbutz.

A kibbutz is a collective farm owned and operated by the members.

But her trip, Margaret Ann (Peggy) Goldwater said Friday, will have to wait until after graduation from Mount Vernon Junior College near Washington two years from now.

Miss Goldwater, who returned from Norfolk, Va., this week after reigning as queen of the International Azalea Festival, is a senior at Judson High School, a private school near Phoenix.

She explained: "I read the book 'Exodus' and that started me thinking about it. A girl in New York sent me some other books on Israel that were very good."

"What I hope to do," she said, "is go to Israel after graduation. If it doesn't look interesting, I'll go on to France."

Miss Goldwater said she thought work in a kibbutz would aid her in what she now plans as a career in child guidance.

She said she talked to her father about her plans, but that he expressed no opinion on it.

Thursday, her brother, Barry Goldwater Jr., 23, a senior at Arizona State University, disclosed he, too, is considering overseas work.

MICHIGAN GOVERNORSHIP

Incumbent Plans To Oppose Romney

DETROIT (UPI)—Gov. John B. Swainson, proclaiming "I have never run away from a fight," Saturday night announced his bid for re-election by declaring war on Michigan's GOP—headed by former automaker George Romney.

"On the basis of my record... and on the program and platform of the Democratic Party—I intend to run for re-election as governor in 1962," Swainson told a packed Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner audience.

The governor stayed clear of Romney, his certain foe this fall in what shapes up as one of the bitterest political campaigns in Michigan history.

However, Swainson took the opportunity to launch a vitriolic attack on "mossback" Republicans who blocked his fiscal reform program in the state legislature.

"The deadlock which has stymied responsibile action in Lansing is solely the responsibility of a wilful claque of irresponsible political mossbacks," Swainson told the party's rank-and-file.

"There is only one solution," he said. "Throw the rascals out."

Swainson said his programs "were rejected by the Republican majority in the legislature...in a deliberate and well-thought-out decision to foul its own nest, in an attempt to gain power."

Swainson had solid Democratic support and enough votes from a block of moderate Republicans to push his compromise tax program, including a three per cent income tax, through the State Senate three weeks ago.

But the income tax bill died on the Senate table after three Republicans switched their votes on reconsideration.

Swainson's main concern in November, however, won't be the old-guard conservatives in the state legislature—it'll be Romney, the popular former president of American Motors Corp., who pioneered profit-sharing in the auto industry last year.

Romney is prominently mentioned as a contender for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination and offers Michigan Democrats their toughest statehouse challenge since the early G. Mennen Williams days.

IVAN MALINOWSKY, 52-year-old manager of a supermarket, talks to reporters in Washington about his recent medical history-making operation. Malinowsky was shot in the right thigh last February in an attempted holdup and the bullet was located later by X-rays in his heart where it had been carried via a blood vessel. The bullet was removed in a three-hour operation. (AP Wirephoto)

RARE MEDICAL CASE

Bullet Is Removed From Man's Heart

WASHINGTON (AP) — A gunman's bullet entered Ivan's thigh, traveled through his blood vessels and ended up inside his heart—launching Ivan into medical history.

Chipper and getting well fast now after a three-hour, possible life-saving, open-heart operation, Ivan Malinowsky, 52, joined Georgetown University Hospital doctors Saturday in describing his ordeal of last February.

His heart had held the bullet for two weeks. The half-inch long, bullet had been temporarily lost in Ivan's body.

Surgeons at another hospital had probed in vain for it in the wounded thigh—only to find, by repeated X ray studies higher and higher on the body, that it had lodged in Ivan's heart, three feet from the point of entry.

The mild-mannered, Russian-born manager of a Washington chain-grocery store was shot while inside his automobile near his store after playing hide-and-seek around the car with the young, unidentified gunman who wanted Ivan to open up the closed store and empty the safe.

The doctors said there are only 30 cases like Ivan's in all medical history—that is, cases where a bullet or other missile enters the body in one place and is carried via a blood vessel to the heart.

Most such cases, they told reporters, have been battle casualties. More than half of them have involved scattered shrapnel with which a man might be hit in several places at once, with one of the missiles striking a highway to the heart.

It's a real medical freak to have a single bullet act this way, Drs. Charles Hufnagel and Peter Conrad said.

Hufnagel is world famed as the developer of plastic aorta valves which have saved the lives of many sufferers from congenital defects of the aorta, the main pathway of blood from the heart.

But no plastic valve was needed for Ivan. The bullet didn't lodge anywhere near his aorta. It did come close to the pulmonary artery, another key blood channel, which takes blood from the heart to the lungs.

If it had drifted into that artery after entering the heart, it might have been curtains for Ivan.

FEARS WAR NEAR

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI)—Agriculture Minister Moshe Dayan, Israeli chief of staff during the Suez campaign, said Friday the danger of war in the Middle East is nearer than a few years ago. But he said the Arabs will not attack for fear of losing.

U.S. Reports Machines To Reduce Jobs

HARRIMAN, N.Y. (AP) — Machines will eliminate at least 200,000 jobs a year in the next decade, says a new report described as the first attempt to reduce automation job losses to actual figures.

The report, by Ewan Clague, U.S. commissioner of labor statistics, and Leon Greenberg, of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, was prepared for the American Assembly conference on technological changes.

The report discusses disemployment, those jobs wiped out by increases in productivity—where new machines mean a plant doesn't need as many people as before to produce all the goods it can sell.

The report says that the economy thus needs to create 200,000 jobs a year—one way or another—just to take care of those people whom technological change displaces.

Some of the people could go into producing and maintaining the machines but increased consumption and new products and services would be needed to prevent mass additions to unemployment rolls, the report said.

The four-day conference, drawing 70 leaders from industry, labor, colleges and government, is studying how to reap the fruits of technological advance while minimizing its pains.

The conference, which will close Sunday with a set of recommendations, is one of several that have been sponsored by the American Assembly, an adjunct of Columbia University.

Miss Goldwater Is Considering Trip To Israel

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The attractive, 17-year-old daughter of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., is considering going to Israel to work in a kibbutz.

A kibbutz is a collective farm owned and operated by the members.

But her trip, Margaret Ann (Peggy) Goldwater said Friday, will have to wait until after graduation from Mount Vernon Junior College near Washington two years from now.

Miss Goldwater, who returned from Norfolk, Va., this week after reigning as queen of the International Azalea Festival, is a senior at Judson High School, a private school near Phoenix.

She explained: "I read the book 'Exodus' and that started me thinking about it. A girl in New York sent me some other books on Israel that were very good."

"What I hope to do," she said, "is go to Israel after graduation. If it doesn't look interesting, I'll go on to France."

Miss Goldwater said she thought work in a kibbutz would aid her in what she now plans as a career in child guidance.

She said she talked to her father about her plans, but that he expressed no opinion on it.

Thursday, her brother, Barry Goldwater Jr., 23, a senior at Arizona State University, disclosed he, too, is considering overseas work.

Savings, Loan Convention To Hear Passman

Among speakers addressing the Louisiana Savings and Loan League Convention to be held this month at Edgewater Park, Miss., will be Otto E. Passman, Congressman from Monroe.

The Convention will take place at the Edgewater Gulf Hotel May 13, at 2 p.m. Passman will address the closing session on May 19.

The first business session is scheduled for 10 a.m. May 17, with a newscast by James E. Reese, news director of radio station W.G.C.M., Gulfport, Miss., and an announcement of committees and introduction of guests. J. O. Fogleman, president of the League, will give the annual opening address and preside at the business meetings.

Also scheduled for the first session are addresses by Norman Strunk, Executive Vice President of U.S. Savings and Loan League, and Dr. Frank Goodwin, Department of Marketing at the University of Florida in Gainesville.

PANEL SESSION

A panel discussion on State Legislation will be held on the afternoon of the 17th. Azzo J. Plough, legislative committee chairman, will act as moderator.

Floyd Cramer, president of the National League of Insured Savings Associations, will address the group following the opening of the business session Friday, May 18th.

Also slated for the morning session is a panel discussion. Participating will be Deputy Commissioner Clem Ruf, Louisiana State Department of Banking, and Assistant General Manager John A. O'Brien, F.S.L.I.C., Washington, D. C. Ennis Oakes, president of F.H.L.B., Little Rock Arkansas, will serve as moderator.

Officers will be elected May 19 at the closing session.

A series of social functions including a buffet luncheon on May 17 and 18 and a golf tournament on May 18 will be part of the program.

A flower arranging demonstration will be among the special entertainments provided for the ladies. Attendance prizes will be awarded at each session

Joe 'Disgraces' His Handlers In Manhunt

SUMMERVILLE, Ga. (UPI) — The spirits of "Joe" the bloodhound were lower Saturday than his drooping ears.

Joe was one of a pack of dogs turned loose Friday to track down four work camp escapees. He went baying off with his companions, but when nightfall came he failed to return.

His handlers were puzzled and embarrassed. They had to conclude the prize blood had lost his way.

But then police caught up with one of the fugitives, Frank Scott, a Negro, who told all on Joe.

Scott said that far from losing the scent, Joe had outrun the entire pack and at one point had caught up with him.

The fugitive said that Joe seemed so friendly and so glad to see him that he chanced patting the animal. This seemed to please Joe even more, Scott said, so he simply tied him up.

Officers got Scott to describe the area where he and Joe had made friends and set out Saturday to find the dog.

Wins First

RUSTON (Special)—Judy Beard of the Arcadia High School won first place in the norther district yam contest held at Louisiana Tech, it was announced Saturday by Dean Alice M. Graham of the School of Home Economics at the college here.

Gayle Bassett of Grayson, ranked second and Elizabeth Redditt of St. Joseph was third.

FATHER OF FREE TRIPS

Singlemann Will Explain His Side

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — New Orleans segregationist George Singelmann plans to answer charges Monday that his "Freedom Ride North" project is cruel and inhumane.

The (white) Citizens Council of New Orleans said a Negro family of four and a stranded Negro man left on the Sunset Limited train Saturday night for California.

Singelmann, father of the free, one-way trips out of the South for unhappy Negroes, Saturday charged people were receiving only one side of the segregationist-financed trips.

U. S. Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy, Sen. Jacob Javits (N.Y.), New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller and prominent Negro leaders have attacked the council, calling the trips "a cruel hoax" and "inhumane."

Some 58 Negroes are known to have accepted the offer although Singlemann claims the council has sent 161 North and to the West Coast.

Singelmann claimed he bought a ticket Friday night for a Negro woman stranded in New Orleans. He said the woman was en route to Valdosta, Ga., from Phoenix, Ariz., to see her dying father.

"I bought her a ticket so she could complete the trip," Singlemann said. "I paid for a phone call to Georgia to confirm she was on her way there."

"People won't print that. Everyone thinks I have horns," he said.

Singlemann confirmed Saturday that he would fly to Montgomery and Birmingham, Ala., Wednesday and to Macon and Augusta, Ga., on Thursday to help citizens councils there who want to start the trips.

A spokesman for the Louisiana Citizens Council said it had no immediate plans to send anymore Negroes North.

The council provided free transportation for seven Shreveport Negroes Friday to Chicago and Decatur, Ill., and Kansas City, Mo.

The (Negro) Consumer League of Greater New Orleans attacked the council Saturday and called "on every freedom loving, good thinking Negro to refrain from degrading and disgracing themselves before the world and refuse this kind of handout."

It was two weeks ago that the first known "freedom ride north" family arrived in New York. An unemployed Negro, Lewis Boyd, his wife and eight children were given $50 expense money and free transportation by segregationists.

Foundation Will Honor Memory Of Earl Long

BATON ROUGE (AP) — J. M. (Pete) Menefee announced formation Saturday of the Earl K. Long Memorial Foundation.

Menefee, longtime political and personal friend of the late governor, said articles of incorporation will be filed here Monday by Elayn Hunt, local attorney.

Joining with Mrs. Hunt and Menefee in forming the non-profit corporation will be Victor Bussie, president of the Louisiana State Labor Council, AFL-CIO.

Menefee said the foundation is being organized to receive and administer donations to be used to erect memorials honoring Long.

Specifically, the corporation will erect memorials at Long's grave in Winnfield where the family home was located.

A statue paid for by a state appropriation is to be erected over Long's grave. It is scheduled to be completed by 1963.

Negro Claims 4 Free-Riders Stayed In Dixie

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — James Love, a free-riding Negro from Shreveport, La., arrived in Decatur Saturday on a bus ticket paid for by the Louisiana Association of Citizens Councils.

He said a family of four Negroes who had headed for Chicago on the same bus got off, instead, in Little Rock, Ark. They are Mr. and Mrs. Luther Harris and their two children.

Ned Touchstone, chairman of the association's "Freedom Bus North" committee, said the Harris family had been given $45 in spending money "so they could have plenty of milk for the children."

In addition to Love and the Harris family, two other Negroes took the bus from Shreveport—Frank Hill, bound for Chicago, and Charles Gates, headed for Kansas City.

Love, 56, was met by a Negro minister. A hotel room was arranged for him and he planned to look for a job. He lived in Decatur from 1940 to 1946.

Singlemann Will Explain His Side

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — New Orleans segregationist George Singelmann plans to answer charges Monday that his "Freedom Ride North" project is cruel and inhumane.

The (white) Citizens Council of New Orleans said a Negro family of four and a stranded Negro man left on the Sunset Limited train Saturday night for California.

Singelmann, father of the free, one-way trips out of the South for unhappy Negroes, Saturday charged people were receiving only one side of the segregationist-financed trips.

U. S. Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy, Sen. Jacob Javits (N.Y.), New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller and prominent Negro leaders have attacked the council, calling the trips "a cruel hoax" and "inhumane."

Some 58 Negroes are known to have accepted the offer although Singlemann claims the council has sent 161 North and to the West Coast.

Singelmann claimed he bought a ticket Friday night for a Negro woman stranded in New Orleans. He said the woman was en route to Valdosta, Ga., from Phoenix, Ariz., to see her dying father.

"I bought her a ticket so she could complete the trip," Singlemann said. "I paid for a phone call to Georgia to confirm she was on her way there."

"People won't print that. Everyone thinks I have horns," he said.

Singlemann confirmed Saturday that he would fly to Montgomery and Birmingham, Ala., Wednesday and to Macon and Augusta, Ga., on Thursday to help citizens councils there who want to start the trips.

A spokesman for the Louisiana Citizens Council said it had no immediate plans to send anymore Negroes North.

The council provided free transportation for seven Shreveport Negroes Friday to Chicago and Decatur, Ill., and Kansas City, Mo.

The (Negro) Consumer League of Greater New Orleans attacked the council Saturday and called "on every freedom loving, good thinking Negro to refrain from degrading and disgracing themselves before the world and refuse this kind of handout."

It was two weeks ago that the first known "freedom ride north" family arrived in New York. An unemployed Negro, Lewis Boyd, his wife and eight children were given $50 expense money and free transportation by segregationists.

Bob Kennedy Makes Civil Rights Talk

NEW YORK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said Saturday the advancement of civil rights at home "is as important as the race for outer space, the race for equality, if not superiority, in nuclear weapons."

In an address prepared for the American Jewish Committee's 55th annual meeting here, Kennedy said, "If we are to be leaders in a struggle for freedom, we must achieve a full measure of freedom and social progress for all Americans."

Kennedy spoke at a meeting where federal Judge Thurgood Marshall, recently appointed by President Kennedy to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, was presented the American Liberties Medallion.

Marshall's interim appointment to the appeals court has not yet been confirmed by the U.S. Senate. He was cited as a "pioneering advocate of equality under the law."

The attorney general reminded that, "In these times, we need the vigor and the faith of every American as we seek to advance the cause of freedom in a period of perilous cold war. To thwart thousands of our fellow Americans from participating fully in the process of our government is to weaken that vigor and to dilute their faith, and we cannot afford it."

Kennedy focused his attack on abuses of the right to vote.

"Hundreds of thousands of our fellow Americans are being denied the right to vote," he said, adding that current legislation before Congress "would be a major step in remedying the situation and that can be provided quickly and easily by Congress."

He emphasized that, "The right to vote is the easiest right of all to grant."

In examining U.S. civil rights problems, Kennedy drew a sharp contrast with the Soviet Union where, he said, "attacks on religious and racial minorities are hidden from public view."

"In the United States," he said, "we live in a free and open society and we do not hide our faults, bury our mistakes or conceal incidents, however shameful. As a result, the whole world knows that we have racial and religious intolerance."

Not as well known, or understood, throughout the world is "the great effort being made by the American government and the American people to eradicate" civil rights inequities.

U.S. Sailor Shot In Japan

YOKOSUKA, Japan (UPI) — U. S. Navy shore patrolmen shot and wounded a young American sailor in a running gun battle Saturday as he tried to slip into the Yokosuka Naval Base with four shipmates after allegedly killing a Japanese policeman.

The sailor was identified as Seaman Apprentice Richard Lee Jackson, 19, of Kansas City, Kans. A U. S. Navy announcement said he was wounded "severely in the head and body" but is expected to recovery.

The announcement said Jackson's four shipmates named him as the slayer of Yokosuka policeman Hiroshi Endo, 38, who was shot with his own gun "during a scuffle in the alleys" of this port city in the early morning hours.

In Kansas City, an uncle with whom Jackson had lived since the death of his mother in 1952, said the youth enlisted in the Navy two years ago because he was a "poor student and just didn't like school."

"He was a pretty wild boy most of the time," said Thomas Gordon. "But he had never been in any really serious trouble.

The four other sailors were arrested as material witnesses. They were identified as: S-A Joseph J. Urgan Jr., 19, of Canoga Park, Calif; S-A Robert Driscoll, 19, of Dumont, N. J.; S-A Eugene Raymond Pacelli, 19, of Atherton, Calif. and Seaman Harry Edgar Williams, 20, of Scotts Mills, Ore.

All five sailors are attached to the U.S.S. Tom Green County.

A Navy spokesman said Jackson and the others will remain in U. S. custody for the time being but that Japan has "primary jurisdiction," indicating Jackson eventually will be turned over to Japanese authorities for trial. Japanese law provides for capital punishment by hanging.

The Navy said Endo was slain after he ordered Jackson and his four shipmates to accompnay him to a police station for investigation of a street brawl. Japanese policemen said the five sailors, wearing civilian clothes, were involved in a fight with two employes of a Japanese fishing company.

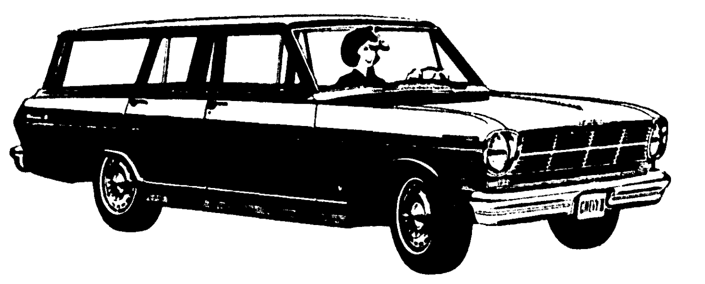
GOLDEN SALES JUBILEE!

Spring's a-wasting! So why wait any longer to satisfy that new-car urge of yours? Beautiful buys have busted out all over the place at your Chevrolet dealer's—in the best selection of sizes and sizzle you'll find anywhere. Like in fourteen Jet-smooth Chevrolets. Or eleven new-size Chevy II models with price, spice and everything nice. Or a whole crew of frisky Corvairs, including a sporty new Monza Convertible. So come on in and do your picking and choosing to your heart's (and budget's) content at your Chevrolet dealer's One-Stop Shopping Center.

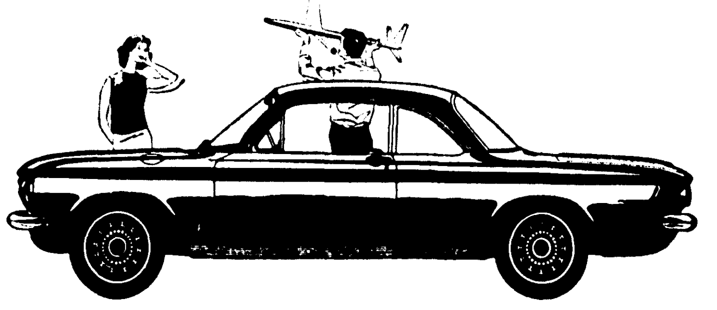
NEW IMPALA SPORT COUPE

It couldn't look more like a convertible unless it were one!...

This one's still got people doing double takes. A steel top molded into the crisp contours of a convertible. Chalk it up to Body by Fisher finesse. Then chalk up this Impala's rich appointments, stretch-out roominess and road-hushing Jet-smooth ride, and see if they don't add up to everything you expect in an expensive car—except the expense.



NEW CHEVY II NOVA STATION WAGON Space and spice in a new kind of saver. And it's just one of three new Chevy II wagons. Very parkable. Very packable, too. Has a load floor that's over 9 ft. with second seat and tailgate down—long enough for most everything from building supplies to paddle boards. Lots of wagon at a low, low price.



NEW CORVAIR MONZA CLUB COUPE Like your driving on the sporty side? A trim, sweet-handling, personal kind of car? Then that bucket seat behind the wheel of this Monza was made for you. Here's rear engine scamper wedded to the road with tenacious traction and quicksilver reflexes. And it's as easy to own as it is to drive.

NEW BEL AIR 4-DOOR SEDAN This popular priced Jet-smoothie rides like a family room on wheels. (And it's so rich and roomy inside!) Got a mammoth cave of a trunk, too, with bumper-level loading and a handy deep well for bulky items. With all these family-fashioned virtues and a choice of six or V8 skedaddle, is it any wonder Chevrolet is America's favorite people-pleaser?

NEW IMPALA 6-PASSENGER STATION WAGON Chevrolet wagoning at its most elegant. With up to a whopping 97.5 cu. ft. of cargo space—including a concealed compartment in the floor where you can stow your golf clubs and other valuables out of sight. And with that Jet-smooth ride, you get relaxed going—traveling loaded or light.

Sparkman Predicts Defeat Of Bid To Impose Cloture

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. John J. Sparkman, D-Ala., said Saturday that "unconstitutionality of the administration's literacy test bill will help Southern senators defeat a drive next week to impose cloture and cut off debate on the measure.

Sparkman, the 1952 Democratic vice presidential nominee, said on a radio broadcast for Southern stations that "we believe strongly in the unconstitutionality of this bill."

He said "a lot of people who ordinarily would vote to cut off just an ordinary filibuster would not do so here."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., plans to file a cloture petition Monday to curb debate on the pending voting rights bill. The measure would outlaw discriminatory state literacy tests and make a sixth grade education proof of literacy for voting in federal elections.

A vote on the cloture move will automatically come Wednesday. The petition requires only 16 signatures for filing but faces the uphill task of winning two-thirds of all senators present.

Mansfield telegraphed the Senate's 63 other Democrats, urging them to be on deck Monday and all of next week for voting on the literacy proposal.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., who is co-sponsoring the measure and working with Mansfield on strategy, was making a similar effort to round up all available GOP votes for cloture vote.

The well-organized 19-member Southern bloc is confident of mustering enough strength to block the move. But the closeness of the vote will determine whether Mansfield and Dirksen make other moves to seek passage of the measure or sidetrack it for the year.

Meantime, Mansfield defended the right of the Southerners to talk at length against the measure but said he still favored changing the cloture rule to let three-fifths of the senators present cut off debate instead of two-thirds.

Mansfield said he opposed moves by Senate liberals to let a simple majority cut off debate because "I do not think a decision of vital importance in any field should be taken on the basis of the way two or three men vote."

The Southerners have tied up the Senate for nine full days of debate and are prepared to talk indefinitely. But they privately fear that if Mansfield continues the debate after Wednesday, their chances of defeating a second cloture move will decrease as time drags on.

U.S. ORDER LONGEST

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. William B. Widnall, R-N.J., commented Saturday: "The Lord's Prayer has 56 words, Lincoln's Gettysburg Address has 266, the Commandments 297, the Declaration of Independence 300. But a recent government order on cabbage prices has 26,911."

CITES JFK'S FORMULA

Union Leader Calls For Car Price Cuts

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)— Union leader Walter Reuther said Saturday exorbitant auto industry profits require a significant slash in car prices under terms of President Kennedy's economic stabilization formula.

Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, AFL-CIO, said in a report to the UAW's 18th convention that guides laid down by Kennedy's economic advisers point "directly at the auto industry and then acted to obtain a roll back of steel industry price increases. The formula also calls for price cuts in high profit industries.

"By any reasonable criteria," Reuther said, "the auto industry is one in which prices should be reduced.

"Such price cuts are essential to offset the price increases which occur in other industries with lower than average productivity and which are unavoidable if the workers in those less productive industries are to receive wage increases comparable to other workers."

Reuther said 1961 was a recession year but, even at that, General Motors Corp. could have reduced car and truck prices the equivalent of $275 a unit at retail and the Ford Motor Co. $225 with both firms making nine per cent return on their investment.

Instead, Reuther said, the two big auto companies earned 1961 profits half again higher than the profit of the average U.S. manufacturing concern. He said GM's profits were 15.4 per cent on investment and Ford's 14.2 per cent.

"If in spite of this favorable profit position, the industry persists in maintaining its present price structure of excessive prices, the demand for cars is likely to rise but slowly if at all in the near future, with the serious economic consequences of high unemployment and growing job insecurity for the workers in the industry," Reuther added.

Reuther said the power of major corporations to maintain price levels, even in face of reduced demand for products, has been a prime factor in the increase in the general price level in recent years. He urged legislation requiring advance public review — or goldfish-bowl procedure, as he called it — before price increases could be put into effect in major industries.

Among a number of resolutions adopted by the 2,800 convention delegates was one affirming the UAW's determination to preserve living cost adjustment provisions in its labor contracts.

Sparkman Predicts Defeat Of Bid To Impose Cloture

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. John J. Sparkman, D-Ala., said Saturday that "unconstitutionality of the administration's literacy test bill will help Southern senators defeat a drive next week to impose cloture and cut off debate on the measure.

Sparkman, the 1952 Democratic vice presidential nominee; said on a radio broadcast for Southern stations that "we believe strongly in the unconstitutionality of this bill."

He said "a lot of people who ordinarily would vote to cut off just an ordinary filibuster would not do so here."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., plans to file a cloture petition Monday to curb debate on the pending voting rights bill. The measure would outlaw discriminatory state literacy tests and make a sixth grade education proof of literacy for voting in federal elections.

A vote on the cloture move will automatically come Wednesday. The petition requires only 16 signatures for filing but faces the uphill task of winning two-thirds of all senators present.

Mansfield telegraphed the Senate's 63 other Democrats, urging them to be on deck Monday and all of next week for voting on the literacy proposal.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., who is co-sponsoring the measure and working with Mansfield on strategy, was making a similar effort to round up all available GOP votes for cloture vote.

The well-organized 19-member Southern bloc is confident of mustering enough strength to block the move. But the closeness of the vote will determine whether Mansfield and Dirksen make other moves to seek passage of the measure or sidetrack it for the year.

Meantime, Mansfield defended the right of the Southerners to talk at length against the measure but said he still favored changing the cloture rule to let three-fifths of the senators present cut off debate instead of two-thirds.

Mansfield said he opposed moves by Senate liberals to let a simple majority cut off debate because "I do not think a decision of vital importance in any field should be taken on the basis of the way two or three men vote."

The Southerners have tied up the Senate for nine full days of debate and are prepared to talk indefinitely. But they privately fear that if Mansfield continues the debate after Wednesday, their chances of defeating a second cloture move will decrease as time drags on.

U.S. ORDER LONGEST

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. William B. Widnall, R-N.J., commented Saturday: "The Lord's Prayer has 56 words, Lincoln's Gettysburg Address has 266, the Commandments 297, the Declaration of Independence 300. But a recent government order on cabbage prices has 26,911."

CITES JFK'S FORMULA

Union Leader Calls For Car Price Cuts

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Union leader Walter Reuther said Saturday exorbitant auto industry profits require a significant slash in car prices under terms of President Kennedy's economic stabilization formula.

Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, AFL-CIO, said in a report to the UAW's 18th convention that guides laid down by Kennedy's economic advisers point "directly at the auto industry and then acted to obtain a roll back of steel industry price increases. The formula also calls for price cuts in high profit industries.

"By any reasonable criteria," Reuther said, "the auto industry is one in which prices should be reduced.

"Such price cuts are essential to offset the price increases which occur in other industries with lower than average productivity and which are unavoidable if the workers in those less productive industries are to receive wage increases comparable to other workers."

Reuther said 1961 was a recession year but, even at that, General Motors Corp. could have reduced car and truck prices the equivalent of $275 a unit at retail and the Ford Motor Co. $225 with both firms making nine per cent return on their investment.

Instead, Reuther said, the two big auto companies earned 1961 profits half again higher than the profit of the average U.S. manufacturing concern. He said GM's profits were 15.4 per cent on investment and Ford's 14.2 per cent.

"If in spite of this favorable profit position, the industry persists in maintaining its present price structure of excessive prices, the demand for cars is likely to rise but slowly if at all in the near future, with the serious economic consequences of high unemployment and growing job insecurity for the workers in the industry," Reuther added.

Reuther said the power of major corporations to maintain price levels, even in face of reduced demand for products, has been a prime factor in the increase in the general price level in recent years. He urged legislation requiring advance public review — or goldfish-bowl procedure, as he called it — before price increases could be put into effect in major industries.

Among a number of resolutions adopted by the 2,800 convention delegates was one affirming the UAW's determination to preserve living cost adjustment provisions in its labor contracts.

Many Receive

Schooling Boost

By JIMMY HATTEN

State Editor

The average person in Ouachita is more than four school grades brighter than he was two years ago.

And, Louisiana's illiteracy, according to the 1960 census, has dropped 7.2 per cent, the largest decrease in the nation with the exception of the state of Hawaii.

Why?

The adult education program can take a large share of the bouquets, according to the State Department of Education.

INTRODUCED

The program was introduced in this state about 10 years ago through the State Department of Education. The program has operated on a cooperative basis of the Ouachita Parish School Board with the Ouachita Valley Vocational Technical School since 1956.

Statewide, it is estimated that some 10,371 adults enrolled in the program during the past school year, and that 877 adults who could neither read nor write are literate today because of it.

In addition, 1,300 adults completed their high school education, thus breaking through to new jobs previously denied them due to a deficiency in their educational attainment.

Since the program has been in effect in the state, nearly 8,000 adults have completed their high school work in the adult classes, thereby expanding their employment horizons.

Practically all businesses and industries have set a high school education as a minimum requirement for employment.

Recognizing this, state officials set out to provide a means of achieving an education for those who failed to get it in their youth.

SUPERVISION

Locally, the Ouachita Parish adult education program, under the direct supervision of the parish superintendent of schools, provided high school certificates for 27 adults during the school year 1961-62.

According to the the state supervisor of the education program, Earl L. Hammett, Ouachita Parish had an average upgrading of 4.1 grades during that school year, highest in the state, compared to a Louisiana average of 1.8 per cent.

The program is designed to provide an equivalent of a high school education for adults. To enter the program, the prospective students must be 19 years of age or older and residents of Louisiana.

Four classes are in operation in Ouachita Parish. More than 100 white adults are going back to school at these classes being held at the Ouachita Valley Vocational Technical School in West Monroe.

LIMITED

White persons may enroll for classwork Monday and Thursday evenings at 7 p.m. during the month of May. Officials caution that persons interested in enrolling should do so promptly since class space and funds are limited.

Is the education received at these adult cluasses up to par with regular high school education? The program, officials point out, is specifically designed for those persons who do not have their high school education, and upon graduation, they are awarded a Louisiana State High School Equivalency Certificate.

This certificate is readily recognized by employer as well as all state colleges and universities, it was pointed out.

The program may even influence regular high school education, educators say

INFLUENCE

This is so, they say, because persons studying in adult classes can influence school - age children to remain in school to complete their education. These persons are in a position to point out forcefully the disadvantages of dropping out of school prior to high school graduation.

Qualified and experienced teachers are selected by the Ouachita Parish superintendent of schools to teach the adult classes.

Instructors at the school here are J. M. Waldrop, Wood Sers, Loy Hedgepeth and Jack Young.

The success of the program, according to educators, means that 400 classrooms were added to the public school system without the laying of a single brick or any capital outlay expenditures.

SUMMARY

Summing the program up, Alvin C. Dowden, president of the Louisiana Association of Public School Adult Education said, "Far from being an item of expense in the state budget, the adult education program is an investment which brings surprisingly high returns per dollar appropriated to it.

"Standards of living are raised because of the program; revenues to the state are vastly increased through the increased buying power of the students involved in the program and children are encouraged to remain in school."

INTEREST IN the advantages offered by a high school diploma prompts many an adult to further his or her employment horizon. Instructor Wood Sers, seated, holds informal discussion on class assignment with Cherie Sawyer, Mrs. Dorothy Johnston, C. P. George and John Roy.

Milestone and Tombstone

LAKEHURST, N.J. (AP) — In the darkening twilight, the dirigible age loomed above the pine barrens like a vast cloud.

It ghosted toward the strange tower majestically, serenely. The witnesses of its doom were close at hand. They would write its epitaph.

Louis Lockner, who flew on the Hindenburg on its maiden Atlantic crossing, said travel on a dirigible was like being held aloft by the angels. But on May 6, 1937, 25 years ago, the angels lost their grip and the Hindenburg crashed in flames, a pyre for 36 persons and a romantic era of flight.

STUNNED

The disaster stunned a world not yet accustomed to the sight of a torn airliner crumpled in the streets of a great city, an oily seat cushion bobbing on an ocean swell.

Among the 36 persons who died on the Hindenburg were 13 paying passengers, the first to be killed on a commercial dirigible. They were also the last, a milestone and a tombstone.

Over 150 dirigibles had been built before the Hindenburg. Over half had either crashed in spectacular peacetime disasters or been shot down in war. Hundreds of military crewmen and observers had been killed.

The dirigibles also had made astonishing trips of endurance — crossing the North Pole, flying around the world on only four stops, soaring aloft with five planes tucked inside.

Proponents felt—those yet alive still feel—the accidents were an inevitable consequence in an infant technology. Safety was improving all the time.

The horror of the Hindenburg pictures seared the public memory with an indelible vision of dirigibles. Just two days after the stricken Hindeburg wallowed to earth, a German seaplane left the Azores to pioneer a commercial plane route across the North Atlantic, a harbinger of a new age.

Without the Hindenburg disaster, airships might still be commonplace.

BOARDED

Thirty-six passengers had boarded the Hindenburg at Frankfurt on May 3, 1937. It was the first of 18 trips planned that year for the Hindenburg by her owners, the Zeppelin Transport Co.

Since going into service a year before, the Hindenburg had made 37 crossings to North and South America, had carried 3,059 passengers in elegant comfort some 209,000 miles.

For their $400 fare, the travelers were getting not only a luxurious two or three days aloft but a unique experience. Meals were cooked on board by a continental chef from a larder of lobsters, fowl and roasts. The wine list covered a page. There was a lounge and a bar and 70 staterooms.

On B deck there was a shower replenished by water distilled from the air. Charles E. Rosendahl, commander of the Naval Air Station at Lakehurst, N.J., where the Hindenburg landed, remembered the spray was "more like a seltzer bottle than the shower at the 'Y,'" but it was a sumptuous advance in air travel.

In any case it happened and, as Eckener told Lochner when Lochner was the AP correspondent in Berlin, "It is over."

Of the few left who think it needn't be, Rosendahl stands out. He lives in Toms River, N.J., not far from the base, amongst souvenirs of an age in which he played a leading role. A blob of molten metal from the Hindenburg is in a bookcase.

ARGUES

Cogently Rosendahl argues for the airship. With modern metals and fabrics, with storm-warning radar, with improved aerodynamic knowledge and with helium dirigibles could fly 150 miles an hour, carry 90 tons or more of cargo far more efficiently than the airplane.

As a weapon they can stay out over a week on radar patrol. "not a single ship under blimp convoy was lost in World War II," Rosendahl said.

"Hell, we lose planes all the time. Does that stop any one? We drag out another one and take off.

"In commerce, in the military, in passenger travel, the airship can do things the plane and the helicopter or the ship can't do. Rough seas don't stop it. It's far more comfortable and efficient than the airplane. The Hindenburg didn't prove the airship is dead. It proved hydrogen was."

But Rosendahl's voice, strong as it is, doesn't carry far beyond his memento-covered office. The Navy is down to its last two blimps and they are scheduled to be grounded. That leaves only the familiar Goodyear blimp to sail the skies, the last passenger pigeon of an epic.

"I dread the sixth of May," said Rosendahl. "Every year the newspapers drag out those pictures" the pictures of the end of 36 lives, the end of a great adventure, of a dream.

This gave the Hindenburg's passengers a chance to get an unrivalled view as the airship passed down the northeast coast. Belin looked eagerly for Yale University where he had attended. Mrs. John Pannes pointed out her home on Long Island. Her son was about to leave there to meet his parents at Lakehurst.

The Hindenburg flew low over New York, where passengers and passers-by on the street exchanged awed stares.

The black clouds over Jersey made a regal backdrop for tourists who photographed the Hindenburg from the Empire State Building. It was already raining at Lakehurst.

FAINT DRIZZLE

There was still a faint drizzle when the Hindenburg finally approached the field about 7 p.m. Waiting were 92 sailors and civilians of the 138 ground crew.

Murray Becker of The Associated Press was about to take pictures that were to become classics. Ed Okim of the AP had a sore foot and decided to stay by his Morse telegrapher rather than walk down to the landing mat.

Near the tower, the ship's crewmen threw down the mooring lines. Lt. Raymond Tyler, chief mooring officer, remembered dust rising from the coils as they hit the wet earth.

No one is sure who saw it first. Perhaps it was two crewmen inside the ship who heard a whump and looked up to see a bright flash in No. 4 gas cell near the tail. A woman thought the flash she saw was the setting sun finally breaking through clouds.

"What is it?" said Pruss in the control gondola. He thought a landing line had snapped.

As soon as he saw the flames Rosendahl knew. "It spelled the doom of the ship."

The unforgettable photographs tell the story better than words.

Thirteen passengers died. So did 22 of the 61-man crew and one of the ground crewmen.

Miss Mather reached the boarding ramp just as the flames ate through its supports and walked down it onto the ground with hardly a burn. A cabin boy, 14, saw the burning wreckage falling on him when one of the water ballast tanks let go, drenching him—and saving his life.

ESCAPED

Pruss escaped, then ran back to help his crewmates and was badly burned. Lehmann, seared over much of his body, staggered away mumbling "I don't understand, I don't understand."

When he first heard the news Hugo Eckener, the great German dirigible pioneer, said, "It must be sabotage." So did Lehmann the day he died. Rosendah, now a retired vice admiral, still thinks so. A. A. Hoehling has just written a book called "Who Destroyed the Hindenburg?" that uses circumstantial evidence to point to a crewman who may have planted a fire device under Communist prodding.

The U.S. Commerce Department, after lengthy hearings, said most probably it was static electricity built up in the airship from the thunderstorms. Its landing ropes, dry at first (remember the dust when they hit) became moist in the drizzle and capable of conducting the latent charge in the airship.

Therapy Across Air Waves

EDITOR'S NOTE—Dr. Michael Peters was fit to be tied. A doctor thousands of miles away was radioing for help but Peters' set was too weak to answer. Then his barber happened by. Thus began a whole new lifesaving system of bedside consultation—by radio.

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM

SELLERSVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Not long ago a teen-age boy living near the little coastal town of Puerto Cabezas in Nicaragua stepped on a rusty nail. Lockjaw developed.

The only doctor in the region, a medical missionary from Bethlehem, Pa., needed help, as he had needed it before. So again he turned to his shortwave radio. In less time than it takes to make a telephone connection, he was talking to a friend and colleague he had never seen—Dr. Michael J. Peters, 50, specialist in internal medicine at Sellersville's Grand View Hospital and a dedicated radio ham.

What Dr. Ned Wallace in Nicaragua especially wanted to know was whether to give tetanus antitoxin if he didn't have enough, whether it would be dangerous to give what he had and more when he could get it. Peters advised that waiting is often risky because of allergies.

Another radio amateur, an Episcopalian missionary in Honduras, heard Peters, but not Wallace. He got the drift of the discussion. A little later he radioed Peters that he would get the required units of antitoxin to Wallace in 24 hours, either by having a friend fly it in, or by raising a volunteer on the radio. A doctor in Panama—another radio ham—heard the call and got in touch with the American embassy. A plane streaked off with the serum.

That kind of drama colors much of what started as a hobby and now has become an international practice of medicine, and even surgery, by radio.

STARTING POINT

It all started a little over a year ago when Wallace, about 30 and only a few months in Nicaragua then, beamed his antenna northward and appealed for advice on a medical problem.

Peters, who took up ham radio to share an interest with his 15-year-old son, just licensed as an amateur radio operator, heard Wallace on the set in the bedroom of his home. But his transmitter lacked the power to call back.

Peters was fit to be tied. He and two doctor cronies, J. Harvey Sigafoos and Joseph Sieger, had given up precious time to take an electronics course in a neighboring high school. Not for the fun of it alone, but with the aim of putting their specialized knowledge—and the facilities of Philadelphia hospitals and medical schools also—to work for the benefit of doctors on their own in out - of - the - way places abroad through radio.

Peters might never have gotten through had it not been for a back operation he underwent last August. To make his convalescent days more endurable, Peters' two doctor-radio ham friends installed a huge, rotating antenna on the roof of his house.

"That did the trick," said Peters. 'And I have to thank my barber for leading the way. He came around to cut my hair one day, and, being a ham himself, spotted the new antenna. 'let's go see how it works,' he said. We did. Ned was calling. I answered it. Success at last!

VERY SICK PATIENTS

"Ned was saying he had a couple of very sick patients, and he was in a hurry to reach a doctor, get some medical advice. I told him he was on the right beam, and I'd be tickled to help.

"Ever since then I have set my receiver to a certain frequency every morning so Ned can call me. I hear from him two, maybe three times a week. Often I can help him. If I can't it's usually only a matter of minutes until I can get in touch with somebody who can, then pass the information on to him."

Peters has described operations to Wallace over the radio and arranged to have an eye surgeon sent to Nicaragua for several operations, without charge.

Wallace is one of several doctors sent by the Moravian Church to remote places. He lives in Nicaragua with his wife and two small children.

REGULAR

Wallace is by no means Peters' only radio colleague, though he is the most regular. Peters consults with doctors, nurses and laymen in other parts of Central America, in Trinidad, Puerto Rico, Peru, Chile, Brazil, West Germany, Italy, Britain, Poland, West Africa and on ships at sea. He does so in Spanish, French and Italian, as well as English.

Statewide, it is estimated that some 10,371 adults enrolled in the program during the past school year, and that 877 adults who could neither read nor write are literate today because of it.

In addition, 1,300 adults completed their high school education, thus breaking through to new jobs previously denied them due to a deficiency in their educational attainment.

Since the program has been in effect in the state, nearly 8,000 adults have completed their high school work in the adult classes, thereby expanding their employment horizons.

Practically all businesses and industries have set a high school education as a minimum requirement for employment.

Recognizing this, state officials set out to provide a means of achieving an education for those who failed to get it in their youth.

SUPERVISION

Locally, the Ouachita Parish adult education program, under the direct supervision of the parish superintendent of schools, provided high school certificates for 27 adults during the school year 1961-62.

According to the the state supervisor of the education program, Earl L. Hammett, Ouachita Parish had an average upgrading of 4.1 grades during that school year, highest in the state, compared to a Louisiana average of 1.8 per cent.

The program is designed to provide an equivalent of a high school education for adults. To enter the program, the prospective students must be 19 years of age or older and residents of Louisiana.

Four classes are in operation in Ouachita Parish. More than 100 white adults are going back to school at these classes being held at the Ouachita Valley Vocational Technical School in West Monroe.

LIMITED

White persons may enroll for classwork Monday and Thursday evenings at 7 p.m. during the month of May. Officials caution that persons interested in enrolling should do so promptly since class space and funds are limited.

Is the education received at these adult cluasses up to par with regular high school education? The program, officials point out, is specifically designed for those persons who do not have their high school education, and upon graduation, they are awarded a Louisiana State High School Equivalency Certificate.

This certificate is readily recognized by employer as well as all state colleges and universities, it was pointed out.

The program may even influence regular high school education, educators say

INFLUENCE

This is so, they say, because persons studying in adult classes can influence school - age children to remain in school to complete their education. These persons are in a position to point out forcefully the disadvantages of dropping out of school prior to high school graduation.

Qualified and experienced teachers are selected by the Ouachita Parish superintendent of schools to teach the adult classes.

Instructors at the school here are J. M. Waldrop, Wood Sers, Loy Hedgepeth and Jack Young.

The success of the program, according to educators, means that 400 classrooms were added to the public school system without the laying of a single brick or any capital outlay expenditures.

SUMMARY

Summing the program up, Alvin C. Dowden, president of the Louisiana Association of Public School Adult Education said, "Far from being an item of expense in the state budget, the adult education program is an investment which brings surprisingly high returns per dollar appropriated to it.

"Standards of living are raised because of the program; revenues to the state are vastly increased through the increased buying power of the students involved in the program and children are encouraged to remain in school."

Milestone and Tombstone

LAKEHURST, N.J. (AP) — In the darkening twilight, the dirigible age loomed above the pine barrens like a vast cloud.

It ghosted toward the strange tower majestically, serenely. The witnesses of its doom were close at hand. They would write its epitaph.

Louis Lockner, who flew on the Hindenburg on its maiden Atlantic crossing, said travel on a dirigible was like being held aloft by the angels. But on May 6, 1937, 25 years ago, the angels lost their grip and the Hindenburg crashed in flames, a pyre for 36 persons and a romantic era of flight.

STUNNED

The disaster stunned a world not yet accustomed to the sight of a torn airliner crumpled in the streets of a great city, an oily seat cushion bobbing on an ocean swell.

Among the 36 persons who died on the Hindenburg were 13 paying passengers, the first to be killed on a commercial dirigible. They were also the last, a milestone and a tombstone.

Over 150 dirigibles had been built before the Hindenburg. Over half had either crashed in spectacular peacetime disasters or been shot down in war. Hundreds of military crewmen and observers had been killed.

The dirigibles also had made astonishing trips of endurance crossing the North Pole, flying around the world on only four stops, soaring aloft with five planes tucked inside.

Proponents felt—those yet alive still feel—the accidents were an inevitable consequence in an infant technology. Safety was improving all the time.

The horror of the Hindenburg pictures seared the public memory with an indelible vision of dirigibles. Just two days after the stricken Hindeburg wallowed to earth, a German seaplane left the Azores to pioneer a commercial plane route across the North Atlantic, a harbinger of a new age.

Without the Hindenburg disaster, airships might still be commonplace.

BOARDED

Thirty-six passengers had boarded the Hindenburg at Frankfurt on May 3, 1937. It was the first of 18 trips planned that year for the Hindenburg by her owners, the Zeppelin Transport Co.

Since going into service a year before, the Hindenburg had made 37 crossings to North and South America, had carried 3,059 passengers in elegant comfort some 209,000 miles.

For their $400 fare, the travelers were getting not only a luxurious two or three days aloft but a unique experience. Meals were cooked on board by a continental chef from a larder of lobsters, fowl and roasts. The wine list covered a page. There was a lounge and a bar and 70 staterooms.

On B deck there was a shower replenished by water distilled from the air. Charles E. Rosendahl, commander of the Naval Air Station at Lakehurst, N.J., where the Hindenburg landed, remembered the spray was "more like a seltzer bottle than the shower at the 'Y,'" but it was a sumptuous advance in air travel.

In any case it happened and, as Eckener told Lochner when Lochner was the AP correspondent in Berlin, "It is over."

Of the few left who think it needn't be, Rosendahl stands out. He lives in Toms River, N.J., not far from the base, amongst souvenirs of an age in which he played a leading role. A blob of molten metal from the Hindenburg is in a bookcase.

ARGUES

Cogently Rosendahl argues for the airship. With modern metals and fabrics, with storm-warning radar, with improved aerodynamic knowledge and with helium dirigibles could fly 150 miles an hour, carry 90 tons or more of cargo far more efficiently than the airplane.

As a weapon they can stay out over a week on radar patrol. "not a single ship under blimp convoy was lost in World War II," Rosendahl said.

"Hell, we lose planes all the time. Does that stop any one? We drag out another one and take off.

"In commerce, in the military, in passenger travel, the airship can do things the plane and the helicopter or the ship can't do. Rough seas don't stop it. It's far more comfortable and efficient than the airplane. The Hindenburg didn't prove the airship is dead. It proved hydrogen was."

But Rosendahl's voice, strong as it is, doesn't carry far beyond his memento-covered office. The Navy is down to its last two blimps and they are scheduled to be grounded. That leaves only the familiar Goodyear blimp to sail the skies, the last passenger pigeon of an epic.

"I dread the sixth of May," said Rosendahl. "Every year the newspapers drag out those pictures" the pictures of the end of 36 lives, the end of a great adventure, of a dream.

This gave the Hindenburg's passengers a chance to get an unrivalled view as the airship passed down the northeast coast. Pelin looked eagerly for Yale University where he had attended. Mrs. John Pannes pointed out her home on Long Island. Her son was about to leave there to meet his parents at Lakehurst.

The Hindenburg flew low over New York, where passengers and passers-by on the street exchanged awed stares.

The black clouds over Jersey made a regal backdrop for tourists who photographed the Hindenburg from the Empire State Building. It was already raining at Lakehurst.

FAINT DRIZZLE

There was still a faint drizzle when the Hindenburg finally approached the field about 7 p.m. Waiting were 92 sailors and civilians of the 138 ground crew.

Murray Becker of The Associated Press was about to take pictures that were to become classics. Ed Okim of the AP had a sore foot and decided to stay by his Morse telegrapher rather than walk down to the landing mat.

Near the tower, the ship's crewmen threw down the mooring lines. Lt. Raymond Tyler, chief mooring officer, remembered dust rising from the coils as they hit the wet earth.

No one is sure who saw it first.

Perhaps it was two crewmen inside the ship who heard a whump and looked up to see a bright flash in No. 4 gas cell near the tail. A woman thought the flash she saw was the setting sun finally breaking through clouds.

"What is it?" said Pruss in the control gondola. He thought a landing line had snapped.

As soon as he saw the flames Rosendahl knew. "It spelled the doom of the ship."

The unforgettable photographs tell the story better than words.

Thirteen passengers died. So did 22 of the 61-man crew and one of the ground crewmen.

Miss Mather reached the boarding ramp just as the flames ate through its supports and walked down it onto the ground with hardly a burn. A cabin boy, 14, saw the burning wreckage falling on him when one of the water ballast tanks let go, drenching him—and saving his life.

ESCAPED

Pruss escaped, then ran back to help his crewmates and was badly burned. Lehmann, seared over much of his body, staggered away mumbling "I don't understand, I don't understand."

When he first heard the news Hugo Eckener, the great German dirigible pioneer, said, "It must be sabotage." So did Lehmann the day he died. Rosendah, now a retired vice admiral, still thinks so. A. A. Hoehling has just written a book called "Who Destroyed the Hindenburg?" that uses circumstantial evidence to point to a crewman who may have planted a fire device under Communist prodding.

The U.S. Commerce Department, after lengthy hearings, said most probably it was static electricity built up in the airship from the thunderstorms. Its landing ropes, dry at first (remember the dust when they hit) became moist in the drizzle and capable of conducting the latent charge in the airship.

Therapy Across Air Waves

EDITOR'S NOTE—Dr. Michael Peters was fit to be tied. A doctor thousands of miles away was radioing for help but Peters' set was too weak to answer. Then his barber happened by. Thus began a whole new lifesaving system of bedside consultation—by radio.

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM

SELLERSVILLE, Pa. (AP) Not long ago a teen-age boy living near the little coastal town of Puerto Cabezas in Nicaragua stepped on a rusty nail. Lockjaw developed.

The only doctor in the region, a medical missionary from Bethlehem, Pa., needed help as he had needed it before. So again he turned to his shortwave radio. In less time than it takes to make a telephone connection, he was talking to a friend and colleague he had never seen—Dr. Michael J. Peters, 50, specialist in internal medicine at Sellersville's Grand View Hospital and a dedicated radio ham.

What Dr. Ned Wallace in Nicaragua especially wanted to know was whether to give tetanus antitoxin if he didn't have enough, whether it would be dangerous to give what he had and more when he could get it. Peters advised that waiting is often risky because of allergies.

Another radio amateur, an Episcopalian missionary in Honduras, heard Peters, but not Wallace. He got the drift of the discussion. A little later he radioed Peters that he would get the required units of antitoxin to Wallace in 24 hours, either by having a friend fly it in, or by raising a volunteer on the radio. A doctor in Panama—another radio ham—heard the call and got in touch with the American embassy. A plane streaked off with the serum.

That kind of drama colors much of what started as a hobby and now has become an international practice of medicine, and even surgery, by radio.

STARTING POINT

It all started a little over a year ago when Wallace, about 30 and only a few months in Nicaragua then, beamed his antenna northward and appealed for advice on a medical problem.

Peters, who took up ham radio to share an interest with his 15-year-old son, just licensed as an amateur radio operator, heard Wallace on the set in the bedroom of his home. But his transmitter lacked the power to call back.

Peters was fit to be tied. He and two doctor cronies, J. Harvey Sigafoos and Joseph Sieger, had given up precious time to take an electronics course in a neighboring high school. Not for the fun of it alone, but with the aim of putting their specialized knowledge—and the facilities of Philadelphia hospitals and medical schools also—to work for the benefit of doctors on their own in out-of-the-way places abroad through radio.

Peters might never have gotten through had it not been for a back operation he underwent last August. To make his convalescent days more endurable, Peters' two doctor-radio ham friends installed a huge, rotating antenna on the roof of his house.

"That did the trick," said Peters. "And I have to thank my barber for leading the way. He came around to cut my hair one day, and, being a ham himself, spotted the new antenna. 'Let's go see how it works,' he said. We did. Ned was calling. I answered it. Success at last!

VERY SICK PATIENTS

"Ned was saying he had a couple of very sick patients, and he was in a hurry to reach a doctor, get some medical advice. I told him he was on the right beam, and I'd be tickled to help.

"Ever since then I have set my receiver to a certain frequency every morning so Ned can call me. I hear from him two, maybe three times a week. Often I can help him. If I can't it's usually only a matter of minutes until I can get in touch with somebody who can, then pass the information on to him."

Peters has described operations to Wallace over the radio and arranged to have an eye surgeon sent to Nicaragua for several operations, without charge.

Wallace is one of several doctors sent by the Moravian Church to remote places. He lives in Nicaragua with his wife and two small children.

REGULAR

Wallace is by no means Peters' only radio colleague, though he is the most regular. Peters consults with doctors, nurses and laymen in other parts of Central America, in Trinidad, Puerto Rico, Peru, Chile, Brazil, West Germany, Italy, Britain, Poland, West Africa and on ships at sea. He does so in Spanish, French and Italian, as well as English.

Double Danger In Oil

Two recent actions by high federal officials point up dramatically a double danger for those interested in oil. One was President Kennedy's move toward nationalization of industry when he denied the steel firms the right to operate their own businesses without government interference. The other was Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall's statement that no money could be advanced to Louisiana from the $400 million tidelands escrow fund before a firm agreement is reached on the state's coastline, although later there was some indication this might be changed.

The future of the oil industry and, indeed, all of business, is seriously threatened by the manner in which President Kennedy acted to prevent an increase in the price of steel. Not content with that, the President, through his brother, Attorney General Robert Kennedy continued his harrassment of the steel industry by bringing about the indictment of four firms on charges of price-fixing. Yet, the government is now forcing such a small margin of profit that it would be virtually impossible for any of the steel firms to operate without a price range so narrow that it might appear to be price-fixing.

Many state officials and citizens view the action of the government in holding back the release of the escrow money to the state as a sort of business "blackmail," or using the big stick. It seems that the federal government hopes to hold off on any kind of major settlement until it can reduce the state of Louisiana to such a desperate state of need for revenue that it will consent to an agreement which will virtually give Louisiana's coast oil reserves to the federal government, although full rights of several other coast states have been allowed.

The irony of all this is that all of the money in escrow rightfully belongs to the state of Louisiana and none of it to the federal government. The United States of America has no coast line of its own. The only coast line it has is those made up by the states severally. The United States is a confederation of states and not an entity by itself. It has no right to any property, either land or sea, other than that used for purely government purposes. While the practice has been to allow the federal government to own land, it has no such inherent right under the theory that the United States is made up wholly of the several states. In reality, any land holdings by the federal government should be in the form of leases based on necessity and when a need no longer exists the property should be returned to individual citizens and thus come within the supervision of the seperate states.

Since the United States is not a separate entity and consists entirely of the confederation of the separate states, it cannot have a coast line and all coastlines, however far out they may extend, properly belong to the states to which they are adjoined.

Thus we find the federal government refusing to give to Louisiana even a considerable part of the $400 million escrow money which the state of Louisiana actually owns outright.

This federal government seizure of property belonging to coast states primarily affects the states involved. A still more widespread danger is the fact that leftists in the federal government and those who believe in nationalization of industry see such natural resources as oil as an opening wedge to nationalization. Fallaciously and completely outside of the constitution's concept of free enterprise and individual ownership, they claim natural resources belong to the federal government.

The picture President Kennedy presented to the public is that private capitalism, making a profit on investment, and the right of businessmen to use their own managerial judgment are inimicable to the "welfare of the country." That is the path always taken by those who seek nationalization of industry.

This could open a deep chasm of distrust between business and Government. It points toward a new wave of harassment and restriction of free enterprise and investment for economic and technological progress.

Steel succumbed to an unprecedented display of naked political power and strong-arm tactics, spearheaded by the full weight of the President's prestige and access to the public ear and backed by threats of punitive action from countless federal agencies.

The basic right of a sellor to ask whatever prices he considers proper in a highly competitive market has been surrendered to the power of Big Government to interpose its own whim without specific legal authority.

In the long run, steel's capitulation could do the nation more harm than would have resulted from a price increase. Historians may mark it as the real beginning of a "corporate state" in America.

The real issue is not the price of steel, not the rate of earnings of some individual companies, not the measure of so-called productivity or how productivity increases should be divided.

The real issue is who is responsible for economic progress. It is political planners in Washington, or the people who stake their own money in it? Is it against the public welfare to try to make a profit?

The President pictured a "handful of executives" putting greed for profits ahead of public welfare. Actually, executives are hired to protect and enhance the investments of thousands of individual savers throughout the public. If the Government can control the use of capital and facilities it does not own, the end of private initiative and investment is in sight.

Kennedy's Bad Words

When a president resorts to obscenity he loses respect and diminishes in stature. That happened to former President Harry Truman and, according to an Associated Press news dispatch which quoted a tabloid newspaper, it happened to President Kennedy.

Truman let loose with "cuss" words occasionally but on one particular occasion he exploded with vile language. After that he was still president but people never had as much respect for him. People want their president to have some dignity and self-respect.

President Kennedy was quoted as saying:

"My father always told me that all businessmen were ———— but I never believed it until now."

At the places where the blanks are shown, President Kennedy was quoted as using the same words former President Truman used. The White House denied the accuracy of the quotation but it did not say he did not use those words.

Kennedy's statement stirs two other principal thoughts. One is that he apparently believed his father on everything else and therefore he must have been more than ordinarily willing to accept his father's definition of a businessman. The other is that Joseph Kennedy, the President's father, was credited with making many millions of dollars. If he wasn't a businessman, how did he make that money and if he was a businessman, what did that make him?

Views Of Our Readers

Disagrees With White

Monroe, La.

To the Editor:

If Mr. R. C. White, Jr. is distressed by any movement which would give us some relief from Federal Aid, I want to assure him that there are many Americans, who think for themselves, who are distressed that we have traveled so far down the road towards Socialism. When Mr. White makes such statements, "After all, Federal Aid is not really so evil," and, "Why should we not receive money from our own government to help in such worthwhile projects," he is merely parroting those who would have us eventually under complete Federal control.

Why is it that once federal aid programs start, they never seem to stop? And, why do they grow more costly each year? Do they not contribute to our heavy tax load and to the inflationary debt now on our shoulders? Is it not true that in return for Federal Aid favors, we must submit to control, be it by law or by directive? Each time a Federal Aid program goes into effect, you can bet that eventually some local control is lost. As long as we, the taxpayers, keep pouring money into this Gargantuan hopper, it is much like giving one's self a transfusion from one arm to the other — but spilling half of it in the process.

I think the following, entitled, "Hymn to the Welfare State" and copied from the Baptist Messenger, gives an excellent picture of how some of our leaders would have us think:

The Government is my shephard,
Therefore I need not work.
It alloweth me to lie down on a good job.
It leadeth me beside still factories;
It destroyeth my initiative,
It leadeth me in the path of a parasite for politic's sake.
Yea, though I walk through the valley of laziness and deficit-spending,
I will fear no evil, the Government is with me.
It prepareth an economic Utopia for me, by appropriating the earnings of my grandchildren.
It filleth my head with false security;
My inefficiency runneth over.
Surely the Government should care for me for all the days of my life!
And I shall dwell in a fool's paradise forever.

Freedom Of Press

Monroe, La.

To the Editor:
Hon. Otto E. Passman,
Congress of the United States
House of Representatives,
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Passman:

Thank you for your letter of the 17th giving your views on federal aid to education and Mr. Kennedy's trade proposal. We certainly concur, and further point out that it has been largely government pressure which has already priced American steel out of competition with foreign markets. We are sorry you did not express a similar objection to the medical aid bill. We are firmly convinced the individual will be the loser through higher taxes to pay the cost, and poorer medical care, if we move into socialized medicine.

We certainly oppose giving the President power to lower taxes, for the same law would give him power to raise taxes, and the power to destroy. We believe the elected representatives of the people should make many of the decisions now being made by executive order and the supreme court. If Congress does not demand observance of the Constitution, where can the people turn?

We are incensed at the coercion of United States Steel, and recognize the control of "big business" today, will be in time followed by the control of all business.

We oppose the United States bearing additional cost in operation of the United Nations. Any member who does not pay his assessed portion of U.N. expenses should be disbarred from membership. We know of no organization, except the church, which does not drop members for non-payment of dues.

We agree with Senator Long that any nation seizing United States property should at the least be disbarred from receiving any sort of aid from our Government.

We deplore withholding aid voted by Congress for Laos because Prince Bon Oum has refused to take communists into his Government. It would appear he is profiting from the experience of China and her coalition government, although we have not. We also deplore making war on Katanga for seeking independence, while weakening all our friends by insisting on the right of "self-determination" for the peoples who have prospered under their governments. We deplore the "do nothing" policy concerning Communist Cuba.

We oppose the increase in postage for magazines and newspapers. It is a well known fact that many giants in the publishing field have already ceased publication, and others will be forced out by any increase in expenses. We do not need fewer media of free communication, but rather more. We deplore the day when the government begins to subsidize newspapers and magazines. Then "thought control" will be almost complete. We see many signs already pointing in that direction both by the supression of news, and the direct blast at programming of television, as well as the many new TV commercials plugging some branch of the government. Magazines had no voice in approving salary increases for postal employees, and should not be required to pay an unfair portion of this increase. If the government must subsidize something, let them absorb the loss of the post office department, but let us by all means keep freedom of the press.

Declaration Protected

To the Editor:

In Tuesday morning's Morning World, in the editorial column, as a space filler, you have a four line curio—Quote: "The Declaration of Independence is kept in a fire - proof, shock - proof, and bomb-proof steel and concrete vault at night." This appears to be a good place to keep the Declaration of Independence. It is a shame that we can't take as much caution to preserve it during the daylight hours, also.

Class Enjoys Tour

How Do You Stand, Sir?

By BARRY GOLDWATER

U. S. Senator From Arizona

America's relations with her allies throughout the free world are already complicated by a vacillating U.S. foreign policy which shows strength in South Viet-Nam, weakness in Laos, frustration in Berlin and confusion in the Congo.

And these important relations certainly won't be improved by publication of The Liberal Papers, a collection of essays sponsored by a group of present and former Democratic congressmen. They can lead only to further misunderstanding of American intentions.

As I have pointed out in a preceding column, The Liberal Papers contain foreign policy recommendations which could result in the virtual surrender of our own strategic interests and those of our allies to the forces of world communism.

Consider how the West Germans must feel when they read that a project sponsored by a sizeable number of Democratic congressmen has put out a book which suggests demilitarization of West Germany, U.S. recognition of the Communist puppet regime of East Germany and expulsion of West Germany from the NATO alliance.

There already is a heavy tendency in West Germany to suspect the strength of America's determination to stand firm in Berlin, and The Liberal Papers will undoubtedly increase this feeling of insecurity and doubt.

By the same token, our Chinese friends on Formosa must shudder when they read The Liberal Papers suggestions that the U.S. recognize Red China, that the U.S. sponsor Red China for UN membership, that the U.S. grant financial aid to Red China and that the U.S. recognize Red China's claim to Formosa and the Pescadores.

And our European allies can't be expected to cheer the ideas set forth by Liberal Papers essayists, that the U.S. abandon her missile bases in Europe and allow the Russians to plug in on a bi-directional DEW line.

I certainly don't suggest that President Kennedy will be influenced by The Liberal Papers and adopt its proposals for unilateral action by the United States to appease the Communists.

Nor do I fear that the essays will have any effect on the determination of the American people to oppose Communist power in the fight for freedom throughout the world. But I am concerned at the impact these Liberal Papers may have abroad.

This whole point was brought out on the Senate floor recently by Sen. Thurston Morton, of Kentucky, who suggested that The Liberal Papers should be renamed Our American Munich.

"In many lands," Senator Morton pointed out, "people do not fully understand our constitutional system with its separation of powers. When a member of Congress in this country speaks out, it is often interpreted overseas as an indication of U.S. policy or intent. Now we have a group of Democratic members of Congress in this time of a Democratic administration sponsoring this series of essays.

"I think it is most unfortunate that this should happen at this particular time. It is bound to further complicate the difficulties that President Kennedy and Secretary Rusk face in Germany, Geneva, Viet-Nam, Cuba, Africa and elsewhere. I hope that we will let the world know that the content of The Liberal Papers does not represent the thinking of the vast majority of the Congress, Democrat and Republican."

How do you stand, sir?

Ice Patrol Aid

Valuable Service Started 50 Years Ago By Titanic Sinking

WASHINGTON—The sinking of the "unsinkable" Titanic fifty years ago launched a humanitarian program which has survived two world wars and has made the North Atlantic shipping lanes safe for navigation.

Officially titled the International Ice Patrol Service, the program started off on a modest scale and has since grown into an efficient and highly successful venture with still the same purpose — warning ships of drifting icebergs.

Before the shock of the worst maritime disaster in history subsided the U.S. Navy responded to the situation by sending two scout cruisers to stand watch near the spot the Titanic went down, 400 miles south of Cape Race, Newfoundland.

The action admittedly was locking the barn door after the horse escaped but it served as a nucleus for the patrol which wasn't actually organized until almost two years later by International treaty.

While International talks proceeded the Coast Guard (then called the Revenue Cutter Service) took over the ice patrol tasks, assigning the Cutters and Seneca to North Atlantic waters.

In January, 1941 the 17 Nations which ply the shipping routes of the North Atlantic signed a treaty creating the service which is now in its 44th year under the Coast Guard. For several years during World War I and World War II the patrol was discontinued.

Duties of the patrol usually begin in February with preliminary flights to the waters off Greenland where icebergs are spawned by breaking off massive glaciers. Purpose of the winter inspection is to get an estimate of the year's crop of ice floes.

Each year an average of 400 icebergs drift into the North Atlantic shipping lanes. The patrol charts the position and drift of each and determines where the ice floe will disintegrate through melting and when it is no longer a danger to shipping.

Today, the major part of ice reconnaissance is being done by aircraft but two Coast Guard cutters are on 72 hours standby status when prolongued fog bars air search.

Icebergs are a menace which man for all his scientific achievements has never been able to control, regulate or avoid. Breaking off from the Greenland glaciers some of these ice mountains are big as a city block and half as high above the water.

Carried along by ocean currents, they cannot be held back or diverted off their destined course or destroyed. Gunfire bounces off an iceberg like a ping pong ball off a brick wall. Bombs at best may chip off a slice of a berg but demolition is costly and dangerous.

The Coast Guard in 1960 experimented with demolition and melting tests in the hopes of finding a feasible method of destroying icebergs. It dropped twenty 1,000 pound bombs on one iceberg; planted thermite, an incendiary-type explosive, on two others with little success.

A third experiment which had possibilities was tried that year and will be tried again in the future. It consists of dusting a berg with carbon black, which absorbs the sun's heat well and promotes melting.

Some 25 pounds of carbon black was spread manually by fiber brooms over 6,500 feet of a berg. Five hours later, the berg underwent major "calving" or breaking up.

Just as icebergs vary in size so do they vary in the distance they travel before breaking up. Several this year are expected to reach latitude 41 — due East of New York City.

In 1959, one was spotted just below 40 degrees north — due east of Philadelphia. Most remarkable sighting was reported in 1907 when an iceberg was seen about 30 miles from Bermuda.

The cost of maintaining the ice patrol is shared by the nations whose ships travel the North Atlantic sea lanes according to their respective tonnage. Total costs vary from year to year depending on the severity of the iceberg season.

Last year the patrol's operating cost was $225,000 with the United States' share running to $70,000. The cost for maintaining the patrol can be considered cheap in view of the fact not a single ship has been lost to an iceberg in the area patrolled in the 43 years it has been in service.

WASHINGTON SHORTS

CONGRESSIONAL OFFSETS—Democrats, who will be better financed than ever before for the Congressional elections ten months hence, are talking confidently of holding anticipated House of Representatives losses to a minimum and making some gains here and there so that no substantial net loss will be suffered. Governor Edward J. Hughes of New Jersey, who himself won a surprise victory in 1961, has informed the Administration that the Democrats have a chance to pick up a seat or two in New Jersey, where the division is now eight Republicans and six Democrats. Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy, who will soon move in to take a more prominent part in the management of the Democratic National Committee, thinks the Democrats may actually increase their House strength this fall.

BAILEY TO GO — Democratic National Committeeman John M. Bailey, who was the top professional politician in the Kennedy pre-Presidential campaign, is now definitely in the Kennedy doghouse, will be eased out before the 1964 Presidential campaign. Also, Bailey will be largely sidetracked in the management of the Congressional campaign this autumn.

VANISHING PESIDENTIAL PRIMARIES — Politicos predict that with the possible exception of favorite sons running in their own states, only Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, will enter 1964 Republican Presidential primaries. Neither Richard M. Nixon or Senator Barry Goldwater will enter any Presidential primaries. President Kennedy's name is expected to be on the ballot in some states and without any opposition. Presidential primaries, once held in more than half the states, have dwindled to a scant dozen. No state Presidential primary will have any influence over Presidential nominations in 1964, it is now believed.

Double Danger In Oil

Two recent actions by high federal officials point up dramatically a double danger for those interested in oil. One was President Kennedy's move toward nationalization of industry when he denied the steel firms the right to operate their own businesses without government interference. The other was Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall's statement that no money could be advanced to Louisiana from the $400 million tidelands escrow fund before a firm agreement is reached on the state's coastline, although later there was some indication this might be changed.

The future of the oil industry and, indeed, all of business, is seriously threatened by the manner in which President Kennedy acted to prevent an increase in the price of steel. Not content with that, the President, through his brother, Attorney General Robert Kennedy continued his harrassment of the steel industry by bringing about the indictment of four firms on charges of price-fixing. Yet, the government is now forcing such a small margin of profit that it would be virtually impossible for any of the steel firms to operate without a price range so narrow that it might appear to be price-fixing.

Many state officials and citizens view the action of the government in holding back the release of the escrow money to the state as a sort of business "blackmail," or using the big stick. It seems that the federal government hopes to hold off on any kind of major settlement until it can reduce the state of Louisiana to such a desperate state of need for revenue that it will consent to an agreement which will virtually give Louisiana's coast oil reserves to the federal government, although full rights of several other coast states have been allowed.

The irony of all this is that all of the money in escrow rightfully belongs to the state of Louisiana and none of it to the federal government. The United States of America has no coast line of its own. The only coast line it has is those made up by the states severally. The United States is a confederation of states and not an entity by itself. It has no right to any property, either land or sea, other than that used for purely government purposes. While the practice has been to allow the federal government to own land, it has no such inherent right under the theory that the United States is made up wholly of the several states. In reality, any land holdings by the federal government should be in the form of leases based on necessity and when a need no longer exists the property should be returned to individual citizens and thus come within the supervision of the seperate states.

Since the United States is not a separate entity and consists entirely of the confederation of the separate states, it cannot have a coast line and all coastlines, however far out they may extend, properly belong to the states to which they are adjoined.

Thus we find the federal government refusing to give to Louisiana even a considerable part of the $400 million escrow money which the state of Louisiana actually owns outright.

This federal government seizure of property belonging to coast states primarily affects the states involved. A still more widespread danger is the fact that leftists in the federal government and those who believe in nationalization of industry see such natural resources as oil as an opening wedge to nationalization. Fallaciously and completely outside of the constitution's concept of free enterprise and individual ownership, they claim natural resources belong to the federal government.

The picture President Kennedy presented to the public is that private capitalism, making a profit on investment, and the right of businessmen to use their own managerial judgment are inimicable to the "welfare of the country." That is the path always taken by those who seek nationalization of industry.

This could open a deep chasm of distrust between business and Government. It points toward a new wave of harassment and restriction of free enterprise and investment for economic and technological progress.

Steel succumbed to an unprecedented display of naked political power and strong-arm tactics, spearheaded by the full weight of the President's prestige and access to the public ear and backed by threats of punitive action from countless federal agencies.

The basic right of a sellor to ask whatever prices he considers proper in a highly competitive market has been surrendered to the power of Big Government to interpose its own whim without specific legal authority.

In the long run, steel's capitulation could do the nation more harm than would have resulted from a price increase. Historians may mark it as the real beginning of a "corporate state" in America.

The real issue is not the price of steel, not the rate of earnings of some individual companies, not the measure of so-called productivity or how productivity increases should be divided.

The real issue is who is responsible for economic progress. It is political planners in Washington, or the people who stake their own money in it? Is it against the public welfare to try to make a profit?

The President pictured a "handful of executives" putting greed for profits ahead of public welfare. Actually, executives are hired to protect and enhance the investments of thousands of individual savers throughout the public. If the Government can control the use of capital and facilities it does not own, the end of private initiative and investment is in sight.

Kennedy's Bad Words

When a president resorts to obscenity he loses respect and diminishes in stature. That happened to former President Harry Truman and, according to an Associated Press news dispatch which quoted a tabloid newspaper, it happened to President Kennedy.

Truman let loose with "cuss" words occasionally but on one particular occasion he exploded with vile language. After that he was still president but people never had as much respect for him. People want their president to have some dignity and self-respect.

President Kennedy was quoted as saying:

"My father always told me that all businessmen were ———— but I never believed it until now."

At the places where the blanks are shown, President Kennedy was quoted as using the same words former President Truman used. The White House denied the accuracy of the quotation but it did not say he did not use those words.

Kennedy's statement stirs two other principal thoughts. One is that he apparently believed his father on everything else and therefore he must have been more than ordinarily willing to accept his father's definition of a businessman. The other is that Joseph Kennedy, the President's father, was credited with making many millions of dollars. If he wasn't a businessman, how did he make that money and if he was a businessman, what did that make him?

Views Of Our Readers

Disagrees With White

Monroe, La.

To the Editor:

If Mr. R. C. White, Jr. is distressed by any movement which would give us some relief from Federal Aid, I want to assure him that there are many Americans, who think for themselves, who are distressed that we have traveled so far down the road towards Socialism. When Mr. White makes such statements, "After all, Federal Aid is not really so evil," and, "Why should we not receive money from our own government to help in such worthwhile projects," he is merely parroting those who would have us eventually under complete Federal control.

Why is it that once federal aid programs start, they never seem to stop? And, why do they grow more costly each year? Do they not contribute to our heavy tax load and to the inflationary debt now on our shoulders? Is it not true that in return for Federal Aid favors, we must submit to control, be it by law or by directive? Each time a Federal Aid program goes into effect, you can bet that eventually some local control is lost. As long as we, the taxpayers, keep pouring money into this Gargantuan hopper, it is much like giving one's self a transfusion from one arm to the other — but spilling half of it in the process.

I think the following, entitled, "Hymn to the Welfare State" and copied from the Baptist Messenger, gives an excellent picture of how some of our leaders would have us think.

The Government is my shephard,
Therefore I need not work.
It alloweth me to lie down on a good job.
It leadeth me beside still factories;
It destroyeth my initiative.
It leadeth me in the path of a parasite for politic's sake.
Yea, though I walk through the valley of laziness and deficit-spending,
I will fear no evil, the Government is with me.
It prepareth an economic Utopia for me, by appropriating the earnings of my grandchildren.
It filleth my head with false security;
My inefficiency runneth over
Surely the Government should care for me for all the days of my life!
And I shall dwell in a fool's paradise forever.

Freedom Of Press

Monroe, La.

To the Editor:

Hon. Otto E. Passman,
Congress of the United States
House of Representatives,
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Passman:

Thank you for your letter of the 17th giving your views on federal aid to education and Mr. Kennedy's trade proposal. We certainly concur, and further point out that it has been largely government pressure which has already priced American steel out of competition with foreign markets. We are sorry you did not express a similar objection to the medical aid bill. We are firmly convinced the individual will be the loser through higher taxes to pay the cost, and poorer medical care, if we move into socialized medicine.

We certainly oppose giving the President power to lower taxes, for the same law would give him power to raise taxes, and the power to destroy. We believe the elected representatives of the people should make many of the decisions now being made by executive order and the supreme court. If Congress does not demand observance of the Constitution, where can the people turn?

We are incensed at the coercion of United States Steel, and recognize the control of "big business" today, will be in time followed by the control of all business.

We oppose the United States bearing additional cost in operation of the United Nations. Any member who does not pay his assessed portion of U.N. expenses should be disbarred from membership. We know of no organization, except the church, which does not drop members for non-payment of dues.

We agree with Senator Long that any nation seizing United States property should at the least be disbarred from receiving any sort of aid from our Government.

We deplore withholding aid voted by Congress for Laos because Prince Bon Oum has refused to take communists into his Government. It would appear he is profiting from the experience of China and her coalition government, although we have not. We also deplore making war on Katanga for seeking independence, while weakening all our friends by insisting on the right of "self-determination" for the peoples who have prospered under their governments. We deplore the "do nothing" policy concerning Communist Cuba.

We oppose the increase in postage for magazines and newspapers. It is a well known fact that many giants in the publishing field have already ceased publication, and others will be forced out by any increase in expenses. We do not need fewer media of free communication, but rather more. We deplore the day when the government begins to subsidize newspapers and magazines. Then "thought control" will be almost complete. We see many signs already pointing in that direction both by the supression of news, and the direct blast at programming of television, as well as the many new TV commercials plugging some branch of the government. Magazines had no voice in approving salary increases for postal employees, and should not be required to pay an unfair portion of this increase. If the government must subsidize something, let them absorb the loss of the post office department, but let us by all means keep freedom of the press.

Declaration Protected

To the Editor:

In Tuesday morning's Morning World, in the editorial column, as a space filler, you have a four line curio—Quote: "The Declaration of Independence is kept in a fire - proof, shock - proof, and bomb-proof steel and concrete vault at night." This appears to be a good place to keep the Declaration of Independence. It is a shame that we can't take as much caution to preserve it during the daylight hours, also.

How Do You Stand, Sir?

By BARRY GOLDWATER

U. S. Senator From Arizona

America's relations with her allies throughout the free world are already complicated by a vacillating U.S. foreign policy which shows strength in South Viet-Nam, weakness in Laos, frustration in Berlin and confusion in the Congo.

And these important relations certainly won't be improved by publication of The Liberal Papers, a collection of essays sponsored by a group of present and former Democratic congressmen. They can lead only to further misunderstanding of American intentions.

As I have pointed out in a preceding column, The Liberal Papers contain foreign policy recommendations which could result in the virtual surrender of our own strategic interests and those of our allies to the forces of world communism.

Consider how the West Germans must feel when they read that a project sponsored by a sizeable number of Democratic congressmen has put out a book which suggests demilitarization of West Germany, U.S. recognition of the Communist puppet regime of East Germany and expulsion of West Germany from the NATO alliance.

There already is a heavy tendency in West Germany to suspect the strength of America's determination to stand firm in Berlin, and The Liberal Papers will undoubtedly increase this feeling of insecurity and doubt.

By the same token, our Chinese friends on Formosa must shudder when they read The Liberal Papers suggestions that the U.S. recognize Red China, that the U.S. sponsor Red China for UN membership, that the U.S. grant financial aid to Red China and that the U.S. recognize Red China's claim to Formosa and the Pescadores.

And our European allies can't be expected to cheer the ideas set forth by Liberal Papers essayists, that the U.S. abandon her missile bases in Europe and allow the Russians to plug in on a bi-directional DEW line.

I certainly don't suggest that President Kennedy will be influenced by The Liberal Papers and adopt its proposals for unilateral action by the United States to appease the Communists.

Nor do I fear that the essays will have any effect on the determination of the American people to oppose Communist power in the fight for freedom throughout the world. But I am concerned at the impact these Liberal Papers may have abroad.

This whole point was brought out on the Senate floor recently by Sen. Thurston Morton, of Kentucky, who suggested that The Liberal Papers should be renamed Our American Munich.

"In many lands," Senator Morton pointed out, "people do not fully understand our constitutional system with its separation of powers. When a member of Congress in this country speaks out, it is often interpreted overseas as an indication of U.S. policy or intent. Now we have a group of Democratic members of Congress in this time of a Democratic administration sponsoring this series of essays.

"I think it is most unfortunate that this should happen at this particular time. It is bound to further complicate the difficulties that President Kennedy and Secretary Rusk face in Germany, Geneva, Viet-Nam, Cuba, Africa and elsewhere. I hope that we will let the world know that the content of The Liberal Papers does not represent the thinking of the vast majority of the Congress, Democrat and Republican."

How do you stand, sir?

Ice Patrol Aid

Valuable Service Started 50 Years Ago By Titanic Sinking

WASHINGTON—The sinking of the "unsinkable" Titanic fifty years ago launched a humanitarian program which has survived two world wars and has made the North Atlantic shipping lanes safe for navigation.

Officially titled the International Ice Patrol Service, the program started off on a modest scale and has since grown into an efficient and highly successful venture with still the same purpose — warning ships of drifting icebergs.

Before the shock of the worst maritime disaster in history subsided the U.S. Navy responded to the situation by sending two scout cruisers to stand watch near the spot the Titanic went down, 400 miles south of Cape Race, Newfoundland.

The action admittedly was locking the barn door after the horse escaped but it served as a nucleus for the patrol which wasn't actually organized until almost two years later by International treaty.

While International talks proceeded the Coast Guard (then called the Revenue Cutter Service) took over the ice patrol tasks, assigning the Cutters and Seneca to North Atlantic waters.

In January, 1941 the 17 Nations which ply the shipping routes of the North Atlantic signed a treaty creating the service which is now in its 44th year under the Coast Guard. For several years during World War I and World War II the patrol was discontinued.

Duties of the patrol usually begin in February with preliminary flights to the waters off Greenland where icebergs are spawned by breaking off massive glaciers. Purpose of the winter inspection is to get an estimate of the year's crop of ice floes.

Each year an average of 400 icebergs drift into the North Atlantic shipping lanes. The patrol charts the position and drift of each and determines where the ice floe will disintegrate through melting and when it is no longer a danger to shipping.

Today, the major part of ice reconnaissance is being done by aircraft but two Coast Guard cutters are on 72 hours standby status when prolongued fog bars air search.

Icebergs are a menace which man for all his scientific achievements has never been able to control, regulate or avoid. Breaking off from the Greenland glaciers some of these ice mountains are big as a city block and half as high above the water.

Carried along by ocean currents, they cannot be held back or diverted off their destined course or destroyed. Gunfire bounces off an iceberg like a ping pong ball off a brick wall. Bombs at best may chip off a slice of a berg but demolition is costly and dangerous.

The Coast Guard in 1960 experimented with demolition and melting tests in the hopes of finding a feasible method of destroying icebergs. It dropped twenty 1,000 pound bombs on one iceberg; planted thermite, an incendiary-type explosive, on two others with little success.

A third experiment which had possibilities was tried that year and will be tried again in the future. It consists of dusting a berg with carbon black, which absorbs the sun's heat well and promotes melting.

Some 25 pounds of carbon black was spread manually by fiber brooms over 6,500 feet of a berg. Five hours later, the berg underwent major "calving" or breaking up.

Just as icebergs vary in size so do they vary in the distance they travel before breaking up. Several this year are expected to reach latitude 41 — due East of New York City.

In 1959, one was spotted just below 40 degrees north — due east of Philadelphia. Most remarkable sighting was reported in 1907 when an iceberg was seen about 30 miles from Bermuda.

The cost of maintaining the ice patrol is shared by the nations whose ships travel the North Atlantic sea lanes according to their respective tonnage. Total costs vary from year to year depending on the severity of the iceberg season.

Last year the patrol's operating cost was $225,000 with the United States' share running to $70,000. The cost for maintaining the patrol can be considered cheap in view of the fact not a single ship has been lost to an iceberg in the area patrolled in the 43 years it has been in service.

'NO HEADACHES'

Vicious Attacks On Iran Ruler

By DAVID LANCASHIRE

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Deep in the desert of Iran, the ragged villagers cluster around an oil lamp and hear the radio crackle: "Death to the traitor Shah."

In mud brick houses in Isfahan and flashy villas in Tehran, countless Iranians daily hear the same attacks against the Shah broadcast from secret radio stations across the mountains in the Soviet Union.

"I listen to them," says Mohammed Reza Shah Pahlevi, "with a sort of relaxed disdain."

Last month in Washington, the handsome monarch admitted that being a king "has given me nothing personally but headaches." Censors forbade the Iranian press to print that.

NO HEADACHES

"The Shahansham (king of kings) is by tradition the shadow of God," explained one Iranian," and he does not have headaches."

During his 20-year reign, the Shah has been wounded by a gunman, forced to flee the country, married three times and divorced twice—but actually, he writes in his memoirs, "I like my job tremendously."

Headaches or not, he faces staggering problems in trying to develop a modern nation. The radio attacks are just one of them.

Iran's nine million peasant farmers—poverty-bound and illiterate, but aware that the Middle Ages are over—are clamoring for land reform and progress, and are beginning to get it.

Young, educated and dissatisfied Iranians are demanding a future for themselves and for the country.

An overweight and sometimes corrupt bureaucracy hampers even the simplest projects by inefficiency and red tape.

Some officials claim that revitalizing it would mean firing as many as 50,000 civil servants.

"If our programs do not succeed, these are forces that could rock the boat so hard it would turn over some day," says a responsible official.

A revolution here could be a blow to the West, which counts on Iran as a key ally. With its 1,100-mile border with the Soviet Union, Iran is the most strategically located member of the Central Treaty Organization.

The United States has spent well over a billion dollars on Iran's military and economic development. About 5,000 Americans, including children, live here.

Results of the aid program are here to see, but many Iranians still regard it with skepticism.

The Shah is recognized as an exponent of progress. At the same time he finds himself identified with Iran's rich upper class.

Challenged by irate street mobs a year ago, the Shah took a decisive step. He tossed out the government, dissolved Parliament and appointed as prime minister Dr. Ali Amini, a dynamic, French-educated aristocrat with ideas of his own.

Ruling by decree, Amini jailed a handful of generals and former ministers on corruption charges, and pulled the country's economic belt so tight that many businessmen choked. He ignored demands for elections and risked landlords ire by starting to hand their huge, feudal-style estates to the peasantry.

The Shah, once the biggest landlord, recently distributed to peasants the last of 520 villages he personally owned.

Amini's economic measures—plus $104 million in U.S. aid—have rebuilt Iran's foreign exchange and paid off $100 million in debts in a year.

Business is in recession and unemployment is high, but politically Iran is quiet for the moment.

Tehran University campus, a hotbed of agitation, has been free of demonstrations since paratroops fiercely suppressed the last one in January.

Organized communism has made little headway, but the constant radio attacks give ready-made phrases for critics of the regime.

One political front claims the Shah must follow the example of European kings and reign instead of running the country.

The Shah is said once to have answered: "When Iranians start behaving like Swedes, then I will behave like the king of Sweden."

Pravda Means Truth, But Does It Really

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP) — The Russian word pravda means truth. From the Communist point of view, truth comes in the newspaper Pravda, celebrating its 50th anniversary Saturday.

Nonetheless, what Pravda called the truth in 1940 is no longer what the newspaper says truth is now. In 1970, it seems likely, the truth won't be the same that Pravda now proclaims, for there are new and challenging voices in the land, covertly proclaiming what may be the future Communist view of truth.

Pravda is the spokesman of the party, and in this country the party is god.

One of the world's biggest newspapers, it publishes 6½ million copies, and could quickly increase its circulation simply by printing more.

Pravda circulates in every city and town in this sprawling land but there are never enough copies on the stands for all the ready purchasers. Each copy may circulate through a dozen hands, so Pravda has perhaps the greatest readership of any paper in the world.

NOT ALL

Not every one reads it from cover to cover, but millions do—line by line. In public nobody dares challenge it. Its reporters and editors are the elect of the land.

Yet, curiously, the "exposure" type of journalism is not for Pravda. The field for the investigation of scandals in the party, in public management and in private life is left almost entirely to the many other papers. Pravda prints what the party wants the people to know, suppresses what it does not want them to know—and rarely cracks a smile in its columns.

The paper was founded in 1912 in St. Petersburg, now Leningrad, and its early leader was Vyacheslav Molotov. A newly published book about the paper does not mention Molotov. To Pravda, Molotov no longer represents truth. Even the name of Stalin rarely appears in its columns, and then only to be condemned for the "cult of personality." Yet even for a long time after his death in 1953, the word of Stalin and the word of Pravda were almost one.

Now the truth is the word of Premier Khrushchev.

In its four, six or eight pages, the paper covers a multitude of subjects, for it carries no advertising. Most of the few pictures show officials declaiming from party pulpits or groups smiling across their busy lathes or school texts.

General Clay Hero In Red Lashed Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—"I thought he was going to leave one arm behind."

A friend of Gen. Lucius D. Clay was talking about the way Germans massed against his car one day this week, seeking a last chance to shake his hand.

Clay generates affection among ordinary Berliners. They remember him as the man who created the 1948 airlift. When he made a farewell appearance on May Day he told 700,000 Berliners he would not say goodby "now or ever, for Berlin is too much a part of me ever to leave."

West Berliners tend to think highly of Clay because many share his idea of the way to deal with the Soviet Union: take a firm, even a combative, stand on your rights and never let Moscow get away with anything.

When the news came last month that Clay would be ending his service as President Kennedy's representative, there was considerable dismay. Some thought his departure meant a defeat for hard line tactics.

Gen. Clay himself doesn't see it that way.

The limits are pretty clearly drawn in Berlin now, he said.

"We have made some very clear commitments," he went on, "so the present situation could go on a long time. The Soviets know that if they upset it, they are in for trouble."

Clay has been closely associated with touchy situations in his eight months in Berlin. The most important was the confrontation of Soviet and American tanks at Checkpoint Charlie last October.

Police of the East German regime insisted on seeing the papers of all civilians entering East Berlin. American officials insisted they need not show theirs when they appeared in official cars.

To back up the point, American civilian officials were repeatedly sent into East Berlin under armed escort. American tanks stood by to support the operation.

The Soviets ordered up their own tanks. Soviet and American armor faced each other for 16 uncomfortable hours.

Then the Soviet tanks withdrew, and so did the Americans.

Clay's critics accused him of starting a dangerous incident for no practical purpose. His friends say the confrontation accomplished one important thing. It showed that the Soviets, not their East German satellites, were responsible for the situation along the Berlin wall.

Some of Clay's friends think the American tanks should not have been withdrawn. They blame America's Allies, particularly the British, some officials in the State Department and commentators they consider to follow a soft line.

Clay himself does not like to criticize, but he too believes that followers of a soft line tend to give away points to the Soviets for fear of war.

Clay insists he is leaving because he feels the time has come when he can do more good for Berlin by working from the United States.

Clay doesn't see any easy and permanent solution to Berlin's problem. Communists in East Germany are working hard to orient their economy completely toward the other Communist states.

"When they've accomplished that," he said, "they'll be in a position to harass German travelers and freight moving between Berlin and West Germany."

He estimates it will take a year before the Communists are in shape to risk the reprisals that could be expected from West Germany against such a harassment.

LATIN ALLIANCE

Bold Gamble Is Threatened

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Nagging, bickering and confusion threaten trouble for the Kennedy administration's bold gamble to bolster Latin America.

If the Alliance for Progress should bog down, boomerang effects could be far more painful even than the fiasco of U.S. policy in Cuba last year.

Alliance sources admit there are aggravations. They complain of lack of enthusiasm and cooperation from some of the governments that might benefit the most.

Time is the critical element in the Kennedy program to inspire Latin-American nations to help themselves.

The alliance was ratified last August. The United States offered $10 billion to be matched over 10 years by a similar amount from private and foreign investors. But this was not to be just a $20-billion program. The aim was to make it a Latin-American job. Over a 10-year period the 19 participating nations themselves would be expected to devote $80 billion toward curing their own ills.

FINANCES

Nineteen Latin finance ministers agreed with the idea that reforms of tax structures, vastly uneven distribution systems and the hated latifundista — landlord — system would be necessary in this attack on centuries-old poverty, illiteracy and backwardness.

Wealthy classes are resisting reforms in many areas. Government in some instances are pictured as dragging their feet. Many countries have the necessary laws on the books, but little is being done.

Latin-American governments have complaints, too. At the Inter-American Development Bank conference here, Bolivia and Colombia voiced annoyance.

The substance of these complaints: While the alliance program awakened hopes, its administration has failed to pick up steam, and this presages deepening economic troubles and crises.

Here are some of the principal complaints heard in Latin America, along with alliance sources' replies:

1. The alliance has failed to get its message across to Latin America.

The reply: Conceded, but this is basically a job for the Latin-American governments themselves. It cannot be presented as just a U.S. effort.

2. There is lack of coordination among agencies involved in getting the program on the rails. Even a pro-alliance source claims lack of planning is accompanied by a superabundance of surveys and investigations.

The reply: U. S. taxpayers' money is involved. The programs proposed must make sense before money can be committed.

3. While wealthy classes resit reforms, heavy pressures from the left make governments wary of too public an involvement with the United States. Anything even smacking of U.S. interference is open to violent attack. Yet, insistence on reforms as an aid condition in itself is a form of interference.

U.S. AID

Reply: U.S. aid is not the essential element. Lack of action or cooperation by Latin governments can spell failure for the alliance.

The alliance faces political danger in many areas.

Chile is an example. There, even so-called moderates balk at reforms, one source said, adding: "Just when we think everything is going fine, and we may make headway, they hit us below the belt—like Chile making that diplomat leave. It's a bigger black eye than we would dare admit."

He referred to Lawrence Elsbernd, U.S. Embassy economic specialist attacked by the Communist press in March as having insulted Chile. The State Department called this preposterous, but it bowed to the Chilean goverment's request and withdrew Elsbernd from Santiago. That was a demonstration of leftist power.

Argentina's turbulent politics prevent this country from presenting projects that meet the alliance's self-help requirements.

Brazil's rich class slowly is agreeing that salvation may lie in intelligent reform, but Brazil is in grave economic and political trouble.

Peru has a presidential election June 10. No matter who wins, a nervous time is in store.

Ecuador, often approaching the rim of chaos, is plagued by sporadic uprisings of Castro-influence elements. So is Venezuela, which also is menaced from the extreme right.

Bolivia, chronically off balance, is kept from bankruptcy by U.S. money. Colombia has an ambitious program deposited in Washington, but Colombians complain about long waits between planning and execution.

The key word for the alliance may be "impatience."

It is a 10-year program but expectations have been aroused for swift results. If these results fail to show up new and serious pressures on governments are to be expected.

NINETEEN NATIONS are participating in the Alliance for Progress, the Kennedy administration's program to inspire Latin American nations to help themselves. But nagging, bickering and confusion threaten bad trouble for program. (AP Wirephoto Map)

U.N. Experts Have Trouble In The Congo

By WILTON WYNN

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The phenomenon was observed in Oriental Province. A U.N. transport expert arrived to help put trucks and other vehicles into usable shape. Truck drivers were so happy to get this special attention that many damaged good vehicles so the U.N. expert could repair them.

This episode illustrates both the good and the bad side of the U.N. experiment in the Congo.

On the one hand, the United Nations has a chance to demonstrate its effectiveness to the African people. On the other, some Congolese tend to rely so heavily on the United Nations that they are slow to solve their own problems.

RIDE A TIGER

The result is that the U.N. mission here is much like the man riding a tiger. It's a great ride, but how can he safely dismount?

U.N. officials speak of tapering off aid next year, but the fact is that the end is not in sight. In nearly 17 years of life, the United Nations never has spent so much money in one country as in the Congo, and it seems likely that it will have to go on spending indefinitely. The total cost of military and civilian operations runs about $136 million yearly.

One look at a session of the Congolese Parliament is enough to suggest that parliamentary democracy will collapse when U.N. protection is withdrawn. The great bulk of deputies sometimes stand before parliament to declare they will not vote for a bill until the government pays them. Many can write their names only with the greatest difficulty. Pandemonium reigns in most sessions.

Chronicle War Ranks Very High

ISLAND OF TERRIBLE FRIENDS. By Bill Strutton. Norton. $3.95.

If this were only a novel, it might be described as one of the better pieces of fiction to come out of World War II.

But it is basically a true story, with only a few of the minor names changed, and the principal characters — so colorful in these pages — long since have settled into more prosaic civilian occupations.

Essentially it is the story of Maj. James Rickett of the British medical corps, and an island named Vis, a little dot in the Adriatic close to the shore of Jugoslavia.

In the beginning Bis was a lone, precarious toe-hold of the partisans (real stone-age warriors) and a handful of British commandos, an island likely to be overrun by the Germans at any moment. At the end, Vis was a moderately strong take-off point that served admirably to distract the Germans from a major campaign on the mainland.

Rickett's mission was one of those wacky wartime assignments that, characteristically, turns into a combination of farce and heroism. Detached from the regular military, he was sent by the foreign office to be the only medical hope of the commandoes. Because he was outside the regular, military channels, supplies never reached him. He and a few oddball sergeants had to scrounge from two sources: American shipments to the partisans and captured German equipment.

Idle Lives And Absurd In New Book

SUMMER STORM. By Juan Garcia Hortelano. Translated from the Spanish by Ilsa Bareau. Grove Press. $4.50.

There have been quite a few books and films about those dissolute rich people in Italy and the south of France who cut some pretty raw capers in the midst of alcoholic fogs and casual, arrogant attitudes toward sexual promiscuity.

This time the scene is a "fashionable" beach area in one of the more humid areas of Spain. The pattern is pretty much the same. The plot has to do with the commotions that arise when the nude body of a very attractive young female is found on the beach.

The central figure and narrator is a rich creep named Javier, who seems to be the leader of this little colony of leeches on the chic body of society.

Javier is a spoiled brat of a man who can't brook any nonsense from the married woman who is his mistress, or from the female tramp he picks up as a handy backstop. He isn't much of a genius when it comes to handling the identification of the body as a friend of his lady tramp.

The author's purpose, it seems, is to show the absurdity of life among the idle rich, and in that respect you have to credit him with making a point. He has some devasating pictures of their moronic entertainment, their total disregard for their offspring and their narrow concern with modern falsities.

GUIDE TO GOOD READING

Many Books Now In Library

By FRANCES FLANDERS
Ouachita Parish Librarian

A large number of new books were added to the collection of the Ouachita Parish Public Library during the past week. Most of them were books of non-fiction, which strengthen the subject collection of the Library. However there are two new fiction titles. "Star in the Wind" is the title of the new book by Robert Nathan. Like all of his books it has a strong vein of fantasy. It is the story of two lost people and the love they find together. "Navarro" by Carse Boyd is a new western which will find a ready audience. The library frequently receives calls from people who think they have found a rare book. This is a special field and often we are not able to give them much help. However, a new title called "More Gold in Your Attic" by Van Allen Bradley should answer many of their questions. Handwriting analysis is a field which interests many people. A new book on this subject is "Handwriting Analysis; The Art and Science of Character Reading by Milton N. Bunker. It develops many interesting theories. A perfeccly beautiful book in the field of religious art is "Christ's Image" by Marcelle Auclair. It has a double interest, from a religious as well as an art standpoint. Everyone who read James Mitchiner's "Hawaii" will want to read a factual account of the missionaries from New England who had such an impact on Hawaii in the early days. It was written by Brandford Smith and the title is "Yankees in Paradise." Another book of religious writings which should interest many readers is "The Quaker Reader," edited by Jessamyn West. It is a collection of writings from the pen of outstanding Quakers. A useful book in the field of social science is "Group Thinking and Conference Leadership" by William Utterback.

A new title in the field of education is "Education, Economy and Society" by A. H. Halsey. Many parents are concerned about the reading ability of their children. They will want to see a new book by Peggy Brogan called "Helping Children Read." Railroad enthusiasts will enjoy three new titles in the world of railroading. They are "The Iron Horse" by E. P. Alexander, an account of American locomotives from 1829 to 1900; "Highball, a Pageant of Trains" by Lucius Beebe, who is probably the outstanding amateur authority on rainroads in this country; and "Railroads of the Hour" by Selwyn Kip Farrington. A book which will appeal to a special group is "American Catholic Etiquette" by Kay Toy Fenner.

A charming small book is "Personality of the Cat" by Brandt Aymar. "Art Treasures for America" is an anthology of painting and sculpture in the Samuel H. Kress Collection compiled by Charles Seymour Jr. "Chinese Art" by Judith and Arthur Burling is a beautiful book for art collectors. Three new books dealing with early American houses are: "Open House in New England" by Samuel Chamberlain; "Colonial Houses; Philadelphia, Pre-Revolution Period" by Phillip B. Wallace and "Old Virginia Houses along the James" by Emmie Ferguson Farrar. Three lovely books of interest to collectors are: "Italian Majolica" by Jirina Vydrove, "Old Venetian Glass" by Karel Hettes and "Pennsylvania Clocks and Clockmakers" by George H. Eckhardt.

'NO HEADACHES'

Vicious Attacks On Iran Ruler

By DAVID LANCASHIRE

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Deep in the desert of Iran, the ragged villagers cluster around an oil lamp and hear the radio crackle: "Death to the traitor Shah."

In mud brick houses in Isfahan and flashy villas in Tehran, countless Iranians daily hear the same attacks against the Shah broadcast from secret radio stations across the mountains in the Soviet Union.

"I listen to them," says Mohammed Reza Shah Pahlevi, "with a sort of relaxed disdain."

Last month in Washington, the handsome monarch admitted that being a king "has given me nothing personally but headaches." Censors forbade the Iranian press to print that.

NO HEADACHES

"The Shahansham (king of kings) is by tradition the shadow of God," explained one Iranian," and he does not have headaches."

During his 20-year reign, the shah has been wounded by a gunman, forced to flee the country, married three times and divorced twice—but actually, he writes in his memoirs, "I like my job tremendously."

Headaches or not, he faces staggering problems in trying to develop a modern nation. The radio attacks are just one of them.

Iran's nine million peasant farmers—poverty-bound and illiterate, but aware that the Middle Ages are over—are clamoring for land reform and progress, and are beginning to get it.

Young, educated and dissatisfied Iranians are demanding a future for themselves and for the country.

An overweight and sometimes corrupt bureaucracy hampers even the simplest projects by inefficiency and red tape.

Some officials claim that revitalizing it would mean firing as many as 50,000 civil servants.

"If our programs do not succeed, these are forces that could rock the boat so hard it would turn over some day," says a responsible official.

A revolution here could be a blow to the West, which counts on Iran as a key ally. With its 1,100-mile border with the Soviet Union, Iran is the most strategically located member of the Central Treaty Organization.

The United States has spent well over a billion dollars on Iran's military and economic development. About 5,000 Americans, including children, live here.

Results of the aid program are here to see, but many Iranians still regard it with skepticism.

The Shah is recognized as an exponent of progress. At the same time he finds himself identified with Iran's rich upper class.

Challenged by irate street mobs a year ago, the Shah took a decisive step. He tossed out the government, dissolved Parliament and appointed as prime minister Dr. Ali Amini, a dynamic, French-educated aristocrat with ideas of his own.

Ruling by decree, Amini jailed a handful of generals and former ministers on corruption charges, and pulled the country's economic belt so tight that many businessmen choked. He ignored demands for elections and risked landlords ire by starting to hand their huge, feudal-style estates to the peasantry.

The Shah, once the biggest landlord, recently distributed to peasants the last of 520 villages he personally owned.

Amini's economic measures—plus $104 million in U.S. aid—have rebuilt Iran's foreign exchange and paid off $100 million in debts in a year.

Business is in recession and unemployment is high, but politically Iran is quiet for the moment.

Tehran University campus, a hotbed of agitation, has been free of demonstrations since paratroops fiercely suppressed the last one in January.

Organized communism has made little headway, but the constant radio attacks give ready-made phrases for critics of the regime.

One political front claims the Shah must follow the example of European kings and reign instead of running the country.

The Shah is said once to have answered: "When Iranians start behaving like Swedes, then I will behave like the king of Sweden."

Pravda Means Truth, But Does It Really

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP) — The Russian word pravda means truth. From the Communist point of view, truth comes in the newspaper Pravda, celebrating its 50th anniversary Saturday.

Nonetheless, what Pravda called the truth in 1940 is no longer what the newspaper says truth is now. In 1970, it seems likely, the truth won't be the same that Pravda now proclaims, for there are new and challenging voices in the land, covertly proclaiming what may be the future Communist view of truth.

Pravda is the spokesman of the party, and in this country the party is god.

One of the world's biggest newspapers, it publishes 6½ million copies, and could quickly increase its circulation simply by printing more.

Pravda circulates in every city and town in this sprawling land but there are never enough copies on the stands for all the ready purchasers. Each copy may circulate through a dozen hands, so Pravda has perhaps the greatest readership of any paper in the world.

NOT ALL

Not every one reads it from cover to cover, but millions do—line by line. In public nobody dares challenge it. Its reporters and editors are the elect of the land.

Yet, curiously, the "exposure" type of journalism is not for Pravda. The field for the investigation of scandals in the party, in public management and in private life is left almost entirely to the many other papers. Pravda prints what the party wants the people to know, suppresses what it does not want them to know—and rarely cracks a smile in its columns.

The paper was founded in 1912 in St. Petersburg, now Leningrad, and its early leader was Vyacheslav Molotov. A newly published book about the paper does not mention Molotov. To Pravda, Molotov no longer represents truth. Even the name of Stalin rarely appears in its columns, and then only to be condemned for the "cult of personality." Yet even for a long time after his death in 1953, the word of Stalin and the word of Pravda were almost one.

Now the truth is the word of Premier Khrushchev.

In its four, six or eight pages, the paper covers a multitude of subjects, for it carries no advertising. Most of the few pictures show officials declaiming from party pulpits or groups smiling across their busy lathes or school texts.

General Clay Hero In Red Lashed Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—"I thought he was going to leave one arm behind."

A friend of Gen. Lucius D. Clay was talking about the way Germans massed against his car one day this week, seeking a last chance to shake his hand.

Clay generates affection among ordinary Berliners. They remember him as the man who created the 1948 airlift. When he made a farewell appearance on May Day he told 700,000 Berliners he would not say goodby "now or ever, for Berlin is too much a part of me ever to leave."

West Berliners tend to think highly of Clay because many share his idea of the way to deal with the Soviet Union: take a firm, even a combative, stand on your rights and never let Moscow get away with anything.

When the news came last month that Clay would be ending his service as President Kennedy's representative, there was considerable dismay. Some thought his departure meant a defeat for hard line tactics.

Gen. Clay himself doesn't see it that way.

The limits are pretty clearly drawn in Berlin now, he said.

"We have made some very clear commitments," he went on, "so the present situation could go on a long time. The Soviets know that if they upset it, they are in for trouble."

Clay himself does not like to criticize, but he too believes that followers of a soft line tend to give away points to the Soviets for fear of war.

Clay insists he is leaving because he feels the time has come when he can do more good for Berlin by working from the United States.

Clay doesn't see any easy and permanent solution to Berlin's problem. Communists in East Germany are working hard to orient their economy completely toward the other Communist states.

It develops many interesting theories. A perfeccly beautiful book in the field of religious art is "Christ's Image" by Marcelle Auclair. It has a double interest, from a religious as well as an art standpoint. Everyone who read James Mitchiner's "Hawaii" will want to read a factual account of the missionaries from New England who had such an impact on Hawaii in the early days. It was written by Brandford Smith and the title is "Yankees in Paradise." Another book of religious writings which should interest many readers is "The Quaker Reader," edited by Jessamyn West. It is a collection of writings from the pen of outstanding Quakers. A useful book in the field of social science is "Group Thinking and Conference Leadership" by William Utterback.

A new title in the field of education is "Education, Economy and Society" by A. H. Halsey. Many parents are concerned about the reading ability of their children. They will want to see a new book by Peggy Brogan called "Helping Children Read." Railroad enthusiasts will enjoy three new titles in the world of railroading. They are "The Iron Horse" by E. P. Alexander, an account of American locomotives from 1829 to 1900; "Highball, a Pageant of Trains" by Lucius Beebe, who is probably the outstanding amateur authority on rainroads in this country; and "Railroads of the Hour" by Selwyn Kip Farrington. A book which will appeal to a special group is "American Catholic Etiquette" by Kay Toy Fenner.

A charming small book is "Personality of the Cat" by Brandt Aymar. "Art Treasures for America" is an anthology of painting and sculpture in the Samuel H. Kress Collection compiled by Charles Seymour Jr. "Chinese Art" by Judith and Arthur Burling is a beautiful book for art collectors. Three new books dealing with early American houses are: "Open House in New England" by Samuel Chamberlain; "Colonial Houses: Philadelphia, Pre-Revolution Period" by Phillip B. Wallace and "Old Virginia Houses along the James" by Emmie Ferguson Farrar. Three lovely books of interest to collectors are: "Italian Majolica" by Jirina Vydrove, "Old Venetian Glass" by Karel Hettes and "Pennsylvania Clocks and Clockmakers" by George H. Eckhardt.

DR. MALCOLM CALHOUN

First Session On Christian Action Slated

Dr. Malcolm Calhoun of Richmond, Virginia, will be one of the featured speakers at the first conference on Christian Action for the Presbyterian Synod of Louisiana, May 21, 22 in Shreveport.

Scene of the conference, which precedes the meeting of the Synod, will be at the First Presbyterian Church, according to Rev. Charles Kennon, Welsh, Synod chairman of Christian Action.

ADDRESS

Dr. Calhoun will open the meeting with an address on "Presbyterian and Christian Action." He is secretary of the Division of Christian Action of the Board of Christian Education for the Presbyterian Church.

Other leaders for the conference will be Dr. James M. Dabbs, Maysville, South Carolina; Dr. John Melton, Baton Rouge; Dr. Alex Hunter, New Orleans; Rev. William D. O'Neal, Baton Rouge, and Dr. William Benfield, Shreveport.

Worship leaders will be Dr. Wave McFadden, Monroe, and Rev. Albert Link, New Orleans.

Temple Church Revival Speaker Is Dr. Tennison

Revival services starting today and continuing through the week at Temple Baptist Church, 601 Plum St., will feature Dr. Clifton R. Tennison, pastor of the First Baptist Church of West Monroe as evangelist.

Bill Reed, minister of music for the West Monroe Church will direct music for the revival.

Dr. Tennison is a native of Texas and graduated from Howard Payne College and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. He served several churches in Texas before coming to West Monroe last year.

Services will be held 9:30 a.m. amd 7:30 p.m. daily Monday through Friday.

The church nursery will be open during services.

New Sanctuary Dedication Set In West Monroe

Dedication of a new sanctuary building of Seigle Assembly of God Church, Smith and Washington streets, West Monroe, will take place today at 2 p.m.

The dedication message will be delivered by L. C. Ashbrook, Louisiana district superintendent of the Assemblies of God, according to Rev. B. O. Smith, pastor.

There will be a special program of songs, featuring trio, quartette, and choir.

Dean Baptist Revival Slated

An old fashion revival will be conducted at Dean Baptist Church near Marion starting Monday and continuing through Sunday, May 13.

Evangelist at 10 a.m. and 7 p.m. daily services will be Manley Beasley of Port Neches, Texas, The Rev. L. Gardner, pastor, said.

Theme of the revival is "Concern for Lost Souls."

State Episcopal Conference On Stewardship Set

A conference on the principles of Christian stewardship will draw representative laymen and clergy of the Episcopal Church from throughout the state to Camp Hardtner, Pollock, June 1-3.

Huntingdon Hanchett, an Episcopal layman, will head the conference. He is a professional public relations man on leave for two years to serve in the church's national department of promotions as stewardship training consultant.

The Rt. Rev. Girault M. Jones, Episcopal bishop of Louisiana, said widespread participation in the conference is expected.

LIKE UNIFORMS

NEW YORK (AP) — Girls in Roman Catholic high schools overwhelmingly favor the wearing of school uniforms, Sister Marie William writes in the Catholic Educator. Her findings were based on studies in seven communities.

Area Meeting On Extension Is Arranged

Representatives of 21 northeast Louisiana Presbyterian Churches are scheduled to attend a meeting here 7 p.m. Tuesday at which Rev. Claude H. Pritchard of Atlanta, Ga., will be featured speaker.

The meeting will take place at Westminster Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Pritchard is executive secretary of the Division of Home Missions of the Presbyterian General Assembly which headquarters in Atlanta.

His appearance here will be one of three scheduled in Red River Presbytery in observance of Church Extension Month, according to Rev. C. E. Pickens of Ferriday, chairman of Church Extension in the presbytery.

The speaker will discuss church extension work of the General Assembly and the presbytery.

Rev. William W. Hatcher is pastor of the host church. The meeting is open to the public.

Guest Pastor To Be Heard At Memorial

The pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Winnfield, Rev. Robert Gage, will be guest minister at 11 a.m. services today at Memorial Presbyterian Church in West Monroe.

Speaking on Presbyterian Church Extension work, his topic will be "The Challenge of the Church," according to Dr. Hugh E. Bradshaw, pastor of Memorial.

STUDY

Rev. Gage has an AB degree from Austin College, and a BD degree from Austin Presbyterian Seminary. He held pastorates at Alabama Presbyterian Church, Choudrant, and Westlake Hills Presbyterian Church, Austin, Texas, before assuming the pulpit at Winnfield seven years ago.

During his time at Winnfield he has led his congregation in the erection of a sanctuary and educational facilities.

My Answer

By BILLY GRAHAM

QUESTION: In our times, when all indications point to the fact that we are nearing the end of the age, don't you think that it is best for ministers to preach chiefly from the New Testament?

ANSWER: While I definitely believe that the New Testament should be preached in its fullness, there is no reason to believe that God's way of salvation is not found also in the Old Testament. When Peter spoke to the people concerning the great events that centered in the crucifixion and resurrection of our Lord, he said in Acts 3:18 that "God foreshadowed these things by the mouth of all the prophets." And in Acts 3:24 he said, "All the prophlets from Samuel and those that follow after, as many as have spoken, have likewise foretold of these days." When Paul described in I Corinthians what the gospel is, he said, "Christ died for our sins, according to the Scriptures." By the Scriptures, he meant the Old Testament. The promised Messiah of the Old Testament is the Jesus of the New Testament. I fear that there is too little preaching and teaching from the Old Testament today. I do not believe that it is possible to understand the New Testament without a thorough acquaintance with the Old Testament. The Old Testament always looked forward to the coming of Christ.

OFFERS

PIEDMONT, Ala. (AP) — A Sunday school class taught by the Rev. Jewel Pierce at the Congregational Methodist Church here offers to send the church's weekly publication free for one year to any prison inmate, either at request of the inmate himself or a friend. The class already sends the publication to inmates in several prisons, but hopes to expand the project nationwide.

PRAYERS

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Melbourne's Roman Catholic Archbishop Daniel Mannix and authorities of eight Protestant denominations have approved a group of prayers for use at interdenominational meetings.

REV. JOHN TRAYLOR

Revival Meet Scheduled At Church Here

An evangelist from Plainview, Texas, will be featured at a family revival series opening today and continuing through next Sunday at Central Baptist Church, 3400 Lee Ave.

Rev. John Traylor is a native of Louisiana, graduated from Columbia High School, Louisiana Tech, and the New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary.

In his present assignment he is pastor of the College Heights Baptist Church on the Wayland College campus at Plainview.

Services will be held daily at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

2 Churches Set Training In Leadership

An official of the United Christian Missionary Society, Miss Katherine Schutze, will be featured speaker at a leadership training meeting at Frist Christian Church on St. John St., 9:30 a.m. Thursday.

The meeting is being held in cooperation with St. John's Christian Church.

Miss Schutze is executive director of the Local C. W. F. Services Section in the Department of Christian Women's Fellowship of the United Christian Missionary Society.

SERVES

In this capacity she serves the local women's groups in Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ) in recommending study and worship programs and their use, organizational materials and service projects.

In her present capacity she is affiliated with the United Christian Missionary Society, and International Board of the Christian Churches. United Society offices are in Indianapolia, Ind.

Gospel Meeting Will Start Today

The White's Ferry Road Church of Christ Church will open a series of Gospel meetings today.

The meetings will be held daily, with V. E. Howard, evangelist of Greenville, Texas, as speaker.

Services will start at 7:30 p.m. daily except Sundays when they will get under way at 6 p.m.

'Family Week' To Be Observed

Christian Family Week will be observed at St. John's Christian Church, Forsythe at Westminster, starting today and closing Mother's Day.

During the week the Church Family of the Year will be honored, and there will be a service of dedication of small children. The sermons will be "The Witness of the Christian Marriage," and "Bless This House."

Sunday services start at 10:45 a.m.

DR. MALCOLM CALHOUN

First Session On Christian Action Slated

Dr. Malcolm Calhoun of Richmond, Virginia, will be one of the featured speakers at the first conference on Christian Action for the Presbyterian Synod of Louisiana, May 21, 22 in Shreveport.

Scene of the conference, which precedes the meeting of the Synod, will be at the First Presbyterian Church, according to Rev. Charles Kennon, Welsh, Synod chairman of Christian Action.

ADDRESS

Dr. Calhoun will open the meeting with an address on "Presbyterian and Christian Action." He is secretary of the Division of Christian Action of the Board of Christian Education for the Presbyterian Church.

Other leaders for the conference will be Dr. James M. Dabbs, Maysville, South Carolina; Dr. John Melton, Baton Rouge; Dr. Alex Hunter, New Orleans; Rev. William D. O'Neal, Baton Rouge, and Dr. William Benfield, Shreveport.

Worship leaders will be Dr. Wave McFadden, Monroe, and Rev. Albert Link, New Orleans.

Temple Church Revival Speaker Is Dr. Tennison

Revival services starting today and continuing through the week at Temple Baptist Church, 601 Plum St., will feature Dr. Clifton R. Tennison, pastor of the First Baptist Church of West Monroe as evangelist.

Bill Reed, minister of music for the West Monroe Church will direct music for the revival.

Dr. Tennison is a native of Texas and graduated from Howard Payne College and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. He served several churches in Texas before coming to West Monroe last year.

Services will be held 9:30 a.m. amd 7:30 p.m. daily Monday through Friday.

The church nursery will be open during services.

New Sanctuary Dedication Set In West Monroe

Dedication of a new sanctuary building of Seigle Assembly of God Church, Smith and Washington streets, West Monroe, will take place today at 2 p.m.

The dedication message will be delivered by L. C. Ashbrook, Louisiana district superintendent of the Assemblies of God, according to Rev. B. O. Smith, pastor.

There will be a special program of songs, featuring trio, quartette, and choir.

Dean Baptist Revival Slated

An old fashion revival will be conducted at Dean Baptist Church near Marion starting Monday and continuing through Sunday, May 13.

Evangelist at 10 a.m. and 7 p.m. daily services will be Manley Beasley of Port Neches, Texas. The Rev. L. Gardner, pastor, said.

Theme of the revival is "Concern for Lost Souls."

State Episcopal Conference On Stewardship Set

A conference on the principles of Christian stewardship will draw representative laymen and clergy of the Episcopal Church from throughout the state to Camp Hardtner, Pollock, June 1-3.

Huntingdon Hanchett, an Episcopal layman, will head the conference. He is a professional public relations man on leave for two years to serve in the church's national department of promotions as stewardship training consultant.

The Rt. Rev. Girault M. Jones, Episcopal bishop of Louisiana, said widespread participation in the conference is expected.

LIKE UNIFORMS

NEW YORK (AP) — Girls in Roman Catholic high schools overwhelmingly favor the wearing of school uniforms, Sister Marie William writes in the Catholic Educator. Her findings were based on studies in seven communities.

Area Meeting On Extension Is Arranged

Representatives of 21 northeast Louisiana Presbyterian Churches are scheduled to attend a meeting here 7 p.m. Tuesday at which Rev. Claude H. Pritchard of Atlanta, Ga., will be featured speaker.

The meeting will take place at Westminster Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Pritchard is executive secretary of the Division of Home Missions of the Presbyterian General Assembly which headquarters in Atlanta.

His appearance here will be one of three scheduled in Red River Presbytery in observance of Church Extension Month, according to Rev. C. E. Pickens of Ferriday, chairman of Church Extension in the presbytery.

The speaker will discuss church extension work of the General Assembly and the presbytery.

Rev. William W. Hatcher is pastor of the host church. The meeting is open to the public.

Guest Pastor To Be Heard At Memorial

The pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Winnfield, Rev. Robert Gage, will be guest minister at 11 a.m. services today at Memorial Presbyterian Church in West Monroe.

Speaking on Presbyterian Church Extension work, his topic will be "The Challenge of the Church," according to Dr. Hugh E. Bradshaw, pastor of Memorial.

STUDY

Rev. Gage has an AB degree from Austin College, and a BD degree from Austin Presbyterian Seminary. He held pastorates at Alabama Presbyterian Church, Choudrant, and Westlake Hills Presbyterian Church, Austin, Texas, before assuming the pulpit at Winnfield seven years ago.

During his time at Winnfield he has led his congregation in the erection of a sanctuary and educational facilities.

My Answer

By BILLY GRAHAM

QUESTION: In our times, when all indications point to the fact that we are nearing the end of the age, don't you think that it is best for ministers to preach chiefly from the New Testiment?

ANSWER: While I definitely believe that the New Testament should be preached in its fullness, there is no reason to believe that God's way of salvation is not found also in the Old Testament. When Peter spoke to the people concerning the great events that centered in the crucifixion and resurrection of our Lord, he said in Acts 3:18 that "God foreshadowed these things by the mouth of all the prophets." And in Acts 3:24 he said, "All the prophlets from Samuel and those that follow after, as many as have spoken, have likewise foretold of these days." When Paul described in I Corinthians what the gospel is, he said, "Christ died for our sins, according to the Scriptures." By the Scriptures, he meant the Old Testament. The promised Messiah of the Old Testament is the Jesus of the New Testament. I fear that there is too little preaching and teaching from the Old Testament today. I do not believe that it is possible to understand the New Testament without a thorough acquaintance with the Old Testament. The Old Testament always looked forward to the coming of Christ.

OFFERS

PIEDMONT, Ala. (AP) — A Sunday school class taught by the Rev. Jewel Pierce at the Congregational Methodist Church here offers to send the church's weekly publication free for one year to any prison inmate, either at request of the inmate himself or a friend. The class already sends the publication to inmates in several prisons, but hopes to expand the project nationwide.

PRAYERS

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Melbourne's Roman Catholic Archbishop Daniel Mannix and authorities of eight Protestant denominations have approved a group of prayers for use at interdenominational meetings.

AT SICILY ISLAND

Cash For Survey In Area Okayed

SICILY ISLAND (Special) — Money for preliminary surveying and cost estimate work on proposed water works for Sicily Island has been approved.

L. W. Franks, mayor, was informed by telegram from Senators Long and Ellender and Congressman Otto Passman.

A total of $3,700 was approved by the Federal Housing and Home Agency for the preliminary survey and test work Mayor Franks was told in the telegram.

"All of the preliminary work has been completed already, except the test well," Mayor Franks said.

"We have been working on this project for the past two years, but the people will be fully informed as to what the minimum cost of water will be to the consumer before actual work on the water works project is started," he said. "The estimated cost of the entire project has been set $140,000 and to begin this summer," he added. "However, I will call a referendum so the people may have the chance to vote on whether they want the project or not after the minimum monthly fee for each consumer has been established."

Franks pointed out that there will be no tax for the project but that the repayment of the cost construction of the water works will be done by revenue bonds — bonds issued from the revenue derived from money taken in by payment of water bills. The federal government will also purchase the bonds it was stated.

The survey is being made by Barth and Associated, Jackson, Miss.

Mayor Franks said that the present aldermen, Marvin Nolen, T. J. Peniston and M. I. Saltzman, who worked with him in the project were due a lot of credit.

Administrators Cite Needs For Area Education

LAKE PROVIDENCE (Special) — A panel of school administrators believes East Carroll Parish schools need an elementary school building, gymnasium, and community auditorium, among other facilities.

The panel outlined the needs at a meeting of the Lake Providence Parent - Teachers meeting here.

The group said there also is a need for storage space for the cafeteria, 12 new classrooms, two cafeteria buildings and a home economics department was reported in need of kitchen space.

W. B. Ragland Jr., a local attorney, was moderator for the group. On the panel were M. M. Walsworth, school superintendent; B. A. Bayles, supervisor; E. V. Parker, School Board president; Van Hicks, Lake Providence school principal; O. L. Patrick, Transylvania principal and H. T. Poole, Monticello principal.

Also at the meeting, new officers for the year were installed. They were Mrs. Charles Herring, president; Mrs. Cecil Manning, vice president; Mrs. L. W. Baker, second vice president; Mrs. Quinton Fortenberry, secretary and Mrs. S. H. O'Steen, treasurer.

Street Material Is Stockpiled In Area Town

JONESVILLE (Special) — Material for the resurfacing the more than 10 miles of hardsurfaced streets in Jonesville has been stockpiled at the fair grounds, according to Mayor G. D. Babin.

All the material for the job including the asphalt is being furnished by the town of Jonesville. The work will be done by the Louisiana Department of Highways personnel.

The highway department was to have done the work last year but did not get to the job. They are due to begin work on the job this year at an early date.

Many of the streets in the town were badly damaged due to the severe freeze last winter.

"We hope that the work will soon begin." Mayor Babin said.

AT SICILY ISLAND

Cash For Survey In Area Okayed

SICILY ISLAND (Special) — Money for preliminary surveying and cost estimate work on proposed water works for Sicily Island has been approved.

L. W. Franks, mayor, was informed by telegram from Senators Long and Ellender and Congressman Otto Passman.

A total of $3,700 was approved by the Federal Housing and Home Agency for the preliminary survey and test work Mayor Franks was told in the telegram.

"All of the preliminary work has been completed already, except the test well," Mayor Franks said.

"We have been working on this project for the past two years, but the people will be fully informed as to what the minimum cost of water will be to the consumer before actual work on the water works project is started," he said. "The estimated cost of the entire project has been set $140,000 and to begin this summer," he added. "However, I will call a referandum so the people may have the chance to vote on whether they want the project or not after the minimum monthly fee for each consumer has been established."

Franks pointed out that there will be no tax for the project but that the repayment of the cost construction of the water works will be done by revenue bonds — bonds issued from the revenue derived from money taken in by payment of water bills. The federal government will also purchase the bonds it was stated.

The survey is being made by Barth and Associated, Jackson, Miss.

Mayor Franks said that the present aldermen, Marvin Nolen, T. J. Peniston and M. I. Saltzman, who worked with him in the project were due a lot of credit.

Administrators Cite Needs For Area Education

LAKE PROVIDENCE (Special) — A panel of school administrators believes East Carroll Parish schools need an elementary school building, gymnasium, and community auditorium, among other facilities.

The panel outlined the needs at a meeting of the Lake Providence Parent - Teachers meeting here.

The group said there also is a need for storage space for the cafeteria, 12 new classrooms, two cafeteria buildings and a home economics department was reported in need of kitchen space.

W. B. Ragland Jr., a local attorney, was moderator for the group. On the panel were M. M. Walsworth, school superintendent; B. A. Bayles, supervisor; E. V. Parker, School Board president; Van Hicks, Lake Providence school principal; O. L. Patrick, Transylvania principal and H. T. Poole, Monticello principal.

Also at the meeting, new officers for the year were installed. They were Mrs. Charles Herring, president; Mrs. Cecil Manning, vice president; Mrs. L. W. Baker, second vice president; Mrs. Quinton Fortenberry, secretary and Mrs. S. H. O'Steen, treasurer.

Honor students recognized were Lynn Howington, Andrea Marcus, Lavonda McPherson, Linda Perry, Kitty Shields, Sandy Tomlinson, Kenneth Coleman, Van Hicks Jr., Billie Sue Forbes, Johnny Green, Toni Manning, Jimmy Gilfoil, Spike Herzog, Anne Barry, Shirley Blair, Helen McBride, Gail York, Jimmy Gail Chappell, Margaret Amacker, Myrna Eppinette, Charlene Hodgkins, Nanette Schneider and Daphne Deal.

Street Material Is Stockpiled In Area Town

JONESVILLE (Special) — Material for the resurfacing the more than 10 miles of hardsurfaced streets in Jonesville has been stockpiled at the fair grounds, according to Mayor G. D. Babin.

All the material for the job including the asphalt is being furnished by the town of Jonesville. The work will be done by the Louisiana Department of Highways personnel.

The highway department was to have done the work last year but did not get to the job. They are due to begin work on the job this year at an early date.

Many of the streets in the town were badly damaged due to the severe freeze last winter.

"We hope that the work will soon begin." Mayor Babin said.

Kennedy Is Hit By Another Explosive Economic Bomb

HYDROCARBONS

Oil Competition Found At Home

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The domestic oil operators who are worrying about oil imports have a rather ambitious competitor right in their own oil and gas fields.

Liquid hydrocarbons processed from natural gas continue to claim a larger volume of the domestic energy market.

Domestic natural gas liquids and oil imports have enjoyed healthy growth rates since 1956, but domestic crude output has shown only a minor gain.

Excluding heavy fuel oil, imports jumped 254,000 barrels a day or 25 per cent between 1956 and the end of 1961,. Natural gas liquids output in the United States increased 308,000 barrels a day or 42 per cent.

Domestic crude production, meanwhile, moved from 7,151,000 barrels a day in 1956 to only 7,183,000 in 1961.

Imports and gas liquids had a combined growth of 562,000 barrels daily compared to only 32,000 for domestic crude.

Had all the markets captured by this growth gone to crude oil, crude producers still would have had to adjust their operations to a slower rate of demand growth.

A gain of 562,000 barrels daily in crude production between 1956 and 1961 instead of 32,000 would have been a seven per cent gain.

This would have been less than half the growth recorded the preceding six-year period. Domestic crude output increased 16 per cent between 1951 and the end of 1956.

The Independent Petroleum Association reported this week the nation had a crude oil productive capacity of 10,081,,000 barrels daily on Jan. 1, a gain of 13 per cent since 1956. Productive capacity for gas liquids was 1,049,000 barrles, a gain of 27 per cent.

Idle crude capacity was estimated at 2,734 000 barrels or 27.1 per cent. Shut-in gas liquids capacity totaled 21,000 barrels a day or only two per cent.

All the nation's crude oil producing areas except the west coast have contributed to the growth boom for gas liquids.

Despite a 28 per cent decline in crude productive capacity, the east coast area boosted its gas liquids capacity from 14,000 to 28,000 in the 1956-1961 period.

Crude capacity was down a fraction in the mid-continent area but gas liquids increased from 140,000 to 170,000 barrels daily.

The southwest area that includes the vast Texas and Louisiana fields boosted its crude capacity 20 per cent, but increased gas liquids 31 per cent. The liquids gain was from 560,000 barrels a day to 735,000.

Rocky mountain states had a 21 per cent gain in oil producing capacity but jumped its gas liquids potential from 13,000 barrels a day to 36,000 for a gain of 176 per cent.

West Coast productive capacity 176 per cent.

West Coast productive capacity for crude declined 12 per cent. The decline for gas liquids was even sharper, an 18 per cent drop from 98,000 barrels a day to 80,000.

Annual Debate — Hotel Vs. Motel Soon To Start

By JESSE BOGUE
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — With the summer tourist season soon to begin, perhaps with added impetus from the "visit America" program, hundreds of travel-planning families will begin the usual hotel-versus-motel debate.

They also can consider the attractions of a sort of "third force" in the inn picture: The motor hotel. Some are new, or recently built; some represent adaptations of older structures.

But new hotels, in downtown areas, are coming along too, without concession to the motor hotel or motel idea.

Among these, for example, is a 2,125-room structure now under construction by the Hilton Hotels in New York City. It is planned as hotel all the way through. Not too far from it, the Sheraton Corp. of America is erecting, for completion scheduled late in June, a 450-room, 20-story motor inn, replete with built-in ramp garage.

So far as Robert M. Brush, senior vice president of operations for Sheraton, is concerned, there is not necessarily head-on conflict betwen motels and hotels.

Hotelmen, he said, "Don't necessarily have to choose between 'licking or joining' motels. We can adapt to some of their desirable features and, more important, improve our own services."

Brush has said that Sheraton, which grew from a one - hotel start 25 years ago into an international chain of mostly downtown "commercial" hotels, has made studies which convince the organization there is a movement back to the cities from the outlying areas.

The smaller and medium-sized cities, Brush said, have seen the greatest loss of hotel trade over the past years to motels in outlying areas, and in these areas, he said, Sheraton has concentrated on hotel "motorization." It will have 23 "motor hotels" across the continent by the middle of the year. Six were designed originally for the motor trade.

In all, the chain has eight hotels under construction. Four are new resorts overseas, in Hawaii, Jamaica, Venezuela, Puerto Rico. It opens a downtown hotel in Houston in June; another is under construction in Minneapolis. The other two are in New York, the motor inn on the west side of Manhattan and another in Queens, on Grand Central Parkway opposite Laguardia Airport.

Other Sheraton motor or highway hotels are in Syracuse and Binghamton, N.Y., in Baltimore, and Portland, Ore.

This particular hotel company is not alone in its operation of the motor inn within New York. There are about a dozen new ones in existence or soon to open and even more new hotels. The building, hotel men say, has been both for present needs and with an eye to the future; there is a world's fair in the offing.

Grain Futures Show Gain In Late Sessions

CHICAGO (AP) —The grain futures market withstood some profit selling in late sessions last week and still finished with moderate gains in most commodities on the Board of Trade.

Wheat, ahead for the second week, led the advances with the May contract up almost four cents and showing rather stout resistance to pressure of any kind. Corn and oats gained well over a cent on the nearby months while rye and soybeans declined.

Tenders on May contracts in the pit probably were the major influences throughout the week. Although they were relatively heavy in most grains, particularly corn, they were believed to have been fairly well received.

At the end of the week, wheat was 1-3⅞ cents a bushel higher, May $2.14¾; corn ¼-1⅝ higher, May $1.13⅛-13; oats ¾-1½ higher, May 70¼-⅜; rye 1¾ to ⅝ higher, May $1.26½-¼; soybeans unchanged to ⅞ lower, May $2.48⅝.

Moore Elected To Head State Oil Association

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—James W. Moore, Monroe, Saturday was elected president of the Louisiana Oil Marketers Association (LOMA), succeeding Fred A. Palmer Jr., Gonzales.

LOMA concluded its 11th annual convention, a three-day affair, Saturday. Other officers elected:

First vice president, Hulin Robert, Hammond; second vice president, W. Scott Culley, Westwego; secretary, James D. Mays, Winnsboro; treasurer, Joseph A. Gaines, Shreveport.

Named directors, by congressional districts: No. 1, Charles Deano, Arabi; No. 2, Wayne J. Salathe, Harvey; No. 3, Rufus Naquin, Raceland; No. 4, Kenneth Eaves and Aubrey S. Cox, both Shreveport; No. 5 Thomas J. Hyland, Monroe, and Richard W. Hudson, Ruston;

No. 6, John H. Pettigrew Jr., Hammond, and Roger Barielle, Baton Rouge; No. 7, James W. Richert, Jennings, and Robert J. Pumpelly, Westlake; No. 8, Jesse Boyd Jr., Glemorea and H. C. George, Bunkie; and at-large; Fred A. Palmer Jr., W. McK. O'Niell Jr., Franklin and John Sherrouse Jr., Monroe.

Cotton Futures On Domestic Mart Fluctuate

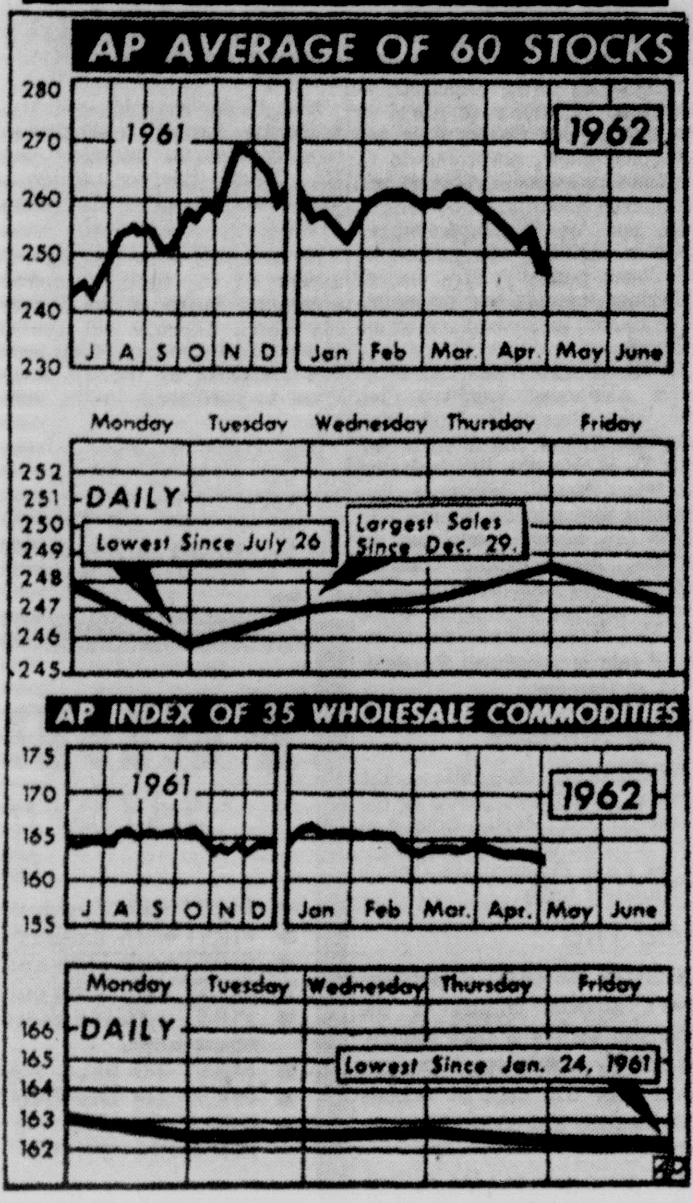
NEW YORK (AP)—Cotton futures prices on the domestic market fluctuated through the week and closed mixed, ranging from $1.25 a bale higher to 75 cents a bale lower.

The best net improvement was registered by the current May delivery and the largest during the week was a report that the Department of Agriculture will resum offering cotton under Title I of Public Law 480 in an attempt to stimulate exports.

The report encouraged short covering and mill price fixing. Meanwhile, the issuance of may notices during the week was a factor on both sides of the market, depending upon how promptly stocks were available.

Exports for the season through May 1 were estimated by the New York Cotton Exchange Service Bureau at 3,879,000 bales, about 32 per cent smaller than exports of a year earlier.

FINANCIAL $ OIL-GAS NEWS



THE ASSOCIATED Press average of 60 stocks declined for the second straight week when it closed at 247.1 from 247.9 a week ago. The weekly turnover was the largest since mid-December. The Commodity Index also declined for the second straight week, closing at 162.1, the lowest since Jan. 24, 1961. A week ago the index was 163.0. Livestock and industrials led the decline. Camera Notes

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

The nation's newest photo-scenic attraction is the Seattle World's Fair. We would guess that more people will bring more cameras and shoot more pictures there in its six - month season than in any similar area in the world for a similar period.

What a shame if those picutres fail to capture the color, excitement and spectacular displays to supplement the personal story of a Fair - goer's visit.

MAYBE NOT

While that may happen to the casual camera toters, it will not happen to the real photo fans. Welllll . . . it won't, leastwise, if the genuine camera fan happens to stumble on this or a similar warning elsewhere and plans in advance to shoot a comprehensive picture story of the occasion. As with any off - beat vacation trip, why not make this a personal photo "assignment" and prepare a preliminary script or check list of important highlights to be included?

Certainly no photo fan is going to miss the Fair's tallest attraction — the flame - topped Space Needle. It soars 600 feet into the sky with a 40 - foot torch spewing color - changing flames. Just below the flaming jet of natural gas is an observation deck, making it the high point for picture taking on the grounds.

ANOTHER POINT

But, I am informed by scouts on the scene, perhaps even a better vantage point for an overall view is the northeast elevator going up and down from the Needle. It has glass walls and the vertical motion of the elevator can easily be stopped with a speed of 1-100 second and a firm grip on the camera.

A Photo Information Center near the base of the Needle and just across from the monorail station where people arrive from downtown Seattle is a handy meeting place or starting point for camera fans. It is headed by Charles Whaley Jr. (of Kodak) whose past experience includes camera advice at such tourist centers as Disneyland, New York's Grand Central Terminal and the Dallas attraction, Six Flags over Texas. The staff advises on all exposure problems, suggests the best picture subjects and even helps visitors load their cameras.

Movie fans are urged to take the Sky Ride for a fast - moving view of the Fair. The aerial cars transport sightseers diagnnally across the 74 - acre grounds starting from the Gayway with its glittering razzle - dazzle over the Boulevards of the World where international bazaars make colorful shots.

UNUSUAL FOUNTAIN

Near the Fair's center, and certain to be one of its most photographed subjects, is a magnificient fountain with streams arching to a height of 100 feet. At night, colored lights add to the effect. For effective after - dark pictures of this water display, an exposure of 1-5 second at f-2 with Kodachrome Type A film is suggested. Or time exposures, with a tripod to steady the camera, can start with two seconds at F-4.5.

Countless opportunities for taking pictures indoors make it advisable to bring flashbulbs or a good light meter to gauge available light exposures correctly.

For impressive and photogenic atmosphere, the U.S. Science Pavilion is a must for camera fans. It summarizes the theme and spirit of the Fair: our world in the 21st Century. With its vaulted cathedral arches, reflecting pools, fountains and imaginative displays, it is enlightened and inspired architecture.

The best panoramic view of the entire Fair area can be taken from a little city park about 100 blocks from the Fair entrance. As a bonus, towering Mt. Ranier and the Seattle waterfront are included in the same picture.

Barbers Remodel Local Business

A recent remodelling of the Johnson Brothers' Barber Shop, 103 Catalpa St. in Monroe represents the owners' attitude of "Keeping up with the times."

"We have always attempted to keep as modern as the times at our shop," Simon Johnson said Saturday.

The recently completed facelifting was held in conjunction with the shop's 30th anniversary. Other renovations came in 1935, 1939 and in 1951.

Hike In Wage For Railroad Could Be Hot

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Another explosive economic package landed in President Kennedy's lap during the week. It was a public board's recommendation of a wage increase for 450,000 railroad workers.

The unions involved called the suggested 10.2-cent-an-hour raise for nonoperating workers too low. Railroad management said it was too high.

It looked like a developing fight into which the President might have to step to get a settlement.

The railroad issue popped shortly after Kennedy tried to thaw the freeze between his administration and business with a conciliatory address to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

It was his first appearance before a business group since he forced the steel industry to reverse itself on a price increase.

In another development, Kennedy's Committee on Labor-Management Policy recommended that the President be given greater power to head off strikes.

The 11 railroad unions involved in the wage dispute had asked for a 35-cent-an-hour boost. The railroads had demanded a 20 per cent cut for some categories and no increases for others.

The board said its recommendation was within range of guidelines suggested by the President's Council of Economic Advisers. The proposal is not binding on either side.

"In our opinion there is absolutely no justification in the record for any wage increase whatsoever," said James E. Wolfe, chief spokesman for the carriers.

G. E. Leighty, chairman of a committee representing the unions, said the proposed pay increase "departs from all recognized standards of justice in wage determination."

Kennedy said, "It is now the plain duty of both parties to negotiate a responsible and noninflationary settlement in their own and in the public interest."

Kennedy told the chamber that the government doesn't want to determine individual prices for individual products. But he spoke of the need for business to follow "responsible" pricing policies. He didn't go into details on how this should be done.

"To restore profits to an adequate level, to maintain an adequate level of employment, we must restore the economy to full activity," Kennedy said. "Our primary challenge is not how to divide the pie but how to enlarge it."

The reaction from the businessman audience was far from spectacular.

Richard Wagner, retiring president of the chamber, followed with an address in which he said that business leadership must make certain that both business and labor will remain free to make their decisions without government intervention.

He said the steel price battle led many people "to believe that inflationary pressures in this country are created by business and its so-called greedy desire for profit."

"Nothing could be further from the truth," he declared, contending that profits are inadequate because "too much is siphoned off" for government spending and excessive wages.

President Kennedy's Committee on Labor-Management Policy recommended that the government be given more power to deal with industrial conflicts that threaten the nation's health or safety.

Under the proposal, the President, without going to court for an injunction, could declare a national emergency and order resumption of work fro 80 days.

The automobile industry produced evidence during the week that it was riding higher than any other industry.

Combined first-quarter profit of the five automakers totaled $509.25 million, compared with $238 million a year earlier. Only Studebaker was in the red with a $2.6-million loss.

OIL ACTIVITY

District Pace Set By Drilling At Gas Locations

Gas drilling continued for the second week to set the pace of activity in the 14 parish Monroe Oil & Gas District with District Manager Duncan Cook reporting a total of five completions over the area — all of them gas units, all in Union Parish and all in the Monroe Field.

Wells of Louisiana Gas Producing Company, there were producing from a low of 590 MCF to the high of 700 MCF, all in the area of 2200 feet from Monroe gas rock.

Cook's report Thursday, covering the preceding seven days' activity, showed an even dozen new locations staked over the district, with five of them spotted in Union Parish, again in the Monroe Field. Ouachita Parish recorded one new location, that in the Cheniere Field.

Eleven rigs were listed as active, with the high report of five coming from LaSalle Parish, three in the Trout Creek Field, one in the South Jena Field and one a wildcat.

Seven sites were abandoned during the week, but the total on inactive rigs steadied at 97. Locations numbered 63.

A single re-completion was noted, that being Walter W. Heard Jr.'s Tennant-Rhodes Unit No. 1, in the Lake St. John Field of Concordia Parish. Reported depth was 5,429 feet.

Here is the usual closer look at the districts completions, new locations, and active rigs as they stood at week's end:

Business Briefs

Seeks Entry

Heritage Employment Service has made application for membership in the 500 firm National Employment Association. NEA is the oldest trade association in the private employment service field and originators of the "Standards of Ethical Practices" that serves as the business practices guide of the field.

Heritage Employment Service, 2400 Louisville Ave., will be represented at NEA functions by Raymond F. Heritage.

Chain Sold

The National Toddle House Corp. a food service chain with 252 restaurants in 30 states and the District of Columbia, including Monroe, has become a wholly owned subsidiary of Dobbs Houses, Inc., also a restaurant chain.

Following approval by the Securities & Exchange Commission of a Dobbs Houses' registration statement, James K. Dobbs, Jr., president, exchanged 870,400 shares of Dobbs Houses stock for all of the outstanding shares of the National Toddle House Crop. With the current price of Dobbs Houses' stock at $21 per share, the transaction represents a total value of approximately $18,278,000.

United Gas Net Income Report Reported Rising

SHREVEPORT (Special) — Net income of United Gas Corporation and subsidiaries for the first quarter of 1962 amounted to $10,490,098, equal to 81 cents per share, as compared with net income of $9,322,786, or 72 cents per share for the same period in 1961, Ed Parkes, president, reported to shareholders in the company's quarterly statement issued today.

Consolidated income for United Gas Coporation and subsidiaries for the first three months of 1962 was $116,456,469, an increase of $10,590,989 over the corresponding months of 1961.

Parkes pointed out to shareholders that an important milepost of 1962 was Federal Power Commission approval on March 12 of the agreement disposing of all seven of the rate cases which United Gas Pipe Line Company had be fore the regulatory authority.

"This agreement," Parkes said, "called for a refund of $29.8 million plus $5.7 million of interest. A substantial portion of the refund was made within a few days of the Commission's decision.

Dixie Building Of Homes Gains

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Home building in the South took a swing upwards for the first two months of 1962 as compared to the same period one year ago.

The U. S. Department of Commerce office at New Orleans said building permits showed a 25 per cent increase for January and February of this year. The bureau's figures cover 16 Southern states and the District of Columbia.

Residential building in the New Orleans area increased by 73 per cent over the same period last year.

Market Hits Climax; Hope Running High

Signs Of Decline End Showing As Sales Make Peak

NEW YORK AP) — The stock market decline, which has been in progress with scant interruption since mid-March, finally reached a selling climax last week, leading to hopes that a gradual recovery may take place.

The dramatic Tuesday session rolled up 5.37 million shares — greatest in 1962 — and provided all the elements of a classic turnabout. The first half of the session saw prices sink in waves of pessimism; the second half witnessed a buying rush which wiped out the day's losses and had enough momentum left to carry through to some extent for two more sessions.

Trading profits were taken on the week's final session so the result was a slight net loss on the week; but the Tuesday shakeout and recovery cleared the air considerably. Analysts look for a test—or tests — of this week's lows in the course, they hope, of building a base for a recovery move which could last some weeks or months. As the week ended, there was no tremendous optimism in Wall Street but, at least, the ever-increasing pessimism had been purged, for the moment.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which was down to an intra-day low of 659.94 at noon on Tuesday, closed at 671.20 for a net loss of 1.00 on the week.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down .80 at 247.10 on the week. Its Monday close of 245.90 was the lowest since July 1960.

Four straight sessions of steep declined preceded the Tuesday climax. As the week began, steel production had falled 8.5 per cent to the lowest level since mid-August. President Kennedy, in an address to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, sought to allay business fears of intervention in private pricing policies but he was received without much enthusiasm.

Volume rose to 19,370,710 shares from 17,424,654 the previous week. It was the largest weekly turnover since the week ended Dec. 16 when 21,990,435 shares changed hands.

Bond prices failed to show any appreciable change for the second consecutive week. Both corporate and U.S. government bonds closed unevenly, but prices remained very close to 1962 highs. Corporate trading on the New York Stock Exchange bulged to $33,243,000 par value compared with $28,345,000 the previous week.

Five Local Men Attend Meet

HOUSTON, Tex. (Special) — Five residents of the Twin Cities represented United Gas at the 54th annual convention of the Southern Gas Association here last week.

They were J. S. Cage, division manager; F. S. Fisher, service foreman; J. M. Norris, district engineer; T. W. Mussett, district pipe line superintendent, and Ray Buce, West Monroe local manager.

The gas industry's fuel cell was featured in a special research exhibit at the convention. A special discussion on gas air conditioning was another convention highlight.

Oil Competition Found At Home

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The domestic oil operators who are worrying about oil imports have a rather ambitious competitor right in their own oil and gas fields.

Liquid hydrocarbons processed from natural gas continue to claim a larger volume of the domestic energy market.

Domestic natural gas liquids and oil imports have enjoyed healthy growth rates since 1956, but domestic crude output has shown only a minor gain.

Excluding heavy fuel oil, imports jumped 254,000 barrels a day or 25 per cent between 1956 and the end of 1961. Natural gas liquids output in the United States increased 308,000 barrels a day or 42 per cent.

Domestic crude production, meanwhile, moved from 7,151,000 barrels a day in 1956 to only 7,183,000 in 1961.

Imports and gas liquids had a combined growth of 562,000 barrels daily compared to only 32,000 for domestic crude.

Had all the markets captured by this growth gone to crude oil, crude producers still would have had to adjust their operations to a slower rate of demand growth.

A gain of 562,000 barrels daily in crude production between 1956 and 1961 instead of 32,000 would have been a seven per cent gain.

This would have been less than half the growth recorded the preceding six-year period. Domestic crude output increased 16 per cent between 1951 and the end of 1956.

The Independent Petroleum Association reported this week the nation had a crude oil productive capacity of 10,081,000 barrels daily on Jan. 1, a gain of 13 per cent since 1956. Productive capacity for gas liquids was 1,049,000 barrles, a gain of 27 per cent.

Idle crude capacity was estimated at 2,734,000 barrels or 27.1 per cent. Shut-in gas liquids capacity totaled 21,000 barrels a day or only two per cent.

All the nation's crude oil producing areas except the west coast have contributed to the growth boom for gas liquids.

Despite a 28 per cent decline in crude prooductive capacity, the east coast area boosted its gas liquids capacity from 11,000 to 28,000 in the 1956-1961 period.

Crude capacity was down a fraction in the mid-continent area but gas liquids increased from 140,000 to 170,000 barrels daily.

The southwest area that includes the vast Texas and Louisiana fields boosted its crude capacity 20 per cent, but increased gas liquids 31 per cent. The liquids gain was from 560,000 barrels a day to 735,000.

Rocky mountain states had a 21 per cent gain in oil producing capacity but jumped its gas liquids potential from 13,000 barrels a day to 36,000 for a gain of 176 per cent.

West Coast productive capacity 176 per cent.

West Coast productive capacity for crude declined 12 per cent. The decline for gas liquids was even sharper, an 18 per cent drop from 98,000 barrels a day to 80,000.

Annual Debate – Hotel Vs. Motel Soon To Start

By JESSE BOGUE
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — With the summer tourist season soon to begin, perhaps with added impetus from the "visit America" program, hundreds of travel-planning families will begin the usual hotel-versus-motel debate.

They also can consider the attractions of a sort of "third force" in the inn picture: The motor hotel. Some are new, or recently built; some represent adaptations of older structures.

But new hotels, in downtown areas, are coming along too, without concession to the motor hotel or motel idea.

Among these, for example, is a 2,125-room structure now under construction by the Hilton Hotels in New York City. It is planned as hotel all the way through. Not too far from it, the Sheraton Corp. of America is erecting, for completion scheduled late in June, a 450-room, 20-story motor inn, replete with built-in ramp garage.

So far as Robert M. Brush, senior vice president of operations for Sheraton, is concerned, there is not necessarily head-on conflict betwen motels and hotels.

Hotelmen, he said, "Don't necessarily have to choose between 'licking or joining' motels. We can adapt to some of their desirable features and, more important, improve our own services."

Brush has said that Sheraton, which grew from a one-hotel start 25 years ago into an international chain of mostly downtown "commercial" hotels, has made studies which convince the organization there is a movement back to the cities from the outlying areas.

The smaller and medium-sized cities, Brush said, have seen the greatest loss of hotel trade over the past years to motels in outlying areas, and in these areas, he said, Sheraton has concentrated on hotel "motorization." It will have 23 "motor hotels" across the continent by the middle of the year. Six were designed originally for the motor trade.

In all, the chain has eight hotels under construction. Four are new resorts overseas, in Hawaii, Jamaica, Venezuela, Puerto Rico. It opens a downtown hotel in Houston in June; another is under construction in Minneapolis. The other two are in New York, the motor inn on the west side of Manhattan and another in Queens, on Grand Central Parkway opposite Laguardia Airport.

Other Sheraton motor or highway hotels are in Syracuse and Binghamton, N.Y., in Baltimore, and Portland, Ore.

This particular hotel company is not alone in its operation of the motor inn within New York. There are about a dozen new ones in existence or soon to open and even more new hotels. The building, hotel men say, has been both for present needs and with an eye to the future; there is a world's fair in the offing.

Moore Elected To Head State Oil Association

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—James W. Moore, Monroe, Saturday was elected president of the Louisiana Oil Marketers Association (LOMA), succeeding Fred A. Palmer Jr., Gonzales.

LOMA concluded its 11th annual convention, a three-day affair, Saturday. Other officers elected:

First vice president, Hulin Robert, Hammond; second vice president, W. Scott Culley, Westwego; secretary, James D. Mays, Winnsboro; treasurer, Joseph A. Games, Shreveport.

Named directors, by congressional districts: No. 1, Charles Deano, Arabi; No 2, Wayne J Salathe, Harvey; No. 3, Rufus Naquin, Raceland; No. 4, Kenneth Eaves and Aubrey S. Cox, both Shreveport; No 5 Thomas J. Hyland, Monroe, and Richard W. Hudson, Ruston;

No 6, John H. Pettigrew Jr., Hammond, and Roger Barielle, Baton Rouge; No. 7, James W. Richert, Jennings, and Robert J. Pumpelly, Westlake; No. 8, Jesse Boyd Jr., Glemorea and H. C. George, Bunkie; and at-large; Fred A. Palmer Jr., W. McK. O'Niell Jr., Franklin and John Sherrouse Jr., Monroe.

Grain Futures Show Gain In Late Sessions

CHICAGO (AP) —The grain futures market withstood some profit selling in late sessions last week and still finished with moderate gains in most commodities on the Board of Trade.

Wheat, ahead for the second week, led the advances with the May contract up almost four cents and showing rather stout resistance to pressure of any kind. Corn and oats gained well over a cent on the nearby months while rye and soybeans declined.

Tenders on May contracfs in the pit probably were the major influences throughout the week. Although they were relatively heavy in most grains, particularly corn, they were believed to have been fairly well received.

At the end of the week, wheat was 1-3⅞ cents a bushel higher, May $2.14¾; corn ¼-1⅝ higher, May $1.13⅛-13; oats ¾-1½ higher, May 70¼-⅜; rye 1¾ to ⅝ higher, May $1.26½-¼; soybeans unchanged to ⅛ lower, May $2.48⅝.

Cotton Futures On Domestic Mart Fluctuate

NEW YORK (AP)—Cotton futures prices on the domestic market fluctuated through the week and closed mixed, ranging from $1.25 a bale higher to 75 cents a bale lower.

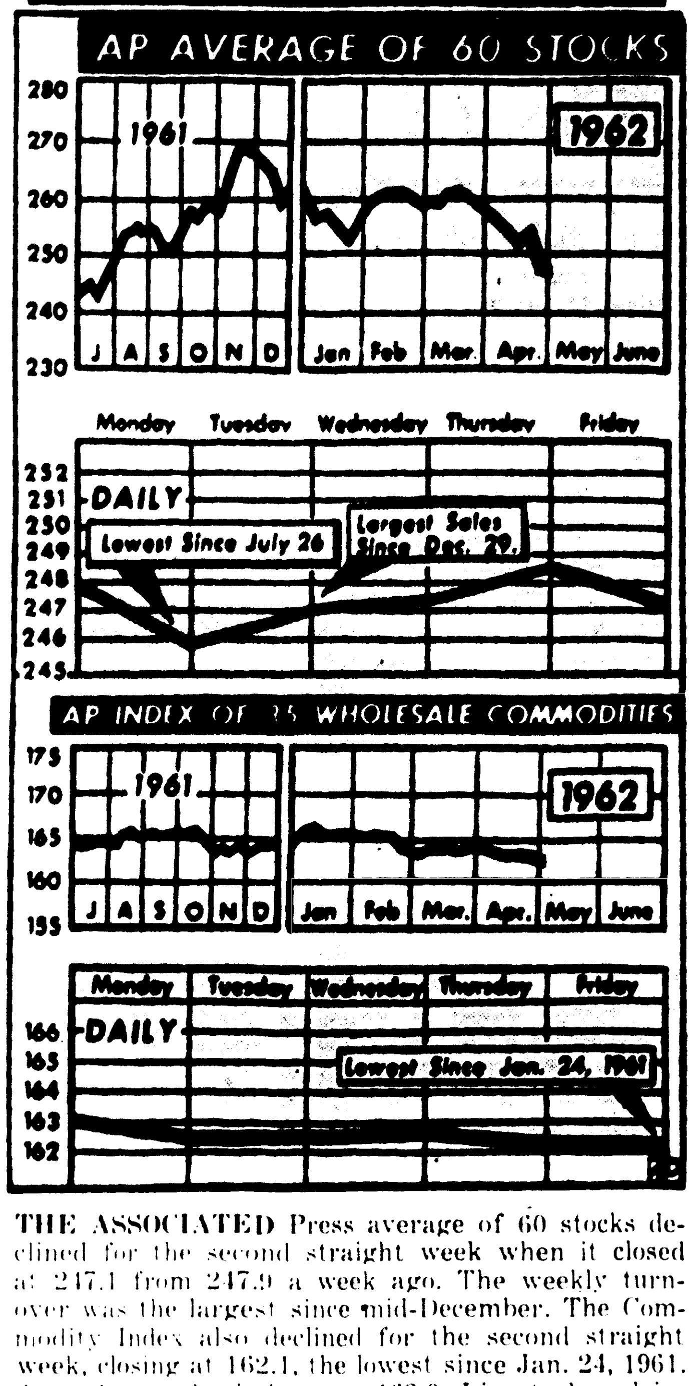
The best net improvement was registered by the current May delivery and the largest during the week was a report that the Department of Agriculture will resum offering cotton under Title I of Public Law 480 in an attempt to stimulate exports.

The report encouraged short covering and mill price fixing. Meanwhile, the issuance of may notices during the week was a factor on both sides of the market, depending upon how promptly stocks were available.

Exports for the season through May 1 were estimated by the New York Cotton Exchange Service Bureau at 3,879,000 bales, about 32 per cent smaller than exports of a year earlier.

FINANCIAL $ OIL-GAS NEWS



THE ASSOCIATED Press average of 60 stocks declined for the second straight week when it closed at 247.1 from 247.9 a week ago. The weekly turnover was the largest since mid-December. The Commodity Index also declined for the second straight week, closing at 162.1, the lowest since Jan. 24, 1961. A week ago the index was 163.0. Livestock and industrials led the decline. Camera Notes

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

The nation's newest photo-scenic attraction is the Seattle World's Fair. We would guess that more people will bring more cameras and shoot more pictures there in its six-month season than in any similar area in the world for a similar period.

What a shame if those picutres fail to capture the color, excitement and spectacular displays to supplement the personal story of a Fair-goer's visit.

MAYBE NOT

While that may happen to the casual camera toters, it will not happen to the real photo fans. Wellll . . . it won't, leastwise, if the genuine camera fan happens to stumble on this or a similar warning elsewhere and plans in advance to shoot a comprehensive picture story of the occasion. As with any off-beat vacation trip, why not make this a personal photo "assignment" and prepare a preliminary script or check list of important highlights to be included?

Certainly no photo fan is going to miss the Fair's tallest attraction — the flame-topped Space Needle. It soars 600 feet into the sky with a 40-foot torch spewing color-changing flames. Just below the flaming jet of natural gas is an observation deck, making it the high point for picture taking on the grounds.

ANOTHER POINT

But, I am informed by scouts on the scene, perhaps even a better vantage point for an overall view is the northeast elevator going up and down from the Needle. It has glass walls and the vertical motion of the elevator can easily be stopped with a speed of 1-100 second and a firm grip on the camera.

A Photo Information Center near the base of the Needle and just across from the monorail station where people arrive from downtown Seattle is a handy meeting place or starting point for camera fans. It is headed by Charles Whaley Jr. (of Kodak) whose past experience includes camera advice at such tourist centers as Disneyland, New York's Grand Central Terminal and the Dallas attraction, Six Flags over Texas. The staff advises on all exposure problems, suggests the best picture subjects and even helps visitors load their cameras.

Movie fans are urged to take the Sky Ride for a fast-moving view of the Fair. The aerial cars transport sightseers diagnnally across the 74-acre grounds starting from the Gayway with its glittering razzle-dazzle over the Boulevards of the World where international bazaars make colorful shots.

UNUSUAL FOUNTAIN

Near the Fair's center, and certain to be one of its most photographed subjects, is a magnificient fountain with streams arching to a height of 100 feet. At night, colored lights add to the effect. For effective after-dark pictures of this water display, an exposure of 1-5 second at f-2 with Kodachrome Type A film is suggested. Or time exposures, with a tripod to steady the camera, can start with two seconds at F-4.5.

Countless opportunities for taking pictures indoors make it advisable to bring flashbulbs or a good light meter to gauge available light exposures correctly.

For impressive and photogenic atmosphere, the U.S. Science Pavilion is a must for camera fans. It summarizes the theme and spirit of the Fair: our world in the 21st Century. With its vaulted cathedral arches, reflecting pools, fountains and imaginative displays, it is enlightened and inspired architecture.

The best panoramic view of the entire Fair area can be taken from a little city park about 100 blocks from the Fair entrance. As a bonus, towering Mt. Ranier and the Seattle waterfront are included in the same picture.

Barbers Remodel Local Business

A recent remodelling of the Johnson Brothers' Barber Shop, 103 Catalpa St. in Monroe represents the owners' attitude of "Keeping up with the times."

"We have always attempted to keep as modern as the times at our shop," Simon Johnson said Saturday.

The recently completed face-lifting was held in conjunction with the shop's 30th anniversary.

Other renovations came in 1935, 1939 and in 1951.

Hike In Wage For Railroad Could Be Hot

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Another explosive economic package landed in President Kennedy's lap during the week. It was a public board's recommendation of a wage increase for 450,000 railroad workers.

The unions involved called the suggested 10.2-cent-an-hour raise for nonoperating workers too low. Railroad management said it was too high.

It looked like a developing fight into which the President might have to step to get a settlement.

The railroad issue popped shortly after Kennedy tried to thaw the freeze between his administration and business with a conciliatory address to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

It was his first appearance before a business group since he forced the steel industry to reverse itself on a price increase.

In another development, Kennedy's Committee on Labor-Management Policy recommended that the President be given greater power to head off strikes.

The 11 railroad unions involved in the wage dispute had asked for a 35-cent-an-hour boost. The railroads had demanded a 20 per cent cut for some categories and no increases for others.

The board said its recommendation was within range of guidelines suggested by the President's Council of Economic Advisers. The proposal is not binding on either side.

"In our opinion there is absolutely no justification in the record for any wage increase whatsoever," said James E. Wolfe, chief spokesman for the carriers.

G. E. Leighty, chairman of a committee representing the unions, said the proposed pay increase "departs from all recognized standards of justice in wage determination."

Kennedy said, "It is now the plain duty of both parties to negotiate a responsible and noninflationary settlement in their own and in the public interest."

Kennedy told the chamber that the government doesn't want to determine individual prices for individual products. But he spoke of the need for business to follow "responsible" pricing policies. He didn't go into details on how this should be done.

"To restore profits to an adequate level, to maintain an adequate level of employment, we must restore the economy to full activity," Kennedy said. "Our primary challenge is not how to divide the pie but how to enlarge it."

The reaction from the businessman audience was far from spectacular.

Richard Wagner, retiring president of the chamber, followed with an address in which he said that business leadership must make certain that both business and labor will remain free to make their decisions without government intervention.

He said the steel price battle led many people "to believe that inflationary pressures in this country are created by business and its so-called greedy desire for profit."

"Nothing could be further from the truth," he declared, contending that profits are inadequate because "too much is siphoned off" for government spending and excessive wages.

President Kennedy's Committee on Labor-Management Policy recommended that the government be given more power to deal with industrial conflicts that threaten the nation's health or safety.

Under the proposal, the President, without going to court for an injunction, could declare a national emergency and order resumption of work fro 80 days.

The automobile industry produced evidence during the week that it was riding higher than any other industry.

Combined first-quarter profit of the five automakers totaled $509.25 million, compared with $238 million a year earlier. Only Studebaker was in the red with a $2.6-million loss.

OIL ACTIVITY

District Pace Set By Drilling At Gas Locations

Gas drilling continued for the second week to set the pace of activity in the 14 parish Monroe Oil & Gas District with District Manager Duncan Cook reporting a total of five completions over the area — all of them gas units, all in Union Parish and all in the Monroe Field.

Wells of Louisiana Gas Producing Company, there were producing from a low of 590 MCF to the high of 700 MCF, all in the area of 2200 feet from Monroe gas rock.

Cook's report Thursday, covering the preceding seven days' activity, showed an even dozen new locations staked over the district, with five of them spotted in Union Parish, again in the Monroe Field. Ouachita Parish recorded one new location, that in the Cheniere Field.

Eleven rigs were listed as active, with the high report of five coming from LaSalle Parish, three in the Trout Creek Field, one in the South Jena Field and one a wildcat.

Seven sites were abandoned during the week, but the total on inactive rigs steadied at 97. Locations numbered 63.

A single re-completion was noted, that being Walter W. Heard Jr.'s Tennant-Rhodes Unit No. 1, in the Lake St. John Field of Concordia Parish. Reported depth was 5,429 feet.

Here is the usual closer look at the districts completions, new locations, and active rigs as they stood at week's end:

Chain Sold

The National Toddle House Corp. a food service chain with 252 restaurants in 30 states and the District of Columbia, including Monroe, has become a wholly owned subsidiary of Dobbs Houses, Inc., also a restaurant chain.

Following approval by the Securities & Exchange Commission of a Dobbs Houses' registration statement, James K. Dobbs, Jr., president, exchanged 870,400 shares of Dobbs Houses stock for all of the outstanding shares of the National Toddle House Crop. With the current price of Dobbs Houses' stock at $21 per share, the transaction represents a total value of approximately $18,278,000.

United Gas Net Income Report Reported Rising

SHREVEPORT (Special) — Net income of United Gas Corporation and subsidiaries for the first quarter of 1962 amounted to $10,490,098, equal to 81 cents per share, as compared with net income of $9,322,786, or 72 cents per share for the same period in 1961, Ed Parkes, president, reported to shareholders in the company's quarterly statement issued today.

Consolidated income for United Gas Coporation and subsidiaries for the first three months of 1962 was $116,456,469, an increase of $10,590,989 over the corresponding months of 1961.

Parkes pointed out to shareholders that an important milepost of 1962 was Federal Power Commission approval on March 12 of the agreement disposing of all seven of the rate cases which United Gas Pipe Line Company had before the regulatory authority.

"This agreement," Parkes said, "called for a refund of $29.8 million plus $5.7 million of interest. A substantial portion of the refund was made within a few days of the Commission's decision.

Dixie Building Of Homes Gains

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Home building in the South took a swing upwards for the first two months of 1962 as compared to the same period one year ago.

The U. S. Department of Commerce office at New Orleans said building permits showed a 25 per cent increase for January and February of this year. The bureau's figures cover 16 Southern states and the District of Columbia.

Residential building in the New Orleans area increased by 73 per cent over the same period last year.

Market Hits Climax; Hope Running High

Signs Of Decline End Showing As Sales Make Peak

NEW YORK AP) — The stock market decline, which has been in progress with scant interruption since mid-March, finally reached a selling climax last week, leading to hopes that a gradual recovery may take place.

The dramatic Tuesday session rolled up 5.37 million shares — greatest in 1962 — and provided all the elements of a classic turnabout. The first half of the session saw prices sink in waves of pessimism; the second half witnessed a buying rush which wiped out the day's losses and had enough momentum left to carry through to some extent for two more sessions.

Trading profits were taken on the week's final session so the result was a slight net loss on the week; but the Tuesday shakeout and recovery cleared the air considerably. Analysts look for a test—or tests — of this week's lows in the course, they hope, of building a base for a recovery move which could last some weeks or months. As the week ended, there was no tremendous optimism in Wall Street but, at least, the ever-increasing pessimism had been purged, for the moment.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which was down to an intra-day low of 659.94 at noon on Tuesday, closed at 671.20 for a net loss of 1.00 on the week.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down .80 at 247.10 on the week. Its Monday close of 245.90 was the lowest since July 1960.

Four straight sessions of steep declined preceded the Tuesday climax. As the week began, steel production had falled 8.5 per cent to the lowest level since mid-August. President Kennedy, in an address to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, sought to allay business fears of intervention in private pricing policies but he was received without much enthusiasm.

Volume rose to 19,370,710 shares from 17,424,654 the previous week. It was the largest weekly turnover since the week ended Dec. 16 when 21,990,435 shares changed hands.

Bond prices failed to show any appreciable change for the second consecutive week. Both corporate and U.S. government bonds closed unevenly, but prices remained very close to 1962 highs. Corporate trading on the New York Stock Exchange bulged to $33,243,000 par value compared with $28,345,000 the previous week.

Five Local Men Attend Meet

HOUSTON, Tex. (Special) — Five residents of the Twin Cities represented United Gas at the 54th annual convention of the Southern Gas Association here last week.

They were J. S. Cage, division manager; F. S. Fisher, service foreman; J. M. Norris, district engineer; T. W. Mussett, district pipe line superintendent, and Ray Buce, West Monroe local manager.

The gas industry's fuel cell was featured in a special research exhibit at the convention. A special discussion on gas air conditioning was another convention highlight.

JFK To End His Florida Stay Sunday

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — President Kennedy decided Saturday to cut short his Florida weekend and fly back to Washington Sunday evening so he can put in a full day at his desk Monday.

Acting press secretary Andrew T. Hatcher explained the President has a tight schedule next week, with out-of-town trips for Tuesday and next Saturday.

Tuesday he is to address members of the AFL-CIO United Auto Workers Union at Atlantic City, N.J., and next Saturday he intends to fly to Milwaukee, Wis., for a Democratic fund-raising dinner.

The rainy weather which Kennedy found on his arrival here Friday night continued and may have influenced his decision to move up his departure time to 4 p.m. EDT Sunday.

The President is staying at the seaside home of his father, Joseph P. Kennedy, who is in New York City at a clinic for rehabilitation from paralytic effects of a stroke the 73-year-old multimillionaire suffered last Dec. 19.

Saturday morning Kennedy received his usual intelligence briefing and talked with press Secretary Pierre Salinger about a trip Salinger is making to the Soviet Union next week. Salinger flew from here to Miami to catch a plane for New York on the first leg of this jorney, which also will take him to West Germany and the Netherlands.

It was likely that while in Moscow Salinger would resume talks with Soviet officials about a proposal which has been on ice for some time—a suggestion that Kennedy and Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev appear on television in each other's country.

Beyond his chat with Salinger, Kennedy reserved his day largely for relaxation.

He came to Palm Beach Friday after a fast-paced 11 hours in which he flew from Washington to New Orleans for a major speech on foreign trade and a motor parade through the city past enthusiastic crowds totaling more than 100,000 people. He then flew to Eglin Air Force Base, Fla., where he saw a thunderous display of America's aerial power.

Schiro Will Be Inaugurated As Mayor Monday

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Victor Schiro will be sworn in for his first full term as mayor Monday in the midst of inauguration ceremonies that will run from 10 a. m. until 2 a. m. Tuesday morning.

The ceremonies will include a river boat parade, a Canal street parade, swearing in ceremonies, a special city council meeting, a luncheon, a $100 per plate testimonial dinner and an inaugural ball that will continue until early Tuesday.

Schiro became mayor last May to complete the term of deLesseps S. Morrison when Morrison became ambassador to the Organization of American States. Schiro was elected to his first four-year term last month. He has served 12 years on the city council.

Judge Godfrey Z. Regan of the fourth circuit court of appeals will administer the oath of office to Schiro.

About 2,500 city employes will board the Steamer President for the river parade. Dock Board, Coast Guard and private vessels will accompany and salute the mayor on the river trip. Navy, Air Force and National Guard planes will fly overhead.

Felise Rincon de Hautier, mayoress of San Juan, Puerto Rico, will be among the visiting mayors.

Mine Explodes Killing Soldier, Wounding Two

FORT POLK, La. (AP) 8 A military training accident claimed the life of one soldier Friday and injured two others, one permanently.

A Fort Polk spokesman said Sgt. Billy N. Whitehorn, 25, of Atlanta, Texas, was killed when he set a fuse on a mine and attempted to throw it away.

The spokesman said Tommy D. Harris, 25, of Prague, Okla., underwent surgery and was permanently partially disabled.

Also listed as injured was Aubrey L. Davis, 26, of Kingsville, Texas. Davis, the spokesman said, sustained shrapnel wounds in his left ankle and right thigh.

The accident happened near Elizabethville where the troops are participating in "Exercise Iron Dragoon."

Ousted Student Seeks Re-Entry

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—A student ousted from Tulane University for taking Negroes into the school's cafeteria will seek a federal injunction to be readmitted to the university, his attorney said Saturday.

William E. Clark II, of Humboldt, Tenn., was suspended from Tulane April 9 "for repeated disregard of university policy to the point of actual defiance," according to Dr. John E. Stibbs, Tulane dean of students.

Clark's attorney said he would ask U. S. District Judge Frank Ellis for the temporary restraining order Monday.

6-Year-Old Girl Knifed To Death, Cobbler Jailed

HAVERHILL, Mass. (AP) — A slender, boyish-looking shoeworker was held without bail on a murder charge Saturday in the knife slaying Friday night of a 6-year-old girl as she ran home from a corner store.

Alton D. Clevesy, 21, who lost his job in a factory only Friday, was arrested at midnight. Two hours earlier, blonde Carrol Anne Donovan died in her mother's arms after gasping: "Mommy, help me."

Mrs. Leo Donovan, mother of four, heard Carrol's screams and ran downstairs from her third-apartment.

"God help me," she cried. "Oh my God, my child."

As she picked up Carrol Anne in her arms and started for the home of a neighbor, the girl coughed in pain and died.

Two youngsters told police they had spoken to Clevesy earlier in the evening and that he told them he had been fired from his shoe factory job and bragged about spending more than $40 on liquor.

Missilemen, RCA Resolve Work Dispute

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service said Saturday it had resolved a six-month-old dispute between 200 Atlantic Missile Range technicians and the Radio Corporation of America (RCA).

The workers involved are stationed here and at other points on testing range. They are primarily involved in tracking missiles.

Mediation Commissioner John R. Murray said the settlement was reached after a 27-hour meeting that ended early Saturday afternoon.

Murray said RCA officials had agreed to a settlement he proposed and that it also met favor with officers of the International Alliance Theatrical Stage Employes Union, local 666.

Murray said the agreement, details of which were not disclosed, will be put to a union vote very soon.

Although the contract expired in October, 1961, Murray said there had been no strike. Until the entry of the meditation service, however, negotiations had been deadlocked, he said.

Catahoula Will Get Bookmobile

HARRISONBURG (Special) — The Catahoula Paish Library will get a new bookmobile. Bids for the new vehicle were accepted by the parish police jury at their regular meeting.

The total unit will cost $10,000. The Gerstenslager Company, body works of Wooster, Ohio, was awarded the bid for furnishing the body attached to the chasis. The body complete with shelves for the books, and other items will cost $7,425.

U.S. SECURITY HASSLE

Geodetic Satellite Back Under Wraps

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The flashing light geodetic sattellite declassified last week after a bitter security tussle, apparently was back under wraps Saturday.

The Air Force summoned reporters to a conference where project officials were to brief them on the satellite, nicknamed ANNA, which is scheduled for launching from the Cape next week.

But 15 minutes after the news briefing was to start, only reporters had shown up. Then an Air Force spokesman appeared to announce that the Defense Department had decided to call off the pre-launch briefing. No explanation was given.

Satellite launching at the Pacific missile range have been classified in recent months, but this is the first time one has been cloaked at Cape Canaveral. The type of booster rocket was not even announced, although it is generally known that a two-stage Thor-Able-Star has been assigned the task.

The only information available is a technical fact sheet released April 27 in Washington at the meeting of the International Committee on Space Research.

It is known the satellite carries a high-intensity light which will flash at various intervals in an experiment to obtain more accurante maps of the world by giving scientists a known point in space to be photographed against a background of stars.

Northeast Romps To Eighth Track Victory In Three-Way Meet

Tech, Demons Tie For 2nd Behind Tribe

NATCHITOCHES (Special) — Northeast State's track team dominated the running events to easily win a three-way meet here Saturday night and move to within one victory of another undefeated season.

The Tribe finished first in 10 of 11 running events and two field events to annex 91 points. Louisiana Tech and host Northwestern State tied for second with 41 apiece in the meet in which two Gulf States Conference standards were bettered and two more were equalled.

It was Northeast's eighth straight track victory this spring.

Official GSC records are established only at the conference meet—the next obstacle for the Tribesmen. This year's meet is in Hammond next Saturday.

Northeast's Don Styron ran the high hurdles in 13.8 a mark under his own GSC record time of 14.0 and Joe Cage of Louisiana Tech tossed the javeline 218-feet, seven inches. The conference mark is 214-1¼.

Dave Styron, the other half of the twin combination, equalled his own GSC mark of 21.0 in the 220-yard dash and Indian Buddy Eiland matched the 1:52.2 conference mark in the half mile.

The running event not captured by Northeast was the 440-relay, won by Louisiana Tech when the Indian combine was disqualified for crossing out of the designated lane. The Tribe's time was 41.2, a tenth of a second off the league standard. The Bulldog four toured the course in 43.2.

Another good effort was a 14-3 pole vault by Bob Goree of Tech, good for first place.

Northeast, Tech and Northwestern each won two firsts apiece in the field events. Northeast getting its in the discus and shot, Northwestern in the high jump and broad jump and Tech in the pole vault and javelin.

Among the Tribe's other firsts was Dave Styron's 9.6 in the century, Eiland's 4:14.5 run in the mile and relay times of 1:27.8 in the 880 and 3:15.9 mile.

Northeast's Jack Williams took the two-mile run in 9:40.0, Don Styron won the low hurdles in 22.7 and Randall Walker took the 440 with a 47.7 clocking.

Tiffen Stone led the Tribe to its two field firsts, chunking the discus 155-2 and the shot put 43-8½.

Larry Crow of Northwestern got the Demons' field firsts with a high jump of 6-4 and a 23 foot broad jump.

ON PEPITONE'S HOMER

Yankees Take Win Over Senators, 7-6

NEW YORK (AP)—Rookie Joe Pepitone's first major league homer with a man on capped a five-run New York Yankee spurt in the eighth inning Saturday for a 7-6 victory over Washington.

Yogi Berra's three-run homer accounted for the other runs of the big inning attack against Bennie Daniels and loser Marty Kutyna. Berra's blow off the right field foul pole came off Daniels after Tom Tresh and Mickey Mantle singled.

When Daniels walked Johnny Blanchard, and Phil Linz ran for him, Manager Mickey Vernon brought in Kutyna. Pepitone, playing first base instead of Moose Skowron against a right-handed pitcher, hit the relief man's first pitch into the right field bleachers.

Mantle hit his third homer in the fourth with nobody on base.

Bob Turley, who underwent an operation for removal of bone chips in his right elbow last fall, won in relief in his first league appearance since last Sept. 14. He pitched only the eighth and allowed two hits. Jim Coates worked the ninth.

Washington knocked out starter Roland Sheldon and thumped Bud Daley in a four-run sixth inning that included a two-run homer by Jim King, his second of the year. Bob Johnson tripled, pinch hitter Harry Bright doubled and Chuck Cottier and Daniels singled to account for the other runs the Senators had scored two in the second on King's double, a walk, a single by Ken Retzer, Cottier's sacrifice fly and Daniels' first single.

The first yank run came in the third when Clete Boyer walked, took second on Sheldon's sacrifice and scored on Tresh's single.

Pace Sets Mark By Shooting 10 Under Par 62

RUSTON (Special) — Roy Pace of Louisiana Tech shot a remarkable 10-under par 62 to shatter the course record at the Ruston Country Club and help the Bulldogs to a smashing 16½-1½ victory over highly regarded Southwestern University here Saturday afternoon.

Pace, the GSC champ as a freshman in 1960, fired a 30-32 to eclipse the previous course record held by Buster Cupit when he was pro here. Cupit's standard was a 63 set when the course was shorter. Pace's longest putt was a 15-footer.

The Texas golfer was also medalist at the recent Louisiana State University Invitational in which Tech finished second.

Buddy Short of USL split with Joe Thomas of Tech 1½-1½ for the Lafayette Bulldogs' only points. The Techsters won 3-0 victories in all other matches.

The Summary:

Joe Thomas (T) tied with Buddy Short 1½-1½

Jim Paul (T) defeated Brian Hirsch, 3-0.

Thomas-Paul (T) defeated Short-Hirsch, 3-0

Roy Pace (T) defeated Bob Bass, 3-0.

IN FOUR ACTIVITIES

Tribe Ends Spring Sports This Week

Northeast winds up activity in all four spring sports this week, closing out the season in golf, tennis and track in the Gulf States Conference meet in Hammond Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The tennis and golf teams play in the GSC tournaments Thursday and Friday while the track team, favored to take its third conference conference crown in four years, will run in the league meet Saturday night.

Coach George Luffey's baseball team faces a busy week. The Indian nine meets Southeastern, the conference leader, in a regularly scheduled doubleheader on the Ouachita field here Monday afternoon and takes on Northwestern in two games here Wednesday.

The Northwestern games were originally set for April 28 but postponed because of wet grounds.

Northeast and Southwestern also might finally get together for a long-delayed twin bill here sometime this week. Luffey said the teams would try to play the game if arrangements could be made. The clubs were slated to play back in late March but the games were rained out and attempts since to play the contests have also ran afoul of the elements.

Coach Jim Coats' tennis team has one match remaining before the conference meet, a Monday afternoon encounter with Louisiana Tech in Ruston.

The golf and track teams have only the conference meets on tap this week.

FIVE HIT JOB

Dodgers Top Bucs As Drysdale Stars

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Rookie catcher Doug Camilli drove in four runs and Don Drysdale limited Pittsburgh to five hits Saturday as the Los Angeles Dodgers trounced the Pirates 10-1.

Camilli drove in the firstt wo Dodger runs with a single in the five-run second inning and then blasted an inside-the-park home run with a man on in the third inning.

It was the first home run of the year for the son of Dolph Camilli, a former Brooklyn Dodger star. He now has five hits in seven times at bat this season.

Drysdale was never in serious trouble. Only one man reached third until the ninth inning when the Pirates scored their only run. Only one man out Dick Groat doubled for the first Pirate hit since the third. He scored on Dick Stuart's single.

The big right-hander struck out four and walked two in picking up his fourth victory against one setback. Pirate starter Tom Sturdivant was tagged with his second loss against one victory.

Bo Belinsky Gets No-Hit Tilt For LA

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bo Belinsky, a rookie left-hander who couldn't win in the minors, pitched the first American League no-hitter in four seasons Saturday night as the Los Angeles Angels defeated Baltimore 2-0.

It was the first major league no-hitter ever pitched in Los Angeles and the first against the Orioles in their nine seasons in the American League.

Belinsky, scoring his fourth victory in four starts, struck out nine, walked four, and hit two batters with pitches. One other Baltimore player reached base, on an error, and the Orioles stranded seven.

JOCKEY BILL Hartack and his mount Decidedly, wear the garland of roses as they are led into the winner's circle at Churchill Downs Saturday. The horse and his mount set a new Derby record, winning in 2 minutes, 2/5 seconds. Owner George A. Pope, Jr., is holding line. (AP Wirephoto)

HARTACK PLEASED

Decidedly Trainer Confident Of Win

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—"We brought this horse here to win. I was always confident. We just thought he could win.

Horatio Luro, the nattily dressed Argentinian who trained Decidedly, the Kentucky Derby winner in record time, was beaming as he stood in the winner's circle.

Bill Hartack, controversial jockey, who rode Decidedly and thus became the fourth in history with three Derby winners, said, "We had it, didn't we? We had it."

In the winner's circle, Hartack, who had been aboard several beaten favorites during the current Churchill Downs meeting and had been booed by the fans for his efforts, had nothing else to say.

Later, in the jockey room, he said, "For personal reasons I am so glad to win this Derby. I think you will understand what I mean." This was an apparent reference to the booing.

"He ran straight and kind as a horse can run. He's the greatest. I am glad Mr. Luro put blinkers on him."

The only other jockeys to win as many as three Derbies were Earl Sande and Isaac Murphy, with three victories each, and Eddie Arcaro, who retired this year with an unmatched record of five triumphs in America's greatest horse race.

Manuel Ycaza, who rode the even money favorite Ridan to a third place finish, appeared more than just disappointed that the big Nantallah colt didn't win.

Yearlings Pace Twins For 7-2 Win Over Tigers

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota's amazing rookie corps paced the Twins to a 7-2 victory over the slumping Detroit Tigers before 25,478 Saturday.

Rookie right-hander Lee Stange handcuffed the Tigers on only seven hits. After Detroit scored twice in the second before anyone was out, Stange settled down to retire 20 men in a row before Billy Bruton hit a two-out double in the eighth.

LSU's Gold Team Clips Purple, 21-20

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Quarterback Pat Screen and halfback Joe Labruzzo teamed to propel the Gold shirted team to a 21-20 victory over the Purples in the Louisiana State spring intrasquad game Saturday night.

Labruzzo kicked three conversions, one more than the Purples' kicker Jerry Stovall, and Labruzzo caught a 14-yard touchdown pass from Screen.

Halfback Bo Campbell wrapped up the scoring for the Golf team with a 60-yard touchdown run.

Some 14,000 saw Buddy Soefker and fullback Charles Cranford lend weight to the Gold attack along with Labruzzo with strikes through guard in touchdown drives of 39, 73, and 71 yards.

Quarterback Dwight Robinson fired touchdown passes of 4 yards to end Bill Tauax and 12 yards to end Gene Sykes.

Stovall made a 3-yard TD run for the Purples in capping an 82-yard drive.

Athletics Split With Cleveland In Doubleheader

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics rocketed 21 hits Saturday night in drubbing Cleveland 18-6 in the first game of a doubleheader, then fizzled before the six-hit pitching of Jim Perry as the Indians came back with a 5-2 victory.

Perry had a four-hit shutout going into the ninth inning. But after shortstop Woody Held dropped a throw at second for an error, the A's scored twice. Perry was relieved first by Bob Allen and then Barry Latman for the final two outs.

Whirlaway's Time Beaten By 1 Second

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Greycoated Decidedly, a California colt trained by Argentinian Horatio Luro, pulled away from the leaders in the final sixteenth of a mile Saturday and won the 88th Kentucky Derby by clipping a full second off Whirlaway's 1941 track record.

Jockey Bill Hartack, who has been having his troubles in the big races, piloted the winner—a husky son of the 1954 Derby hero, Determine—to a 2¼ length victory over Roman Line.

Ridan, the heavy favorite of a screaming throng estimated at better than 100,000, finished third in a rousing windup to the $162,150 classic.

Only necks separated Roman Line, Ridan and the fourth horse, British-bred Sir Ribot, an invader from the West Coast like the winner.

Decidedly, owned by the El Peco Ranch of George A. Pope Jr., of Madera, Calif., smashed home in 2:00 2-5 for the gruelling mile and one-quarter. This was the fastest Derby since the famous run for the roses was inaugurated in 1875 and it smashed the 2:01 2-5 clocking which has stood since Calumet Farm's famed Whirlaway routed 10 rivals and won by eight lengths 21 years ago.

Roman Line, owned by T. A. Grissom of Detroit and ridden by Jimmy Combest, was a great surprise as he was competing in his fourth race in two weeks. He won at Keeneland April 16, was third behind Ridan and the Blue Grass Stakes April 26, and last Tuesday demolished his competition by winning the Derby Trial Stakes by six lengths over a sloppy track here at Churchill Downs.

Pott Continues Domination Of Turner Open

BURNEYVILLE, Okla. (AP)—Mississippi professional Johnny Pott dominated the field again Saturday with a third round 4-under-par 69 and widened his lead to five strokes in the $20,000 Waco Turner Open Golf Tournament.

Pott's 54-hole total was 208 on rounds of 68-71-69, placing him 11 strokes under par for the tournament.

The 7,080 yard course plays to a par of 36-36—73.

Trailing Pott was Mason Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn., who fired a one-under-par 72 for a 54-hole score of 213.

Marion Pounds Strong's Team For 16 Tallies

MARION (Special) — The Marion Panthers took their 15th win in 17 starts here Saturday as they pounded three Strong, Arkansas pitchers for 16 hits and scored 16 runs and allowed only three Strong men to cross the plate.

Donald Reeves and Elton Pardue combined to limit the Strong team to only three hits.

Pardue caught Reeves until some changes were made in the lineup and Reeves went to the catching position with Pardue hurling for the Panthers.

The Panther hitting attack was led by Donald Reeves, Ronnie Farrler and Jim Oliver each with three for four trips to the plate.

Northeast Romps To Eighth Track Victory In Three-Way Meet

Tech, Demons Tie For 2nd Behind Tribe

NATCHITOCHES (Special) — Northeast State's track team dominated the running events to easily win a three-way meet here Saturday night and move to within one victory of another undefeated season.

The Tribe finished first in 10 of 11 running events and two field events to annex 91 points. Louisiana Tech and host Northwestern State tied for second with 41 apiece in the meet in which two Gulf States Conference standards were bettered and two more were equalled.

It was Northeast's eighth straight track victory this spring.

Official GSC records are established only at the conference meet—the next obstacle for the Tribesmen. This year's meet is in Hammond next Saturday.

Northeast's Don Styron ran the high hurdles in 13.8 a mark under his own GSC record time of 14.0 and Joe Cage of Louisiana Tech tossed the javeline 218-feet seven inches. The conference mark is 214-1¾.

Dave Styron, the other half of the twin combination, equalled his own GSC mark of 21.0 in the 220-yard dash and Indian Buddy Eiland matched the 1:52.2 conference mark in the half mile.

The running event not captured by Northeast was the 440 relay, won by Louisiana Tech when the Indian combine was disqualified for crossing out of the designated lane. The Tribe's time was 41.2, a tenth of a second off the league standard. The Bulldog four toured the course in 43.2.

Another good effort was a 14-3 pole vault by Bob Goree of Tech, good for first place.

Northeast, Tech and Northwestern each won two firsts apiece in the field events. Northeast getting its in the discus and shot, Northwestern in the high jump and broad jump and Tech in the pole vault and javelin.

Among the Tribe's other firsts was Dave Styron's 9.6 in the century, Eiland's 4:14.5 run in the mile and relay times of 1:27.8 in the 880 and 3:15.9 mile.

Northeast's Jack Williams took the two-mile run in 9:40.0, Don Styron won the low hurdles in 22.7 and Randall Walker took the 440 with a 47.7 clocking.

Tiffen Stone led the Tribe to its two field firsts, chunking the discus 155-2 and the shot put 43-8½.

Larry Crow of Northwestern got the Demons' field firsts with a high jump of 6-4 and a 23 foot broad jump.

The summary:

ON PEPITONE'S HOMER

Yankees Take Win Over Senators, 7-6

NEW YORK (AP) — Rookie Joe Pepitone's first major league homer with a man on base capped a five-run New York Yankee spurt in the eighth inning Saturday for a 7-6 victory over Washington.

Yogi Berra's three-run homer accounted for the other runs of the big inning attack against Bennie Daniels and loser Marty Kutyna. Berra's blow off the right field foul pole came off Daniels after Tom Tresh and Mickey Mantle singled.

When Daniels walked Johnny Blanchard, and Phil Linz ran for him, Manager Mickey Vernon brought in Kutyna. Pepitone, playing first base instead of Moose Skowron against a right-handed pitcher, hit the relief man's first pitch into the right field bleachers.

Mantle hit his third homer in the fourth with nobody on base.

Bob Turley, who underwent an operation for removal of bone chips in his right elbow last fall, won in relief in his first league appearance since last Sept. 14. He pitched only the eighth and allowed two hits. Jim Coates worked the ninth.

Washington knocked out starter Roland Sheldon and thumped Bud Daley in a four-run sixth inning that included a two-run homer by Jim King, his second of the year. Bob Johnson tripled, pinch hitter Harry Bright doubled and Chuck Cottier and Daniels singled to account for the other runs the Senators had scored two in the second on King's double, a walk, a single by Ken Retzer, Cottier's sacrifice fly and Daniels' first single.

The first yank run came in the third when Clete Boyer walked, took second on Sheldon's sacrifice and scored on Tresh's single.

Pace Sets Mark By Shooting 10 Under Par 62

RUSTON (Special) — Roy Pace of Louisiana Tech shot a remarkable 10-under par 62 to shatter the course record at the Ruston Country Club and help the Bulldogs to a smashing 16½-1½ victory over highly regarded Southwestern University here Saturday afternoon.

Pace, the GSC champ as a freshman in 1960, fired a 30-32 to eclipse the previous course record held by Buster Cupit when he was pro here. Cupit's standard was a 63 set when the course was shorter. Pace's longest putt was a 15-footer.

The Texas golfer was also medalist at the recent Louisiana State University Invitational in which Tech finished second.

Buddy Short of USL split with Joe Thomas of Tech 1½-1½ for the Lafayette Bulldogs' only points. The Techsters won 3-0 victories in all their other matches.

The Summary:

Joe Thomas (T) tied with Buddy Short 1½-1½.

IN FOUR ACTIVITIES

Tribe Ends Spring Sports This Week

Northeast winds up activity in all four spring sports this week, closing out the season in golf, tennis and track in the Gulf States Conference meet in Hammond Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The tennis and golf teams play in the GSC tournaments Thursday and Friday while the track team, favored to take its third conference conference crown in four years, will run in the league meet Saturday night.

Coach George Luffey's baseball team faces a busy week. The Indian nine meets Southeastern, the conference leader, in a regularly scheduled doubleheader on the Ouachita field here Monday afternoon and takes on Northwestern in two games here Wednesday.

The Northwestern games were originally set for April 28 but postponed because of wet grounds.

Northeast and Southwestern also might finally get together for a long-delayed twin bill here sometime this week. Luffey said the teams would try to play the game if arrangements could be made. The clubs were slated to play back in late March but the games were rained out and attempts since to play the contests have also run afoul of the elements.

Coach Jim Coats' tennis team has one match remaining before the conference meet, a Monday afternoon encounter with Louisiana Tech in Ruston.

The golf and track teams have only the conference meets on tap this week.

FIVE HIT JOB

Dodgers Top Bucs As Drysdale Stars

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Rookie catcher Doug Camilli drove in four runs and Don Drysdale limited Pittsburgh to five hits Saturday as the Los Angeles Dodgers trounced the Pirates 10-1.

Camilli drove in the firstt wo Dodger runs with a single in the five-run second inning and then blasted an inside-the-park home run with a man on in the third inning.

It was the first home run of the year for the son of Dolph Camilli, a former Brooklyn Dodger star. He now has five hits in seven times at bat this season.

Drysdale was never in serious trouble. Only one man reached third until the ninth inning when the Pirates scored their only run. With one man out Dick Groat doubled for the first Pirate hit since the third. He scored on Dick Stuart's single.

The big right-hander struck out four and walked two in picking up his fourth victory against one setback. Pirate starter Tom Sturdivant was tagged with his second loss against one victory.

Bo Belinsky Gets No-Hit Tilt For LA

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bo Belinsky, a rookie left-hander who couldn't win in the minors, pitched the first American League no-hitter in four seasons Saturday night as the Los Angeles Angels defeated Baltimore 2-0.

It was the first major league no-hitter ever pitched in Los Angeles and the first against the Orioles in their nine seasons in the American League.

Belinsky, scoring his fourth victory in four starts, struck out nine, walked four, and hit two batters with pitches. One other Baltimore player reached base, on an error, and the Orioles stranded seven.

JOCKEY BILL Hartack and his mount Decidedly, wear the garland of roses as they are led into the winner's circle at Churchill Downs Saturday. The horse and his mount set a new Derby record, winning in 2 minutes, 2/5 seconds. Owner George A. Pope, Jr., is holding line. (AP Wirephoto)

HARTACK PLEASED

Decidedly Trainer Confident Of Win

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—"We brought this horse here to win. I was always confident. We just thought he could win.

Horatio Luro, the nattily dressed Argentinian who trained Decidedly, the Kentucky Derby winner in record time, was beaming as he stood in the winner's circle.

Bill Hartack, controversial jockey, who rode Decidedly and thus became the fourth in history with three Derby winners, said, "We had it, didn't we? We had it."

In the winner's circle, Hartack, who had been aboard several beaten favorites during the current Churchill Downs meeting and had been booed by the fans for his efforts, had nothing else to say.

Later, in the jockey room, he said, "For personal reasons I am so glad to win this Derby. I think you will understand what I mean." This was an apparent reference to the booing.

"He ran straight and kind as a horse can run. He's the greatest. I am glad Mr. Luro put blinkers on him.

The only other jockeys to win as many as three Derbies were Earl Sande and Isaac Murphy, with three victories each, and Eddie Arcaro, who retired this year with an unmatched record of five triumphs in America's greatest horse race.

Manuel Ycaza, who rode the even money favorite Ridan to a third place finish, appeared more than just disappointed that the big Nantallah colt didn't win.

Yearlings Pace Twins For 7-2 Win Over Tigers

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota's amazing rookie corps paced the Twins to a 7-2 victory over the slumping Detroit Tigers before 25,478 Saturday.

Rookie right-hander Lee Stange handcuffed the Tigers on only seven hits. After Detroit scored twice in the second before anyone was out, Stange settled down to retire 20 men in a row before Billy Bruton hit a two-out double in the eighth.

LSU's Gold Team Clips Purple, 21-20

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Quarterback Pat Screen and halfback Joe Labruzzo teamed to propel the Gold shirted team to a 21-20 victory over the Purples in the Louisiana State spring intrasquad game Saturday night.

Labruzzo kicked three conversions, one more than the Purples' kicker Jerry Stovall, and Labruzzo caught a 14-yard touchdown pass from Screen.

Halfback Bo Campbell wrapped up the scoring for the Golf team with a 60-yard touchdown run.

Some 14,000 saw Buddy Soefker and fullback Charles Cranford lend weight to the Gold attack along with Labruzzo with strikes through guard in touchdown drives of 39, 73, and 71 yards.

Quarterback Dwight Robinson fired touchdown passes of 4 yards to end Bill Tauax and 12 yards to end Gene Sykes.

Stovall made a 3-yard TD run for the Purples in capping an 82-yard drive.

Athletics Split With Cleveland In Doubleheader

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics rocketed 21 hits Saturday night in drubbing Cleveland 18-6 in the first game of a doubleheader, then fizzled before the six-hit pitching of Jim Perry as the Indians came back with a 5-2 victory.

Perry had a four-hit shutout going into the ninth inning. But after shortstop Woody Held dropped a throw at second for an error, the A's scored twice. Perry was relieved first by Bob Allen and then Barry Latman for the final two outs.

Whirlaway's Time Beaten By 1 Second

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Greycoated Decidedly, a California colt trained by Argentinian Horatio Luro, pulled away from the leaders in the final sixteenth of a mile Saturday and won the 88th Kentucky Derby by clipping a full second off Whirlaway's 1941 track record.

Jockey Bill Hartack, who has been having his troubles in the big races, piloted the winner—a husky son of the 1954 Derby hero, Determine—to a 2¼ length victory over Roman Line.

Ridan, the heavy favorite of a screaming throng estimated at better than 100,000, finished third in a rousing windup to the $162,150 classic.

Only necks separated Roman Line, Ridan and the fourth horse, British-bred Sir Ribot, an invader from the West Coast like the winner.

Decidedly, owned by the El Peco Ranch of George A. Pope Jr., of Madera, Calif., smashed home in 2:00 2-5 for the gruelling mile and one-quarter. This was the fastest Derby since the famous run for the roses was inaugurated in 1875 and it smashed the 2:01 2-5 clocking which has stood since Calumet Farm's famed Whirlaway routed 10 rivals and won by eight lengths 21 years ago.

Roman Line, owned by T. A. Grissom of Detroit and ridden by Jimmy Combest, was a great surprise as he was appearing in his fourth race in two weeks. He won at Keeneland April 16, was third behind Ridan and Decidedly in the Blue Grass Stakes April 26, and last Tuesday demolished his competition by winning the Derby Trial Stakes by six lengths over a sloppy track here at Churchill Downs.

Pott Continues Domination Of Turner Open

BURNEYVILLE, Okla. (AP)—Mississippi professional Johnny Pott dominated the field again Saturday with a third round 4-under-par 69 and widened his lead to five strokes in the $20,000 Waco Turner Open Golf Tournament.

Pott's 54-hole total was 208 on rounds of 68-71-69, placing him 11 strokes under par for the tournament.

The 7,080 yard course plays to a par of 36-36—73.

Trailing Pott was Mason Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn., who fired a one-under-par 72 for a 54-hole score of 213.

Marion Pounds Strong's Team For 16 Tallies

MARION (Special) — The Marion Panthers took their 15th win in 17 starts here Saturday as they pounded three Strong, Arkansas pitchers for 16 hits and scored 16 runs and allowed only three Strong men to score.

Donald Reeves and Elton Pardue combined to limit the Strong team to only three hits.

Pardue caught Reeves until some changes were made in the lineup and Reeves went to the catching position with Pardue hurling for the Panthers.

The Panther hitting attack was led by Donald Reeves, Ronnie Farrler and Jim Oliver each with three for four trips to the plate.

Indians, Tech Split Pair; Tribe Wins 7-2, Tech 9-4

By RICK BRYAN
World Sports Editor

RUSTON — Northeast State and Louisiana Tech swapped wins in a Gulf States Conference doubleheader here Saturday afternoon, the Indians winning the opener 7-2 and the Bulldogs taking the nightcap 9-4.

The split may have ruined both team's chances of taking the league baseball title this year. Tech is now 7-7 in GSC play and Northeast, 5-8.

McGOWAN LEADS

Indian second baseman Eddie McGowan led an 11-hit Northeast uprising that saw Tech starter Charlie Fuller rapped for five runs in the first two innings of the opener. McGowan got two hits, drove in two runs and scored twice in the first game.

Northeast led 5-1 after two frames, and added single runs in the fifth and seventh before freshman David Lee laced a solo homer over the left-centerfield fence for the second Tech run.

RACHAL WINS

Indian starter Bob Rachal went all the way for the win, giving up eight widely scattered hits to throttle Tech batters.

The Canines came back in the second game behind a blistering seven-hit attack that produced nine runs, and the four hit pitching of little George Woodson.

Tech chased starter Bobby Lockwood to the showers with three runs in the second inning, gave up three in the third, then erupted for five in the fifth to put the game out of reach.

GARRETT SCORES THREE

Bulldog third baseman John Cardaro scored two in the fifth with a double to the centerfield fence, then second sacker George Garret plated three more on a home run over the fence in center with two aboard.

Northeast caught up one in the sixth when Charley Dykes doubled and Don Boniol's hard drive bounced over the third baseman's head for another two-bagger.

Tech's Paul Labenne followed in the bottom of the same inning with a solo blast over the centerfield barrier for the final score.

Northeast replaced Lockwood, with Ed Quimby in the second. The Rayville frosh went three innings, before Rachal came back to end the game.

McGowan singled on in the first inning of the opener and came home on Dewey Smith's double to deep centerfield. Smith then tallied a Phil Petras' grounder and an error.

In the second inning little Eddie drove in two runs with a triple, and scored again on another Smith bingle.

Nine of the 11 Tribe hits in the first game came off Fuller in the opening three frames. Fuller was spelled by Willie Williams, who gave up one run on two hits in two innings and was followed by Charles Taylor. The West Monroe freshman completed the game, pitching no-hit ball over the last two innings.

Northeast's first run in the third inning of the nightcap came off a walk, a single, by Pace, a wild pitch, and a grounder by Smith. Two more runs followed when Petras lined to left.

WOODSON AGAIN

The win was Woodson's second over Northeast in two days and his second four-hitter against the Tribe this year. The Arkansas righthander was winner of Tech's 1-0 edge over Northeast in Monroe Friday—the completion of the protested game of April 9.

Smith and Pace also got two hits in the opening game for Northeast and Smith drove in two runs. No Indian hit more than once in the nightcap.

Tech's Labenne hit two for four in both the first and second game, and Garrett got three hits for the day and drove in four runs.

Chicago Cubs Halt Giants Win Streak

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Cubs, unloading 18 hits—including two homers by Billy Williams and one by Ernie Banks—for their biggest batwork since June 30, 1960, ended the San Francisco Giants' 10-game winning streak 12-8 Saturday.

Willie Mays and pinch hitter Ed Bailey each homered for the league-leading Giants, who collected 12 hits off four Cub pitchers.

The Cubs included a triple and two doubles as well as the homers in their assortment of blows at the expense of five Giant hurlers.

In addition to his pair of homers, Williams walked in the sixth and doubled in the first in four trips and drove in four runs.

Williams' circuit clout in the seventh—giving him six for the season—was good for two runs. Moe Morhardt, safe on a pinch hit single, also scored in the inning on a double by Lou Brock and Ron Santo's single. It put the Cubs ahead 11-8.

They padded it out in the eighth when Banks led off with his No. 6 homer.

Rams Enter Semi-Finals On 2-1 Win

ALEXANDRIA (Special) —The Bastrop Rams advanced to the semi-finals of the State AAA playoffs by edging the Bolton Bears, 2-1, here Friday night after the Bears had won the second game of the best of three playoff, 7-2.

The Rams of Coach Bob Brasher travel to Baton Rouge Monday to encounter Istrouma high at 2:30 p.m. in the opener of the semi-final series. The teams clash in Bastrop Friday at 4:30 p.m. for the second match and if necessary the deciding game will follow immediately.

Larry Don Brown extended his record to 4-2 by turning the Bears back, 2-1 in the deciding tilt with a strong three-hitter. Brown had a no-hitter going until the fifth, but was touched for a safety that scored the only Bolton run.

Bastrop was unable to cross the plate until the top of the seventh frame. Then the Rams scored twice on singles by catcher Don Cox and Pete Perot and a couple of Bear errors.

Perot again came through with the big blow as he brought Ed Worley home with a single to right. Perot and Worley led Bastrop's hitters with a pair of singles in three at-bats.

Bastrop jumped off to a 2-0 advantage in the top of the first frame in the opening game Friday on hits by Floyd Murry and Cox along with a Bolton miscue.

However, the Bears surged back with a lone run in the bottom of the first, broke loose for four in the fifth, and added their last two runs on a home run by Red Hall in the sixth.

David Whitworth was tagged for the loss, his first in seven decisions this season.

Single Good For Cincinnati Win Over St. Louis

CINCINNATI (AP) — Veteran Wally Post rammed a bases-loaded single to center in the Saturday good for a run and an 8-7 Cincinnati victory over St. Louis.

Leo Cardenas, who had started the Reds' game scoring, wrapped it up in the ninth with a one-out single, a steal of second and third before Post's deciding blow.

Reliever Bill Henry took the victory.

Little Boys Baseball

Four Little Boys League baseball games were unreeled yesterday at the Northside Park.

In the opening contest, at 2:00 p.m., First National topped Shell Oil, 7-5. The winning battery was Martin and Lenard, while Cummings and Preddy went for Shell.

At 4:00 p.m., Scott Flower raced by McLemore, 8-1. Stevenson struck out 11 men on the way to his victory for Scott Flower. Schoonover was his catcher. Floyd and Fox were the losing battery.

Texaco out slugged Green Brothers, 15-9, in the 6:00 p.m. tilt. Roark and Poche were the battery for Texaco and Aswell and Zuber formed the battery for Green.

In the final game at Northside Park, Bancroft edged Peoples Loan, 7-5. Rankin and Gates formed the winning battery for Bancroft. Warren and Medaris were the losing battery.

In action on the Southside park, only two tilts were played Saturday.

Sanders Lumber Company handed Barker's Rent All's a 11-4 defeat with Thompson and Foster serving as the winning battery. Mazzonti and Freeman were Barker's battery.

Pulp and Paper moved up in the standings by dealing Heard Oil an 14-10 defeat with Pulp and Paper's Freddie Huntsman belting a homer during the encounter. Clark and Thompson were the winning battery while Raglan and Payne were the losers.

Whites Get Win Over Greens In Tulane Grid Tilt

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Sophomore fullback George Cortez scored a pair of touchdowns to pace the White team to a 13-0 victory over the Green in the annual Tulane intra-Squad football game Saturday.

Cortez, a 19-year-old New Orleans boy, capped a 68-yard drive in the second quarter with a 5-yard scoring plunge. He got away for 48 yards on one run.

In the third quarter, Cortez went over on a 29-yard gallop off right tackle. He carried 8 times for 112 yards during the day.

EARL STEWART, JR., one stroke behind the leaders at the start of the third round of the $58,000 Tournament of Champions Saturday in Las Vegas, does a deep-knee bend as his putt for a birdie two on the seventh green misses the cup by two inches. Stewart shot a three-under-par 69 to remain in a tie for second behind Arnold Palmer who also fired a 69 to take the outright lead. (AP Wirephoto)

CASPER, STEWART SECOND

Palmer Gets 1-Stroke Lead Over Champions

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Arnold Palmer broke open a two-day deadlock in the $58,000 Tournament of Champions Saturday, firing a 3-under-par 69 to take sole possession of the lead with a 54-hole score of 208.

Palmer and another former National Open champion, Billy Casper Jr., waged a tremendous head-and head-duel around the 7,000-yard par 36-36—72 Desert Inn Country Club course. Each wound up with a 69.

For Casper it meant a total of 209 and a tie for second place with 40-year-old Earl Stewart Jr., a Dallas, Tex., teaching pro.

Casper put together a string of four straight birdies beginning with the 13th hole, to pull even with Palmer. They came to the 18th green all square.

Casper's tee shot struck a tree and the ball went into the rough. He blasted out short and wound up with a bogey 5.

Heading into the final nine holes, Palmer, Doug Ford and Stewart were all even, with Casper, Joe Campbell, Doug Sanders and Phil Rodgers one shot back.

Stewart shot 35-34—69. Alone at 210 was Doug Sanders, who came in with a 69. Rodgers finished with a 70 for 212 and Ford slipped back with a 74 and tie at 213 with Gary Brewer, who had a 69.

Cary Middlecoff, who started off even with Palmer and Ford, soared to an 80 for 219.

National Open Champion Gene Littler, winner here three times in a row starting in 1955, had a 71 for 214 and a tie with Eric Monti.

Third round scores in the $58,000 Tournament of Champions:

FOR SEC MEET

Tiger Track Team In Favorite's Role

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Louisiana State's flying tigers — with enough speed and muscle to fill any coach's dreams — are tabbed as the team to beat in the 30th annual Southeastern Conference track meet here Friday and Saturday.

But Mississippi State, with sophomore manpower spread through the middle distance and distance events, and Florida, beefed up with sprint and hurdling talent, could make it tough.

Defending titlist Auburn has SEC mile champ Jim Dozier, whose 1:52.7 half-mile also is the league's best this year. Vanderbilt has conference board jump king Kent Russ, who doubles in the dashes.

And Georgia Tech has triple-threat Ron Ablowich, defending champ in the 440, and the high and low hurdles.

All in all, a few upsets could make the competition as sizzling as last year's when Auburn shaded LSU 56-55.

LSU, which long has dominated track in the Deep South, will be led by Joe Harris, the best pole vaulter the SEC has seen.

The 21-year-old senior, winner of the SEC vault title last year, came into his own this spring when he cleared 15 feet twice and then soared to 15-5 last week.

Barring a bad day, Harris should have no trouble erasing the conference standard of 13-4½ which he jointly holds with 1961 teammate Jess Fatherree Jr.

The Tigers show a formidable spread of power in both the running and weight events.

Bob Yates has a top conference clocking of :21 in the 220, and Jack O'Neil's 47.4 quarter-mile is the SEC's best this year.

Other LSU stalwarts include shot putter Ron Hernandez, whose 55-3½ heave leads the conference and Leonce Castgnos, who has hurled the javelin 212-5½.

Mississippi State, SEC cross-country titlist the last two years and without a senior on the team, is banking on its flashy crop of sophomores.

They include Jimmy Taylor, SEC cross-country champ, who set a frosh mile record in 4:20.2; Malcolm Balfour, whose 9:49.2 clocking last year is an SEC yearling mark; and Mike Sanders, 1961 SEC frosh 440 winner in :49.7.

Florida's Pete Rowe, who has already skimmed over the 220-yard low hurdles in :22.8, will be gunning for the SEC standard of :23. The Gators also have George Leach, who has posted a :09.7 time for the 220.

Alabama, which doesn't figure to be among the leaders, has Charlie Moody, whose wind-aided :96.6 for the 100 is the spring's top league time, and versatile Ron Carter, who piled up 21 points with shot, discus, and javelin victories in a dual meet last month against Mississippi State.

Kentucky, another apparent also - ran entry, has Art Travis who'll be favored in the 120-high hurdles off his spring time of :14.4.

Heats will be run Friday with the finals in all events Saturday. A freshman meet will be held along with the varsity competition.

Dr. Nat Klam Wins Saturday's Match

Dr. Nat Klam shot a total 65 to edge runner-up, Dan Moore, who shot 66 while winning the Saturday Sweepstakes at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club.

Thirty-three members competed in the one day affair at the club.

Other finishers include: Richard Guerriero 67; C. J. Turpin 68; Glen Walker Jr., 69 and W. L. Dean, 69.

NEITHER SIDE HAPPY

Referee On Spot After Jofre Bout

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two facts stood out Saturday as aftermaths of Brazilian Eder Jofre's latest defense of his world bantamweight title:

1. Neither side was happy about the way it turned out—Referee Fred Apostoli stopped the match in the 10th round and ruled Jofre a knockout winner after challenger Herman Marquez went down for the second time in the round.

2. The third man in the ring is on the hot spot, no matter whether he stops the fight or risks letting it go on.

"It just wasn't my night," Jofre said afterward in disappointment. His manager, Abraham Katzenelson, called it Jofre's worst fight.

Two judges had the 20-year-old Marquez, Stockton, Calif., longshoreman, leading after nine rounds of the scheduled 15-rounder.

Marquez and his manager, Al Avila, claim it was Referee Apostoli and not Jofre who stopped the challenger.

"He (Jofre) didn't knock me down," insisted Marquez in his dressing room.

"They (fight officials) told me before the fight I could take as many eight-counts as I wanted and I was doing just that."

"I got the impression," said his manager, Avila, "that Apostoli was influenced in stopping the fight too soon by Benny Paret's death."

Paret's death after his March 24 welterweight title fight raised demands in some quarters that ring officials be more prompt to stop fights.

Apostoli defended his decision: "I think Marquez was getting hit solidly and often. His eyes were very bad. He was almost helpless and he was staggering when he did get up."

Marquez, who had boxed cleverly in the first nine rounds, was knocked off his feet for the first time in his young career which now shows 20 victories, eight losses and one draw.

Backers of Jofre, whose record is 42-0-3, said Marquez could have a rematch for the right price.

Records Fall At District 1-AAA Meet

SHREVEPORT (Special)—West Monroe High School's thinclads gave the appearances of being a determined track team here Friday night and placed third in District 1-AAA competition behind first placed Byrd and Fair Park.

A total of 15 new records were set in the 17 events at Byrd High Stadium.

West Monroe, with 44½ points, qualified three individuals and two relay squads for the State AAA meet to be held in Lafayette next Friday.

Ouachita High school finished the meet with 5½ points and failed to qualify anyone for the state event. Bastrop, however, picked up eight points and qualified Larry Eoff who set a new meet mark in the 220 dash.

Byrd racked up 109 points, qualifing 12 individuals and three relay teams for the state meet.

Second finishing Fair Park totaled 53½ points.

West Monroe's Rebels blazed to two new relay records dashing off the 440 in 43.3 and the 880 in 1:29.5 while Cline Averett revised the 440 dash record with a 49.9 effort.

GSC BASEBALL

Indians, Tech Split Pair; Tribe Wins 7-2, Tech 9-4

By RICK BRYAN
World Sports Editor

RUSTON — Northeast State and Louisiana Tech swapped wins in a Gulf States Conference doubleheader here Saturday afternoon, the Indians winning the opener 7-2 and the Bulldogs taking the nightcap 9-4.

The split may have ruined both team's chances of taking the league baseball title this year. Tech is now 7-7 in GSC play and Northeast, 5-8.

McGOWAN LEADS

Indian second baseman Eddie McGowan led an 11-hit Northeast uprising that saw Tech starter Charlie Fuller rapped for five runs in the first two innings of the opener. McGowan got two hits, drove in two runs and scored twice in the first game.

Northeast led 5-1 after two frames, and added single runs in the fifth and seventh before freshman David Lee laced a solo homer over the left-centerfield fence for the second Tech run.

RACHAL WINS

Indian starter Bob Rachal went all the way for the win, giving up eight widely scattered hits to throttle Tech batters.

The Canines came back in the second game behind a blistering seven-hit attack that produced nine runs, and the four hit pitching of little George Woodson.

Tech chased starter Bobby Lockwood to the showers with three runs in the second inning, gave up three in the third, then erupted for five in the fifth to put the game out of reach.

GARRETT SCORES THREE

Bulldog third baseman John Cardaro scored two in the fifth with a double to the centerfield fence, then second sacker George Garret plated three more on a home run over the fence in center with two aboard.

Northeast caught up one in the sixth when Charley Dykes doubled and Don Boniol's hard drive bounced over the third baseman's head for another two-bagger.

Tech's Paul Labenne followed in the bottom of the same inning with a solo blast over the centerfield barrier for the final score.

Northeast replaced Lockwood, with Ed Quimby in the second. The Rayville frosh went three innings, before Rachal came back to end the game.

McGowan singled on in the first inning of the opener and came home on Dewey Smith's double to deep centerfield. Smith then tallied a Phil Petras' grounder and an error.

In the second inning little Eddie drove in two runs with a triple, and scored again on another Smith bingle.

Nine of the 11 Tribe hits in the first game came off Fuller in the opening three frames. Fuller was spelled by Willie Williams, who gave up one run on two hits in two innings and was followed by Charles Taylor. The West Monroe freshman completed the game, pitching no-hit ball over the last two innings.

Northeast's first run in the third inning of the nightcap came off a walk, a single, by Pace, a wild pitch, and a grounder by Smith. Two more runs followed when Petras lined to left.

WOODSON AGAIN

The win was Woodson's second over Northeast in two days and his second four-hitter against the Tribe this year. The Arkansas righthander was winner of Tech's 1-0 edge over Northeast in Monroe Friday—the completion of the protested game of April 9.

Smith and Pace also got two hits in the opening game for Northeast and Smith drove in two runs. No Indian hit more than once in the nightcap.

Tech's Labenne hit two for four in both the first and second game, and Garrett got three hits for the day and drove in four runs.

Chicago Cubs Halt Giants Win Streak

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Cubs, unloading 18 hits—including two homers by Billy Williams and one by Ernie Banks—for their biggest batwork since June 30, 1960, ended the San Francisco Giants' 10-game winning streak 12-8 Saturday.

Willie Mays and pinch hitter Ed Bailey each homered for the league-leading Giants, who collected 12 hits off four Cub pitchers.

The Cubs included a triple and two doubles as well as the homers in their assortment of blows at the expense of five Giant hurlers.

In addition to his pair of homers, Williams walked in the sixth and doubled in the first in four trips and drove in four runs.

Williams' circuit clout in the seventh—giving him six for the season—was good for two runs. Moe Morhardt, safe on a pinch hit single, also scored in the inning on a double by Lou Brock and Ron Santo's single. It put the Cubs ahead 11-8.

They padded it out in the eighth when Banks led off with his No. 6 homer.

Rams Enter Semi-Finals On 2-1 Win

ALEXANDRIA (Special) —The Bastrop Rams advanced to the semi-finals of the State AAA playoffs by edging the Bolton Bears, 2-1, here Friday night after the Bears had won the second game of the best of three playoff, 7-2.

The Rams of Coach Bob Brasher travel to Baton Rouge Monday to encounter Istrouma high at 2:30 p.m. in the opener of the semi-final series. The teams clash in Bastrop Friday at 4:30 p.m. for the second match and if necessary the deciding game will follow immediately.

Larry Don Brown extended his record to 4-2 by turning the Bears back, 2-1 in the deciding tilt with a strong three-hitter. Brown had a no-hitter going until the fifth, but was touched for a safety that scored the only Bolton run.

Bastrop was unable to cross the plate until the top of the seventh frame. Then the Rams scored twice on singles by catcher Don Cox and Pete Perot and a couple of Bear errors.

Perot again came through with the big blow as he brought Ed Worley home with a single to right. Perot and Worley led Bastrop's hitters with a pair of singles in three at-bats.

Bastrop jumped off to a 2-0 advantage in the top of the first frame in the opening game Friday on hits by Floyd Murry and Cox along with a Bolton miscue.

However, the Bears surged back with a lone run in the bottom of the first, broke loose for four in the fifth, and added their last two runs on a home run by Red Hall in the sixth.

David Whitworth was tagged for the loss, his first in seven decisions this season.

Single Good For Cincinnati Win Over St. Louis

CINCINNATI (AP) — Veteran Wally Post rammed a bases-loaded single to center in the Saturday good for a run and an 8-7 Cincinnati victory over St. Louis.

Leo Cardenas, who had started the Reds' game scoring, wrapped it up in the ninth with a one-out single, a steal of second and third before Post's deciding blow.

Reliever Bill Henry took the victory.

Little Boys Baseball

Four Little Boys League baseball games were unreeled yesterday at the Northside Park.

In the opening contest, at 2:00 p.m., First National topped Shell Oil, 7-5. The winning battery was Martin and Lenard, while Cummings and Preddy went for Shell.

At 4:00 p.m., Scott Flower raced by McLemore, 8-1. Stevenson struck out 11 men on the way to his victory for Scott Flower. Schoonover was his catcher. Floyd and Fox were the losing battery.

Texaco out slugged Green Brothers, 15-9, in the 6:00 p.m. tilt. Roark and Poche were the battery for Texaco and Aswell and Zuber formed the battery for Green.

In the final game at Northside Park, Bancroft edged Peoples Loan, 7-5. Rankin and Gates formed the winning battery for Bancroft. Warren and Medaris were the losing battery.

In action on the Southside park, only two tilts were played Saturday.

Sanders Lumber Company handed Barker's Rent All's a 11-4 defeat with Thompson and Foster serving as the winning battery. Mazzonti and Freeman were Barker's battery.

Pulp and Paper moved up in the standings by dealing Heard Oil an 14-10 defeat with Pulp and Paper's Freddie Huntsman belting a homer during the encounter. Clark and Thompson were the winning battery while Raglan. and Payne were the losers.

CASPER, STEWART SECOND

Palmer Gets 1-Stroke Lead Over Champions

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Arnold Palmer broke open a two-day deadlock in the $58,000 Tournament of Champions Saturday, firing a 3-under-par 69 to take sole possession of the lead with a 54-hole score of 208.

Palmer and another former National Open champion, Billy Casper Jr., waged a tremendous head-and head-duel around the 7,000-yard par 36-36—72 Desert Inn Country Club course. Each wound up with a 69.

For Casper it meant a total of 209 and a tie for second place with 40-year-old Earl Stewart Jr., a Dallas, Tex., teaching pro.

Casper put together a string of four straight birdies beginning with the 13th hole, to pull even with Palmer. They came to the 18th green all square.

Casper's tee shot struck a tree and the ball went into the rough. He blasted out short and wound up with a bogey 5.

Heading into the final nine holes, Palmer, Doug Ford and Stewart were all even, with Casper, Joe Campbell, Doug Sanders and Phil Rodgers one shot back.

Stewart shot 35-34—69. Alone at 210 was Doug Sanders, who came in with a 69. Rodgers finished with a 70 for 212 and Ford slipped back with a 74 and tie at 213 with Gary Brewer, who had a 69.

Cary Middlecoff, who started off even with Palmer and Ford, soared to an 80 for 219.

National Open Champion Gene Littler, winner here three times in a row starting in 1955, had a 71 for 214 and a tie with Eric Monti.

FOR SEC MEET

Tiger Track Team In Favorite's Role

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Louisiana State's flying tigers — with enough speed and muscle to fill any coach's dreams — are tabbed as the team to beat in the 30th annual Southeastern Conference track meet here Friday and Saturday.

But Mississippi State, with sophomore manpower spread through the middle distance and distance events, and Florida, beefed up with sprint and hurdling talent, could make it tough.

Defending titlist Auburn has SEC mile champ Jim Dozier, whose 1:52.7 half-mile also is the league's best this year. Vanderbilt has conference board jump king Kent Russ, who doubles in the dashes.

And Georgia Tech has triple-threat Ron Ablowich, defending champ in the 440, and the high and low hurdles.

All in all, a few upsets could make the competition as sizzling as last year's when Auburn shaded LSU 56-55.

LSU, which long has dominated track in the Deep South, will be led by Joe Harris, the best pole vaulter the SEC has seen.

The 21-year-old senior, winner of the SEC vault title last year, came into his own this spring when he cleared 15 feet twice and then soared to 15-5 last week.

Barring a bad day, Harris should have no trouble erasing the conference standard of 13-4½ which he jointly holds with 1961 teammate Jess Fatherree Jr.

The Tigers show a formidable spread of power in both the running and weight events.

Bob Yates has a top conference clocking of :21 in the 220, and Jack O'Neil's 47.4 quarter-mile is the SEC's best this year.

Other LSU stalwarts include shot putter Ron Hernandez, whose 55-3½ heave leads the conference and Leonce Castgnos, who has hurled the javelin 212-5½.

Mississippi State, SEC cross-country titlist the last two years and without a senior on the team, is banking on its flashy crop of sophomores.

They include Jimmy Taylor, SEC cross-country champ, who set a frosh mile record in 4:20.2; Malcolm Balfour, whose 9:49.2 clocking last year is an SEC yearling mark; and Mike Sanders, 1961 SEC frosh 440 winner in :49.7.

Florida's Pete Rowe, who has already skimmed over the 220-yard low hurdles in :22.8, will be gunning for the SEC standard of :23. The Gators also have George Leach, who has posted a :09.7 time for the 220.

Alabama, which doesn't figure to be among the leaders, has Charlie Moody, whose wind-aided :96.6 for the 100 is the spring's top league time, and versatile Ron Carter, who piled up 21 points with shot, discus, and javelin victories in a dual meet last month against Mississippi State.

Kentucky, another apparent also - ran entry, has Art Travis who'll be favored in the 120 high hurdles off his spring time of :14.4.

Heats will be run Friday with the finals in all events Saturday. A freshman meet will be held along with the varsity competition.

Whites Get Win Over Greens In Tulane Grid Tilt

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Sophomore fullback George Cortez scored a pair of touchdowns to pace the White team to a 13-0 victory over the Green in the annual Tulane intra-Squad football game Saturday.

Cortez, a 19-year-old New Orleans boy, capped a 68-yard drive in the second quarter with a 5-yard scoring plunge. He got away for 48 yards on one run.

In the third quarter, Cortez went over on a 29-yard gallop off right tackle. He carried 8 times for 112 yards during the day.

Dr. Nat Klam Wins Saturday's Match

Dr. Nat Klam shot a total 65 to edge runner-up, Dan Moore, who shot 66 while winning the Saturday Sweepstakes at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club.

Thirty-three members competed in the one day affair at the club.

Other finishers include Richard Guerriero 67; C. J. Turpin 68; Glen Walker Jr., 69 and W. L. Dean, 69.

NEITHER SIDE HAPPY

Referee On Spot After Jofre Bout

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two facts stood out Saturday as aftermaths of Brazilian Eder Jofre's latest defense of his world bantamweight title:

1. Neither side was happy about the way it turned out—Referee Fred Apostoli stopped the match in the 10th round and ruled Jofre a knockout winner after challenger Herman Marquez went down for the second time in the round.

2. The third man in the ring is on the hot spot, no matter whether he stops the fight or risks letting it go on.

"It just wasn't my night," Jofre said afterward in disappointment. His manager, Abraham Katzenelson, called it Jofre's worst fight.

Two judges had the 20-year-old Marquez, Stockton, Calif., longshoreman, leading after nine rounds of the scheduled 15-rounder.

Marquez and his manager, Al Avila, claim it was Referee Apostoli and not Jofre who stopped the challenger.

"He (Jofre) didn't knock me down," insisted Marquez in his dressing room.

"They (fight officials) told me before the fight I could take as many eight-counts as I wanted and I was doing just that."

"I got the impression," said his manager, Avila, "that Apostoli was influenced in stopping the fight too soon by Benny Paret's death."

Paret's death after his March 24 welterweight title fight raised demands in some quarters that ring officials be more prompt to stop fights.

Apostoli defended his decision: "I think Marquez was getting hit solidly and often. His eyes were very bad. He was almost helpless and he was staggering when he did get up."

Marquez, who had boxed cleverly in the first nine rounds, was knocked off his feet for the first time in his young career which now shows 20 victories, eight losses and one draw.

Backers of Jofre, whose record is 42-0-3, said Marquez could have a rematch for the right price.

Records Fall At District 1-AAA Meet

SHREVEPORT (Special)—West Monroe High School's thinclads gave the appearances of being a determined track team here Friday night and placed third in District 1-AAA competition behind first placed Byrd and Fair Park.

A total of 15 new records were set in the 17 events at Byrd High Stadium.

West Monroe, with 44½ points, qualified three individuals and two relay squads for the State AAA meet to be held in Lafayette next Friday.

Ouachita High school finished the meet with 5½ points and failed to qualify anyone for the state event. Bastrop, however, picked up eight points and qualified Larry Eoff who set a new meet mark in the 220 dash.

Byrd racked up 109 points, qualifing 12 individuals and three relay teams for the state meet. Second finishing Fair Park totaled 53½ points.

West Monroe's Rebels blazed to two new relay records dashing off the 440 in 43.3 and the 880 in 1:29.5 while Cline Averett revised the 440 dash record with a 49.9 effort.

SIXTH STRAIGHT VICTORY

Luis Rodriguez Defeats Yama Bahama In Three

NEW YORK (AP)—Luis Rodriguez, the welterweight contender from Cuba, racked up his sixth straight victory Saturday night by stopping middleweight Yama Bahama of the Bahamas in three rounds of a television fight.

Dr. Harry Kleiman ordered the scheduled 10-rounder halted after the third round ended because of deep cuts over both of Bahama's eyes.

Under New York rules it was recorded as a third round technical knockout.

The 13-5 favored Cuban reopened an old wound on Bahama's forehead, about an inch over his right eye, early in the first round. It bled freely.

In the third, Rodriguez' two-fisted combinations ripped the skin over Yama's left eye. Then Dr. Kleiman intervened.

It was only the second time Bahama had been stopped in 89 pro fights.

Rodriguez weighed 151 pounds to Bahama's 158.

A crowd of about 1,060 saw the fight at the St. Nicholas Arena.

Outfielders Lead Boston's Attack Against Chicago

BOSTON AP)—Boston outfielders Carl Yastrzemski and Gary Geiger drove in three runs each, leading an 8-3 assault against Chicago Saturday.

Yastrzemski stroked a decisive three-run homer off loser Early Wynn's inside slider in the fourth inning and also contributed two singles. Geiger accounted for a run each with a double and a pair of base hits.

Phillies Extend Longest Winning Streak; Have 5

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies extended their winning streak to five straight games — their longest since 1960 — Saturday by taking a 2-1 decision over the New York Mets before 7,993 at Connie Mack Stadium.

Cal McLish, the Phillies' 36-year-old curve ball expert, posted his third win of the campaign with help from reliever Jack Baldschun in the eighth. It was Baldschun's eighth appearance and his fifth save.

Jacke Davis, a rookie outfielder with the tricky first name, broke up a tight pitching battle between McLish and southpaw Al Jackson with a run-scoring single in the seventh inning.

Recreation Softball

New Chapel Hill outlasted the Boys Club, 13-10, last night in a West Monroe recreation league softball game played at Southside Park.

The winning battery was Williams and Delouch. Whitehead and Hart pace the winners hitting attack with 2 for 3.

Clark and Wilson were the losing battery and Wilson was the Boys Club's leading hitter with 2-4.

In other softball activity, Mt. Vernon out lasted Brownville Methodist, 19-18. Don Parker collected three hits for the winners, including a homerun. Bill Gates was the winning pitcher.

DELMAN MCNABB, Lake Charles High School junior, heaved the javelin 215-3½ for a new 2-AAA district record Saturday. His throw was the longest ever recorded by any prep school trackman in Louisiana history. Ranking No. 1 in the nation, his toss is the longest recorded since 1959 and is only 10 feet short of the national record. (AP Wirephoto)

Palmer, Snead Appear Best To Represent U.S.

NEW YORK (AP) — Arnold Palmer and Sam Snead appear the best bets to represent the United States in the International Golf Championship in Buenos Aires next November under a new formula announced Saturday by the International Golf Association.

The IGA said, under the revised plan worked out with the Professional Golfers Association, seven names will be presented to the host country, which then may take its pick of any two.

The seven will include the defending individual champion, in this case Snead, and the six U.S. players who have amassed the greatest number of Ryder Cup points on the PGA tour up to July 1.

Since Palmer is the leader in Ryder Cup points by a large margin, Masters champion and the idol of the world's golfing fans, it seems certain he will be one of the players chosen.

Last year the IGA ran into a snarl with the PGA, which threatened to suspend Palmer if he competed in the international matches at San Juan, Puerto Rico, in preference to a conflicting PGA tournament at Memphis. South Africa's Gary Player was caught in the same switch.

As a result, Palmer and Player played in neither tournament. Jimmy Demaret, the golfing grandpa, was hurriedly summoned to team with Snead. They won the team championship. Before this year, the makeup of the U.S. team was left strictly to the host country, with no strings attached.

The 1962 tournament is scheduled for the swank jockey club in suburban Buenos Aires Nov. 8-11. Thirty-four nations are expected to send two-man teams to the competition, which will be 72 holes of medal play.

Palmer's only appearances in the international matches was in 1960 at Dublin, Ireland, where he and Snead captured the team prize. The individual title that year was won by Flory Van Donck of Belgium.

Snead has played in every international tournament since 1956, when he and Ben Hogan won at Wentworth, England. He has shared in three team titles—1956, 1960 and 1961—but has won the individual crown only once, that last year.

Plans for the 1962 tournament are moving forward satisfactorily, according to Sidney L. James, chairman of the executive committee.

It had been feared that the tournament might be jeopardized by the political unrest in Argentina.

Tourney Set At Highland Park Today

Jones' Homer Boosts Braves To 6-5 Victory

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Mack Jones unloaded his third homer of the year, a 400-foot shot to right-center, in the 12th inning Saturday in boosting the Milwaukee Braves to a 6-5 victory over the Houston Colts.

Jones, who drove in two other runs with a double and a single, broke up the 3 hour and 25-minute struggle by hitting the first pitch from southpaw Hal Woodeshick, the fourth Houston pitcher, into the Milwaukee bullpen.

Lions Split GSC Twinbill With USL Bulldogs

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP)—Southwestern and Southeastern split a Gulf States Conference doubleheader Saturday with USL taking the opener 4-3 and SLC winning the nightcap 5-3.

In the first game, USL made it 4-3 with 3 runs in the bottom of the seventh inning after SLC's Roland Oubre loaded the bases and three successive relief pitchers walked three straight.

Tony Alello homered with one on in the first inning of the nightcap for Southeastern, then knocked home the winning run in the fifth inning with a double.

SIXTH STRAIGHT VICTORY

Luis Rodriguez Defeats Yama Bahama In Three

NEW YORK (AP)—Luis Rodriguez, the welterweight contender from Cuba, racked up his sixth straight victory Saturday night by stopping middleweight Yama Bahama of the Bahamas in three rounds of a television fight.

Dr. Harry Kleiman ordered the scheduled 10-rounder halted after the third round ended because of deep cuts over both of Bahama's eyes.

Under New York rules it was recorded as a third round technical knockout.

The 13-5 favored Cuban re-opened an old wound on Bahama's forehead, about an inch over his right eye, early in the first round. It bled freely.

In the third, Rodriguez' two-fisted combinations ripped the skin over Yama's left eye. Then Dr. Kleiman intervened.

It was only the second time Bahama had been stopped in 89 pro fights.

Rodriguez weighed 151 pounds to Bahama's 158.

A crowd of about 1,000 saw the fight at the St. Nicholas Arena.

Outfielders Lead Boston's Attack Against Chicago

BOSTON (AP)—Boston outfielders Carl Yastrzemski and Gary Geiger drove in three runs each, leading an 8-3 assault against Chicago Saturday.

Yastrzemski stroked a decisive three-run homer off loser Early Wynn's inside slider in the fourth inning and also contributed two singles. Geiger accounted for a run each with a double and a pair of base hits.

Phillies Extend Longest Winning Streak; Have 5

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies extended their winning streak to five straight games — their longest since 1960 — Saturday by taking a 2-1 decision over the New York Mets before 7,993 at Connie Mack Stadium.

Cal McLish, the Phillies' 36-year-old curve ball expert, posted his third win of the campaign with help from reliever Jack Baldschun in the eighth. It was Baldschun's eighth appearance and his fifth save.

Jacke Davis, a rookie outfielder with the tricky first name, broke up a tight pitching battle between McLish and southpaw Al Jackson with a run-scoring single in the seventh inning.

DELMAN MCNABB, Lake Charles High School junior, heaved the javelin 215-3½ for a new 2-AAA district record Saturday. His throw was the longest ever recorded by any prep school trackman in Louisiana history. Ranking No. 1 in the nation, his toss is the longest recorded since 1959 and is only 10 feet short of the national record. (AP Wirephoto)

Palmer, Snead Appear Best To Represent U.S.

NEW YORK (AP) — Arnold Palmer and Sam Snead appear the best bets to represent the United States in the International Golf Championship in Buenos Aires next November under a new formula announced Saturday by the International Golf Association.

The IGA said, under the revised plan worked out with the Professional Golfers Association, seven names will be presented to the host country, which then may take its pick of any two.

The seven will include the defending individual champion, in this case Snead, and the six U.S. players who have amassed the greatest number of Ryder Cup points on the PGA tour up to July 1.

Since Palmer is the leader in Ryder Cup points by a large margin, Masters champion and the idol of the world's golfing fans, it seems certain he will be one of the players chosen.

Last year the IGA ran into a snarl with the PGA, which threatened to suspend Palmer if he competed in the international matches at San Juan, Puerto Rico, in preference to a conflicting PGA tournament at Memphis. South Africa's Gary Player was caught in the same switch.

As a result, Palmer and Player played in neither tournament. Jimmy Demaret, the golfing grandpa, was hurriedly summoned to team with Snead. They won the team championship. Before this year, the makeup of the U.S. team was left strictly to the host country, with no strings attached.

The 1962 tournament is scheduled for the swank jockey club in suburban Buenos Aires Nov. 8-11. Thirty-four nations are expected to send two-man teams to the competition, which will be 72 holes of medal play.

Palmer's only appearances in the international matches was in 1960 at Dublin, Ireland, where he and Snead captured the team prize. The individual title that year was won by Flory Van Donck of Belgium.

Snead has played in every international tournament since 1956, when he and Ben Hogan won at Wentworth, England. He has shared in three team titles—1956, 1960 and 1961—but has won the individual crown only once, that last year.

Plans for the 1962 tournament are moving forward satisfactorily, according to Sidney L. James, chairman of the executive committee.

It had been feared that the tournament might be jeopardized by the political unrest in Argentina.

Tourney Set At Highland Park Today

Jones' Homer Boosts Braves To 6-5 Victory

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Mack Jones unloaded his third homer of the year, a 400-foot shot to right-center, in the 12th inning Saturday in boosting the Milwaukee Braves to a 6-5 victory over the Houston Colts.

Jones, who drove in two other runs with a double and a single, broke up the 3 hour and 25-minute struggle by hitting the first pitch from southpaw Hal Woodeshick, the fourth Houston pitcher, into the Milwaukee bullpen.

Lions Split GSC Twinbill With USL Bulldogs

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP)—Southwestern and Southeastern split a Gulf States Conference doubleheader Saturday with USL taking the opener 4-3 and SLC winning the nightcap 5-3.

In the first game, USL made it 4-3 with 3 runs in the bottom of the seventh inning after SLC's Roland Oubre loaded the bases and three successive relief pitchers walked three straight.

Tony Alello homered with one on in the first inning of the nightcap for Southeastern, then knocked home the winning run in the fifth inning with a double.

BILLS FOR SPORTSMEN

Legislation affecting the sportsmen of Louisiana will be introduced in the 1962 session of the Legislature when the lawmakers convene May 14th—eight days away.

Sportsmen should take a vital interest in these bills, since any act adopted by the Legislature directs the course of the man who hunts and fishes.

As we have pointed out before, a bill may be introduced to abolish the big game tagging system which requires that hunters must tag deer, turkey and bear after the kill.

This is a measure or a program that required a lot of groundwork before it was ever adopted two years ago. It would be a mistake to abolish it now, just as the system is beginning to function in the state.

Most of the deer hunters that we know are in favor of the deer tagging system. We urge them to contact their respective representatives and senators and in turn urge them to oppose any move to abolish the program.

Meantime, two Northeast Louisiana solons, Rep. Lasley Downes of Rayville and Sen. J. C. Gilbert of Sicily Island, are planning two bills affecting the hunter.

One is a dog theft measure, calling for fines and penalties against persons found guilty of stealing a dog. This could be a very fine law in view of the number of good hunting dogs that are stolen each year.

A lot of dog hunters, or hunters who hunt deer with dogs, lose their animals by theft during the season after they have spent the year keeping up the dog.

This, of course, is unjust and should be resolved by law.

Downes and Gilbert also have a hunter accident bill, which in theory would place penalties on persons guilty of killing or wounding a man, woman or child during the course of a hunt.

The idea behind the bill is good. Court action should be taken against a careless hunter, but again we point out that the present law covers negligence.

What we really need is the fulfillment of the present law.

Gilbert also has plans for a bill to permit the justice of the peace to handle game violation cases. He wants this measure passed, or is thinking about it, because of the lax attitude in some parishes among local officials in carrying out the law that covers game violators.

Personally, we think it would be unadvisable to permit the justice of the peace to handle such matters. Game cases should be brought before the district courts.

Game violators are prosecuted in parishes where the people want to preserve their wildlife. The justice of the peace is not the answer.

Aside from these bills, we would like to see the sportsmen in North Louisiana join with those from other parts of the state in a state-wide effort to move the Wild Life and Fisheries Commission headquarters from New Orleans to Baton Rouge.

This is something that is badly needed, in that Baton Rouge is better located than New Orleans. Members of the legislature making calls in Baton Rouge would be in much better position to carry out the requests of their sportsmen supporters while at the capitol.

In addition, the commission could operate more efficiently since all other state departments and agencies are located in Baton Rouge.

The present wildlife building in New Orleans could be dispensed with in some manner. Where there's a will, there's a way.

LOBBY IS NEEDED

We hope the sportsman will have better representation from the lobby-angle when the Legislature convenes a week from tomorrow. This is not a criticism of those who have lobbyed in behalf of the sportsman at sessions in the past.

Rather, we are pointing up a need for more lobbying, a more effective lobby, than in previous sessions of the Legislature.

For instance, the Louisiana Wildlife Federation, which is the sportsman's organization charged with the responsibility of looking out for sportsmen ,has had only one man lobbying the Legislature

The executive secretary, Charley Bosch, simply can't do the job alone. It is impossible for Charley to become acquainted with each and every member of the Legislature.

Not only that, it is impossible for one man to speak on even terms, on personal terms, with over 200 legislators.

All other interested groups, or most of them, have effective influence on the Legislature, using numerous people to lobby members of the session on pet legislation.

While lobbying may be distasteful for those who believe in good government in theory, lobbying is a practical phase of our political system. It is here to stay.

So the sportsmen should wake up to the facts of life and see that enough sportsmen are in the capitol to explain legislation that is in the interest of conservation to members of the Legislature. One man can't go it alone.

LITTLE MAN'S CORNER

The storm came, but the little men made news afield. Despite the Monday night flash, the fish continued to bite.

Bream fishing has been extremely good all over the area. In Black Bayou at Monroe, fishermen having lots of luck with the bream were Cecil Tillman, Don Moore, Louis Savanna, Chuch Barklow and Bill Minor, so Bill says.

Tom Fontana, Sid Simmons and Bill Tatum have had good luck with the bass in Black Bayou while Pete Boyd has been one of the better white perch fishermen.

Commercial fishing has been good in some of the streams that are too high for sport fishing. J. C. Bankston of Winnsboro, joined by his brother Clyde of Monroe, hauled in a 45-pound catfish in the Tensas River. They caught the cat on a trotline.

From West Monroe, Bert Hatten and Griffin White loaded the boat with Bream in Horseshoe Lake near Columbia. That was last weekend.

Bobby Gilbert caught 58 bluegills using worms fishing four feet deep in Clear Lake. Jimmie Fuller and Ben Hines caught about 75 on crickets in two hours.

Marion Ratcliff caught 50 in shallow water in Clear Lake.

At Gassoway Lake in East Carroll, Meade Sanford of Oak Grove got the limit of white perch. Others getting the perch limit included Delton Curr, Kilbourne, Dick Wheeler, Tallulah, R. R. Jones, Oak Grove, Rufus Adams, Goodwill, Dave Brown and Nig Woodville of Delhi, Joe Beasley, Kilbourne, and Otis Reece, Oak Grove.

Mrs. Gordon Hardy Jr., and party from West Carroll caught a nice string of catfish in Lake Providence.

And in Saline Lake at Winnfield, bass limits were taken by George Williams of Vivian. A group of Texas sportsmen had good luck with the bass and crappie.

James Snow of Vidalia caught the limit of bream in Concordia Lake where the bass are striking top water baits. From Bastrop, John Blanchard and Lindy Houston say they had a good bass fishing trip in Bussey.

And, finally, from Monroe, Aline Fontana caught a beautiful string of huge chinquapins in Lafourche Lake near Columbia. She says they were really big ones.

Pine Hills Gun Club Honors Go To Jesse Cobb

Last week's shooting honors at the Pine Hills Gun Club of West Monroe go to Jesse Cobb who blasted 95 out of 100 clay pigeons.

Cobb's score was only one better than R. T. Lolly who shattered 94 of 100.

The gun club operates at Bancroft Camp outside West Monroe. Officials indicated recently membership is still available and information may be gained by contacting either Harry Frazier Jr., or Bob Talton.

Officials of the club have urged all members to take advantage of several practice rounds at the club before the club shoot which is scheduled to be held the latter part of this month.

Other scores of last week's action include:

Trap: C. G. White, 83x100; J .D. Taylor 82x100; Harry Carpenter, 67x75; Ross Graves, 48x50; Durwood Cann 47x50; C. G. Pearce 20x25.

Skeet: Ross Graves, 48x50; Lee Vosberg, 41x50; C. G. Pearce 33x50; C. G. White 32x50 and Pete Gonzales 20x25.

GOP Against JFK Tax Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank Carlson, R-Kan., said Saturday he would like to see the Senate decline to take any action this year on President Kennedy's tax revision bill.

"And I don't think I will be alone in that view," said Carlson second Republican in seniority on the Senate Finance Committee which now is considering the bitterly disputed legislation.

But Carlson conceded in an interview that his wish probably will not come to pass.

"No doubt the administration will insist that our committee bring something out," he said.

Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., of the committee told a reporter he hopes to call the group together in about 10 days to start its executive session work on the bill.

But he said it appears there might be some Republican opposition to such a schedule.

The committee plans to call Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon back next week, probably on Thursday, for a final round of questioning before the closed meetings.

But Byrd said Dillon has only one day to spare during the week and some Republicans on his committee are asking more time.

Dillon is leaving on a trip to Rome at the end of next week and will be away until May 21, the senator said.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., senior committee Republican, raised the possibility that the GOP side of the committee might try to develop a split in the Kennedy administration over one of the tax bill's controversial provisions.

This would impose levies on unrepatriated income of foreign subsidiaries of U.S. corporations. Foes of the section have argued it would discourage U.S. investment abroad.

Williams said consideration is being given to a request for testimony from the State and Commerce departments on this point.

"We keep hearing privately from witnesses that State and Commerce oppose the Treasury on this provision," he explained.

The Senate committee completed five weeks of testimony by industry witnesses on the House-passed bill Friday. More than 200 were heard, and practically all assailed at least one of the measure's sections.

Byrd himself is leading the fight against the key provision of the bill—an investment credit which would give a $1.35-billion annual incentive to business to modernize its plant and equipment.

As for the chief money-raising feature of the bill, a tax withholding plan on dividend and interest income, Carlson said he doubts there are votes in the committee to keep that in the bill as it stands now.

The President has estimated this will bring in $650 million a year in taxes now evaded or unpaid because of ignorance.

Teddy Kennedy Seeks Industry

BOSTON (AP) — Edward M. Kennedy, brother of the President and a candidate for the Democratic nomination for U.S. senator, said Saturday he will make personal visits to the top officials of the nation's largest companies to encourage them to locate plants in Massachusetts.

He said his program will begin next Wednesday with New York conferences with officials of Union Carbide Co. and Smith-Corona.

MEDICAL CARE PETITION

N.J. Governor Assails Doctors

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey angrily condemned Saturday a declaration by doctors that they will refuse to treat patients under a proposed federal medical care plan for the aged.

Hughes said the declaration, which has been signed by some 200 New Jersey doctors, is a political device at variance with the vows of the Hippocratic oath.

"I hope, and I believe that most Americans hope, that this threat will not be successful," Hughes said.

The declaration is aimed at pending legislation that would link medical care to Social Security.

Doctors signing the statement declare that they will "refuse to participate in the care of patients under the provisions of the King-Anderson bill or similar legislation."

Hughes said the doctors' Hippocratic oath says, in part, "With purity and with holiness I will pass my life and practice my art."

"This promise does not embrace political devices such as that represented by the threatened boycott, namely to defeat a piece of particular legislation," said Hughes.

The initiator of the declaration, Dr. Bruce J. Henriksen, director of surgery at Point Pleasant Hospital, reiterated that "This is not a doctors' strike."

"It is merely an effort on our part to stop the socialization of medicine—to protect our patients from government controlled medicine."

The declaration is being circulated at five New Jersey hospitals, and Henriksen said he believed more would follow.

GOP Against JFK Tax Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank Carlson, R-Kan., said Saturday he would like to see the Senate decline to take any action this year on President Kennedy's tax revision bill.

"And I don't think I will be alone in that view," said Carlson, second Republican in seniority on the Senate Finance Committee which now is considering the bitterly disputed legislation.

But Carlson conceded in an interview that his wish probably will not come to pass.

"No doubt the administration will insist that our committee bring something out," he said.

Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., of the committee told a reporter he hopes to call the group together in about 10 days to start its executive session work on the bill.

But he said it appears there might be some Republican opposition to such a schedule.

The committee plans to call Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon back next week, probably on Thursday, for a final round of questioning before the closed meetings.

But Byrd said Dillon has only one day to spare during the week and some Republicans on his committee are asking more time.

Dillon is leaving on a trip to Rome at the end of next week and will be away until May 21, the senator said.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., senior committee Republican, raised the possibility that the GOP side of the committee might try to develop a split in the Kennedy administration over one of the tax bill's controversial provisions.

This would impose levies on unrepatriated income of foreign subsidiaries of U.S. corporations. Foes of the section have argued it would discourage U.S. investment abroad.

Williams said consideration is being given to a request for testimony from the State and Commerce departments on this point.

"We keep hearing privately from witnesses that State and Commerce oppose the Treasury on this provision," he explained.

The Senate committee completed five weeks of testimony by industry witnesses on the House-passed bill Friday. More than 200 were heard, and practically all assailed at least one of the measure's sections.

Byrd himself is leading the fight against the key provision of the bill—an investment credit which would give a $1.35-billion annual incentive to business to modernize its plant and equipment.

As for the chief money-raising feature of the bill, a tax withholding plan on dividend and interest income, Carlson said he doubts there are votes in the committee to keep that in the bill as it stands now.

The President has estimated this will bring in $650 million a year in taxes now evaded or unpaid because of ignorance.

Teddy Kennedy Seeks Industry

BOSTON (AP) — Edward M. Kennedy, brother of the President and a candidate for the Democratic nomination for U.S. senator, said Saturday he will make personal visits to the top officials of the nation's largest companies to encourage them to locate plants in Massachusetts.

He said his program will begin next Wednesday with New York conferences with officials of Union Carbide Co. and Smith-Corona.

MEDICAL CARE PETITION

N.J. Governor Assails Doctors

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey angrily condemned Saturday a declaration by doctors that they will refuse to treat patients under a proposed federal medical care plan for the aged.

Hughes said the declaration, which has been signed by some 200 New Jersey doctors, is a political device at variance with the vows of the Hippocratic oath.

"I hope, and I believe that most Americans hope, that this threat will not be successful," Hughes said.

The declaration is aimed at pending legislation that would link medical care to Social Security.

Doctors signing the statement declare that they will "refuse to participate in the care of patients under the provisions of the King-Anderson bill or similar legislation."

Hughes said the doctors' Hippocratic oath says, in part, "With purity and with holiness I will pass my life and practice my art."

"This promise does not embrace political devices such as that represented by the threatened boycott, namely to defeat a piece of particular legislation," said Hughes.

The initiator of the declaration, Dr. Bruce J. Henriksen, director of surgery at Point Pleasant Hospital, reiterated that "This is not a doctors' strike."

"It is merely an effort on our part to stop the socialization of medicine—to protect our patients from government controlled medicine."

The declaration is being circulated at five New Jersey hospitals, and Henriksen said he believed more would follow.

How weekend gardeners beat the bugs and win the blooms

When new leaves unfold, tender growth is most susceptible to aphids, other insects that suck life from the plant. Powdery mildew and black spot begin. Just mix Isotox and Ortho Phaltan Rose & Garden Fungicide in the Ortho Spray-Ette and you can spray danger away.

When buds appear, aphids build-up again, mites menace, many hard-to-control diseases incubate. Don't wait: give a quick spray with the Ortho combination that controls many garden insects and diseases: Isotox Garden Spray and Ortho Phaltan Rose & Garden Fungicide.

When flowers are in bloom and the weather turns warm, plant diseases can ruin a whole spring's work. Protect blooms now with a thorough spraying. Easiest is the combination spray that does two jobs at once: Isotox and the new Ortho Phaltan Rose & Garden Fungicide.

Key to easy weekend gardening: the Ortho Spray-Ette attached to your garden hose. Water pressure does the work. Takes only minutes to spray your entire garden. (It's so simple, you may want to spray more often, especially if there's an unexpected attack of bugs or blight.)

One combination spray controls both garden insects and disease!

Unbeatable combination! Isotox Garden Spray controls over 250 different insects including aphids, red spider mites, Japanese beetles, thrips. Isotox combines four different insecticides—Malathion, Ddt, Lindane and Tedion. The new super fungicide, Ortho Phaltan Rose & Garden Fungicide, controls black spot, mildew and rust on roses, leaf spot on chrysanthemums and diseases on other ornamentals. Using both, weekend gardeners can beat the bugs and win the beautiful blooms!

DEAR COFFEE LOVERS:
A well-known, plush restaurant which is famous for its coffee (but won't let us use its name!) has told us they use instant coffee!

It's unbelievable to me but the boss swears it's so.

The owner says it's not the instant coffee itself that tastes so different but the way people make it. Here's his secret:

Bring your water to a boil . . . then put your instant coffee in the water. Let the water come to a boil again . . . until bubbles come to the top.

Immediately turn off the fire. Let coffee sit a minute or two and then pour into cups.

The second boiling is most important. He also says that no one ever asks if the restaurant's coffee is instant or not; they just want a second cup.

I just made a cup o' coffee for one of my neighbors this way and she says it sure does taste different. I used a stainless steel pan which might have made a difference.

FOR POTTED PLANTS

DEAR HELOISE:
Whenever I leave home on a vacation, I put all my potted plants in the kitchen sink and water them well.

Take any plastic bag and completely cover the plant, making a "tent" on top of the plant.

Each day as the humidity forms in the plastic bag . . . each plant has its own greenhouse! This is also good for starting cuttings. I have had wonderful results.

—Local Gardener

PICNIC WASH-UPS

DEAR HELOISE:
Here's a goodie. When going on a picnic (especially where there are kids) take wet wash cloths, fold each in a small square, and put them in sandwich bags.

Then put them in your picnic bag. The waxed paper bags will prevent the dampness from contacting other things. Also, fold a dry wash cloth or two into another waxed paper sack and have these for drying.

Place both in your portable ice box.

—Richard Roe

SPAGHETTI IN CHUNKS

DEAR HELOISE:
Ice trays are good for something else besides ice. It finally dawned on me that I was spending money on containers in which to put cooked food and leftovers for deep freeze storage.

Now I line an ice tray with waxed paper (two thicknesses) and pour my leftover food in them. Freeze. When hard as a rock, just remove from the ice tray and replace in your deep freeze by folding the waxed paper over and using rubber bands.

Money, time, and costly containers saved. Most of all . . . frozen food may be quickly thawed this way, as it is thinner. Also, chunks of these long, narrow blocks of food may be broken off and only pieces reheated for our lunch.

What a saving to break off a half-block of leftover spaghetti when only that much is needed.

—Lois Rawlins

SPOTLESS EGG PANS

DEAR HELOISE:
For the people who boil eggs in an aluminum pan and don't like the pan to turn dark, just add a dash of vinegar to the water.

—Margaret Meagher

DEAR HELOISE:
To keep my two-year-old from throwing any more toothbrushes down the drain . . . I tied each toothbrush onto the toothbrush holder with a piece of twine long enough to permit boys to brush their teeth.

Not fancy but sure practical.

—Rita Wemisch

QUICK SPICY ICING

DEAR HELOISE:
For seven-minute icing, I have a new idea.

Add instant coffee or tea! Wonderful. Mix with a little liquid or use dry and sprinkle on top of the mixture as your beater beats.

—K.H.A.

CRAYON NAME TAPES

DEAR HELOISE:
I have five kids. All are ornery and preschool age! None can read or write but they do know colors.

I use a box of colored crayons and mark a color in each child's clothes, underwear, on the toe of the sock, etc. A slight press with a warm iron and it will last for weeks. Sure saves arguments in my house about whose pants are whose.

—Mother

USE YOUR TV TRAYS

DEAR HELOISE:
TV trays are wonderful, even though they cost a couple of dollars.

The trays can be removed from the stand and used for bed trays . . . which most of us can't afford. Place two pillows across the lap and lay the tray on top of the pillows.

I also use them with the stand when hanging laundry. Here's the easiest way I have found. Remove two trays from their racks. Place these on top of one another . . . next to your washing machine.

Leave one tray and stand near your clothesline. As each tray is filled with some wet clothes, carry to your clothesline and place on top of the standing TV tray. When those clothes are hung, take the empty tray back to the washing machine for a refill!

Oh, the energy and stooping I have saved by using this! Even my back doesn't ache on wash day.

—Laundress and Mother

***

DEAR HELOISE:
I have a way of protecting my good books that are kept on open book shelves and would like to share it with your readers.

Cut tinfoil (the new sandwich size is perfect) about three inches wider than the thickness of the book. Then open the back of the book, and cover the pages of the book with it. Fold it inside the two bookcovers. Close the overlapping edges neatly as if it were a package.

If I read the book, I fold the foil neatly and use it as a bookmark. When ready to be replaced on the shelf, I just put on new foil.

—Emmy

***

DEAR HELOISE:
One cup of kerosene poured into a gallon of warm water is excellent for washing windows and shower tiles. Dip sponge into pail of this mixture and clean away!

—Jeanne Toye

CAMISOLE CUTUPS

DEAR HELOISE:
I cut my old slips off about ten inches below the waist and wear them for camisoles under my blouses when wearing slacks, etc.

In winter they are warm. They fit much better than anything I can buy.

Celebrating "Law Day, U.S.A.", members of the Fourth District Bar association invited two outstanding speakers to town the first of this week. JUDGE GEORGE HARDY, JR., of the Court of Appeals was here from Shreveport; and BILL BARNSDALE from Washington, D.C. They were presented at several meetings during their visit to the Twin Cities.

On Sunday evening, a dinner party was given in the home of the JESSE McDONALDS. (Mac is president of the Fourth District Bar.) Hors d'oeuvres were served on the patio before guests were invited into the family room, where a ham was sizzling on the rotisserie. Carol used a charcoal brown burlap cloth with white dishes and printed napkins on the dining table. Centerpiece was a black steel disk holding a fresh pineapple ringed with asters and fruit.

The MURRAY HUDSONS were hosts on Monday evening for dinner on the covered patio at their home. Barbecued steaks were served to twenty-two guests ... The Law Day Banquet held Tuesday evening at the Lotus club concluded festivities. About one hundred lawyers and their wives attended.

For ladies only, DOT BREARD was hostess for coffee Tuesday morning honoring MARY HARDY. About one hundred ladies, wives of members of the Fourth District Bar association, attended, including a number from Bastrop ... The entrance of the Breard home was decorated with Siberian iris, euonymus, and daylilies, while magnolias were used in the living room. The dining room table was centered with iris and asters. Goodies included peanut butter sticks, caramel morsels, bell pepper sandwiches, cheese straws, shrimp sandwiches, and coffee.

Dozens of outstanding bridge players from out of town gathered here last weekend for the Seventh annual Monroe Sectional Bridge tournament at Bayou DeSiard country club. This event, held annually during the weekend after Easter, this year attracted duplicate players from El Dorado, Arkansas; Jackson, Mississippi; Houston, Texas; New Orleans, Oplousas, Natchez, Greenville, Baton Rouge, Shreveport, Winnsboro, Vicksburg ... The social program for the tournament included a Louisiana seafood supper Friday evening and a cocktail party with music Saturday night, both at the country club; brunch on Sunday morning at Holiday Inn, hosted by Ouachita Parish Duplicate unit; and buffet supper Sunday night at Bayou DeSiard.

Here from Arlington, Texas, this week was ANN HAR-`OUR, guest in the CHARLES HARGON home. Ann was named guest of honor when BESSIE FOSTER, MARTHA HEUER, and JEANETTE RODDEY entertained with a coffee party Monday morning in the Foster home. Spring floweres decorated the table where pizza squares, tiny sandwiches, and orange muffins were served with coffee. There were twenty guests.

CINDY WAKEFIELD invited extra guests and turned her bridge club into a festive May Day luncheon on Wednesday. Three white Maypoles tied with yellow ribbons and ringed with white and yellow flowers centered the table. The buffet menu included individual salmon souffles, casserole of string beans and mushrooms, and tomato aspic with artichoke hearts. Chocolate chiffon cake was served for dessert ... Four table of players took part in the bridge games, with PAT MADDEN winning high, and COURTNEY CURRY, consolation.

'Twas a little cool for swimming at the PATIO GARDEN CLUB's annual potluck luncheon held at CONNIE JONE's home. Members gathered on the poolside terrace for bridge games in lieu of swimming. The party began at ten-thirty, with picnic luncheon highlighting fried chicken and assorted desserts served at noon. Twenty - four attended, including new club members MERLE BRENNAN and LIBBY MILLER, and guest SUE WARD.

This week we were privileged to visit the new home of the RYAN SARTORS 2405 Pargoud boulevard, an inviting house of old brick with shuttered windows and welcoming front door. The entrance hall is floored with brick, which continues into the family room at the back of the house.

The living room is to the right, with dining room beyond. Walls in these rooms are painted driftwood white, with draperies of matching raw silk on brass rods. Several lovely antique pieces are used with cherry furniture.

Louvered doors open from entrance and from living room into the family room, which is panelled in birch with a fruitwood finish. Books, television, stereo, are incorporated into the panelling in an arrangement of open shelves and louvered doors. The back wall of the room is of sliding glass panels opening onto the patio. The old brick of the exterior construction is seen again in the open fireplace with its raised hearth. The chimney back forms a brick wall in the kitchen breakfast area.

Panelling and cabinets in the kitchen are of fruitwood-finished birch, with glass doors onto the patio. Careful zoning divides this room into specialized work areas, with built - in appliances, utility area, and spacious pantry space. A home-planning center, complete with desk and cookbooks, is tucked into one corner.

To the left of the entrance hall are three bedrooms, two baths, and a wealth of storage space. Daughter CLARA MOSS's room features a pair of antique spool beds with green floral coverlets. Walls are of palest green, with white ceiling and white shutters used as "curtains" for the windows. One wall is filled with built-in desk and a closet with louvered doors . . The guest room, identical in plan, is painted an off-white shade called "martini". Furniture includes an antique cherry bed and matching chest.

"Greenwood" is the color used on walls of the king-size master bedroom. Draperies patterned in greens and browns cover the glass wall overlooking the tiny patio private to this room. Two large double - doored closets are engineered for "his" and "hers." The compartment ed bath has another large closet, as well as a full-length mirror on the shower door.

May Day was an important holiday in the seventeenth century, as witnessed by these lines by Robert Herrick:

Come, my Corinna, come; and coming mark
How each field turns a street, each street a park
Made green and trimmed with trees; see how Devotion gives each house a bough
Or branch: each porch, each door ere this
An ark, a tabernacle is,
Made up of whitethorn, neatly interwove;
As if here were those cooler shades of love.
Can such delights be in the street
And open fields and we not see't?
Come, we'll abroad; and let's obey
The proclamation made for May:
And sin no more, as we have done, by staying;
But, my Corinna, come let's go a-Maying.
Come, let us go while we are in our prime;
And take the harmless folly of the time.
We shall grow old apace, and die
Before we know our liberty.
Our life is short, and our days run
As fast away as does the sun:
And as a vapor or a drop of rain,
Once lost, can ne'er be found again,
So when or you or I are made
A fable, song, or sleeting shade,
All love, all liking, all delight
Lies drowned with us in endless night.
Then while time serves, and we are but decaying,
Come, my Corinna, come, let's go a-Maying.

If jars and bottles are allowed to stand in a solution of dry mustard and water for several hours, the insides of each will be completely deodorized.

If your silver pattern is extremely ornamental, select a simple china pattern, or vice-versa. To have both ornate seems overpowering.

More Color Goes Into Kitchen For Smart Decor

If pastel colors give your spirits a lift, don't be afraid to use them in your kitchen.

Decoration - wise, the Cinderella of the house has gone to the ball, but there will be no midnight change back to the drab kitchen of other years.

Kitchen planning today has not only become a science as to efficiency but a decorative project as well. The color scheme is now almost as important as the choice of equipment, and cooking accessories are carefully chosen with an eye to harmony.

Colors that would have been considered "wild" for a food preparation workshop are now widely accepted. One of the materials that makes pastel colors practical in a kitchen is ceramic tile. It requires no upkeep because the hues are baked in and it's easily kept bright and shining with a damp cloth or mop.

Fragile colors such as forget-me-not blue or wild rose pink lose their fragility in ceramic tile and become as practical as traditional red or blue for the kitchen. Used to pave counter tops, for splash-backs, wains-coatings and floors, the tile eliminates many problems of kitchen upkeep and simultaneously makes its contribution to the decorative plan.

Painting Steps

When painting your doorsteps, do every other one. Use the unpainted ones for mounting and descending. When the first job is dry, paint the alternate ones.

First Methodist Church Is Setting For Gentry-Butler Wedding Saturday

White gladioli, smilax and pyramid arrangements of candles formed a setting in the First Methodist Church of West Monroe, for the wedding Saturday, May 5 of Miss Linda Kay Butler and Joseph Gerald Gentry. Rev. Earl Emmerich performed the double ring ceremony at 3:30 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Jean Corry Butler, 409 Riverbend Drive, West Monroe, and the late Reginald H. Butler. Mr. Gentry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gentry of Columbia.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Miss Biddy Dupree, organist, who also accompanied Mrs. Alex Winn as she sang "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her brother, Paul David Butler, the bride wore a gown of white peau de soie and reembroidered Alencon lace, styled with basque bodice and long sleeves ending in points over her hands. Lace appliques also embellished the voluminous skirt which terminated in a chapel train. Her veil of imported silk illusion was held in place by a pearl tiara. She carried a bouquet of white butterfly roses encircling a white orchid, showered with white satin streamers.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Sylvia Sue Hayden served as maid of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. John C. Lambert Jr., of San Antonio, Tex., Miss Carolyn Wroten of Tallulah; Miss Georgia Butler, Mrs. Buck Fox and Miss Carol Nichols. They wore identical frocks of kelly green silk organza over green taffeta, styled with fitted bodices and bouffant skirts, with green taffeta roses marking the back waistline. They wore matching slippers and their headdresses were of green tulle leaves with brief veils attached. Each carried a bouquet of red happiness roses.

Junior bridesmaids were Miss Debbie Jean Butler, sister of the bride, and Miss Joyce Ann Gulett, her cousin. They wore frocks identical to the other attendants' with cummerbunds encircling the waists and carried smaller bouquets of red happiness roses.

Candles were lighted by Miss Carolyn Gallaspy, who was also dressed identical to the other attendants' and Richard Glaholt, cousin of the bride.

Billy Brister served as best man for Mr. Gentry and grooomsmen were Buck Fox, Leon Miletello Jr., Orlin Hester of Clarks; Carl Ben Brister, and Jim Beard of Crowley.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Butler wore a champagne lace sheath with matching accessories and a green cymbidium orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Gentry, wore a beige lace frock with bone accessories and a corsage of green cymbidium orchids.

RECEPTION

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Corry, 617 Lakeshore Drive, Monroe. A memory candle graced a marble top table, which had belonged to the bride's great, great grandmother, where Miss Melba Beasley presided at the guest book.

The reception table, covered with a white lace cloth over green, was centered with the bride's bouquet. The green and white theme was carried out in the green punch and white tiered wedding cake placed at opposite ends of the table. Arrangements of spring flowers were used throughout the rooms of the home. Miss Ila Kay Guraedy and Miss Arlyne Everitt served the cake and Miss Kay Butler and Mrs. Billy Dixon alternated at the punch bowl.

After a wedding trip to New Orleans, Galveston and San Antonio, Tex., and Old Mexico, the couple will be at home on Gulpha Drive in West Monroe. For travel the bride changed into a black and white checked linen jacket dress with red patent pillbox hat, which matched her shoes and bag, white gloves and an orchid corsage.

The bride is a graduate of West Monroe High School where she was a member of Delta Beta Sigma sorority and attended Northeast Louisiana State College. Mr. Gentry graduated from Grayson High School.

MISS JUDY LANE NUTT

Judy Nutt Will Wed Mr. Bailey

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Nutt of Spearsville, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Judy Lane Nutt, of Monroe, to Donovan Wilbur Bailey. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Bailey of Bernice.

The wedding will be solemnized June 2 at the Camp Creek Baptist Church in Spearsville with the Rev. Kenneth Nutt officiating.

Miss Twyla Nutt, sister of the bride-elect, has been chosen to serve as maid of honor. Miss Peggy Bailey, sister of the prospective bridegroom, Miss Libby Tubbs, cousin of the bride-to-be, and Miss Dianne Foster, will be bridesmaids.

Barry Bailey will attend his brother as best man. Groomsmen-ushers will be Bill Nutt, brother of the bride-elect, Delton Doss and Pete Kelly.

Miss Nutt is a graduate of Spearsville high school and Bish Mathis Institute of Monroe. She is presently employed by the Monroe City School Board.

Mr. Bailey is a graduate of Bernice high school. He is now attending Louisiana Tech and will transfer to Northeast Louisiana State College, Monroe, this summer to continue his studies in pharmacy.

Build Wardrobe Around Basics

Women in the know will collect their clothes and accessories with more than ordinary care this spring. The well dressed woman will select three basic, becoming colors and build her wardrobe around them. No haphazard picking up a dress here, a pair of shoes there, and earrings and a hat someplace else.

Then one makes the awful discovery that they have no relation to each other and the lady finds herself with nothing to wear. The knowledgeable shopper will select three colors that do more for her than any others and buy only what complements those three basic shades.

Accessories should be interchangeable but they must be so well thought out that you never find yourself without the proper jewel, bag, shoes or gloves to go with your outfit. This is not only fine fashion, but economically practical, for happy is the woman who has no dead wood in her wardrobe.

Keep Fresh

Bread will keep better if it is placed in a plastic bag and it is kept airtight by folding the end of the bag over and snapping on a spring clothespin.

Holds On Line

A windy day is a good day for airing suits and coats, but the breeze sometimes lifts them off the line and drops them in a heap on the ground. Put each garment on two coat hangers with the hooks reversed to form a circle, and let the wind blow.

Handy Case

Use a discarded lipstick case to carry bobby pins, needle, thread and pins in your handbag.

Sharon Ary Chosen KA Rose At Old South Ball

Miss Sharon Ary, Northeast Louisiana State College freshman from Rayne, was proclaimed Kappa Alpha Rose for 1962-63 at the collegiate chapter's annual Old South Ball April 28.

She was presented an arm bouquet of crimson roses by Mrs. James Bruno, the former Diane McBride, who wore the KA Rose title last year.

The colorful ceremony at the Highland Park Country Club highlighted the event which concluded a series of fraternity activities for the traditional Old South Week end.

President Joe Thompson revealed the selection of the titled Phi Mu Sorority member to the large group. He was assisted in a feature-filled program by Bill King, vice president of Kappa Alpha, and Gene Briley, third executive officer.

Awards were presented to J. L. Furlow for the KA having grown the heaviest beard during preparation for Old South Weekend and by Charles Wade for the neatest beard. Richard Allwood, who captured the best pledge award, will be presented a trophy during the Northeast State Honors Day program.

Favors presented to special guests and dates of members were large attractive beach cloths bearing the fraternity crest and words, "Old South Ball."

Couples danced under a canopy of crimson and gold streamers. Adding to the festive scene, the color theme was developed in flowers and hurricane lamps which graced the tables. In the reception area of the club were a tall tree with gold roses and a large circular table which held a bowl of lotus blossoms and varicolored stick. Potted plants placed at intervals completed the scenic effect.

Special guests at the affair were President and Mrs. George T. Walker, Dean and Mrs. Harry Lemert, Dean and Mrs. W. R. Hammond, Mrs. Aline Beard, Kappa Alpha housemother, Dr. and Mrs. George Sixbey, Dr. L. M. McKneely and Miss Hazel Stanford, Mr. James Modisette and Miss Carolyn Crawford, Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence Browning Jr., and Mrs. Annie Lee West Stahl.

Girl Of The Year Awards Made At Beta Sigma Phi Founder's Day Banquet

Founder's Day was observed by Beta Sigma Phis in the area at a joint banquet celebration staged Monday night, April 30 at the Paragon Supper Club. Chapters participating were Beta Pi of Monroe; Gamma Iota of West Monroe and Gamma Zeta of Ruston.

Yellow and black, colors of the sorority, were denoted in decorations for the tables, arranged in T-shape, with an arrangement of yellow carnations and greenery, backed by three yellow candles as the central decor. Extending the length of the tables were numerous brandy snifters in which floated single yellow carnations.

Mrs. Norman H. Smith, outgoing president of the hostess chapter, Beta Pi, served as master of ceremonies for the occasion. In observance of the 31st anniversary of the founding of Beta Sigma Phi, Mrs. Alvis Gossett, newly - elected president, gave a resume of activities of Beta Pi chapter during the past year. Mrs. Wayne Shelby, president of Ruston chapter, discussed that group's record for the year.

The Founder's Day pledge was read by Mrs. Roy Gray, Gamma Iota Chapter, West Monroe, after which Mrs. Dallas Lutes of Gamma Zeta, Ruston, read the message from the founder, Walter W. Ross.

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of "Girl of the Year" awards by each of the three chapters. Receiving the award for Beta Pi Chapter was Mrs. Smith, with the presentation of an appropriately engraved silver bowl made by Mrs. Roger Somsen, last year's winner. The title for West Monroe Gamma Iota chapter went to Mrs. Howard Griffith, who was presented a silver gift by Mrs. Gray. A. Tie for the honor in Gamma Zeta chapter, Ruston, resulted in duplicate awards made to Mrs. Shelby and Mrs. Arthur Mason, by Mrs. Lutes.

A gift from her chapter was also presented the outgoing president, Mrs. Smith, by Mrs. Gossett, after which achievement band stars were presented each of the retiring officers of Beta Pi chapter.

Decorations were under direction of Mrs. Bob DeMoss, chairman of the social committee and Mrs. Joe Lister.

Those present for the occasion were Mrs. Roy Gray, Mrs. J. F. Millette Jr., Mrs. A. S. Pierrel and Mrs. Howard Griffith, of West Monroe; Mrs. Dallas Lutes, Mrs. Wayne Shelby, Mrs. W. B. Those chosen for the coming year include Mrs. Henry Colvin, president; Mrs. Thomas Wiler, vice - president; Mrs. C. O. Wilson, treasurer and Mrs. Betty Whitaker, secretary.

A panel introduced by Mrs. S. E. Horton discussed the In-Service program and gave the goal as a better reading program for each child. Mrs. A. P. Burkett, principal, served as moderator.

Mrs. Wininger represented the primary group, whose goal was to improve vocabulary, word meaning, speed and pronunciation skills. Miss Elaine Canady, representing the middle grades, cited their needs as interpretation, recall and a good plan of study. Mrs. C. A. Luttrell, who served as leader of this year's study, stated that the result of the work would be more experienced, alert teachers to start next year on unfinished reading problems.

Thomas Caldwell, Texas Girl Exchange Vows Here

Vows uniting Miss Marsha Annette Perkins of Daingerfield, Texas and Thomas Newton Caldwell, Monroe, were solemnized Friday, April 27 in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, Monroe, with elder Travis Tynes performing the double ring ceremony at 8 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall D. Perkins, Daingerfield, Texas and Mr. Caldwell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan L. Caldwell, 3603 Gordon Avenue, Monroe.

Baskets of large white chrysanthemums and fern were used on either side of the altar to form a setting for the vows. Miss Rosemary Sones, organist, played traditional nuptial music and accompanied Mrs. P. L. Foreman, aunt of the bridegroom, who sang "Because and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown of white embroidered silk organza was fashioned with scalloped neckline, cap sleeves and bouffant skirt. Her shoulder length veil of French silk illusion was attached to a tiara of pearls and iridescent sequins. She wore short white gloves and carried a bouquet of pompon mums and lily of the valley with long white satin streamers.

Miss Carolyn Elizabeth Wills of Monroe, served as maid of honor. She wore a white cotton satin sheath with embroidered organdy overskirt. Her headpiece was a bandeau of white cotton satin leaves and she carried a boquuet of pompons.

Mr. Caldwell attended his son as best man and ushers were Robert V. Mowrey and J. L. Rugg.

For the occasion Mrs. Perkins, mother of the bride, wore an aqua silk linen suit with black patent accessories and hat fashioned of aqua silk flowers. Mrs. Caldwell, mother of the bridegroom, wore a pale blue shantung model with white accessories and white lace hat. Both wore corsages of white chrysanthemums.

A reception following the ceremony was held at the home of Mrs. R. J. Wills, 1907 S. Grand. The bride's table, overlaid with an imported white linen cloth, was centered with an arrangement of white pompons and Dutch iris in a milk glass epergne, flanked by white tapers in milk glass holders.

Miss DiAnn Laird presided at the milk glass punch bowl and the tiered wedding cake was served from opposite end of the table by Mrs. R. J. Wills Jr. and Mrs. William Young and Mrs. Marvin Phillips assisted in serving and guests were registered by Mrs. Don Wills.

When the couple departed for a trip to Chattanooga, Tenn., and Washington D. C. the bride was wearing a light blue silk suit with bone accessories and a corsage of chrysanthemums. The couple will be at home at 109 Galveston Place Southwest, Washington D. C.

Mrs. Caldwell is a graduate of Daingerfield high school and attended North Texas State College, Denton, Tex. Mr. Caldwell, a graduate of Neville high school, attended George Washington University, Washington D. C.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. C. W. Skinner, Phoenix, Ariz., Mr. and Mrs. Carrol Caldwell, Mrs. Floyd Walsworth, Mrs. T. N. Caldwell, of Bernice; Glynda Sue Caldwell, Shreveport; Charles Fuller, Ruston; Madelyn Antley and Gloria Briggs, Downsville.

April In Paris Theme Features TEKE Formal

Members of Tau Kappa Epsilon, their dates and guests were transported to Paris for an April evening when the fraternity at Northeast Louisiana State College entertained Saturday, April 28 in the Crystal Ballroom of the Virginia Hotel.

Occasion was the traditional Red Carnation formal, highlighted by the introduction of the organization's Sweetheart of 1962-63.

This year's honor was bestowed upon Norma Jean Magee, member of Northeast's Alpha Omicron Pi chapter, who was crowned by the outgoing Sweetheart Theresa Danna. She also gave the newly-titled coed a bouquet of red carnations.

Master of Ceremonies Belvin Fontenot presented Jarrett Ketchum, TEKE president, a loving cup, a symbol of the chapter's recognition of him as the most outstanding fraternity member. The trophy was awarded by Dr. E. L. Stockton, faculty adviser to the organization.

Setting for the evening of entertainment and dancing included a sidewalk cafe, the Eiffel Tower and Arc de Triumph. Illuminated street lights and silhouettes of famous buildings added realism to the Parisian atmosphere.

Guests entered the ballroom through the archway and sat at tables centered with wax encrusted holders containing burning candles. Here lime punch and small cakes were served as music was provided by The Tunes.

The orchestra played beneath a large white banner bearing the theme of the evening's party, "April in Paris."

Separating the dance area from the other part of the room was a green garden hedge interspersed with red roses.

Guests included President and Mrs. George T. Walker; Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Stockton; Edwin Mulhearn and Ida McCabe; Vance Bevel and ElVina Perez; Ron Nader and Glenda Roberts; Jarrett Ketchum and Patricia Ketchum; Belvin Fontenot and Annellen Harter; Peter Mangum and Hazel Franklin; Ronnie Davies and Linda Mangum; Wayne Browning and Jan Gentry; David McNeill and Betti Gibbs; Norma Jean Magee and Robert Vance; Carl Smith and Janis Clark; Chuck Schmaus and Lynn Fisher.

Aubrey Spence and Alice Butler; Bruce Parks and Ann Walker; A. W. Steed and Camilla Harmon; Ricky Hallak and Theresa Danna; Ronnie Henry and Verna Mae Black; Davis Williams and Cecilia LaVelle; Charles Cagle and Judith Brown; Robert Shelby and Margie Hammons; Jerry Mingledorff and Maybeth Rogers; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Marchbanks; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Collins; Mrs. Annie Lee West Stahl; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kilpatrick; Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Knox; Glenn Hlue and Lou Ann Wright; Robert Crick and Marty Fowler; Bud Thomas and Mary Anne Terry; Charlie Miles and Helen Reinhardt, Budy Odom and Anne Brinson; King Vidler and Muffin Pierce.

Elis LeBroeq and Mary Ann Cole; Leon Quemby and Kathryn Neal; Jay Shiver and Kathreen Sommers; Roscoe Davis and Halaine Kees; Clyde McDonald and Johanna Englesman; Karl Wallace and Caroline Rabb; Gene Miller and Betty Smith; John McDonald and Patsy Crawford.

Moisture Remedy

Moisture condensation in your home is caused by the water vapor in warm air coming in contact with a cold surface. Such condensation usually occurs on windows and causes the paint to peel off the sill and the wood to rot. One sure way to combat this is to have the sill resurfaced with a waterproof material such as ceramic tile. Colors of real tile will never fade and you'll never have to sand and repaint your sill.

Miss Haughton, Jerry Rockett Plan Nuptials

Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Haughton Jr., of El Dorado, Ark., announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Sandra Rochelle to Jerry Vance Rockett, son of Mr.

Her fiance is a graduate of Farmerville.

Saturday, June 2 is the date chosen for the wedding which will take place at 7 p.m. in East Main Baptist Church, El Dorado, with Rev. Rhine McMurry officiating.

Miss Haughton is a graduate of El Dorado high school and is presently employed by Lion Oil Company, a division of Monsanto Chemical Company.

The prospective bridegroom is a senior forestry major at Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, Ruston.

Chapman-Koch Nuptials Read In Baptist Church

Miss Monika Emilie Koch, Wichita, Kan., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Koch, Neckarrems, Germany, became the bride of James Harvey Chapman, presently stationed at McConnell Air Force Base, Wichita, Kans., son of Mrs. Mildred Chapman, 1516 Nat, West Monroe, and the late Truman W. Chapman, in a ceremony April 21 at Trinity Baptist Church in West Monroe.

Rev. Marvin Stone, Natchez, Miss., uncle of the bridegroom, performed the double ring ceremony at 2 p.m. as the couple stood beneath an arch entwined with smilax, flanked by tall white tapers and baskets of white gladioli and fern.

Miss Sally Jackson, organist, played traditional wedding selections and accompanied Mark A. Tullos of Baton Rouge, who sang "I Love You Truly," "Because," and at conclusion of the nuptials, "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Fred Koch of McCook, Nebraska. She wore a waltz length gown, styled with bodice of Chantilly lace featuring portrait neckline and long sleeves, and a voluminous skirt of silk chiffon. Her shoulder length veil of tulle was held in place by a crown of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and feathered chrysanthemums and streamers atop a white Bible, a gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Juanita Hoener of Wichita, Kans., was maid of honor and Miss Martha Koch of McCook, Nebr., cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. They wore identical frocks of yellow polished cotton with overskirts of white net and ribbon. Their headdresses were bands of white straw, to which were attached white velvet bows and cap veils. They wore short white gloves and carried nosegays of yellow - centered white pompons.

Miss Patti Brown of West Monroe, cousin of the bridegroom, served as flower girl, and wore a frock of lime green chiffon with white accessories and headdress of velvet ribbon bows. Her bouquet was a replica of the other attendants'. Ringbearers, Truman Lane and Raymond Dane Chapman, twin brothers of the bridegroom carried the rings on identical pillows of yellow taffeta with white lace trim.

Neal Duncan, West Monroe, served Mr. Chapman as best man and groomsman was Nicky Rodgers, West Monroe. Candles were lighted by Mike Chapman, brother of the groom, and Donnie Cagle, his cousin.

For the occasion the bride's aunt, Mrs. Fred Koch, wore a dress of voile in muted green shades with white accessories and a corsage of white chrysanthemums. Mrs. Chapman, mother of the bridegroom, wore a brown silk linen sheath with bone accessoires and a corsage of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums.

RECEPTION

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church social hall. Centerpiece for the lace - covered table was a mass arrangement of tulips, daisies, stock, clematis and roses in shades of yellow and white in a tall crystal compote. The crystal bowl of mint green punch was placed opposite the tiered wedding cake, which also carried out the pale green and white theme.

Mrs. Tim E. Ford, Mrs. George Meredith, Mrs. J. L. Furlow and Mrs. Charles Guraedy served the punch and cake and tea girls were Miss Sheila Cagle and Miss Gail Roberson. Mrs. Neal Duncan, sister of the bridegroom, presided at the guest book from a table deocrated with a tall taper and similar yellow and white bouquet.

Chapman-Koch Nuptials Read In Baptist Church

MR. AND MRS. JAMES HARVEY CHAPMAN

Miss Monika Emilie Koch, Wichita, Kan., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Koch, Neckarrems, Germany, became the bride of James Harvey Chapman, presently stationed at McConnell Air Force Base, Wichita, Kans., son of Mrs. Mildred Chapman, 1516 Nat, West Monroe, and the late Truman W. Chapman, in a ceremony April 21 at Trinity Baptist Church in West Monroe.

Rev. Marvin Stone, Natchez, Miss., uncle of the bridegroom, performed the double ring ceremony at 2 p.m. as the couple stood beneath an arch entwined with smilax, flanked by tall white tapers and baskets of white gladioli and fern.

Miss Sally Jackson, organist, played traditional wedding selections and accompanied Mark A. Tullos of Baton Rouge, who sang "I Love You Truly," "Because," and at conclusion of the nuptials, "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Fred Koch of McCook, Nebraska. She wore a waltz length gown, styled with bodice of Chantilly lace featuring portrait neckline and long sleeves, and a voluminous skirt of silk chiffon. Her shoulder length veil of tulle was held in place by a crown of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and feathered chrysanthemums and streamers atop a white Bible, a gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Juanita Hoener of Wichita, Kans., was maid of honor and Miss Martha Koch of McCook, Nebr., cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. They wore identical frocks of yellow polished cotton with overskirts of white net and ribbon. Their headdresses were bands of white straw, to which were attached white velvet bows and cap veils. They wore short white gloves and carried nosegays of yellow - centered white pompons.

Miss Patti Brown of West Monroe, cousin of the bridegroom, served as flower girl, and wore a frock of lime green chiffon with white accessories and headdress of velvet ribbon bows. Her bouquet was a replica of the other attendants'. Ringbearers, Truman Lane and Raymond Dane Chapman, twin brothers of the bridegroom carried the rings on identical pillows of yellow taffeta with white lace trim.

Neal Duncan, West Monroe, served Mr. Chapman as best man and groomsman was Nicky Rodgers, West Monroe. Candles were lighted by Mike Chapman, brother of the groom, and Donnie Cagle, his cousin.

For the occasion the bride's aunt, Mrs. Fred Koch, wore a dress of voile in muted green shades with white accessories and a corsage of white chrysanthemums. Mrs. Chapman, mother of the bridegroom, wore a brown silk linen sheath with bone accessoires and a corsage of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums.

RECEPTION

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church social hall. Centerpiece for the lace - covered table was a mass arrangement of tulips, daisies, stock, clematis and roses in shades of yellow and white in a tall crystal compote. The crystal bowl of mint green punch was placed opposite the tiered wedding cake, which also carried out the pale green and white theme.

Mrs. Tim E. Ford, Mrs. George Meredith, Mrs. J. L. Furlow and Mrs. Charles Guraedy served the punch and cake and tea girls were Miss Sheila Cagle and Miss Gail Roberson. Mrs. Neal Duncan, sister of the bridegroom, presided at the guest book from a table deocrated with a tall taper and similar yellow and white bouquet.

Linda Kay Bird Engaged To Marry James Bailey

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph B. Bird Sr., 132 Lomaland Drive, West Monroe, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Linda Kay, to James Thomas Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Bailey, 808 Hilton, Monroe.

The couple will exchange wedding vows on June 16 at 6 p.m. in the First Baptist Church West Monroe, with Rev. A. L. New performing the ceremony.

Miss Gail Dyer has been selected to serve as maid of honor and bridesmaids will be Miss Judy Cathey, Miss Betty Swink, Miss Charlotte Shaver and Miss Donna Moore. Flower girls will be Sandra Hendry and Jamie Simpson with Randy Bird acting as ringbearer.

Candlelighters chosen are Ricky Bird, brother of the bride - elect and Royce Bird, her cousin.

Duke Hart will attend Mr. Bailey as best man and groomsmen-ushers will be Raymond Agnew, Thomas Kirkham, Richard Whitehead and Bobby Calvert.

Miss Bird is the granddaughter of Mrs. Eva Babin Mitchell and the late James Pierce Mitchell, and of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bird, Marion. She is a graduate of West Monroe High School and is employed in Monroe.

The future bridegroom is the grandson of Mrs. Ethel Oakley and the late T. J. Oakley and of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Bailey of Arcadia. A graduate of Neville High School, he is presently attending Northeast Louisiana State College, where he is a member of Phi Sigma Epsilon.

The couple plans to establish a home in Monroe.

Review Club Hears Talks On Europe

Annual open meeting of the Review Club was held Monday afternoon in the suburban home of Mrs. Durwood Griffin, a former member. Scarlet roses graced the entrance of the home where guests were greeted by the hostesses, Mrs. W. E. Bennett Jr., Mrs. E. P. Cudd, Mrs. D. W. Griffith, Mrs. Craig Morgan and Mrs. L. N. Waddell.

Artistic arrangements of roses, amaryllis, English dogwood and iris were placed in each room where guests made a tour of the home.

Mrs. John Loftin, president, welcomed the visitors and presented Mrs. Fred Huenefeld Jr., chairman of the advisory board. Mrs. Huenefeld introduced Mrs. Jack Taylor, who spoke on her recent trip to Europe. She also introduced Mrs. Jack May who related her experiences as the mother of two young children, a student of the Sorbonne and an alien in France where she and her family resided for a year. She concluded her talk with color slides of her year abroad. Both speakers were presented corsages from the club. Similar corsages were worn by the hostesses and Mrs. Loftin.

Refreshments were served in the dining room during a social hour following the program. The tea table, covered with a golden linen cloth held an arrangement of roses and iris. Mrs. Claude Smith, president-elect, presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Loftin was at the coffee service.

Members and guests in attendance were Mrs. Herschel A. Gentry, Mrs. J. C. Brown Jr., Mrs. Tripp Faulk Jr., Mrs. T. B. Godfrey Jr., Mrs. Ansel H. Smith, Mrs. M. A. Bodron Jr., Mrs. John L. Kelley, Mrs. Travis A. Brown, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Nat Spencer, Mrs. James E. Walsworth, Mrs. Richard Kellogg, Mrs. DeWitt Henry, Mrs. Sam Smith, Mrs. Louis D. Smith, Mrs. W. M. Greenwell, Mrs. A. T. MRS. ROBERT ERVIN WEBB, prior to her marriage April 23 was Miss Patricia Adele Graham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Graham, 709 Auburn Avenue, Monroe. Airman Second Class Robert Ervin Webb, stationed at March Air Force Base, California, is the son of Mrs. Velma Webb, Beesville, Tex., and E. L. Webb of El Dorado, Ark. The wedding ceremony was performed at 10 a.m. in St. Matthew's Catholic Church of Monroe with Father Richard Fale officiating.

Bouffants Out

Make-up will be muted, more pastel and less obvious, and hair will be softer and sleeker this season. The tourtured, teased, bouffant look will melt away with the snows.

State Medical Auxiliary Opens Sessions Monday

Delegates will begin arriving Monday, May 7 for the annual convention of the Women's Auxiliary to the Louisiana State Medical Society, which will convene through Wednesday, May 9 with headquarters at Enaut Hall, 400 Jackson.

Mrs. Glenn Scott Jr. of Ponchatoula, state auxiliary president will preside over the general meeting with the first session scheduled for 2 p.m. Monday. Mrs. Scott, who received her degree in nursing from the Methodist Hospital School of Nursing in Memphis, Tenn., has served as Parish president, councilor of the 6th district, vice-president and program chairman of the state auxiliary before being elevated to her present position.

The mother of two children, one of whom is a student at Tulane University School of Medicine, she is also active in Scouting, P.T.A. and garden club work as well as being an active participant in activities of her church, First Methodist of Ponchatoula.

Welcome addresses at the opening session will be given by Mayor W. L. Jack Howard and Mrs. James D. Kelly with the response by Mrs. Charles Edd Cook.

Reports of social service and legislative work will be made by state officers, parish presidents and standing committees during the afternoon session.

An address by Mrs. W. W. Hubbard, Southern Regional vice-president of the Woman's Auxiliary to the American Medical Association, will highlight a general meeting Tuesday in Enaut Hall, starting at 9:45 a.m. Mrs. Hubbard of Nashville, Tenn., serving her second term as regional vice-president, began her service with the National auxiliary in 1954 as chairman of the tellers committee and has served since in various capacities. She is a past county president and Tennessee State Auxiliary president. Born in Ishpeming, Mich., she graduated from Northern State Teachers College and received a B. S. degree in public health nursing from Vanderbilt University and has a life certificate in teaching and taught elementary school before embarking on a career in nursing education and public health. She has done graduate work at Columbia and was in charge of the in-service training program in the Department of Public Health Nursing of the Tennessee State Health department.

Mrs. Hubbard has been especially interested in the health fields and active in Red Cross, home nursing, PTA and civil defense. She is at present serving as president of the Women of the Church, First Presbyterian church in Nashville. She has a stepson, two stepdaughters and seven grandchildren.

Essay contest awards will be announced Tuesday and after reports of the resolutions committee and recommendations of the executive board, officers will be elected for the ensuing year. Mrs. Gordon W. Peek is incoming state president for 1963.

A luncheon and style show scheduled for 1 p.m. Tuesday will honor Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Hubbard. Mrs. James W. Schonlau will act as toastmistress. Other social events scheduled Tuesday night are a cocktail party and dance at the Paragon club.

A tour of the garden of Miss Emy-Lou Beidenharn Wednesday, May 9, starting at 2:30 p.m. will be followed by a Bayou Terrace party at the home of Mrs. Henry E. Guerriero, 2803 Pargoud Boulevard, honoring Mrs. Peek. A Turf Club supper at Bayou DeSiard Country club starting at 7 p.m. will conclude activities of the three day session in conjunction with the Louisiana State Medical Society.

Spring Concert By Youth Symphony Set For May 10

Observance of National Music Week May 6-13 is planned with special events by the Musical Coterie and Junior Coterie members. Announcement of the local observance was made by Mrs. Felix Willey, chairman for national Music Week at the April 27 meeting of Musical Coterie in the home of Mrs. Henry Whitfield on South Grand.

Sunday, May 6 the Monroe Youth Symphony and the Neville Glee Club will share a program at Forsythe Park Band Shell at 2 p.m.

On Thursday, May 10, Susan Kilpatrick, a junior coterie member, will be piano soloist with the Monroe Youth Symphony, conducted by Roger DiGiulian, at a concert in Neville auditorium at 8 p.m. The event will be open to the public without charge.

An all city grade school orchestra, pupils of Miss Jonnie Bankhead and the Lee Junior high school Cadet Orchestra will also perform.

Sunday, May 13, Mrs. Betty Martin, cellist and Dr. Marshall Bretz, pianist, will perform Sonatas by Boccherini, Brahms, and Chopin at a faculty recital in the student center, Louisiana Tech in Ruston, at 3 p.m.

"Spring Serenade," a concert of voice pupils of Mrs. Estelle Sanders, was held in Neville Auditorium, April 30. Another Coterie member, Mrs. Eloise Stanhope performed a sonata by Prokoffief for flute and piano at the faculty recital of Miss Margaret Morgan at Biedenharn Hall, May 1.

The text and annotations, "Contributions of the Professional to Music Education," were given by Mrs. James Murphy. As part of the program Mrs. Murphy played recordings of music from Thailand. Other numbers on the program were "Allegro" from Sonate in A Major by Boccherini, played by Mrs. Kedwick, Martin, cellist; "Swedish Dance," and "Romance," by Grondahl, played by Mrs. Grayson Guthrie, pianist and "Die Gedarken Sind Free," sung by Mrs. Joe Caskey.

Others present for the meeting and social hour were Mrs. B. D. Allbritton, Mrs. F. V. Allison, Mrs. LeRoy Anspach, Miss Bankhead, Mrs. Elmer Marshall, Miss Gertrude Sandrock, Mrs. Everett Zeagler and two guests, Mrs. Curtis Seaman and Mrs. J. S. Sandrock.

Final meeting for the season will be May 11 in the home of Mrs. Willey at 3:30 p.m.

MRS. KEDWICK (Elizabeth) Martin, cellist of Monroe, will be presented in a faculty recital with Dr. Marshall E. Bretz, pianist, Sunday, May 13 at 3 p.m. in the Student Center at Louisiana Tech.

Add White

In arranging flowers, if you're ever doubtful about the color harmony of mixed flowers, add a few white ones to make the colors blend. The use of white always softens bright colors. Remember to place your largest and darkest flowers at the lowest point of your design. Color harmony and unity of design make for a more beautiful flower arrangement.

Miss Hendrix Is Engaged To Walter Gates

Engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Virginia Hendrix to Airman First Class Walter James Gates is announced today by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Hendrix, 206 Vernon Street, Monroe. The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Gates, Route 3, West Monroe.

The double ring ceremony will be performed Friday, July 20 in Central Baptist Church of Monroe. The Rev. Charles B. Littleton will officiate.

The bride - elect is a graduate of Ouachita Parish high school and is presently attending Northeast Louisiana State College.

Mr. Gates who is a graduate of West Monroe high school, is presently completing an 18 month tour of duty in Crete with the United States Air Force.

MISS VIRGINIA HENDRIX

Float Candles

Melt the bottoms of candle stubs and affix to small foil pans for storm candles. Float them in the lily ponds or swimming pool for a decorative effect when you have guests in the evening.

ENGAGEMENT of Miss Carolyn Ann Halcomb to Thomas A. Middleton Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Middleton of Natchez, Miss., is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Brooks Halcomb of Ferriday. Date and place of the wedding will be announced later.

ANOUNCEMENT of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Dixie Jean Crow to Jordan William North Jr. of Sterlington, is made today by her mother, Mrs. H. V. Crow, Linville. The couple will exchange wedding vows on June 8 at 7 p.m. in Liberty Baptist Church of Linville.

Aid Clutter

Plastic bags can help in controlling the clutter in children's bedrooms or playrooms. Keep all trucks and cars in one, boats in another, animals in a third, small baby dolls and their clothes in others. They are wonderful storing aids for games with component parts such as jigsaws or jackstraws.

Flower Arranging

The stem length is of prime importance in arranging flowers. When using a tall container, the longest flower stems should be one and one-half to two times its height. For a low container, the longest stems should be about one and one-half or twice the diameter. The other flowers should have shorter stems of varying lengths. The largest and darkest flowers should always have the shortest stems, for they appear heaviest in the arrangement.

Spring Hairdos Deflated

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Deflation is setting in for hairdos this spring.

The fashionable head will be small — or at least smaller than it's been for some time.

The topsy - turvy world of hairdressing has had its ups and downs, what with balloon heads competing for coiffure supremacy, leaving the artists of the shears at loose ends.

Now a truce is in sight, and "small neat little heads" will be in the spring coiffure lineup, trend - setters predict.

"Hair length will be short, with bulk adjusted to each person . . . with special attention given to coiffures for smaller women in keeping with trends in clothing and fashions," says the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association.

The association, with a hair fashion committee said to be composed of more than 100 top hair fashion authorities, says hair will be worn close to the head. And it has organized "dancing hair fashions" that "swing, sway and flip up into amusing and diverting curls." Height may be given at the crown area.

A similar trend is noted by Adrian, just back from a visit with Antoine of Paris, whose styles he promotes here.

"Paris hairdos sort of lift off the forehead and there are wings at the temples like a modified pompadour. The sides will be close to the head; back will be shorter than the front. The Brigitte Bardot look is passe in Paris," he points out.

The idea there is to get rid of the sloppy look, the chemise bit," says Adrian.

Americans always go short in spring, he says, but this year the short look will be neat. It's possible we'll adopt the French version, he says, but if we do, the hair will need to anchored with a barrette for swimming and other sports.

The Hair Fashion Council, which promoted a sculptured pompadour look for fall, sees a variation of it for spring with a hairdo that is not so set. It's the fountain look that swirls at the sides in pompadour adaptation.

George Masters, California wonder - boy hairdresser to some top film stars, says:

"I've been doing small heads for some time. The spring look will be short, curly, perky and flattering to everyone and every age, sort of like a wild curly version of the windblown bob of the twenties."

Masters doesn't favor the pompadour style or its variations in 1962.

MISS LINDA LOU ROBERSON'S engagement to Leamon Dale Crane of Fort Stockton, Texas, is announced today by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elzy Roberson of Downsville. The future bridegroom is the son of Mrs. John Crane and the late Mr. Crane, Levelland, Tex. The wedding will take place Saturday, June 16 at 7:30 p.m. in Downsville Methodist church, with Rev. Brady B. Forman officiating.

Furniture Styles Mix With 'Right Ingredients'

As long as you have the "proper ingredients" of color, shape and theme, it's both acceptable and in good taste to mix furniture styles.

First, choose styles that are similar in feeling, formal with formal and informal with informal.

Formal styles usually have the name of a king, queen or famous furniture designer such as Louis XV or Louis XVI or Queen Anne. Informal styles often are associated with a country: Early American, French Provincial, Rural English, Danish Modern. This will not separate all of the styles into formal or informal categories but it covers a large number.

Second, combine furniture in the same arrangement only when it is similar in scale and line. Italian Provincial is similar in proportion to furniture we call Contemporary.

Early American will combine readily with Rural English or with a truly rustic French Provincial. Fine oil-rubbed Danish Modern furniture and Shaker furniture are similar in their scale and spirit.

Spring Hairdos Deflated

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Deflation is setting in for hairdos this spring.

The fashionable head will be small — or at least smaller than it's been for some time.

The topsy - turvy world of hairdressing has had its ups and downs, what with balloon heads competing for coiffure supremacy, leaving the artists of the shears at loose ends.

Now a truce is in sight, and "small neat little heads" will be in the spring coiffure lineup, trend - setters predict.

"Hair length will be short, with bulk adjusted to each person . . . with special attention given to coiffures for smaller women in keeping with trends in clothing and fashions," says the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association.

The association, with a hair fashion committee said to be composed of more than 100 top hair fashion authorities, says hair will be worn close to the head. And it has organized "dancing hair fashions" that "swing, sway and flip up into amusing and diverting curls." Height may be given at the crown area.

A similar trend is noted by Adrian, just back from a visit with Antoine of Paris, whose styles he promotes here.

"Paris hairdos sort of lift off the forehead and there are wings at the temples like a modified pompadour. The sides will be close to the head; back will be shorter than the front. The Brigitte Bardot look is passe in Paris," he points out.

The idea there is to get rid of the sloppy look, the chemise bit," says Adrian.

Americans always go short in spring, he says, but this year the short look will be neat. It's possible we'll adopt the French version, he says, but if we do, the hair will need to anchored with a barrette for swimming and other sports.

The Hair Fashion Council, which promoted a sculptured pompadour look for fall, sees a variation of it for spring with a hairdo that is not so set. It's the fountain look that swirls at the sides in pompadour adaptation.

George Masters, California wonder - boy hairdresser to some top film stars, says:

"I've been doing small heads for some time. The spring look will be short, curly, perky and flattering to everyone and every age, sort of like a wild curly version of the windblown bob of the twenties."

Masters doesn't favor the pompadour style or its variations in 1962.

MISS LINDA LOU ROBERSON'S engagement to Leamon Dale Crane of Fort Stockton, Texas, is announced today by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elzy Roberson of Downsville. The future bridegroom is the son of Mrs. John Crane and the late Mr. Crane, Levelland, Tex. The wedding will take place Saturday, June 16 at 7:30 p.m. in Downsville Methodist church, with Rev. Brady B. Forman officiating.

Furniture Styles Mix With 'Right Ingredients'

As long as you have the "proper ingredients" of color, shape and theme, it's both acceptable and in good taste to mix furniture styles.

First, choose styles that are similar in feeling, formal with formal and informal with informal.

Formal styles usually have the name of a king, queen or famous furniture designer such as Louis XV or Louis XVI or Queen Anne. Informal styles often are associated with a country: Early American, French Provincial, Rural English, Danish Modern. This will not separate all of the styles into formal or informal categories but it covers a large number.

Second, combine furniture in the same arrangement only when it is similar in scale and line. Italian Provincial is similar in proportion to furniture we call Contemporary.

Early American will combine readily with Rural English or with a truly rustic French Provincial. Fine oil-rubbed Danish Modern furniture and Shaker furniture are similar in their scale and spirit.

MISS DORIS MARIE RICHARD

Northwestern Students Plan July 28 Wedding

Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edgar Richard of Shreveport, of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Doris Marie to Thurman Alvin Roberts II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Alvin Roberts of Grayson.

The wedding will take place July 28 at 7:30 p.m. in Noel Memorial Methodist Church at Shreveport. Rev. Warren Blackeman will officiate.

Miss Alice Louise Richard will serve as maid of honor for her sister and bridesmaids will be Mrs. Richard Owen Richard, Shreveport, sister - in - law of the bride - elect, and Miss Sue Hogg of Lamesa, Texas.

William Whitt Rodgers of Ruston, has been chosen to serve as best man and ushers will be Joseph L. Martinez of Leesville and Millard Darrell Delcour, Port Arthur, Texas.

The bride - elect is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude C. Davenport, Shreveport and Mrs. Robert Richard and the late Mr. Richard of Lafayette. She is a graduate of Byrd High School and will receive her degree from Northwestern State College in May. She is a member of Delta Zeta, Pi Omega Pi, Kappa Delta Pi and Purple Jackets.

Mr. Roberts is the grandson of Mr. Rudolph E. Gerlach and the late Mr. Gerlach of Clarks, and of Mrs. William Rudy Roberts and the late Mr. Roberts, Alexandria. A graduate of Grayson High School, he attended Citadel and will receive his degree from Northwestern State College in May. He is a member of Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity.

After a wedding trip to Panama City, Florida, the couple will reside at Fort Knox, Kentucky, where Mr. Roberts will be stationed.

Painted Rugs

Awning paint can be used on summer fiber rugs successfully. It will sink into the fibers without producing a painted look, and it dries to a beautiful dull surface. It has a resistance to water and withstands exposure.

Finishing Walls

It's a good ideal to let professional workmen do the job if you plan to finish a new room with plaster walls.

Couple Wed In Winnsboro, At Home Here

The wedding of Miss Ann Parks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Parks, Winnsboro, to Jerry Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Smith, Harrisonburg, was solemnized April 19 at 7 p.m. in Boeuf River Baptist church. Rev. C. W. Jones performed the double ring vows, against a background of greenery and baskets of white chrysanthemums interspersed with cathedral tapers.

Mrs. E. T. McClung presented nuptial music and accompanied E. T. McClung, soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin over bridal taffeta, with portrait neckline, long sleeves and full length skirt. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a tiara and she carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses atop a white Bible.

Miss Anita Lamburt, cousin of the bride, of Baton Rouge, and Miss Silvia Smith, Harrisonburg, sister of the bridegroom, were attendants. They wore frocks of pale blue taffeta and silk organza and carried baskets of white chrysanthemums.

Miss Linda Sue Smith, Harrisonburg and Miss Melva Jo Bryant of Jacksonville, Ark., were candellighters and were dressed identically to the other attendants.

Mr. Smith served as best man at his son's wedding. Groomsmen-ushers were Billy Ray Smith, Jerry Simon and Bill Parks with Bryant Parks serving as ring-bearer.

The bride's mother wore a beige lace frock with white and beige accessories and the bridegroom's mother was dressed in pink lace with pink and white accessories. Both wore white corsages.

A reception was held in the educational room of the church where Miss Lynn Wall of New Orleans, presided at the guest book. Miss Delores Jones presided at the punch bowl and Miss Fayette Russell, Winnsboro and Mrs. Dug Comeaux of Texarkana, assisted in serving.

For a wedding trip to Gulfport, Miss., the bride wore a blue suit with white accessories and the corsage from her bouquet. The couple will reside at 3306 Concordia Street in Monroe, where Mrs. Smith is a senior at Northeast Louisiana State College. Mr. Smith graduated from Port Arthur Business College and attended Louisiana Tech, Ruston.

MISS CLAUDINE WATSON

Miss Watson, Fiance Plan June 1 Vows

Engagement and forthcoming marriage of Miss Claudine Watson and Larry Ellerman is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Walon Watson of Winnsboro. Mr. Ellerman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ellerman, also of Winnsboro.

The wedding will be an event of June 1 in Oak Grove Baptist Church at 7:30 p.m. The Rev. C. H. Hoover will perform the ceremony.

Miss Jean Watson will serve as maid of honor and her sister's only attendant. Best man will be Jodie Ellerman, brother of the future bridegroom.

The bride-elect was graduated from Winnsboro high school and attended Wayland Baptist College, Plainview, Texas. She is presently a student at Northeast Louisiana State College in Monroe.

D. Childress of Kelly and her fiance is the son of Mrs. Charles E. Miley of Galveston, Texas and Randolph L. Minard of Clayton.

MISS LINDA LOUISE HILL'S engagement and approaching marriage to Leonard Travis Tindall, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Tindall of West Monroe, is announced today by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Hill of Oak Grove. The vows will be solemnized June 9 at 3 p.m. in the Hill Baptist Church of Oak Grove.

Northeast Room Calls For Bright, Gay Colors

By BETTY PEPIS

Q: Our small living room faces northeast. It has an open staircase and bookcase. There is a mahogany desk, piano and Duncan Phyfe table. I have an old silver tea set and a collection of old oil lamps.

A: Room probably needs warm color. Perhaps this suggestion would help: very pale mustard-yellow walls and a somwhat deeper mustard carpet. Have sofa in a medium mustard and draperies in a print of mustard and white. Two chairs could be white (or in the print) and one in Bristol blue. Have blue for accessories. If oil lamps are small, display them to advantage in bookshelf or on a shelf unit for this purpose. If silver set is especially handsome or one you use frequently, have it in view; otherwise, best to store it elsewhere. Paint bookshelves and staircase same as walls.

Q: My living room needs some color but I don't know where. Walls are gray, carpet is beige and draperies are white. Sofa is black and two chairs are gold. What color pillows and scatter rugs? I've been using red.

A: When you get around to painting the walls again, I think you would find that white walls and woodwork would lighten and brighten the room considerably. Have brilliant gold and pure white pillows on sofa and the scatter rugs could be gold.

Q: We are redecorating a small bedroom-playroom for our three-year-old daughter. It has a black asphalt tile floor with beige streaks. Walls are soft green, ceiling white. We also have some unpainted furniture and shelves. Bed will be a studio type. Please suggest color scheme for spread, curtains, rugs and pillows; also, paint for furniture. Should black tile floor be covered with light linoleum rug?

A: Since for the time being, I presume green walls must stay, I would use much white in the room. For instance, white scatter rugs, bedspread and curtains (all washable). For interest, a print in a child-like motif or one of scattered butterflies and flowers in green, pink, yellow on white chintz for dust ruffle, toss pillows, chair seat or slip cover for a chair. Paint furniture and shelves white too.

Q: I have a very small bedroom I would like to redecorate and paint a pale beige. What color for bedspreads, scatter rugs, lamp shades and cafe curtains? Room has walnut furniture and Hollywood beds. Could I cover tufted headboard?

A: Considering the size of the room, here is my suggestion: have pale beige bedspreads and rugs with beige walls and woodwork. Find a pleasant small print in white, beige and pale orange. Use this for a tailored slip cover over tufted headboards, for cafe curtains and for dust ruffles, if you use them. Lamps should be all white.

Q: Would like your ideas for draperies and furniture for our family room. It will have walnut paneling, a white formica counter for service from kitchen and a white vinyl floor.

A: Because a family room should be comfortable and cheerful, a small, gay print might be attractive at windows. It could be in pumpkin, emerald green and white, cafe style, on brass rings and rods. Sofa could be pumpkin color and the seats of bridge chairs could be covered in four different shades of pumpkin, pale to deep. Have an emerald green scatter rug.

Q: Wing couch is covered in a blue and white Colonial print. Low club chair is Wedgwood blue, small Victorian chair? What color for draperies?

A: A beautiful oriental rug in rich blues and reds would be nice for the room. Draperies could be in print of the sofa (if this is available). If not, then off-white draperies made very full and beautifully draped. The Victorian chair could be a raspberry color, using this shade again for pillows or glass pieces.

MR. AND MRS. CLYDE F. O'QUINN of Holly Ridge announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Nancy, above, to Billy Joe Taunton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Taunton, also of Holly Ridge. The wedding will be solemnized in the Holly Ridge Baptist Church on June 15 at 7:30 p.m. with Rev. Wilburn S. Taylor of Dry Prong officiating.

MR. AND MRS. C. L. SWEAT of Winnfield, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Nelda May Sweat to John T. Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gresham Williams of Atlanta, La. The wedding date will be announced later.

TO BE WED on June 8 are Miss Betty Sue Parnell and W. P. Morgan Jr., whose marriage will take place in Chase Baptist Church at 7 p.m. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Edna Parnell and the late J. B. Parnell and Mr. Morgan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Morgan Sr., all of Chase.

ENGAGEMENT of Miss Sue Ann Kiper to Leonard D. Ponder of Shreveport, is announced today by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Asa Kiper of Wisner. The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Ponder, Pleasant Hill. The wedding will take place June 30 in the First Baptist Church at Wisner.

Summer Hats Offer Chic Shade

Advance reports from Monte Carlo, Europe's most popular and fashionable summer resort, underline the early appearance and vogue for "roulettes," big roller hats in ice cream colors to glamour-frame a tan and pretty face. The "roulette's" resemblance to the roulette wheel is only incidental; it's a sure bet that the youthful, gay "roulette" will be topping smart summer outfits all over the United States this season, from Monte Carlo, California to Monte Carlo, New York.

Swing into summer with a brimmed hat, and you're off to a smashing season of flattery, according to early indications from the world's fashion centers. The hat brim may turn up or down, but this year the brim is "it," a charming way to coolness and flattery, and a "must" for summer chic in town.

The cool and sophisticated sunbrella silhouette, brim down or flared out, is an alternate favorite for town wear in its new, airier 1962 styling. The sunbrella makes a perfect companion for the woman who wants to add breezy elegance to a simple summer dress and at the same time attractively protect her hair and face from the sun. For several years now the glamourous sunbrella has grown as necessary to the practical summer wardrobe as white gloves and cool fabrics.

This year a sunbrella or two will head the well-groomed woman's "must buy for summer" list, and head her choice of costume as she goes out for the day.

The sunbrella and roulettes have the smart "more hat" look with the feeling of no hat, thanks to air-borne materials such as lightweight straw, organza, veiling, tulle, lace and taffeta, shantung and linen. Colors range from frosty white and natural to soft rainbow tones and dressy black, irresistible matches to the pretty hues of warm weather clothes.

Belts Play Big Role In

Belts have a big role to play in the '62 fashion picture. They boldly define the natural waistline of a simple sheath; highlight the Princess or long torso lines that define a fashion, or, in the hands of an artistic wearer, they may reshape the entire look of a style.

Whatever else they do, the new belts will add impact of color or size or beauty or novelty.

Sizes range from the widest possible crush belt to tiny string belts. Colors will run the gamut; beauty will be seen in exquisite brocades, jewelled fabrics, ornate buckles; novelties will range from "dog leash" belts to handkerchief sashes that are especially designed to wear with the new low - slung pants and skirts.

Window Dress

Look around your home. Is there a "sore thumb" window somewhere - one that doesn't seem to belong? In two - story homes, it's often found halfway up a staircase. A good way to remove such a window from the "unwanted" category is to dress it up with a pleasing arrangement of potted plants or flowers. An attractive, waterproof and scratchproof material such as ceramic tile makes a protective covering for the windowsills.

Solons To Face Lots Of Issues

BATON ROUGE (AP) —Louisiana lawmakers face scores of issues as they prepare to open the 1962 legislature with a $73 million state deficit.

Legislators have pre-filed hundreds of bills, and announced plans to offer others when the session opens May 14.

By no means the least thorny subject is what appears to be some rough budget cutting needed to keep spending from running far ahead of money in the fiscal year starting July 1.

Talk of higher taxes has quieted since Gov. Jimmie H. Davis said he had no intention to back a sales tax hike.

The governor and his 17-man legislative budget study committee are expected to remain silent on money problems until Davis addresses a joint session.

The budget study group has worked hard and long seeking ways to put finances into order. This may take some of the heat off the full legislature.

Legislative reapportionment an segregation may provide extra fireworks in this congressional election hear.

Major argument could result from the proposed compromise of the Ward-McIlhenny suit, involving a long-disputed claim by private heirs to property donated to the state years ago as a wildlife refuge.

There also possibly could be fire in proposed legislation to clear the way for settlement of the U.S. Supreme Court suit involving federal-state claims to the mineral-rich Gulf of Mexico tidelands. But the administration has placed hope in a tidelands settlement, and lawmakers may be ready to listen to ways to get needed money.

A touchy issue may arise again in the previously beaten proposal to require investment of idle state funds.

Segregation remains a big puzzle to legislators, who have seen scores of their laws swept away by federal court action.

Sen. E. W. Gravolet Jr., a Senate floor leader for Davis and vice chairman of the joint legislative committee on segregation, suggested the state will have to quit trying to legislate segregation.

Several pro-segregation measures have been offered by Rep. Rodney Buras of Orleans Parish, where school desegregation orders have hit hardest and parochial schools have dropped racial barriers.

One, which irked Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., would change Louisiana election laws by deferring the July 28 congressional primary until Sept. 15, after the fall of opening of schools. Long said similar efforts were made in the past to elect certain people, but it didn't work.

Other bills Buras has offered would segregate the schools by sex, require physical examinations for public or private school students when they apply for admission, and remove income and property tax advantages from revenue producing properties of churches and educational institutions.

Rep. Mike John Jr., Ouachita Parish, is sponsoring bills to set stiff penalties against persons or organizations responsible for racial violence.

Legislation is expected to be offered to help protect the state's grants in aid for private school pupils from federal assault. A separate agency is proposed to administer the grants, aside from the present setup in the state department of education and local school boards.

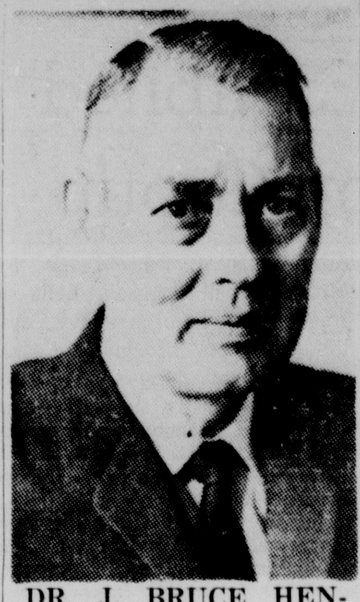
Some lawmakers have expressed discontent with a plan to revise the aid to dependent children program administered by the state welfare department to prevent a cutoff of federal support funds this fall.

The so-called suitable home law of 1960 led to a federal crackdown on the Louisiana ADC program. A legislative committee has recommended change, but some lawmakers would rather throw out the program and substitute one fully supported by the state.

A proposed new system of uniform voter registration will be offered after much spadework by local registrars, the state sovereignty commission and a legislative committee.

The uniform registration plan is built around a citizenship test. Standards would be fixed by law and the legislature would outline steps for the registrars to follow in voter applications.

The Little Hoover Commission, set up to recommend ways to streamline and economize in government, has offered 46 proposals. They range from a proposed central purchasing agency to abolition of the constitutional office of state comptroller and cutbacks in other departments.



DR. J. BRUCE HENRIKSEN, director of surgery at New Jersey's Point Pleasant hospital, started the movement to get doctors to refuse treatment for patients participating in a proposed federal medical plan for the aged. More than 200 New Jersey doctors have signed the declaration distributed by Dr. Henriksen. (AP Wirephoto)

McNeese State To Hold Annual Senate Banquet

LAKE CHARLES (Special) — The McNeese State College Student Senate will feature as guest speaker, William J. Dodd, president of the State Board of Education, at the senate's annual banquet to be held Saturday, May 12, at 7:30 p.m., William A. Robinson, student body president, announced.

Presentation of annual awards to outgoing senate members, and inauguration of newly elected officers and senate members also will highlight the program.

McNeese President, Dr. Wayne N. Cusic, will make a brief address, with Roy Price, men's counselor and student government faculty advisor, serving as toastmaster.

Retiring officers, in addition to Robinson, are Larry Davis, Sulphur, first vice-president; Joyce Guillory, Lake Charles, second vice-president; Marjorie Rasmussen, New Orleans, treasurer; and Angela Terranova, Lake Charles, secretary.

Solon Charges 'Lying' In Estes Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., said Saturday "somebody is obviously lying" among Agriculture Department employes involved in an investigation of Billie Sol Estes, indicted Texas financier.

Mundt is the ranking Republican on the Senate Investigations subcommittee which is studying the tangled Estes case. Mundt scored Agriculture Department officials for calling a news conference Friday on the affair.

Calling this "a sort of kangaroo court atmosphere," Mundt said in a statement: "All that is apparent from the reports of Friday's bizarre confrontations arranged for the press by the Department of Agriculture leadership is that somebody is obviously lying.

"What we need and what should be produced is a careful investigation of all the factors and all the personnel involved. Witnesses must be brought before an appropriate tribunal of Congress and asked direct questions producing testimony under oath where the rules of perjury apply."

Estes, 37, a Pecos Democrat, is under state and federal fraud indictments charging he raised millions by obtaining mortgages on nonexistent fertilizer tanks. He also has stored millions of bushels of grain for the government and was a major cotton raiser.

Mundt said Sen. John L. McCellan, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate investigations group, now has at least 10 trained investigators and government accountants working on the case in Texas and in Washington.

At the news conference Friday, N. Battle Hales, an employe recently transferred to a new job, said Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service officials gave Estes the equivalent of favoritism on some matters.

This was denied by Horace Godfrey, the administrator of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation service, and by other officials.

Commenting on this, Mundt said, "The idea of trying to ascertain the truth among conflicting statements in a widely publicized press conference is too much reminiscent of the Moscow-type flood-lighted public 'confessionals' which pass for judicial procedures in Russia. We want none of this in America."

Further testimony should be taken under oath, Mundt said, with this "subject to cross-examination by trained investigators armed with the facts in the case."

Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., joined in criticizing Agriculture Department officials on the news conference. Case said Hales was summoned with only a few minutes notice and lacked access to documents bearing on the matter.

"This certainly looks very much like an effort by the department to descredit publicly one who may be a key witness in an important matter now under investigation by the Justice Department as well as by the Department of Agriculture," Case said in a statement.

STATE LEGISLATURE

Solons To Face Lots Of Issues

BATON ROUGE (AP) —Louisiana lawmakers face scores of issues as they prepare to open the 1962 legislature with a $73 million state deficit.

Legislators have pre-filed hundreds of bills, and announced plans to offer others when the session opens May 14.

By no means the least thorny subject is what appears to be some rough budget cutting needed to keep spending from running far ahead of money in the fiscal year starting July 1.

Talk of higher taxes has quieted since Gov. Jimmie H. Davis said he had no intention to back a sales tax hike.

The governor and his 17-man legislative budget study committee are expected to remain silent on money problems until Davis addresses a joint session.

The budget study group has worked hard and long seeking ways to put finances into order. This may take some of the heat off the full legislature.

Legislative reapportionment an segregation may provide extra fireworks in this congressional election hear.

Major argument could result from the proposed compromise of the Ward-McIlhenny suit, involving a long-disputed claim by private heirs to property donated to the state years ago as a wildlife refuge.

There also possibly could be fire in proposed legislation to clear the way for settlement of the U.S. Supreme Court suit involving federal-state claims to the mineral-rich Gulf of Mexico tidelands. But the administration has placed hope in a tidelands settlement, and lawmakers may be ready to listen to ways to get needed money.

A touchy issue may arise again in the previously beaten proposal to require investment of idle state funds.

Segregation remains a big puzzle to legislators, who have seen scores of their laws swept away by federal court action.

Sen. E. W. Gravolet Jr., a Senate floor leader for Davis and vice chairman of the joint legislative committee on segregation, suggested the state will have to quit trying to legislate segregation.

Several pro-segregation measures have been offered by Rep. Rodney Buras of Orleans Parish, where school desegregation orders have hit hardest and parochial schools have dropped racial barriers.

One, which irked Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., would change Louisiana election laws by deferring the July 28 congressional primary until Sept. 15, after the fall of opening of schools. Long said similar efforts were made in the past to elect certain people, but it didn't work.

Other bills Buras has offered would segregate the schools by sex, require physical examinations for public or private school students when they apply for admission, and remove income and property tax advantages from revenue producing properties of churches and educational institutions.

Rep. Mike John Jr., Ouachita Parish, is sponsoring bills to set stiff penalties against persons or organizations responsible for racial violence.

Legislation is expected to be offered to help protect the state's grants in aid for private school pupils from federal assault. A separate agency is proposed to administer the grants, aside from the present setup in the state department of education and local school boards.

Some lawmakers have expressed discontent with a plan to revise the aid to dependent children program administered by the state welfare department to prevent a cutoff of federal support funds this fall.

The so-called suitable home law of 1960 led to a federal crackdown on the Louisiana ADC program. A legislative committee has recommended change, but some lawmakers would rather throw out the program and substitute one fully supported by the state.

A proposed new system of uniform voter registration will be offered after much spadework by local registrars, the state sovereignty commission and a legislative committee.

The uniform registration plan is built around a citizenship test. Standards would be fixed by law and the legislature would outline steps for the registrars to follow in voter applications.

The Little Hoover Commission, set up to recommend ways to streamline and economize in government, has offered 46 proposals. They range from a proposed central purchasing agency to abolition of the constitutional office of state comptroller and cutbacks in other departments.

DR. J. BRUCE HENRIKSEN, director of surgery at New Jersey's Point Pleasant hospital, started the movement to get doctors to refuse treatment for patients participating in a proposed federal medical plan for the aged. More than 200 New Jersey doctors have signed the declaration distributed by Dr. Henriksen. (AP Wirephoto)

McNeese State To Hold Annual Senate Banquet

LAKE CHARLES (Special) — The McNeese State College Student Senate will feature as guest speaker, William J. Dodd, president of the State Board of Education, at the senate's annual banquet to be held Saturday, May 12, at 7:30 p.m., William A. Robinson, student body president, announced.

Presentation of annual awards to outgoing senate members, and inauguration of newly elected officers and senate members also will highlight the program.

McNeese President, Dr. Wayne N. Cusic, will make a brief address, with Roy Price, men's counselor and student government faculty advisor, serving as toastmaster.

Retiring officers, in addition to Robinson, are Larry Davis, Sulphur, first vice-president; Joyce Guillory, Lake Charles, second vice-president; Marjorie Rasmussen, New Orleans, treasurer; and Angela Terranova, Lake Charles, secretary.

Solon Charges 'Lying' In Estes Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., said Saturday "somebody is obviously lying" among Agriculture Department employes involved in an investigation of Billie Sol Estes, indicted Texas financier.

Mundt is the ranking Republican on the Senate Investigations subcommittee which is studying the tangled Estes case. Mundt scored Agriculture Department officials for calling a news conference Friday on the affair.

Calling this "a sort of kangaroo court atmosphere," Mundt said in a statement: "All that is apparent from the reports of Friday's bizarre confrontations arranged for the press by the Department of Agriculture leadership is that somebody is obviously lying.

"What we need and what should be produced is a careful investigation of all the factors and all the personnel involved. Witnesses must be brought before an appropriate tribunal of Congress and asked direct questions producing testimony under oath where the rules of perjury apply."

Estes, 37, a Pecos Democrat, is under state and federal fraud indictments charging he raised millions by obtaining mortgages on nonexistent fertilizer tanks. He also has stored millions of bushels of grain for the government and was a major cotton raiser.

Mundt said Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate investigations group, now has at least 10 trained investigators and government accountants working on the case in Texas and in Washington.

At the news conference Friday, N. Battle Hales, an employe recently transferred to a new job, said Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service officials gave Estes the equivalent of favoritism on some matters.

This was denied by Horace Godfrey, the administrator of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation service, and by other officials.

Commenting on this, Mundt said, "The idea of trying to ascertain the truth among conflicting statements in a widely publicized press conference is too much reminiscent of the Moscow-type flood-lighted public 'confessionals' which pass for judicial procedures in Russia. We want none of this in America."

Further testimony should be taken under oath, Mundt said, with this "subject to cross-examination by trained investigators armed with the facts in the case."

Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., joined in criticizing Agriculture Department officials on the news conference. Case said Hales was summoned with only a few minutes notice and lacked access to documents bearing on the matter.

"This certainly looks very much like an effort by the department to descredit publicly one who may be a key witness in an important matter now under investigation by the Justice Department as well as by the Department of Agriculture," Case said in a statement.

Many Colors In Zinnias

By AUDREY H. DAWSON

If you want to plant seed that will germinate quickly and give you color and cut flowers, select some of the zinnias. And if color is what you want there's every color to be found in the zinnias.

If you need blue or white in your landscape, buy some plumbago plants at your nursery now. This plant produces small white or blue flowers. It is hardy and blooms a long time. As far as I know, this plant is never attacked by disease or insects. The lovely shade of blue in the blue plumbago is most interesting and there are very few blue flowers. Yet blue is a cool color that is excellent for the garden in summer. It seems to me that his plant is not used nearly so much in this section as it is in the Baton Rouge area. It is an excellent plant for the summer garden.

Other plants to give color which you may choose include: Salvia, hibiscus, candle stick tree, croton and ornamental pepper.

PLANT NOW

Be sure to plant a few hibiscus plants now. These plants belong to the cotton family so they need well drained soil and sun. Hibiscus planted in the shade will not give as many blooms as those planted in the sun, and, too, I've found that those planted in the shade have an awful lot of buds to drop, so select a well drained area that has a great deal of sun during the day for your hibiscus plants.

May is the month for setting out chrysanthemums. The All-American selections for this year are Knockout and Flameburst.

WINTER DAMAGE

We may not know exactly how much damage this past winter freeze did to some of our plants until late spring or early summer. Check your azaleas and remove branches of split bark and dying leaves.

The Peace Corps is asking for 500 home economists to fill program assignments this coming year. Many of the developing nations are asking for help from home economists, with the largest number of requests coming from Latin America according to R. Sargent Shriner, director of the Peace Corps. Such countries as Brazil, Nigeria, Venezuela and India want home economists to serve as home demonstration agents, teachers of nutrition and health, clothing and textile designers. To date, home economists are already serving in the Peace Corps in Chili, Nigeria and the island of St. Lucia in the West Indies Federation. Some 8,000 students graduate with degrees in home economics each year in the U.S. However, this number does not nearly fill the demand. There are more jobs open on file than trained people to fill them. The shortage is especially acute for home economists with advanced degress.

STEAM IRON

Homemakers are still calling about cleaning steam iron. Use white vinegar and water, about one-half cup, let this steam out of iron. You may need to repeat if iron is in bad shape. Remember, if you use distilled water which has been demineralized the values and vents will not clog. Use rain water or water from defrosting refrigerator or you may buy distilled water. The best way to get rain water is to set glass or enamel container in open area, do not collect that which comes from the roof of the house.

COUNCIL MEETING

Yours truly will be in Baton Rouge May 8, 9, 10 attending State Council meeting. Home Demonstration Club members from Ouachita who will attend the state meeting are: Mrs. L. J. Bower, president of Parish Council, Mrs. W. F. Carson, Mrs. Leon Sims and Mrs. C. D. Henderson, District Director.

Mrs. W. F. Carson will appear on the Tuesday night program in a novelty number.

FASHION NOTES

The shirtwaist dress is really popular this season. It is appealingly youthful and feminine with tucks and pleats on bodice and sleeves. High necklines with demure collars and bows provide the feminine touch.

Necklines make news in the fashion world. They can be bare, scainted, draped or collared. Buttons are important anchoring a scarf or asymmetrically closing the bodice.

Shirt lengths remain short, so no exaggerated as previous seasons. There seems very little indication at the moment that the length will alter perceptively for a few months despite rumors.

Daytime shoes will have more of an open look achieved by lacy cut outs on the vamp, large post holes along the sides, cut down sides, with dressier versions of the new colored patents. Walking and suit shoes are their most tailored this season.

According to leather industries of America, for the cocktail hour and later, gold is seen in every leather finish, from irradescent patent leather to crushed and grained leathers.

A THOUGHT

Work for the normal healthy person should be one of the greatest joys of life.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

A tailor trix pressing board has been awarded this week to Mrs. Charles Pulliam, Louisville, Ky., for this handy suggestion:

"A pair of spring - type earmuffs slipped over the shoulders, serves as a handy pin cushion when you are sewing. The pin cushion is out of the way, but always within reach of either hand."

CORD PIPING

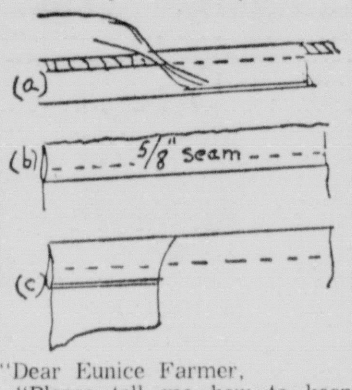
"Dear Eunice;

"Could you please tell me how to put corded piping in the waist of little girls' dresses and still attach a full gathered skirt I either manage to get the skirt on uneven or get the piping on eneven, with part of the stitching showing." MRS. F.B.

Dear Mrs. E.B.:

Whether the corded piping is inserted at the waistline, in a collar, or at the neckline, it is fairly simple to keep even if you use the following precautions.

1. Place a strip of BIAS fabric over your cording and machine stitch very close to the cording. A zipper foot is recommended for this. 2. Cut the two raw edges of the fabric ⅝ inch from the machine stitching line. 3. Baste the covered cording to your garment, with the machine stitching on the cording EXACTLY over the seam line of your garment. 4. Machine stitch the cording to your garment on this stitching line. You can now check to see if it is nice and even. 5. Place the other section of your garment in place, whether it is the collar facing, neck facing, or skirt of a dress, and pin the outer edges together. Machine stitch from the side where the previous stitching shows, using the previous stitching as a guide. It will come out perfect every time.



"Dear Eunice Farmer,

"Please tell me how to keep a pleated or shirred cummerbund about 4 inches wide from rolling up like a string when worn? I have tried using various interfacings but nothing seems to work." MRS A.R.

To keep a cummerbund from rolling over, whether pleated or shirred, apply feather - boning to the wrong side. This is usually placed at each side seam and then if the cummerbund has a center-back closing, apply another strip of feather boning to each side of the center back. Be sure to clip the boning back from the covered edges and fold the fabric over the edge so the boning will not stick you. The edges of the fabric-covered boning can be hand - whipped or machine stitched to your cummerbund, depending on whether it would be best for the stitching to show or to be invisible.

PREVENT PUCKER

"Dear Eunice,

"How can we keep the hems of cotton dresses from puckering up after they have been washed?" MRS. M.B.

Dear Mrs. M. B.:

When hem tape is to be used for the hem of anything that is washable, place the tape in hot water and press it dry before applying to your garment. It does have a tendency to shrink and that is what is causing your skirts to pucker.

"Dear Eunice Farmer.

"I recently purchased a permanently - pleated Arnel jersey dress, which is too long and has to be shortened. Can you please tell me how to do this so it will not "bell" out at the bottom. Any tips you can give on the handling of Arnel jersey would be more than welcome. MRS G.L.M.

SHORTEN AT TOP

Dear Mrs. G.L.M:

In most cases, a jersey skirt will hang better if it is shortened at the waistline. I know this seems to be a big job, but actually it isn't any bigger than trying to repress all the pleats and, as you say, it is virtually impossible to keep the skirt from "belling" out at the bottom.

When working with any type of jersey or knitted fabric, there are a few things to remember that will make it a little easier to get that "professional look."

First, use a slightly longer machine stitch than you would normally use, this will take the place of loosening the tension. Next, as you machine stitch, pull your fabric SLIGHTLY, in order to give the stitching the same elasticity you have in the fabric. If you do this, the stitches won't crack and break as they so often do in garments made of any knitted type frabric. When putting in the hem by hand, again use loose stitches to keep them from showing.

Please send your questions to Sew Simple in care of Monroe Morning World. Your problems are shared by many women and we can all help each other.

SOUTHERN GARDENER

Summer, Fall Bulb Blooms

By WILLIAM LANIER HUNT

Right now is the time to begin to look for the wonderful late-summer - and fall - blooming bulbs. Order the catalogues of the west coast and Florida bulb dealers and any others you can find who offer the new kinds of spider lilies, sternbergias, amarcrinum and the hardy cyclamens, right now. It will take a week or two to get the catalogues, and the bulbs can be procured by late June or early July and planted to bloom for you from mid - July on into the fall months.

SURPISE

You may be surprised at the number of different kinds of spider lilies (lycoris) you will find in this year's catalogues. Some of the rare kinds are now on the market, and even one bulb of lycoris sprengeri, L. incarnata, L. traubii or any of the other new ones is a treasure because a single scape of these flowers is such a thing of beauty. You may wish to buy more bulbs of the mid - July blooming lycoris squamigera, the mid - July blooming big pink spider lily now so well known and down in price enough to make it practical to buy this one by the dozen. Perhaps, you know it as Hall's amaryllis.

Right after Hall's amaryllis in late July or early August, comes another big spider lily nearly like it. This one is lycoris sprengeri with slightly deeper pink-purple flowers that turn sky blue.

At about the same time, though sometimes earlier, comes a light pink kind with deep red-purple stripes. This one is L. incarnata. Some of the rare "white" spider lilies follow, and then the old red spider lily.

OTHERS

The same catalogues that carry spider lilies also list the yellow sternbergias, the red and the pink Chile lilies (rhodophiala), the pink amar - crinums and the little hardy cyclamens.

Cyclamen neapolitanum will bloom for you from little potted bulbs planted in the summer. If you buy the dried corms from bulb dealers who import them from Europe each year, they will not usually bloom for a year. After this little plant is established in a woodsy spot with some bone meal and leaf mold worked into the soil, it will begin to flower every summer about the 4th of July and send up more and more flowers until frost.

The leaves will come out and eventually smother the flowers after fall rains. The corms get bigger and bigger until they are the size of your head. So you can see that a hardy cyclamen is a permanent fixture.

We suggest that you buy the potted corms of cyclamens and get one or more each of the different kinds of offered. Then you will have cyclamen flowers almost the year 'round. When you have enough to pick them, you will have a real garden luxury. Travellers in the European alps in spring and summer buy the tiny cyclamens as alpen violets. As usual, the column will be glad to return your self-addressed postal with the names and - addresses of the nurseries which handle all the bulbs mentioned here.

GARDEN CENTER NOTES

Flowers Exhibited By Bastrop Group

By MRS. JOHN TOLAR

The Bastrop Garden Club presented the flower show on T.V. and at the garden center this past week.

Unusual plants and flowers were used in the arrangements and displayed for horticulture which made this an interesting as well as lovely show in every way. Five of the eight arrangements, brought were displayed on T.V., and judged by an accredited flower show judge, Mrs. V. S. Garnett of Monroe. Also, some of the lovely horticulture specimens were shown on T.V., and all of it was displayed at the garden center after the show for the rest of the week.

Time would not permit the full show on T.V. We were so proud that we had much beauty to display. Thanks to the Bastrop Garden Club ladies for this unusual flower show. By the way, their president is Mrs. Emmett Barham.

HIGHEST SCORING

The highest scoring arrangement was made by Mrs. Keahey. Her vertical line arrangement was scored 95 by the judge. The first placement was three stalks of cane bamboo in a needle point cup holder which was placed in a low, round wooden bowl. The focal was achieved by the placement of one apricot colored beared iris. Rolled canna leaves were placed to accent this iris, also, to hide the holder. Polished rocks were placed around the holder for added interest and color. It was a very lovely and long-lasting design.

Mrs. W. P. Stephenson made an assymetrical design — all green foliage arrangement. Clipped iris foliage was used for the primary line, and tallest placement. This line was filled in with calla leaves, tiered and clustered around the focal area. The center of interest was a cluster or rosette of green poppy seeds. The container for this design was a very modern pillar vase, green long-lasting. This design scored second place in the show with a grade of 90.

THIRD PLACE

Mrs. Scott Bautt received third place with a score of 86 on her vertical design made by the placement of iris leaves for the primary line accented by curled calla lily leaves in a beige colored ceramic compote container. For filler at the base of the design she used the calla leaves to accent the focal interst which was achieved by the placement of one large red amoryllis blossom in the central area of the design.

Mrs. Charles Gray and Mrs. Roy Florence rated honorable mention on their designs. Mrs. Gray used a figurine, the bust of Christ, in her lovely church design. This figurine inspired this vertical design which was made by the placement of one stalk of white flox glove in a white satin finished urn container. The bust was used in the focal area. English dogwood was placed on each side of the figurine to accent it and fill in the design for balance and contrast. This would be lovely for the church vestibule, library or study.

TIRANGLE DESIGN

Mrs. Florence used white and blue iris with dock to form a massed triangle design in a white compote container. The line was made of dock accented with iris leaves. The iris with buds filled-in the triangle design. It would be very lovely for any room, especially the hall table.

The figurine of Christ was made by Mrs. B. T. Young, and was very lovely.

For horticulture the ladies brought a show within itself. As I mentioned, due to lack of time we could not show all of it on TV., but, we had a lovely show at the garden center. It is a real treat to have such lovely flowers to "show-off," especially when they are grown by our garden members. Double fox-glove, cerese in color was brought by Mrs. B. O. Priest. She also brought purple and pink larkspur and white sweet william. The large Mexican daisy, sometimes called Admiral Byrd, was brought by Mrs. Mitchell Johnson. Bells of Ireland, Burnt orange ivy, and tamarax were brought by Mrs. Charles Gray. Mrs. O. L. Alexander brought a lovely yellow and white blended iris. Queen Elizabeth rose, by Mrs. Dora McClain, a collection of amoryllis was brought by Mrs. C. L. Cain Jr. These included the orange-red the deep red and the white with red stripes. Hope you saw these lovely flowers last week.

Be sure to watch for our next show Wednesday on T.V. and at the Center which will be brought to you by Dr. John Wright, professor of horticulture at Louisiana Tech.

Reminder—Last week I promised to give the schedule of Truman Quinton, horticulturist and noted plant pathologist from Jackson, Miss., while visiting in Monroe this week, Monday through Friday. Quinton will confer with members of garden clubs and their friends about their plant problems. He is scheduled to be in the following gardens in Monroe:

EXTENSION NEWS

Many Colors In Zinnias

By AUDREY H. DAWSON

If you want to plant seed that will germinate quickly and give you color and cut flowers, select some of the zinnias. And if color is what you want there's every color to be found in the zinnias.

If you need blue or white in your landscape, buy some plumbago plants at your nursery now. This plant produces small white or blue flowers. It is hardy and blooms a long time. As far as I know, this plant is never attacked by disease or insects. The lovely shade of blue in the blue plumbago is most interesting and there are very few blue flowers. Yet blue is a cool color that is excellent for the garden in summer. It seems to me that his plant is not used nearly so much in this section as it is in the Baton Rouge area. It is an excellent plant for the summer garden.

Other plants to give color which you may choose include Salvia, hibiscus, candle stick tree, croton and ornamental pepper.

PLANT NOW

Be sure to plant a few hibiscus plants now. These plants belong to the cotton family so they need well drained soil and sun. Hibiscus planted in the shade will not give as many blooms as those planted in the sun, and, too, I've found that those planted in the shade have an awful lot of buds to drop, so select a well drained area that has a great deal of sun during the day for your hibiscus plants.

May is the month for setting out chrysanthemums. The All-American selections for this year are Knockout and Flameburst.

WINTER DAMAGE

We may not know exactly how much damage this past winter freeze did to some of our plants until late spring or early summer. Check your azaleas and remove branches of split bark and dying leaves.

The Peace Corps is asking for 500 home economists to fill program assignments this coming year. Many of the developing nations are asking for help from home economists, with the largest number of requests coming from Latin America according to R. Sargent Shriner, director of the Peace Corps. Such countries as Brazil, Nigeria, Venezuela and India want home economists to serve as home demonstration agents, teachers of nutrition and health, clothing and textile designers. To date, home economists are already serving in the Peace Corps in Chili, Nigeria and the island of St. Lucia in the West Indies Federation. Some 8,000 students graduate with degrees in home economics each year in the U.S. However, this number does not nearly fill the demand. There are more jobs open on file than trained people to fill them. The shortage is especially acute for home economists with advanced degress.

STEAM IRON

Homemakers are still calling about cleaning steam iron. Use white vinegar and water, about one-half cup, let this steam out of iron. You may need to repeat if iron is in bad shape. Remember, if you use distilled water which has been demineralized the values and vents will not clog. Use rain water or water from defrosting refrigerator or you may buy distilled water. The best way to get rain water is to set glass or enamel container in open area, do not collect that which comes from the roof of the house.

COUNCIL MEETING

Yours truly will be in Baton Rouge May 8, 9, 10 attending State Council meeting. Home Demonstration Club members from Ouachita who will attend the state meeting are Mrs. L. J. Bower, president of Parish Council, Mrs. W. F. Carson, Mrs. Leon Sims and Mrs. C. D. Henderson, District Director.

Mrs. W. F. Carson will appear on the Tuesday night program in a novelty number.

FASHION NOTES

The shirtwaist dress is really popular this season. It is appealingly youthful and feminine with tucks and pleats on bodice and sleeves. High necklines with demure collars and bows provide the feminine touch.

Necklines make news in the fashion world. They can be bare, scainted, draped or collared. Buttons are important anchoring a scarf or asymmetrically closing the bodice.

Shirt lengths remain short, so no exaggerated as previous seasons. There seems very little indication at the moment that the length will alter perceptively for a few months despite rumors.

Daytime shoes will have more of an open look achieved by lacy cut outs on the vamp, large post holes along the sides, cut down sides, with dressier versions of the new colored patents. Walking and suit shoes are their most tailored this season.

According to leather industries of America, for the cocktail hour and later, gold is seen in every leather finish, from irradescent patent leather to crushed and grained leathers.

A THOUGHT

Work for the normal healthy person should be one of the greatest joys of life.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

A tailor trix pressing board has been awarded this week to Mrs. Charles Pulliam, Louisville, Ky., for this handy suggestion.

"A pair of spring - type earmuffs slipped over the shoulders, serves as a handy pin cushion when you are sewing. The pin cushion is out of the way, but always within reach of either hand."

CORD PIPING

"Dear Eunice:

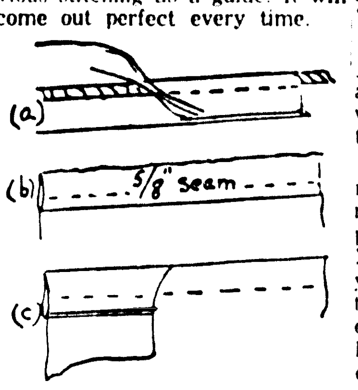
"Could you please tell me how to put corded piping in the waist of little girls' dresses and still attach a full gathered skirt. I either manage to get the skirt on uneven or get the piping on eneven, with part of the stitching showing."

MRS. F. B.

Dear Mrs. F. B.

Whether the corded piping is inserted at the waistline, in a collar, or at the neckline, it is fairly simple to keep even if you use the following precautions.

1. Place a strip of BIAS fabric over your cording and machine stitch very close to the cording. A zipper foot is recommended for this. 2. Cut the two raw edges of the fabric 5/8 inch from the machine stitching line. 3. Baste the covered cording to your garment, with the machine stitching on the cording EXACTLY over the seam line of your garment. 4. Machine stitch the cording to your garment on this stitching line. You can now check to see if it is nice and even. 5. Place the other section of your garment in place, whether it is the collar facing, neck facing, or skirt of a dress, and pin the outer edges together. Machine stitch from the side where the previous stitching shows, using the previous stitching as a guide. It will come out perfect every time.



"Dear Eunice Farmer,

"Please tell me how to keep a pleated or shirred cummerbund about 4 inches wide from rolling up like a string when worn? I have tried using various interfacings but nothing seems to work."

MRS. A. R.

To keep a cummerbund from rolling over, whether pleated or shirred, apply feather - boning to the wrong side. This is usually placed at each side seam and then if the cummerbund has a center-back closing, apply another strip of feather boning to each side of the center back. Be sure to clip the boning back from the covered edges and fold the fabric over the edge so the boning will not stick you. The edges of the fabric-covered boning can be hand - whipped or machine stitched to your cummerbund, depending on whether it would be best for the stitching to show or to be invisible.

PREVENT PUCKER

"Dear Eunice,

"How can we keep the hems of cotton dresses from puckering up after they have been washed?"

MRS. M.B.

Dear Mrs. M. B.

When hem tape is to be used for the hem of anything that is washable, place the tape in hot water and press it dry before applying to your garment. It does have a tendency to shrink and that is what is causing your skirts to pucker.

"Dear Eunice Farmer.

"I recently purchased a permanently - pleated Arnel jersey dress, which is too long and has to be shortened. Can you please tell me how to do this so it will not "bell" out at the bottom. Any tips you can give on the handling of Arnel jersey would be more than welcome.

MRS. G.L.M.

SHORTEN AT TOP

Dear Mrs. G.L.M.

In most cases, a jersey skirt will hang better if it is shortened at the waistline. I know this seems to be a big job, but actually it isn't any bigger than trying to repress all the pleats and, as you say, it is virtually impossible to keep the skirt from "belling" out at the bottom.

When working with any type of jersey or knitted fabric, there are a few things to remember that will make it a little easier to get that "professional look."

First, use a slightly longer machine stitch than you would normally use, this will take the place of loosening the tension. Next, as you machine stitch, pull your fabric SLIGHTLY, in order to give the stitching the same elasticity you have in the fabric. If you do this, the stitches won't crack and break as they so often do in garments made of any knitted type frabric. When putting in the hem by hand, again use loose stitches to keep them from showing.

Please send your questions to Sew Simple in care of Monroe Morning World. Your problems are shared by many women and we can all help each other.

SOUTHERN GARDENER

Summer, Fall Bulb Blooms

By WILLIAM LANIER HUNT

Right now is the time to begin to look for the wonderful late-summer - and fall - blooming bulbs. Order the catalogues of the west coast and Florida bulb dealers and any others you can find who offer the new kinds of spider lilies, sternbergias, amarcrinum and the hardy cyclamens, right now. It will take a week or two to get the catalogues, and the bulbs can be procured by late June or early July and planted to bloom for you from mid - July on into the fall months.

SURPISE

You may be surprised at the number of different kinds of spider lilies (lycoris) you will find in this year's catalogues. Some of the rare kinds are now on the market, and even one bulb of lycoris sprengeri, L. incarnata, L. traubii or any of the other new ones is a treasure because a single scape of these flowers is such a thing of beauty. You may wish to buy more bulbs of the mid - July blooming lycoris squamigera, the mid - July blooming big pink spider lily now so well known and down in price enough to make it practical to buy this one by the dozen. Perhaps, you know it as Hall's amaryllis.

Right after Hall's amaryllis in late July or early August, comes another big spider lily nearly like it. This one is lycoris sprengeri with slightly deeper pink-purple flowers that turn sky blue.

At about the same time, though sometimes earlier, comes a light pink kind with deep red-purple stripes. This one is L. incarnata. Some of the rare "white" spider lilies follow, and then the old red spider lily.

OTHERS

The same catalogues that carry spider lilies also list the yellow sternbergias, the red and the pink Chile lilies (rhodophiala), the pink amar - crinums and the little hardy cyclamens.

Cyclamen neapolitanum will bloom for you from little potted bulbs planted in the summer. If you buy the dried corms from bulb dealers who import them from Europe each year, they will not usually bloom for a year. After this little plant is established in a woodsy spot with some bone meal and leaf mold worked into the soil, it will begin to flower every summer about the 4th of July and send up more and more flowers until frost.

The leaves will come out and eventually smother the flowers after fall rains. The corms get bigger and bigger until they are the size of your head. So you can see that a hardy cyclamen is a permanent fixture.

We suggest that you buy the potted corms of cyclamens and get one or more each of the different kinds of offered. Then you will have cyclamen flowers almost the year 'round. When you have enough to pick them, you will have a real garden luxury. Travellers in the European alps in spring and summer buy the tiny cyclamens as alpen violets. As usual, the column will be glad to return your self-addressed postal with the names and - addresses of the nurseries which handle all the bulbs mentioned here.

Cuban Crisis Is Depicted In Play Revision

NEW YORK (AP) — Cuban dictatorship is causing a theatrical flurry here over Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar."

An off - Broadway group recently staged a modern - dress version of the bard's original text which was described as "depicting the crisis of Cuba today."

A somewhat freer adaption was submitted to Broadway inspection under the title "Infidel Caesar." The locale was less precisely given as "a Caribbean island at the present time."

'State Fair' Is Now At Paramount

Like a fascinating and beautiful canvas of American life filled with memorable songs and dances, Rodgers and Hammerstein's "State Fair" will entertain and delight people of all ages when it opens today at the Paramount Theater. This 20th Century - Fox Paramount Cinema Scope - DeLuxe Color extravaganza co - stars such outstanding and fresh talents as Pat Boone, Bobby Darin, Pamela Tiffin, Ann - Margaret, Tom Ewell and marks the return of the wonderful Alice Faye to the motion picture screen.

The multi - million dollar Charles Brackett production boasts the magic chemistry of all the right ingredients that make for a truly enjoyable experience.

The story of a middle class American farm family who go to the great "State Fair" has been endowed by scenarist Richard Breen with plenty of fun, romance, sparkling dialogue, exciting sports car racing sequences and lilting production numbers.

Pat Boone, who has endeared himself in the public's heart with his singing, acting and writing, portrays "Wayne Frake," a farm boy with a yen for hot - rod racing and a pretty girl; while singing sensation Bobby Darin continues to sky - rocket to stardom as a screen personality in the role of a fast - talking Easterner who undergoes a change of character when he meets the "sweetest gal on earth."

The lovely ladies who bedevil these boys are rising young actress Pamela Tiffin and popular recording star and dancer Ann-Margaret. Miss Tiffin, who scored in "Summer and Smoke" and in Billy Wilder's "One, Two, Three," plays "Margy," the sunflower that melts Darin's hard-hearted exterior. "State Fair" is her first musical and marks her singing debut. Sizzling beauty Ann - Margaret portrays "Emily," the girl who's been around and almost feels she has found "true love" in the arms of Boone.

Veteran comedian Tom Ewell plays "Abel Frake" and the role returns him to the type of characterization he delineates best.

To many the star of "State Fair" will be Alice Faye, who plays "Melissa Frake," Ewell's wife and the mother of Boone and Tiffen. Once the "Queen" of the 20th Century - Fox musical comedies, she can give a song bounce and spirit, and when she sings to her daughter, "Never Say No (To A Man)," everyone is in for a welcome surprise.

"State Fair" marks the debut of Richard Rodgers as a lyricist for a motion picture. He has written words and music for five new shop - stoppers, "This Isn't Heaven," "It's The Little Things In Texas," "Willing and Eager," "More Than Just A Friend" and "Never Say No." Also included are such Rodgers and Hammerstein favorites as "It Might As Well Be Spring," "Our State Fair," "That's For Me," "Falling In Love," "It's A Grand Night For Singing" and "Isn't It Kinda Fun" (one of the lavish production numbers which features Ann - Margaret.

LOVELY ANN-MARGARET provided the necessary stimulation and inspiration for Pat Boone's singing, romancing and daredevil auto racing in Rodgers and Hammerstein's cinemusical "State Fair." The 20th Century-Fox CinemaScope-DeLuxe color production, co-starring Bobby Darin, Pamela Tiffin, Tom Ewell and Alice Faye in her screen return, opens today at the Paramount Theatre.

Stamp News

British Honduras, discovered by Columbus in 1502, has issued a beautiful new set of 12 multi-colored stamps depicting local birds. The birds chosen for the stamps were selected by Dr. D. A. Lancaster of Louisiana State University and the color paintings from which the stamps have been reproduced are the work of the celebrated American bird artist, Don R. Eckleberry. Each stamp also bears a portrait of Queen Elizabeth with Saint Edward's Crown.

The featured birds are: the Great Curassow, the Red Legged Honeycreeper, the American Jacana, the Great Kiskadee, the Scarlet - rumped Tanager, the Scarlet - Macaw, the Massena Trogon, the Red - footed Booby, the Keel - billed Toucan, the Magnificient Frigate Bird, the Rufous - tailed Jacamar and the Montezuma Oropendola.

Spain has issued, a set of new stamps devoted to famous paintings, many of which are now in U. S. museums. Included are: "A Martyr," "Burial of Saint Catalina," "Saint Cisilda," "Jesus Crowning Saint Joseph," "Saint Hieronymus," "Madonna as Child" and the "Immaculate Madonna."

Canada issued on May 5 a 5 - cent stamp depicting the Red River Settlement of 1812. At the right of the adhesive will be a portrait of Thomas George, Fifth Earl of Selkirk, who founded the settlement. The colors will be brown and green. Three million of these stamps will be printed.

The United Arab Republic has announced the issuance of two new air mails, 10 - mils and 50 - mils, to honor the African Postal Union, which held a recent session in Cairo. Soon to be released by the U. A. R. are commemoratives for the Mukhtar Museum and Patrice Lumumba.

Paraguay has issued a new set of stamps honoring its Boy Scouts. The lower values for regular mail depicit a Boy Scout encampment and a Scout blowing a bugle. The higher values for airmail show a portrait of Lord Baden - Powell.

'Moon Pilot' Showing At Jim Theatre

While nations talk of reaching the moon Walt Disney outshoots the whole lot — on film, of course — in his hilarious Technicolor feature motion picture, "Moon Pilot," now at Jim Theatre.

Tom Tryon, the tall young man who played John Slaughter for Walt, finds himself bound for Beta Lyrae, a cozy planet you can reach only by taking the first galaxy to the right after you clear the Milky Way.

QUESTION

What about the moon? Well, Tryon is supposed to try for it. But who could figure on love and Dany Saval, beauteous Parisenne who plays the girl from outer space Tryon is disconcerted and diverted by.

It's a tall tale Disney spins, full of love and laughter and a lot of comic tussling between Brian Keith as Tryon's vociferous commanding general, and Edmond O'Brien as the equally noisy head of a security detail.

SETTING

The comedy takes place in storied San Francisco, and before a confused chase of the missing astronaut and his lovely other - planet girl ends, the camera catches many of the famous city's most delightful spots.

In color by Technicolor, "Moon Pilot" stars Tryon, Keith and O'Brien, and introduces Miss Saval. Bill Anderson co - produced with Disney. James Neilson directed for Buena Vista release.

Bolshoi Ballet Tickets Now Are On Sale

The sale of tickets for a production of the full company and orchestra of the Bolshoi Ballet in "Cinderella" is progressing "ahead of expectations," Ted Hatfield, manager of the Paramount Theatre, said Saturday.

The production of the most acclaimed ballet of all times is slated for 8 p.m. Thursday, May 31, at the Paramount. Only one performance will be held.

The Sergei Prokofiev' ballet, filmed in Magicolor, will feature Raisa Struchkova, leading ballerina of the Bolshoi group. The production was filmed at the Gorky Film Studio and released through Janis Films.

POLITICAL IMPACT — Senator Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana was reviewing the first year of the new Democratic Administration in the White House. Discussing the confidence of the American people in the Administration, Mansfield noted that a recent Gallup Poll showed 79 per cent of the people approving the way the President is handling his job and 78 per cent believe the Democratic Party is best able to handle the problems they consider of paramount importance. Mansfield hastened to add that no one should be troubled by this one point difference. He explained, "The difference is Caroline, and there's nothing we can do about it."

Curtain Call

By BB STRON

The annual meeting of the Little Theatre of Monroe will be held at the Strauss Playhouse on Monday, 7:30 p.m. All members are urged to be present.

Don't forget — the next Cinema 62 presentation, a French movie, entitled "Casque D'or" starring Simone Signoret, will be shown on Tuesday, May 8. You will remember that Miss Signoret received an academy award for her performance in "Room at the Top."

A bulletin received from the Midland, Texas, Little Theatre, shows that they have just completed their 1962 membership drive, with a total of 1470 members. We have to pause a minute here and "toot our own horn" just a wee bit. The Monroe Little Theatre now has the largest membership we have ever enjoyed. We have 2,711 members.

On Saturday, May 5, nearly 50 Little Theatre enthusiasts went to Jackson, Mississippi, to see the Murrah High School production of "Bye Bye Birdie." Nearly all were connected with our own production of "Bye Bye Birdie" in one capacity or another. Interest in this event was stimulated by the fact that Murrah High School had observers at three performances of our "Bye Bye Birdie," and rented most of our costumes and some of our sets for their own production.

The group traveling to Jackson by chartered bus and private car included: Pat and Richard Clark, June and Earle Sherman, Ruth and Larry Shipman, Phyllis and Bob Smith, Judy and Bob Evans, Mrs. Roy Swartz, Debbie Swartz, Walter Kotz, Sissie Kotz, Bill Blythe, James R. Henry, Arthur Griffith, Sharon Griffith, Jan Evans, Bob Evans Jr., Marc Bloch, Mr. and Mrs. O. Landon Miles, Margaret Miles, Michael Miles, Mary Lou Clay, Joellyn Thompson, Betty Bandy, Joanne Lay, Roz Haas, Janice Hattaway, Dorothy Bubb, Sarah Womack, Jerilyn Gilstrap, Joe Wayne Johnston, Mike Parkerson, Dick Grider, Craig Seligman, Buddy Smith, Lee Odom, Richard Brooks, V. P. Dalrymple, John Vaughan, Julius Cahn and Curtis Rape.

Youth Orchestra Concerts Slated

Monroe's Youth Symphony Orchestra will appear in concerts at 2 p.m. today and next Thursday night.

Roger DiGiulian, director, said that the orchestra will give a joint concert with the Neville High School chorus this afternoon.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the program at the Forsythe Park bandshell.

The chorus will be under direction of Miss Nina Sue Harris.

Thursday at 8 p.m., the orchestra will present its spring concert in Neville High School auditorium.

Miss Susan Kilpatrick, seventh grade student at Lee Junior high School, will be piano soloist, playing the Concerto in D Major by Hayden.

Two groups will participate in the concert along with the Symphony Orchestra. The 50-piece elementary string orchestra, under direction of Miss Jonnie Bankhead, and the intermediate orchestra from Lee Junior High will appear.

DiGiulian pointed out that in this way the entire string program of Monroe's City School system will appear.

The Youth Symphony is composed of students from Neville High, Lee Junior High and Jefferson Junior High.

Lexington, Sherrouse, Georgia Tucker, Clara Hall, Lida Benton and Barkdull Faulk elementary schools have students in the elementary orchestra.

The concert will be free, and open to the public.

Earlier this year, the Symphony received an "Excellent" rating for its performance at the District Music Festival in Ruston.

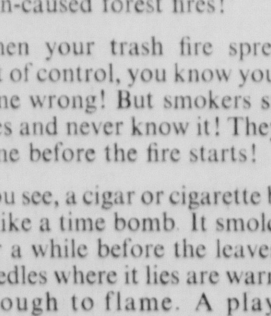
This is the first year that the group has expanded into a full symphony orchestra, using wind, brass and percussion instruments in addition to strings.

Program for the Symphony will include the Dittersdorf Symphony in F Major, accompaniment to Miss Kilpatrick in the Hayden Concerto, Valse Triste by Sibelius, Excerpts from Prince Igor by Borodin and the Great Gate of Kiev by Moussorgsky.

The intermediate orchestra will play Water Music by Handel, Little Fugue by Handel and War March of the Preists by Mendelssohn.

Elementary orchestra selections will include: Beneath Thy Guiding Hand, Little Waltz in G, a French folk song and Holy, Holy, Holy.

WAS IT YOU?



That's what SMOKEY wants to know! Was it YOU who threw the cigarette from your car or dropped your match after lighting up?

Every year careless smokers are responsible for one of every five man-caused forest fires!

When your trash fire spreads out of control, you know you've done wrong! But smokers start fires and never know it! They're gone before the fire starts!

You see, a cigar or cigarette butt is like a time bomb. It smolders for a while before the leaves or needles where it lies are warmed enough to flame. A playful breeze may help it along. Then, in no time at all, a spark you could crush under your heel has grown to be a searing, roaring demon, killing the life in its path!

Did you start a forest fire last year? Was it you?

Remember-only YOU can PREVENT FOREST FIRES!

ELECTIONS LOOM

Political Names In 1962 Spotlight

(EDITOR'S NOTE You wouldn't expect to find a high political temperature six months before elections in an off-presidential year. Yet such is the case—not only because so many well-known politicians have their future at stake, but also because of the high importance of the battle for the House.)

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — To a politician, every election is important — but rarely have leaders of both parties been as fretful as they are over what may happen six months from Sunday.

On Nov. 6, voters will choose all 435 House members, 35 governors and 38 senators.

Except for the presidency, it's an all-star cast.

From it will come an answer to the 50-million voter question: Can the Democrats increase their strength in Congress in this off-year election, thereby accomplishing a feat the party in power has been able to perform only once in a century?

Publicly, Democrats and Republicans carefully observe the first political commandment:

Thou shalt always claim victory for the cause of self-righteousness; the less likely the victory, the louder shalt thou claim it.

But, privately, there are vast areas of agreement.

Both believe the key will be the House.

Both are concentrating their efforts there.

And both say this could be another of those exceptionally close ones.

To add spice to the campaign, seldom in an off-year election have so many well known politicians had their futures at stake.

In California, Richard M. Nixon, who barely missed the White House in 1960, is now toiling on the road back. He must win his race for governor against the incumbent, Edmund G. Brown, or face political oblivion at the age of 49.

Nelson A. Rockefeller must keep his job as governor of New York if his peeks at the presidency are ever to mean more than a harmless flirtation.

A newcomer like George Romney must make a fine showing in his attempt to be governor of Michigan—or go back to making automobiles.

No man ever hired out to be a poor or mediocre president. Hard-driving, ambitious John F. Kennedy undoubtedly yearns to be a great one.

About the best a president can hope for internationally is an uncertain standoff. Though Kennedy spends much of his day (and night) on foreign affairs, if he's to be well remembered in the history books, it will in part be because he was successful in getting legislation he wanted.

This is why the House becomes so important. His working majority there on controversial issues is so tiny that any Republican gain could wreck his dreams.

However much this may distress the Democrats, the Republican plight is far worse. The GOP has done well in state elections, but nationally it's a four-time loser.

Democrats who may have trouble: Joseph S. Clark of Pennsylvania, Frank Church of Idaho, John A. Carroll of Colorado and J. J. Hickey of Wyoming.

"The House is the key in 1962," chairman Bailey of the Democrats says, "but the governors are the key for 1964."

Governors have jobs to pass out. They organize machines that produce the vote. It is among the governors that Republican prospects are slim.

Albert B. Hermann, GOP campaign director, is a former professional athlete.

"I like to use sports terms in politics," he says, "and so I refer to our defensive unit and our offensive unit."

On offense, the GOP is bearing down in these states: Alaska, California, North Dakota, Wisconsin, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Michigan.

Even if the Republicans were to win all seven they would have only 23 of the nation's 50 governors.

But a succession of "ifs" excite the Republicans. If they can hold New York, and if they can win big ones like California, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Michigan, what splendid shape they would be in for the 1964 presidential race.

Herman coyly doesn't say where the GOP defensive unit will be stationed, but Bailey concedes the Democrats are likely to lose a few governors.

"You can't pick me out a state," Bailey says, "where you can say we are sure to pick up another governor. A more normal pattern is likely.

"You see, after a feast—." His voice trailed off.

But the Democrats—least of all Bailey—aren't expecting a famine to follow that feast, so the fighting in the larger states will be intense.

It's astonishing how wide a variety of answers you can get to this question: "How much influence does a president have in an election in which he isn't directly involved?"

Looking ruefully at their own curious experiences with Dwight D. Eisenhower, Republicans are likely to say, "Not much."

Consider this: Only once, when he was first elected in 1952, was Eisenhower able to fetch in a Republican House with him.

Democrats think so. They say Eisenhower so put himself above party that the voters might like Ike—but never think of him as a Republican.

Kennedy, so this theory goes, runs as an unabashed, all-out Democrat whose popularity, which has been consistently high, is bound to rub off on Democratic candidates.

Certainly the President is the only one who can point up a national issue in an election of this type—and even he may find it difficult.

Bailey thinks the hottest issue may be medical aid to the aged under Social Security. He believes this will appeal not only to the elderly but also to younger voters who must support parents in rest homes.

"Did you know," he asks, "that the convalescent home is one of this nation's fastest growing industries?"

But in a nation as diverse as this, issues tend to conform to local conditions and local candidates. And if a candidate is a turkey, no one in Washington, including a president, can make him look like a peacock.

Democrats lead in senators 64-36, in representatives 263-174, in governors 34-16. Most important, they have the White House, with its incalculable prestige and power.

Republicans think they're certain to win back some governorships and a few senatorial seats, but it's the House that offers the greatest challenge.

Every 10 years the census plays hob with Congress. Fast-growing states get more representation in the House; states barely holding their own get less.

After all the 1960 results were figured, 16 states wound up losing at least one congressman, while nine were winners. California, with eight new seats, showed the largest growth; Florida was next with four.

The big losers: Pennsylvania with three, followed by Arkansas, Massachusetts and New York, with two apiece.

In the rejiggling, boundaries may be switched in every direction, or even swept away. A congressman may find himself dumped into the same district with another congressman, two incumbents struggling to cling to a single job. Or he may be pushed into another district, to woo comparative strangers.

An example is the 20th District of Illinois.

Rep. Peter F. Mack Jr., a Democrat who represented the 21st District, has been put in with Rep. Paul Findley, a Republican.

In the remixing, Mack lost eight of the 10 counties he formerly represented.

Findley also has new voters, but Mack's job is considered tougher since this is primarily GOP territory.

To make matters worse, Mack also had a large portion of his constituency shot from under him after the 1950 census.

An attempt to line up districts to one's advantage is as old as politics. Our word for it, gerrymandering, goes back to 1812 and Gov. Elbridge Gerry of Massachusetts. It worked. His party won, but, ironically, Gerry was defeated.

Even if every effort were made to be fair—and that's a peculiarity of winning in politics; you don't have to be fair—redistricting presents hard problems, problems to which we voters normally pay little heed.

Quick now, who's your congressman? Can you name a dozen representatives—or even a half dozen?

Yet it's in the House, and not in the more talkative, better-advertised Senate, that legislative power now rests.

Enough conservative Democrats vote with Republicans on economic issues so that if often takes prodigious efforts either by the President or his helpers to push his bill through. Even then it may stagger out badly tattered, or worse, from Kennedy's standpoint, it may be mired so that it can't be budged at all.

Not only has reapportionment created uncertainties; many House seats were won by narrow-squeak margins in the first place.

Thirty-nine Democrats and 46 Republicans got their jobs with a winning margin of 5 per cent or less.

Republicans figure that, as of this moment, around 150 districts might be tipped either way. A third of these will be whittled off, and the GOP will concentrate on 100 marginal districts. Democrats have somewhat similar battle plans.

Now what are the prospects?

Rep. William E. Miller of New York, Republican national chairman, believes in the hard sell.

Miller is particularly irritated just now because some opinion polls — and some interpretive political stories — are predicting Democratic gains, despite the historical pattern and despite the fact the GOP has been extremely successful in city and state elections held since 1960.

Miller's worry is that the predictions might influence the result-and GOP rank-and-filres become so downhearted that they quit hustling.

Characteristically, Miller attacks the polls head on.

"Don't believe 'em," he says briskly. "We'll be a majority party in November. No doubt about that."

Miller says the GOP will regain control of the House in November, which would mean considerable regaining since Republicans would have to pick off an additional 44 seats.

John F. Mills, congressional campaign director, thinks reapportionment favors the GOP, partly because Republican legislatures were in a position to squiggle boundary lines more effectively than were the Democrats, partly because some of the seats lost were in Democratic territory.

"I can't see doing any worse than a net gain of 10 seats," he said, "And maybe a lot better than that."

Ecker was discharged from a New York hospital Friday after a corneal transplant operation on his right eye. The left eye is artificial. Helping Ecker distinguish the sights from the deck of an excursion boat circling Manhattan are his wife, Rosemary, 34, and the craft's skipper, Capt. Charles Hyde of Livingston, New Jersey. Sharp Split Again Delays Europe Union

ATHENS Greece (AP) — A sharp and persistent split among the six European Common Market nations has again delayed action on the projected European political union, official sources said Saturday.

A six-nation experts' meeting scheduled for Saturday was canceled, and European officials said there would be no session alongside the annual North Atlantic Treaty Organization spring conference.

At best, they said, there would perhaps be some talks aimed at narrowing, if possible, the differences on the shape and powers of a future European political authority.

This issue, and the question of whether Britain should be invited to sit in on current political negotiations, deadlocked the foreign ministers of the six countries last month in Paris.

The ministers said then they would take advantage of their presence in Athens to continue discussions on the problem which pitted Belgium and the Netherlands against France, West Germany, Italy, and Luxembourg.

However, the six ministers are meeting next week in Brussels as part of negotiations with London on Britain's possible entry into the common market, and they may be able to resume talks on the political issue then.

In negotiations thus far, France, West Germany and Italy, with support from Luxembourg, have held out for a loose confederation short of European union. Each member would wield a veto on important matters. French President Charles de Gaulle describes this as a "Europe of the fatherlands."

Belgium and Holland have sought a tighter, more federal-type structure to which member states would delegate a portion of sovereignty. This would be patterned after the existing steel-coal pool and the common market, where decisions are made by a majority vote.

Luxembourg has recently suggested the six could start out on the confederation basis with a revision clause for progress to a federal-type authority later, if and when all six agree.

Belgium and Holland have also pressed for British membership in the common market and a voice for Britain in building the future European union. Both nations now have served notice they will not consider political union until Britain has been admitted to the common market.

DEATHS

Edison Hammett

JONESBORO (Special) — Edison Hammett, 44, died late Friday night in Los Angeles, Calif. Funeral services, under the direction of Southern Funeral Home of Jonesboro, are pending.

Mr. Hammett, a native of Jackson Parish, had lived in California for several years.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Audie Hammett, Los Angeles, Calif., two daughters, Miss Marscha Hammett, Jonesboro and Miss LeWann Hammett, Synder, Tex.; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Newt Hammett, Jonesboro; one brother, Evan Hammett, Dodson; six sisters, Mrs. Alfred McMurray, Redding, Calif., Mrs. Floyd Tullos, Ferriday, Mrs. Verda Raymond, Carlsbad, N.M., Mrs. Ina Roberts, San Angelo, Tex., Mrs. Bill Hagler, Jonesboro and Mrs. Nettie Springfield, Hodge.

Two Survivors Of Nazi Camps Killed In Crash

TORONTO (UPI) — A young Jewish couple who lived through the war years in Nazi concentration camps and a visiting Israeli aunt who scrimped for years for the trip here died Saturday when a slow freight hit their car at a railroad crossing.

Police said the three victims were en route home after visiting other relatives when Joseph Winebaum, 33, apparently failed to notice warning signals and drove directly into the path of the Canadian National Railways freight.

In addition to Winebaum, his wife, Guilda, 31, and Winebaum's aunt, Rachael Bursztain, 46, of Tel Aviv were killed. All died at the scene.

Police said that the crash demolished the car and hurled bodies 100 feet along the track.

The happy, prosperous Winebaums were driving Mrs. Bursztain back to her sister's home after visiting other relatives when the crash occurred.

Mrs. Rena Zucker said the death of her nephew and sister, Weinbaum and Mrs. Bursztain, left her the only surviving member of a family which once numbered 150 before the outbreak of World War II.

"The others," she explained quietly, "were wiped out by the Nazis in concentration camps during the war."

Truck Collision Kills 6 Persons In New Mexico

GALLUP, N. M. (UPI) — A pickup truck whipped around a slow-moving truck, sped down a hill in the wrong lane and crashed squarely into another pickup truck Saturday. Six persons, including a baby, were killed and two persons were badly injured.

Four of the dead were from Fort Defiance, Ariz. One was from Window Rock, Ariz., and the other was from Gallup.

A driver who saw the accident, and whose caution saved him from being involved, said neither pickup truck driver swerved or slowed down in an effort to avoid the collision.

State policeman Hank Elliot, who investigated the accident, said "alcohol was involved in both cases."

The five dead in the pickup truck going downhill included the driver, Teddy Jose, 36, of Window Rock, and Mrs. Jesse Stewart, 37; Elizabeth C. J. Warika, 24; Robert Stewart Jr., 5, and Joseph Sandoval, 6 months, all of Fort Defiance.

Raymond Hawthrone, 25, of Gallup, a passenger in the other pickup truck, died in an ambulance en route to a Gallup hospital. The driver, Joe Peterson, 36, of the China Springs community near Gallup, was hospitalized with severe head injuries and a broken leg.

Life Of Blindness Is Ending For Man

By ARTHUR EVERETT

NEW YORK (AP)—Most persons can imagine the stark terror that confronts a man who suddenly goes blind. But what of a man who voyages the other way, from the world of blindness into the world of light?

"It's sort of like a new toy, something you must get used to —I'm still more familiar with my old world," said Leonard Ecker, a Bay City, Mich., schoolteacher who now enjoys a very small measure of sight after nearly a lifetime of blindness.

However, in contrasting his condition with that of a person moving in the opposite direction between the two worlds, Ecker pointed out that "mine is full of nothing but hope."

Leonard, 34, sat in his 17th-floor room in the Hotel Manhattan Saturday and talked about the two days since he emerged from the New York Eye & Ear Infirmary, after a corneal transplant on his one remaining eye.

His wife, Rosemary, also 34, sent here by the Bay City Times for a reunion with him, listened intently as he probed the depths of his mind for reaction to the new world in which he finds himself.

"In a sense—it sounds odd to say this—I'm less capable in getting around," Ecker said. "I'm getting a world of new stimuli in this eye. The doctors warned me it would be confusing.

"I'm not as sure of myself in getting around as I was before. I'm much more concerned about bumping into things, for example, and setting things back. I don't want to undo the doctors' wonderful work.

"The doctors took pains to see that I did not overanticipate. It was explained to me very carefully what I would be able to see, that it would be very slow, that there would be good days and bad days.

"I haven't at any time been worried over the fact that I can't see now what I will be able to see later. I'm very much impressed with what I could see of the Great White Way, the lights of Broadway. Although I may have missed 99 per cent of them, I still saw an awful lot of them."

Echer teaches English at Bay City Central High School and students there contributed $500 to help defray his expenses here. He was operated on April 7 at New York Infirmary, when a cornea was transplanted to his right eye. The left eye is artificial.

A dark-haired, trim man of medium size, Ecker had been blind in both eyes since an illness robbed him of his sight at the age of 14 months. Today, he can see very little but doctors are hopeful that with continued treatment he may regain 10 per cent of normal vision in the right eye.

Negro Is Struck By Automobile

A three-year-old Negro girl suffered minor lacerations and bruises Saturday when she was struck by a car on Thomas Street just outside Monroe.

Members of Troop F, state police investigating the accident said that the child was identified as Pennie Vessa Jenkins of 754 Berg Jones Lane. She was taken to E. A. Conway Memorial Hospital where her injuries were termed minor.

She was struck by a car driving west on Thomas Street operated by Ras Estir, Negro, 34 of 2005½ Thomas St., Monroe. The girl ran from the south ditch into the path of the car, and troopers did not charge Estir in the accident.

Man Is Injured When Hit By Car

Thirty-year-old Richard P. Fowler Jr. of 1402 Cole Ave., Monroe suffered minor injuries when struck by a vehicle on Breville Street late Saturday afternoon.

Fowler was walking on Breville near its intersection with Filhoil when struck by the car driven by Paul Murphy, 37, of 106 Azalea Dr., which was going west on Breville Street. Fowler complained of pain, but did not go to a doctor. No charges were filed by police.

Five Are Booked By Police On Driving Charges

Five persons were booked for driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages and other traffic counts by Twin City police Saturday.

Monroe police booked four persons while West Monroe officers booked the other.

The four booked by Monroe police include J. W. McClain, 32, Negro of 312 North 19th St., Stephen C. Matthews, 50 of 115 Kansas Dr., Monroe, Aubrey D. Kelly Jr., 26, of 1724 Kelly St., Alexandria, and Dessie Romphrey Smith, 47 of 812 Natchitoches St., West Monroe.

McClain, booked at 1:35 a.m. Saturday, was apprehended in the 200 block of North 14th St. and charged with DWI, reckless driving, resisting arrest and public drunkenness. He was held under a $500 bond.

Matthews was apprehended in the 3300 block of DeSiard Street at 1:50 a.m. Saturday and charged with DWI and speeding.

Kelly, taken into custody in the 2700 block of Jackson Street, was charged with DWI and reckless driving and held under a $435 bond. The Smith woman was charged with DWI and reckless driving after being apprehended at 5:20 p.m. in the intersection of Plum and South Grand Streets.

West Monroe officers booked Carl R. Franks, 23 of 1217 Fern St., West Monroe, with DWI and reckless driving. He was taken into custody at the Trenton Street Bar and booked at 10:40 p.m.

West Monroe Man Missing

West Monroe police and local law agencies were searching last night for a man reported missing by his wife late Saturday.

Stanley Fletcher, 24 of Route Two, West Monroe, was last seen by his wife early Friday when he left for work at the Olin Mathieson mill just outside West Monroe.

She said he had an undetermined amount of cash and was driving a 1957 Oldsmobile automobile, light blue, with 1962 Louisiana License No. 475-691. He is described as six feet tall, of slender build with red hair and fair complexion. Police put out an item to all local agencies and with state police, and asked that anyone seeing or knowing the whereabouts of the man, contact them.

TODAY, THURSDAY

Youth Orchestra Concerts Slated

Monroe's Youth Symphony Orchestra will appear in concerts at 2 p m today and next Thursday night.

Roger DiGiulian, director, said that the orchestra will give a joint concert with the Neville High School chorus this afternoon.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the program at the Forsythe Park bandshell.

The chorus will be under direction of Miss Nina Sue Harris.

Thursday at 8 p.m., the orchestra will present its spring concert in Neville High School auditorium.

Miss Susan Kilpatrick, seventh grade student at Lee Junior high School, will be piano soloist, playing the Concerto in D Major by Hayden.

Two groups will participate in the concert along with the Symphony Orchestra. The 50-piece elementary string orchestra, under direction of Miss Jonnie Bankhead, and the intermediate orchestra from Lee Junior High will appear.

DiGiulian pointed out that in this way the entire string program of Monroe's City School system will appear.

The Youth Symphony is composed of students from Neville High, Lee Junior High and Jefferson Junior High.

Lexington, Sherrouse, Georgia Tucker, Clara Hall, Lida Benton and Barkdull Faulk elementary schools have students in the elementary orchestra.

The concert will be free, and open to the public.

Earlier this year, the Symphony received an "Excellent" rating for its performance at the District Music Festival in Ruston.

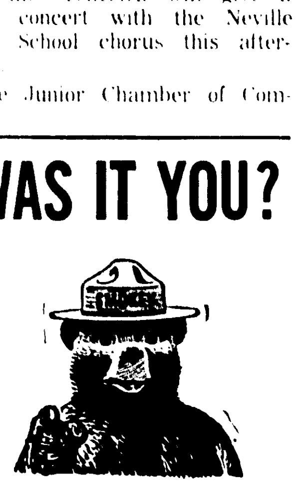
This is the first year that the group has expanded into a full symphony orchestra, using wind, brass and percussion instruments in addition to strings.

Program for the Symphony will include the Dittersdorf Symphony in F Major, accompaniment to Miss Kilpatrick in the Hayden Concerto, Valse Triste by Sibelius, Excerpts from Prince Igor by Borodin and the Great Gate of Kiev by Moussorgsky.

The intermediate orchestra will play Water Music by Handel, Little Fugue by Handel and War March of the Preists by Mendelssohn.

Elementary orchestra selections will include: Beneath Thy Guiding Hand, Little Waltz in G, a French folk song and Holy, Holy, Holy.

WAS IT YOU?



That's what SMOKEY wants to know! Was it YOU who threw the cigarette from your car or dropped your match after lighting up?

Every year careless smokers are responsible for one of every five man-caused forest fires!

When your trash fire spreads out of control, you know you've done wrong! But smokers start fires and never know it! They're gone before the fire starts!

You see, a cigar or cigarette butt is like a time bomb. It smolders for a while before the leaves or needles where it lies are warmed enough to flame. A playful breeze may help it along. Then, in no time at all, a spark you could crush under your heel has grown to be a searing, roaring demon, killing the life in its path!

Did you start a forest fire last year? Was it you?

Remember—only YOU can PREVENT FOREST FIRES!

ELECTIONS LOOM

Political Names In 1962 Spotlight

(EDITOR'S NOTE You wouldn't expect to find a high political temperature six months before elections in an off-presidential year. Yet such is the case—not only because so many well-known politicians have their future at stake, but also because of the high importance of the battle for the House.)

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — To a politician, every election is important — but rarely have leaders of both parties been as fretful as they are over what may happen six months from Sunday.

On Nov. 6, voters will choose all 435 House members, 35 governors and 38 senators.

Except for the presidency, it's an all-star cast.

From it will come an answer to the 50-million voter question:

Can the Democrats increase their strength in Congress in this off-year election, thereby accomplishing a feat the party in power has been able to perform only once in a century?

Publicly, Democrats and Republicans carefully observe the first political commandment:

Thou shalt always claim victory for the cause of self-righteousness, the less likely the victory, the louder shalt thou claim it.

But, privately, there are vast areas of agreement.

Both believe the key will be the House.

Both are concentrating their efforts there.

And both say this could be another of those exceptionally close ones.

To add spice to the campaign, seldom in an off-year election have so many well known politicians had their futures at stake.

In California, Richard M. Nixon, who barely missed the White House in 1960, is now toiling on the road back. He must win his race for governor against the incumbent, Edmund G. Brown, or face political oblivion at the age of 49.

Nelson A. Rockefeller must keep his job as governor of New York if his peeks at the presidency are ever to mean more than a harmless flirtation.

A newcomer like George Romney must make a fine showing in his attempt to be governor of Michigan—or go back to making automobiles.

No man ever hired out to be a poor or mediocre president. Hard-driving, ambitious John F. Kennedy undoubtedly yearns to be a great one.

About the best a president can hope for internationally is an uncertain standoff. Though Kennedy spends much of his day (and night) on foreign affairs, if he's to be well remembered in the history books, it will in part be because he was successful in getting legislation he wanted.

This is why the House becomes so important. His working majority there on controversial issues is so tiny that any Republican gain could wreck his dreams.

However much this may distress the Democrats, the Republican plight is far worse. The GOP has done well in state elections, but nationally it's a four-time loser.

Democrats who may have trouble: Joseph S. Clark of Pennsylvania, Frank Church of Idaho, John A. Carroll of Colorado and J. J. Hickey of Wyoming.

"The House is the key in 1962," chairman Bailey of the Democrats says, "but the governors are the key for 1964."

Governors have jobs to pass out. They organize machines that produce the vote. It is among the governors that Republican prospects are slim.

Albert B. Hermann, GOP campaign director, is a former professional athlete.

"I like to use sports terms in politics," he says, "and so I refer to our defensive unit and our offensive unit."

On offense, the GOP is bearing down in these states: Alaska, California, North Dakota, Wisconsin, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Michigan.

Even if the Republicans were to win all seven they would have only 23 of the nation's 50 governors.

But a succession of "ifs" excite the Republicans. If they can hold New York, and if they can win big ones like California, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Michigan, what splendid shape they would be in for the 1964 presidential race.

Herman coyly doesn't say where the GOP defensive unit will be stationed, but Bailey concedes the Democrats are likely to lose a few governors.

"You can't pick me out a state," Bailey says, "where you can say we are sure to pick up another governor. A more normal pattern is likely.

"You see, after a feast—." His voice trailed off.

But the Democrats—least of all Bailey—aren't expecting a famine to follow that feast, so the fighting in the larger states will be intense.

It's astonishing how wide a variety of answers you can get to this question: "How much influence does a president have in an election in which he isn't directly involved?"

Looking ruefully at their own curious experiences with Dwight D. Eisenhower, Republicans are likely to say, "Not much."

Consider this: Only once, when he was first elected in 1952, was Eisenhower able to fetch in a Republican House with him.

Democrats think so. They say Eisenhower so put himself above party that the voters might like Ike—but never think of him as a Republican.

Kennedy, so this theory goes, runs as an unabashed, all-out Democrat whose popularity, which has been consistently high, is bound to rub off on Democratic candidates.

Certainly the President is the only one who can point up a national issue in an election of this type—and even he may find it difficult.

Bailey thinks the hottest issue may be medical aid to the aged under Social Security. He believes this will appeal not only to the elderly but also to younger voters who must support parents in rest homes.

"Did you know," he asks, "that the convalescent home is one of this nation's fastest growing industries?"

But in a nation as diverse as this, issues tend to conform to local conditions and local candidates. And if a candidate is a turkey, no one in Washington, including a president, can make him look like a peacock.

Democrats lead in senators 64-36, in representatives 263-174, in governors 34-16. Most important, they have the White House, with its incalculable prestige and power.

Republicans think they're certain to win back some governorships and a few senatorial seats, but it's the House that offers the greatest challenge.

Every 10 years the census plays hob with Congress. Fast-growing states get more representation in the House; states barely holding their own get less.

After all the 1960 results were figured, 16 states wound up losing at least one congressman, while nine were winners. California, with eight new seats, showed the largest growth; Florida was next with four.

The big losers: Pennsylvania with three, followed by Arkansas, Massachusetts and New York, with two apiece.

In the rejiggling, boundaries may be switched in every direction, or even swept away. A congressman may find himself dumped into the same district with another congressman, two incumbents struggling to cling to a single job. Or he may be pushed into another district, to woo comparative strangers.

An example is the 20th District of Illinois.

Rep. Peter F. Mack Jr., a Democrat who represented the 21st District, has been put in with Rep. Paul Findley, a Republican.

In the remixing, Mack lost eight of the 10 counties he formerly represented.

Findley also has new voters, but Mack's job is considered tougher since this is primarily GOP territory.

To make matters worse, Mack also had a large portion of his constituency shot from under him after the 1950 census.

An attempt to line up districts to one's advantage is as old as politics. Our word for it, gerrymandering, goes back to 1812 and Gov. Elbridge Gerry of Massachusetts. It worked. His party won, but, ironically, Gerry was defeated.

Even if every effort were made to be fair—and that's a peculiarity of winning in politics; you don't have to be fair—redistricting presents hard problems, problems to which we voters normally pay little heed.

Quick now, who's your congressman? Can you name a dozen representatives—or even a half dozen?

Yet it's in the House, and not in the more talkative, better-advertised Senate, that legislative power now rests.

Enough conservative Democrats vote with Republicans on economic issues so that if often takes prodigious efforts either by the President or his helpers to push his bill through. Even then it may stagger out badly tattered, or worse, from Kennedy's standpoint, it may be mired so that it can't be budged at all.

Not only has reapportionment created uncertainties; many House seats were won by narrow-squeak margins in the first place.

Thirty-nine Democrats and 46 Republicans got their jobs with a winning margin of 5 per cent or less.

Republicans figure that, as of this moment, around 150 districts might be tipped either way. A third of these will be whittled off, and the GOP will concentrate on 100 marginal districts. Democrats have somewhat similar battle plans.

Now what are the prospects?

Rep. William E. Miller of New York, Republican national chairman, believes in the hard sell.

Miller is particularly irritated just now because some opinion polls — and some interpretive political stories — are predicting Democratic gains, despite the historical pattern and despite the fact the GOP has been extremely successful in city and state elections held since 1960.

Miller's worry is that the predictions might influence the result-and GOP rank-and-filres become so downhearted that they quit hustling.

Characteristically, Miller attacks the polls head on.

"Don't believe 'em," he says briskly. "We'll be a majority party in November. No doubt about that."

Miller says the GOP will regain control of the House in November, which would mean considerable regaining since Republicans would have to pick off an additional 44 seats.

John F. Mills, congressional campaign director, thinks reapportionment favors the GOP, partly because Republican legislatures were in a position to squiggle boundary lines more effectively than were the Democrats, partly because some of the seats lost were in Democratic territory.

"I can't see doing any worse than a net gain of 10 seats," he said, "And maybe a lot better than that."

DEATHS

Edison Hammett

JONESBORO (Special) — Edison Hammett, 44, died late Friday night in Los Angeles, Calif. Funeral services, under the direction of Southern Funeral Home of Jonesboro, are pending.

Mr. Hammett, a native of Jackson Parish, had lived in California for several years.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Audie Hammett, Los Angeles, Calif., two daughters, Miss Marscha Hammett, Jonesboro and Miss LeWann Hammett, Synder, Tex.; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Newt Hammett, Jonesboro; one brother, Evan Hammett, Dodson; six sisters, Mrs. Alfred McMurray, Redding, Calif., Mrs. Floyd Tullos, Ferriday, Mrs. Verda Raymond, Carlsbad, N.M., Mrs. Ina Roberts, San Angelo, Tex., Mrs. Bill Hagler, Jonesboro and Mrs. Nettie Springfield, Hodge.

Two Survivors Of Nazi Camps Killed In Crash

TORONTO (UPI) — A young Jewish couple who lived through the war years in Nazi concentration camps and a visiting Israeli aunt who scrimped for years for the trip here died Saturday when a slow freight hit their car at a railroad crossing.

Police said the three victims were en route home after visiting other relatives when Joseph Winebaum, 33, apparently failed to notice warning signals and drove directly into the path of the Canadian National Railways freight.

In addition to Winebaum, his wife, Guilda, 31, and Winebaum's aunt, Rachael Bursztain, 46, of Tel Aviv were killed. All died at the scene.

Police said that the crash demolished the car and hurled bodies 100 feet along the track.

The happy, prosperous Winebaums were driving Mrs. Bursztain back to her sister's home after visiting other relatives when the crash occurred.

Mrs. Rena Zucker said the death of her nephew and sister, Weinbaum and Mrs. Bursztain, left her the only surviving member of a family which once numbered 150 before the outbreak of World War II.

"The others," she explained quietly, "were wiped out by the Nazis in concentration camps during the war."

Truck Collision Kills 6 Persons In New Mexico

GALLUP, N. M. (UPI) — A pickup truck whipped around a slow-moving truck, sped down a hill in the wrong lane and crashed squarely into another pickup truck Saturday. Six persons, including a baby, were killed and two persons were badly injured.

Four of the dead were from Fort Defiance, Ariz. One was from Window Rock, Ariz., and the other was from Gallup.

A driver who saw the accident, and whose caution saved him from being involved, said neither pickup truck driver swerved or slowed down in an effort to avoid the collision.

State policeman Hank Elliot, who investigated the accident, said "alcohol was involved in both cases."

The five dead in the pickup truck going downhill included the driver, Teddy Jose, 36, of Window Rock, and Mrs. Jesse Stewart, 37; Elizabeth C. J. Warika, 24; Robert Stewart Jr., 5, and Joseph Sandoval, 6 months, all of Fort Defiance.

Raymond Hawthrone, 25, of Gallup, a passenger in the other pickup truck, died in an ambulance en route to a Gallup hospital. The driver, Joe Peterson, 36, of the China Springs community near Gallup, was hospitalized with severe head injuries and a broken leg.

CORNEAL TRANSPLANT

Life Of Blindness Is Ending For Man

By ARTHUR EVERETT

NEW YORK (AP)—Most persons can imagine the stark terror that confronts a man who suddenly goes blind. But what of a man who voyages the other way, from the world of blindness into the world of light?

"It's sort of like a new toy, something you must get used to —I'm still more familiar with my old world," said Leonard Ecker, a Bay City, Mich., schoolteacher who now enjoys a very small measure of sight after nearly a lifetime of blindness.

However, in contrasting his condition with that of a person moving in the opposite direction between the two worlds, Ecker pointed out that "mine is full of nothing but hope."

Leonard, 34, sat in his 17th-floor room in the Hotel Manhattan Saturday and talked about the two days since he emerged from the New York Eye & Ear Infirmary, after a corneal transplant on his one remaining eye.

His wife, Rosemary, also 34, sent here by the Bay City Times for a reunion with him, listened intently as he probed the depths of his mind for reaction to the new world in which he finds himself.

"In a sense—it sounds odd to say this—I'm less capable in getting around," Ecker said. "I'm getting a world of new stimuli in this eye. The doctors warned me it would be confusing.

"I'm not as sure of myself in getting around as I was before. I'm much more concerned about bumping into things, for example, and setting things back. I don't want to undo the doctors' wonderful work.

"The doctors took pains to see that I did not overanticipate. It was explained to me very carefully what I would be able to see, that it would be very slow, that there would be good days and bad days.

"I haven't at any time been worried over the fact that I can't see now what I will be able to see later. I'm very much impressed with what I could see of the Great White Way, the lights of Broadway. Although I may have missed 99 per cent of them, I still saw an awful lot of them."

Echer teaches English at Bay City Central High School and students there contributed $500 to help defray his expenses here. He was operated on April 7 at New York Infirmary, when a cornea was transplanted to his right eye. The left eye is artificial.

A dark-haired, trim man of medium size, Ecker had been blind in both eyes since an illness robbed him of his sight at the age of 14 months. Today, he can see very little but doctors are hopeful that with continued treatment he may regain 10 per cent of normal vision in the right eye.

Negro Is Struck By Automobile

A three-year-old Negro girl suffered minor lacerations and bruises Saturday when she was struck by a car on Thomas Street just outside Monroe.

Members of Troop F, state police investigating the accident said that the child was identified as Pennie Vessa Jenkins of 754 Berg Jones Lane. She was taken to E. A. Conway Memorial Hospital where her injuries were termed minor.

She was struck by a car driving west on Thomas Street operated by Ras Estir, Negro, 34 of 2005½ Thomas St., Monroe. The girl ran from the south ditch into the path of the car, and troopers did not charge Estir in the accident.

Man Is Injured When Hit By Car

Thirty-year-old Richard P. Fowler Jr. of 1402 Cole Ave., Monroe suffered minor injuries when struck by a vehicle on Breville Street late Saturday afternoon.

Fowler was walking on Breville near its intersection with Filhoil when struck by the car driven by Paul Murphy, 37, of 106 Azalea Dr., which was going west on Breville Street. Fowler complained of pain, but did not go to a doctor. No charges were filed by police.

Five Are Booked By Police On Driving Charges

Five persons were booked for driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages and other traffic counts by Twin City police Saturday.

Monroe police booked four persons while West Monroe officers booked the other.

The four booked by Monroe police include J. W. McClain, 32, Negro of 312 North 19th St., Stephen C. Matthews, 50 of 115 Kansas Dr., Monroe, Aubrey D. Kelly Jr., 26, of 1724 Kelly St., Alexandria, and Dessie Romphrey Smith, 47 of 812 Natchitoches St., West Monroe.

McClain, booked at 1:35 a.m. Saturday, was apprehended in the 200 block of North 14th St. and charged with DWI, reckless driving, resisting arrest and public drunkenness. He was held under a $500 bond.

Matthews was apprehended in the 3300 block of DeSiard Street at 1:50 a.m. Saturday and charged with DWI and speeding.

Kelly, taken into custody in the 2700 block of Jackson Street, was charged with DWI and reckless driving and held under a $435 bond. The Smith woman was charged with DWI and reckless driving after being apprehended at 5:20 p.m. in the intersection of Plum and South Grand Streets.

West Monroe officers booked Carl R. Franks, 23 of 1217 Fern St., West Monroe, with DWI and reckless driving. He was taken into custody at the Trenton Street Bar and booked at 10:40 p.m.

Sharp Split Again Delays Europe Union

ATHENS Greece (AP) — A sharp and persistent split among the six European Common Market nations has again delayed action on the projected European political union, official sources said Saturday.

A six-nation experts' meeting scheduled for Saturday was canceled, and European officials said there would be no session alongside the annual North Atlantic Treaty Organization spring conference.

At best, they said, there would perhaps be some talks aimed at narrowing, if possible, the differences on the shape and powers of a future European political authority.

This issue, and the question of whether Britain should be invited to sit in on current political negotiations, deadlocked the foreign ministers of the six countries last month in Paris.

The ministers said then they would take advantage of their presence in Athens to continue discussions on the problem which pitted Belgium and the Netherlands against France, West Germany, Italy, and Luxembourg.

However, the six ministers are meeting next week in Brussels as part of negotiations with London on Britain's possible entry into the common market, and they may be able to resume talks on the political issue then.

In negotiations thus far, France, West Germany and Italy, with support from Luxembourg, have held out for a loose confederation short of European union. Each member would wield a veto on important matters. French President Charles de Gaulle describes this as a "Europe of the fatherlands."

Belgium and Holland have sought a tighter, more federal-type structure to which member states would delegate a portion of sovereignty. This would be patterned after the existing steel-coal pool and the common market, where decisions are made by a majority vote.

Luxembourg has recently suggested the six could start out on the confederation basis with a revision clause for progress to a federal-type authority later, if and when all six agree.

Belgium and Holland have also pressed for British membership in the common market and a voice for Britain in building the future European union. Both nations now have served notice they will not consider political union until Britain has been admitted to the common market.

West Monroe Man Missing

West Monroe police and local law agencies were searching last night for a man reported missing by his wife late Saturday.

Stanley Fletcher, 24 of Route Two, West Monroe, was last seen by his wife early Friday when he left for work at the Olin Mathieson mill just outside West Monroe.

She said he had an undetermined amount of cash and was driving a 1957 Oldsmobile automobile, light blue, with 1962 Louisiana License No. 475-691. He is described as six feet tall, of slender build with red hair and fair complexion. Police put out an item to all local agencies and with state police, and asked that anyone seeing or knowing the whereabouts of the man, contact them.

BROKERAGE BUSINESS

Probe Of Mart Starts Monday; First Since '34

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first public investigation of the stock brokerage business since 1934 will begin here Monday.

The inquiry is expected to produce testimony about dubious sales tactics, lax supervision of brokerage employes in branch offices and the hiring of stock salesmen with questionable backgrounds.

Witnesses also will tell of steps being taken by the industry to avoid trouble attributable to salesmen and their practices.

Officials of the Securities and Exchange Commission, which will conduct the probe, have given no hint of the specific situations to be scrutinized. Neither will they indicate whether they expect any major scandals to develop in the two weeks of public hearings.

It was known, however, that commission investigators have armed themselves with evidence of a number of unsavory situations involving major firms. These could figure prominently in the inquiry.

The hearings will launch the public phase of a $750,000 SEC study of the entire securities industry. Earlier testimony was taken in secret and has led, so far, to one public report—a document that blasted the operations of the American Stock Exchange. The exchange subsequently undertook a major reformation.

Initially, hearings will be confined to the "qualifications, training, supervision and selling practices of persons engaged in the securities business."

In addition to brokerage workers, this covers salesmen handling mutual fund shares. Other hearings will be held later on subjects not yet announced.

The last public inquiry into the conduct of brokerage firms was staged by the Senate Banking Committee in 1933-34. That investigation, directed by Ferdinand Pecora, led to the creation of the SEC in 1934.

Some of the largest brokerage firms in the country will give testimony at the forthcoming hearings. These include the largest of all, Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Inc.

Other New York Stock Exchange firms on the witness list include Bache & Co., Shearson, Hammill & Co., Stearns & Co., and Kalb-Voorhis & Co.

President G. Keith Funston of the New York Stock Exchange also will testify, along with top officials of the National Association of Securities Dealers and President James E. Day of Chicago's Midwest Stock Exchange.

Officials in charge of securities regulation in the states of Ohio and Washington also are scheduled to appear, presumably to tell about specific malpractices uncovered in their jurisdictions.

In announcing the witness list, the SEC said:

"In requesting particular individuals or firms to present testimony, the study does not mean to suggest that any one of them is an example of good or bad performance as compared with others in the industry."

Among the first witnesses will be representatives of several large mutual fund distributing companies including Hamilton Management Co., Denver; Investors Planning Corp. of America, N.Y.; Hugh W. Long and Co. Elizabeth, N.J., and Templeton, Damroth Corp., New York.

Although SEC officials were keeping mum, these were among the topics likely to be covered:

The touting of stocks to brokerage customers at a time when a firm or its partners are eager to unload the same stock from their own portfolios.

Infiltration of some securities firms by persons associated with organized crime.

The problem of adequately supervising employes in the widely scattered branch offices of large firms. The number of branches operated by broker-members of the New York exchange increased from 1,661 in 1950 to 3,166 at the end of 1960.

The problem of adequately screening job applicants and training new employes at a time of rapid expansion in the brokerage business. The number of salesmen registered with the National Association of Securities Dealers jumped from 28,794 in 1950 to 93,351 in 1961.

The operations of "boiler rooms" which conduct high pressure telephone sales campaigns based on pie-in-the-sky sales talks.

The charging of high sales commissions when a mutual fund buyer makes his first purchase under a plan calling for periodic investments, without disclosure of the fact.

In testifying before a House subcommittee last summer, SEC Chairman William L. Carey had this to say about some of the problems to be dealt with in the hearings:

"Many securities salesmen work on a part-time basis; many have no particular qualifications sell securities; and more important, many are not subject to the kind of supervision which insures high ethical standards. The possibility exists that these factors may have led to questionable merchandising techniques."

The purpose of the hearings, and of other phases of the broader investigation, will be to determine whether new laws or regulations are needed for the protection of the investing public."

Gas Producers Issued Warning Against Flaring

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Conservation Commissioner James Gill warned Saturday drastic steps would be taken against gas producers who do not attempt to save gas wasted in flares.

Gill said a recent survey in only one district revealed increased flaring, including one case in which four million feet of gas was being vented daily despite existence of nearby gathering lines and a gas plant with spare capacity.

He said such flaring violates the conservation department's program to prevent waste, keep efficient producing practices and protect the rights of owners.

It also represents an unnecessary loss to the state from its severance tax of 2.3 cents per thousand cubic feet, he said.

"Although some of the volumes vented from individual wells involved are small," he said, "the total amount from all wells represents the loss of many millions of cubic feet a day.,

"Every effort should be made to conserve this natural resource, especially where there are facilities to take the gas."

Gill recommended that producers give immediate attention to the situation.

"Unless they make every effort to reduce this waste," he warned "the Department of Conservation will have to take more drastic steps to reduce this wasteful practice."

BROKERAGE BUSINESS

Probe Of Mart Starts Monday; First Since '34

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first public investigation of the stock brokerage business since 1934 will begin here Monday.

The inquiry is expected to produce testimony about dubious sales tactics, lax supervision of brokerage employes in branch offices and the hiring of stock salesmen with questionable backgrounds.

Witnesses also will tell of steps being taken by the industry to avoid trouble attributable to salesmen and their practices.

Officials of the Securities and Exchange Commission, which will conduct the probe, have given no hint of the specific situations to be scrutinized. Neither will they indicate whether they expect any major scandals to develop in the two weeks of public hearings.

It was known, however, that commission investigators have armed themselves with evidence of a number of unsavory situations involving major firms. These could figure prominently in the inquiry.

The hearings will launch the public phase of a $750,000 SEC study of the entire securities industry. Earlier testimony was taken in secret and has led, so far, to one public report—a document that blasted the operations of the American Stock Exchange. The exchange subsequently undertook a major reformation.

Initially, hearings will be confined to the "qualifications, training, supervision and selling practices of persons engaged in the securities business."

In addition to brokerage workers, this covers salesmen handling mutual fund shares. Other hearings will be held later on subjects not yet announced.

The last public inquiry into the conduct of brokerage firms was staged by the Senate Banking Committee in 1933-34. That investigation, directed by Ferdinand Pecora, led to the creation of the SEC in 1934.

Some of the largest brokerage firms in the country will give testimony at the forthcoming hearings. These include the largest of all, Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Inc.

Other New York Stock Exchange firms on the witness list include Bache & Co., Shearson, Hammill & Co., Stearns & Co., and Kalb-Voorhis & Co.

President G. Keith Funston of the New York Stock Exchange also will testify, along with top officials of the National Association of Securities Dealers and President James E. Day of Chicago's Midwest Stock Exchange.

Officials in charge of securities regulation in the states of Ohio and Washington also are scheduled to appear, presumably to tell about specific malpractices uncovered in their jurisdictions.

In announcing the witness list, the SEC said:

"In requesting particular individuals or firms to present testimony, the study does not mean to suggest that any one of them is an example of good or bad performance as compared with others in the industry."

Among the first witnesses will be representatives of several large mutual fund distributing companies including Hamilton Management Co., Denver; Investors Planning Corp. of America, N.Y.; Hugh W. Long and Co. Elizabeth, N.J., and Templeton, Damroth Corp., New York.

Although SEC officials were keeping mum, these were among the topics likely to be covered:

The touting of stocks to brokerage customers at a time when a firm or its partners are eager to unload the same stock from their own portfolios.

Infiltration of some securities firms by persons associated with organized crime.

The problem of adequately supervising employes in the widely scattered branch offices of large firms. The number of branches operated by broker-members of the New York exchange increased from 1,661 in 1950 to 3,166 at the end of 1960.

The problem of adequately screening job applicants and training new employes at a time of rapid expansion in the brokerage business. The number of salesmen registered with the National Association of Securities Dealers jumped from 28,794 in 1950 to 93,351 in 1961.

The operations of "boiler rooms" which conduct high pressure telephone sales campaigns based on pie-in-the-sky sales talks.

The charging of high sales commissions when a mutual fund buyer makes his first purchase under a plan calling for periodic investments, without disclosure of the fact.

In testifying before a House subcommittee last summer, SEC Chairman William L. Carey had this to say about some of the problems to be dealt with in the hearings:

"Many securities salesmen work on a part-time basis; many have no particular qualifications sell securities; and more important, many are not subject to the kind of supervision which insures high ethical standards. The possibility exists that these factors may have led to questionable merchandising techniques."

The purpose of the hearings, and of other phases of the broader investigation, will be to determine whether new laws or regulations are needed for the protection of the investing public."

Gas Producers Issued Warning Against Flaring

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Conservation Commissioner James Gill warned Saturday drastic steps would be taken against gas producers who do not attempt to save gas wasted in flares.

Gill said a recent survey in only one district revealed increased flaring, including one case in which four million feet of gas was being vented daily despite existence of nearby gathering lines and a gas plant with spare capacity.

He said such flaring violates the conservation department's program to prevent waste, keep efficient producing practices and protect the rights of owners.

It also represents an unnecessary loss to the state from its severance tax of 2.3 cents per thousand cubic feet, he said.

"Although some of the volumes vented from individual wells involved are small," he said, "the total amount from all wells represents the loss of many millions of cubic feet a day..

"Every effort should be made to conserve this natural resource, especially where there are facilities to take the gas."

Gill recommended that producers give immediate attention to the situation.

"Unless they make every effort to reduce this waste," he warned "the Department of Conservation will have to take more drastic steps to reduce this wasteful practice."

SALESMEN WANTED!
Experience Unnecessary
DUE TO THE rapid growth and expansion of our organization we must hire another salesman!
THE MAN we are looking for must have a pleasing personality, he must be neat, he must be at least 24 years of age, he should have a good education. (Of course, we realize that education isn't everything but of our present sales force of 7 men, 3 are college graduates, 2 have 3 years of college, 1 man has 2 years of college and the other has 1 year of college, so you can see why we feel that we have an above average sales force.), but most of all, he must be ambitious—he wants to get started right now on a bigger job and a bigger paycheck.
EVEN if he's had no experience at all in the automotive sales field, we will be glad to train him and he will make good money while he's in training!
WE FEEL that our offer is as good if not better than any other type of sales work! Our compensation plan is one of the best to be found anywhere and working conditions are excellent.
IF YOU think that you can qualify for this job, stop in today and ask for Mr. Tubbs at Northeast Motors N. 3rd & Breard.

SALESMEN wanted for Modern Homes Const. Co. Must own automobile, 21 years or over. Experience not necessary. Opportunity FOR Advancement. Apply in person. Call FA 2-1601 between 8 A.M. and 5 P.M. for appointment.

FENCE SALESMAN wanted in Monroe and surrounding towns. Apply 3200 Cypress, W. M. No phone calls.

STANDARD COFFEE CO.
HAS immediate opening for Delhi route. Neat appearing and capable of meeting housewives. Must be between 25 to 50 and bondable. Car furnished and maintained. Guaranteed salary and commission. See A. D. Harper, Phone 728-4820, Rayville, La. after 5 p.m.

SALESMEN WANTED!
Experience Unnecessary

DUE TO THE rapid growth and expansion of our organization we must hire another salesman!

THE MAN we are looking for must have a pleasing personality, he must be neat, he must be at least 24 years of age, he should have a good education, (Of course, we realize that education isn't everything but of our present sales force of 7 men, 3 are college graduates, 2 have 3 years of college, 1 man has 2 years of college and the other has 1 year of college, so you can see why we feel that we have an above average sales force.), but most of all, he must be ambitious—he wants to get started right now on a bigger job and a bigger paycheck.

EVEN if he's had no experience at all in the automotive sales field, we will be glad to train him and he will make good money while he's in training!

WE FEEL that our offer is as good if not better than any other type of sales work! Our compensation plan is one of the best to be found anywhere and working conditions are excellent.

IF YOU think that you can qualify for this job, stop in today and ask for Mr. Tubbs at Northeast Motors N. 3rd & Breard.

SALESMEN wanted for Modern Homes Const. Co. Must own automobile, 21 years or over. Experience not necessary. Opportunity FOR Advancement. Apply in person. Call FA 2-1601 between 8 A.M. and 5 P.M. for appointment.

MR. STOCKMAN are you pouring expensive feed down wormy livestock? If you are, here is an important message for you. You can improve the health of your animals, their feed conversion, their weight gains, and your profits by using Paritrope. You can worm your entire dairy herd and not lose any milk, also if you are raising your calves and are having Coccidia trouble you should move up to this modern Paritrope product.
